One way to pick up a piece of change

Air expert tells future of skyways

"One thing is certain. The future of America is in the air; the skyways of today will become the highways of tomorrow."

Geoffrey F. Morgan, manager of the Douglas Aircraft speaking bureau, made this statement in an interview. On a speaking tour of the northwest, Morgan talked to a university audience on "The Shape of Wings to Come" Thursday morning in Main Hall Auditorium.

"There is nothing new in trade or travel," Morgan said. "But no one before in the history of the world has traveled at 300 miles an hour."

The aviation expert remarked on current and future developments in the aircraft industry and on promoting the general interests of aviation.

Morgan maintained that an air force must be maintained on an equal footing with the army and navy after the war, with planes based and maintained at the great military airfields of the country.

Herring urges imagination, respect for Latin America

"In order to establish inter-American relations with our neighbors to the South, we must look upon them with realism, respect and imagination," spoke Hubert Herring, nationally-known authority on Latin American affairs, to an evening convocation audience Tuesday.

Speaking with a caustic wit, Herring swiftly summarized past relations with Latin America, pointed out the advances that have been made, and outlined present problems that must be faced.

"We all love the Latins now," he said. "There is not a women's organization in the country, a civic group or other unit that does not have a Pan-American section. Now the Latins are used to being neglected, even sometimes abused, and they naturally wonder at this new outburst of interest."

Herring said that a hundred years ago Simon Bolivar advanced the idea of Pan-Americanism, but the United States went through a stage of imperialism which had no sympathy with this idea. It was not until 1927, Herring said, when Dwight Morrow was sent as ambassador to Mexico that improvement in relations began. Franklin Roosevelt continued with the development of the Good Neighbor Policy.

Saunders appoints lantern parade committees

June Saunders, Troy, chairman of the Lantern Parade honoring graduating senior women, appointed committee heads to plan the traditional march of MSU women on the oval on the evening of June 2.

Susan Brenner, Glendive, will head music arrangements. Flora Mae Bellefleur, Creston, will handle general arrangements. Assisting her will be Pat Murphey, Missoula, Committee A chairman; Jo Ann Blair, Missoula, Committee B chairman, and Elaine Hoover, Circle, Committee C chairman.

Louise MacKenzie, Havre, will handle publicity.

Congratulations

Elections are over. The students of MSU have chosen a new president and many other officers who will handle the business of the association for the coming year. We of the Kaimin want to congratulate the new officers and wish them every success. We extend to you an invitation to work with us in making Montana State University the finest university in this section of the country.

As officers of ASMSU you have many responsibilities. You are the representative of the people who voted against you as well as those who put you in office. Never forget that you are the channel through which the ideas, hopes, wishes and ambitions of hundreds of fellow-students must pass. Try to keep on the alert for new ideas in student government. Know the constitution of ASMSU so you can govern intelligently. Remember this always: Many people have faith in your ability to perform the duties of the office they have bestowed upon you. Don't let them down.—Robert C. Blair.

Congratulations

The elections are over. We have chosen a new president and many other officers who will handle the business of the Associated Students of Montana State College for the coming year.

As officers of ASMSC you have many responsibilities. You are to represent the people who voted against you as well as those who put you into office.

Never forget that the Senate is the channel through which the ideas, hopes, wishes, and ambitions of hundreds of fellow-students must pass. Try to keep on the alert for new ideas in student government. Know what you are doing so you can govern intelligently. We want to congratulate you, and wish you all the success for the coming year to make Montana State College the very best.

Montana State College was a hackneyed facsimile of the Kaimin editorial of May 4—without the name of editor-author Blair appended.

The Kaimin, with all the bigness and generosity of the New York Times, has agreed not to drag the plagiaristic Exponent staff through the mire of a lawsuit. Instead, the Kaimin has taken care of the unfortunate incident by merely charging the Exponent regular KP (Kaimin press and not kitchen police) rates for the use of the material.

Blood money circulating on campus now

The Hamilton tick fever laboratory bought 10,000 cc's of blood from men on the campus this week and last. To be used for experimental purposes, the blood was sold to the Hamilton laboratory at $15 a pint.

New Kaimin service

The Kaimin recently inaugurated a service whereby extra newspictures taken by Kaimin photographers will be sent via mail to the principle person or group of persons in the picture. These pictures are not always of first-rate quality as they are usually "seconds," i.e., pictures which we could not use in the paper because of imperfections.

It occurred to us that perhaps some of you readers might like to have them for your scrapbooks. You are welcome to them. They were made possible through your subscription to the Kaimin.

Lucas is new Inter-frat president

Jim Lucas, Miles City, is the new president of Inter-fraternity Council. Mark Crinlaw, Geraldine, is the new secretary. They were elected at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the Student Union Building.

Lucas, a sophomore in social science, is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He has been active in athletics and inter-frat affairs during the past year.

Carmen Jones comes to college

Selections from the operetta, "Carmen Jones," highlighted this morning's convocation presented by the University Chorus in the Student Union Auditorium.

Beverly Priess, Missoula, sang the part of Carmen Jones, a good-looking, flirtatious Negress. Cindy Lou, the sweet, simple girl next door, was portrayed in song by Martha Clark Gasser, Missoula. Verne Hamre, Opportunity, Wash., took the part of the soldier Joe, who remained true to Cindy Lou until Carmen Jones exerted her charms. A special chorus supported the solo parts.

Poor old Bozeman . . .

We don't care if The Exponent of Montana State College at Bozeman uses our editorials. It even makes us feel rather good to know that we are helping a poor, struggling sheet along. Our only gripe is that they didn't bother to mention that they get their better editorials from the Kaimin. If they will do this in the future we won't have to tell everybody about it.

Let George do it . . .

Yesterday we ran into George Crumby, one of our more constant hecklers. George has some very definite and altogether good ideas on how to put out a college paper. Feeling, as we do, that MSU students should have nothing but the best, we asked George if he would like to be guest editor of the Kaimin next Friday. We wanted to acquaint him with some of the problems of production, let him see how we operate and the problems we face. George didn't want to do it.

We think he had some good suggestions and we intend to use them whenever possible. We just wanted to prove that it's much easier to criticize than to do it yourself.

"Thou shalt not steal"

The wave of stealing that is deluging certain women's residence halls takes us back some eight years, when we used to go in for hooking stuff from the five and ten cent store. We did it for a thrill more than anything, and believe me we got thrill aplenty when the cops nabbed us one fine autumn day. That was a long time ago and since then we have come to realize that swiping stuff is not quite the proper way to get a thrill. Someone or ones in the dorms haven't learned this yet.

Strictly aside from the qualms of conscience that often accompany stealing from the girl next door or down the hall, is the actual financial loss suffered by the victim. She is just a college kid too. The loss of a watch, ring, pin or what take you, is a loss not easily taken.

There is, we suppose, almost no way of ridding ourselves of thieves, who, like the poor, are always with us. We advise that you keep valuable out of sight, locked up, or on your person. Try to reduce the temptation to rob, on the part of someone who may not be endowed with a heart or a conscience.

What do you think of this one?

It was brought to our attention the other day that it might not be a bad idea for the Associated Students, through Central Board, to make some sort of award to students who have served well, various organizations. Such people as the backstage crews on Masquer productions, ad salesmen on various publications, committeemen, etc. It was suggested, and we think the point was well taken, that there are numerous individuals who contribute to general university betterment who receive almost no recognition for their work. None of us, we believe, are so haughty that we don't like a little pat on the back for a job well done.

The reward referred to could take the form of a citation or certificate, something on the order of a diploma, that could be framed and preserved. They would be awarded at the end of the school year by Central Board, on the recommendation of the president or advisor of each organization. Standards would be kept high so that the awards would not become cheap.

This might not be a bad idea. We just heard it and thought we would pass it on to you.

Tree toads (foresters) off on a little week-end party

The Forestry Club is holding a week-end party at Seely Lake, weather permitting. Members, their dates and faculty members will leave Saturday and return to the university Sunday.

Cartoonists don't mind . . .

Kaimin brush wielders scoff at scorn and go happily about their work

Their cartoon have been running the gamut of public opinion, but the two Kaimin funny men, Roger Barton and Ralph Evans, can still "come up smiling."

"As long as people take the time to look at our cartoons," they said, "we don't care what they say."

Evans hails from the "cow college" town and Barton is from Saco. Both did cartooning for the Gallatin Hi News in Bozeman.

"I came to MSU because I wanted to see how the other half lived," quipped Barton.

"So I could take journalism and art at the same time—that's why I came here," said Evans.

Evans sketches his rib-ticklers for Friday's issue, and Barton does his bit for Tuesday's paper.

Saki, name of a Japanese rice wine, is Barton's pen name, concrete evidence of his bombastic brand of humor.

Approximately four hours elapse before one of their cartoons has gone through the assembly line of laughs. The idea, sketching and cutting of the linoleum block from which the cartoon is printed are all time consumers.

The Kaimin will lose Barton to the Army next year, but Evans has promised to hold up his end of the funny man team.

Happenings at Central Board

Central Board, meeting at its usual time Tuesday afternoon, took action on the following measures:

1. After discussion, decided not to change the time of Central Board meetings until next year when the matter will again be brought before the board.

2. Discussed membership of a special fact-finding committee to be appointed to study the voting membership of Publications committee. Appointments to the committee were not made at the time.

3. Discussed a recommendation by Traditions committee that cheerleading letters be awarded to this year's cheerleaders provided they perform next year too. As the intention of Traditions committee was not clear it was decided to summon a member of that committee to appear at the next meeting of the board to explain its actions.

4. Passed on a proposal brought to the board by Professor Cogswell, that a lunch be provided the visiting senior class of Hamilton high school which will be on the campus today. Central Board turned the job over to the Publicity committee which is headed by "Jeep" Plumb. This committee will act as host to the visiting seniors.

The meeting was adjourned at 5:45 p.m.

Herring speaks at convo

Trade?" Herring asked. "Yes, but mostly it is friendly and safe neighbors. We have learned and the Latin Americans have learned as the result of the war that such neighbors are essential."

The speaker stated that the colonial character of Latin American countries breeds dictatorships and invites marauders.

"We have improved our manner of dealing with the Latin Americans since the days when we sent in the marines as our usual advance agent," Herring said.

"We are realizing the fundamentals of successful world relations: respect for the sovereignty and dignity of small and weak nations," he continued.

For the advancement of Pan-American relations, he emphasized that the United States must not use imperialism, abuse and browbeating, but cooperation, decency, order and respect.

T. Brown out—S. Brown in

Shirley Sue Brown, Big Fork, has stepped into the well-worn shoes of Tannis Brown, Missoula, as ad manager of next year's Kaimin.

Shirley Sue, a journalism major, acted as ad manager of her high school paper and has been on the Kaimin ad staff this year.

"I'll welcome students who would like to join the staff next fall," she said, "and I'll promise them an interesting year."

Thus far the Phi Delt is ruling the softball league with a 1,000 average gained through three wins in three starts. At present the league standings are as follows:

	W	L	Per.
Phi Delt	3	0	1.000
Sigma Nu	3	1	.750
SAE	1	2	.333
Sigma Chi	0	2	.000
Theta Chi	0	2	.000

Scores in the respective ball games so far have shown the leading Phi Delt most capable of rolling up the high scores. Phi Delt wins have been over Sigma Chi 21-5; Sigma Nu 9-7, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon 6-3. Second place Sigma Nu is not to be outdone by the Phi Delt when it comes to building up high scores. Sigma Nu defeated Theta Chi 20-6 and lost to Phi Delta Theta 9-7 while defeating SAE by a score of 3-1.

The story about, is that two all-star teams will be chosen from these five teams, to play a game with the Montana School of Mines of Butte. These two will play a game and the winner will play the School of Mines and another team not yet named. The games will not be backed by the university, but are an independent project.

Weather, as wet as it has been, has taken its toll in both softball leagues, the men's and the women's, by cancellation of games.

Sport casualties have mounted, the latest being a broken nose sustained by Bill Hindrichs while playing catch.

A lot more enthusiasm could be shown for next year's football team. See "Jiggs" Dahlberg as soon as possible if interested.

This column is not prone to gossip but indirectly this item has a bearing on athletics. From what is heard it is quite an athletic event that goes on about 10:30 p.m. in front of the Theta house when stalwart Bob Moy takes his girl home.

One, two, three, out--cold Giesy socks way to medal

Lieut. Russell D. Giesy, ex-44, parachuted into enemy territory near Balet Pass, Luzon, when the engine of his P-47 "Ruthless Russ" failed. He was given a 1,000-to-1 chance of getting back to American lines safely.

When Giesy came down in a tree his parachute collapsed. He fell to the ground and was knocked out. When he regained consciousness he realized that he was in enemy territory and began to run. He reached a ridge, but was in the line of fire of the American artillery. He ran to another ridge, but he was still under fire. At a third ridge he stopped and saw a Jap stalking toward him. Giesy had lost all his weapons so he socked him—a haymaker—and pushed the Jap over a 200-foot cliff.

Lieutenant Giesy ran on and stumbled into a fox hole. A Jap officer was already in it. "I knocked him out and pushed him over backward in a trench," said Giesy. Twenty minutes later he reached a creek bed and followed it back to the American lines. The lieutenant will be given the Purple Heart.

"Don't worry about me," said Giesy in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Giesy, Corvallis. "All I got out of it was a black eye and a cut over the other eye. I was black and blue all over, though." The officer said that he expects to be flying again soon.

ings, presided and the new officers chosen were Jeanne Kelley, Hardin, president; Helen Daigle, Alberton, vice president; Joan Bartlett, Bigfork, treasurer, and Betty Henry, Missoula, secretary.

Sigma Kappa, Kappa Kappa Gamma, lead in women's softball

Sigma Kappa, Theta, Kappa and New Hall won the right to go into the final playoff of the women's softball tournament which has been going on for the past few weeks.

Sigma Kappa and Kappa batted out 100 per cent to be the top teams of the leagues while Theta and New Hall each lost one game.

The final playoff will be in the form of a round robin tournament with each team playing the other three. The first games scheduled when the weather improves are Theta vs. New Hall and Sigma Kappa vs. Kappa.

The singles tennis tournament is entering the semi-final stage with the doubles also getting underway despite the rainy weather which has been holding the games up.

Other sports coming up on the women's calendar are a swimming meet and an archery meet, to be held next week some time.

'Bud' Enswiler, former boxer, killed in Italy

Left university in spring of '43 to enter training

S/Sgt. Jerome Enswiler, ex-'45, Ekalaka, was killed in Italy on April 27, the War Department has reported to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Enswiler of Ekalaka.

Jerome, or "Bud" as he was known to his many friends on campus, was on his 26th mission with the 15th Air Force, when his plane, a B-24, crashed over Bari.

During Bud's two years at the university, he was a member of the boxing squad. He was active in this sport as a student instructor and as a winner of the 1942 lightweight boxing championship in the "M" Club. Bud was active in the ROTC on the campus previous to his enlistment in the Air Corps. He left the university for training in the spring of '43.

Bud was a member of the Sigma Chi social fraternity.

Pedagogues publish poem, essay in literary magazine

From MSU classrooms to a literary magazine—that jump has been made by three university English department members of today and yesterday.

The spring number of "Prairie Schooner," a regional literary magazine, contains the work of Ray B. West, Dennis Murphy and Baxter Hathaway. All three have been English professors at MSU.

Mr. Murphy taught at the university from 1936 to 1941. Mr. West taught at the university last year. Dr. Hathaway, who is still a faculty member, is on leave of absence this year as a lecturer at the University of Wisconsin.

A poem by Dr. Hathaway, "Lecture: 'Eighteenth Century,'" is printed in the magazine. Mr. Murphy's group of eight poems on the Ozarks and Mr. West's critical essay are featured.

Dr. Hathaway taught required English composition at MSU last year and acted as faculty advisor to the "Mountaineer."

Mr. West, a well-known Western writer, is editor of "Rocky Mountain Stories," a collection of eight stories by western writers. This year he will get his doctorate at the University of Iowa and will soon publish another anthology of western writings. He is also one of the editors of "Rocky Mountain Review," a regional literary magazine.

Two books of poetry on the Ozarks, "Boy With a Silver Plow" and "The Doomed Race," have been written by Mr. Murphy.

A copy of "Prairie Schooler" is in the main library.

Phi Sigma initiates seven

Initiations into Phi Sigma, national biological honorary, were held last week at the home of Mrs. Mary Elrod Ferguson, in honor of Dr. Elrod, former chairman of the department of zoology. Those initiated were:

Una May Arras, Cut Bank; Stewart Brandborg, Hamilton; Peggy Lee, Montague; Jean Kelly, Kalispell; Ruth Mittedstaedt, Missoula; Dorothy Stricklin, Shelby, and Dr. Waldon of the pharmacy school.

Colored scenic pictures were shown after the initiation.

Plans are under way for the annual Phi Sigma picnic which is to be held Thursday after 5 p.m. at the Montana Power Park. All student and faculty members of Phi Sigma are cordially invited to attend.

Grater is new Sigma Nu president

Sigma Nu, meeting Monday evening, elected William "Speed" Grater, Pittsburgh, Penn., president for the coming year. Clinton Oster was elected vice-president.

After the elections a party in honor of past President Walter King was held.

"Normally" qualified students express post-war outlooks

Most of them feeling "normally" qualified on issues involving post-war Montana, 101 MSU students were surveyed this month by Dr. Catherine Nutterville's Field Work in Sociology class. Of those polled—representatives of every county in the state, every class on campus—20 per cent admitted that they were not at all qualified to handle the questions put to them.

But qualified or no, here are the opinions unearthed:

There will be a nation-wide depression after the war, if the judgment of three-fourths of them is right. Replies were scattered as to when the depression will come and how long it will last: 25 per cent do not expect it for at least four years after hostilities cease; 33 per cent expect it to last longer than three years.

Linked with fear of a national depression is skepticism concerning the employment of Montana's veterans. Half of the group feel that veterans' prospects for jobs in the state are "fair"; one-fourth think they are "good"; one-fifth think they are "poor."

A "great deal" of post-war planning is being done by Montana's public and private organizations, 37 per cent of them believe. Eighty-one per cent consider what post-war planing has been done to be "fairly" effective.

In the event that unemployment aid is necessary, the survey shows that students are prepared to accept Federal assistance for regular public works. Only 10 per cent voiced opposition to any type of Federal aid.

Forecasting the state's development during the next decade, two out of three expect an increase in agricultural activities. More than half of them look for an increase in the number and importance of small-scale industries serving regional markets.

Sixty-one per cent contend that, within five years after the war, Montana will expand industries already present. In the opinion of 67 per cent of those participating in the survey, Montana will then begin to develop new industries.

NOTICE

Any men or women students wishing employment on dude ranches or in Yellowstone Park this summer should call at once at the Dean's office for information about available jobs.

Come, trip it as you go on the light fantastic toe

Ah, 'tis May, 'tis May, and MSU's students and faculty members are busying themselves tripping gaily back and forth across campus lawns.

"Doff thy shoes, blithe spirits, and dance merrily to the tune of spring," sing soft May breezes. (Who knows, someone might be around just waiting to draft new members for the Ballet Russe.)

Aesthetic souls who last week danced to the tune of Spur whistles were:

PEG NEWMAN
MAX FRENCH
JOYCE SHONE
MARJORIE MITCHELL
HUGH EDWARDS
JACK CUTHBERT
PROFESSOR TURNER
STEWART FITSCHEN
KENNY DRAHOS

Come to the
CONEY ISLAND
a real treat!

Get your minds off books, gals!

and concentrate more on the new spring play togs just arriving at

CECIL'S SHOP
Hammond Arcade Bldg.
