BUSINESS GETS TEN FACULTY

MISSOULA--

Ten new appointments to the faculty of the School of Business at the University of Montana have been announced by President Richard C. Bowers.

The new faculty will fill vacancies created by retirements, leaves of absence, and resignations.

The appointees, by department:

Management - Dirk S. Adams, assistant professor. He holds a J.D. from Harvard University and has been a partner in the New York law firm of Robinson, Williams and Angeloff.

AFIT MBA Program - John N. Taylor, visiting associate professor. He was an associate professor at the Michigan Technological University for the last three years and holds a Ph.D. from George Washington University, Washington D.C. The AFIT MBA is a program offered at Maelstrom Air Force Base, Great Falls, in which Air Force personnel earn college credit through the UM.

Accounting and Finance - Roy W. Regel, assistant professor. He has been an accountant and an assistant professor at both Regis College, Colo., and Western State College, Colo., and a teaching assistant at the University of Denver, where he earned an MBA.

Merrill Hill, visiting instructor. He has an MBA from the UM, where he has worked as a teaching assistant.

Ronald Moore, visiting instructor. He has been a controller and a teacher, and he holds an MBA from Texas A & M University.

Jo Ann Porter, visiting instructor. She has been a teaching assistant at the UM, where she earned an MBA.

Dominic P. Carestia, lecturer. He holds a B.S. from Colorado State University. He is also a senior law student.

Ron Foltz, lecturer. He holds a B.S. from the UM and is a CPA in private practice in Missoula.

Al Pontrelli, lecturer. He holds an M.A. from the University Of Minnesota and is an insurance agent in Missoula.

Patrick Simons, lecturer. He holds an MBA from the UM and has worked for the accounting firm of Coopers and Lybrand in Portland, Ore.
