Course Description

This course is designed to introduce students kinesthetically and intellectually to the art of classical ballet. Fundamental ballet positions, steps and vocabulary are introduced and practiced to develop strength, stamina, coordination and flexibility. Correct body alignment and basic anatomical terms are emphasized to increase movement efficiency and to avoid injuries. This course further proposes to unite one's body, mind and creative energy through movement sequences and excite participants about dance.

Objectives

1. Develop an appreciation of ballet as an art form.
2. Discover dance as a means of expression as well as a physical exercise.
3. Create educated dance audiences.
4. Stimulate students to become interested in all forms of dance.
5. Develop an appreciation for the human body – especially their own.
6. Discover individual capabilities and help students to reach their full potential.
7. Achieve an understanding of basic anatomy and its application to dance.
8. Develop an understanding of basic French terminology.
9. Give students an overview of ballet history.
10. Achieve an understanding of music tempos and meters and their use in ballet.

III. Structure of Course

Class begins promptly at 9:10 AM. Students arriving late will not be permitted to take class (for safety purposes), and will instead observe and take notes. Three observations equal one absence.

Class will end at 10:30 PM. Students are required to remain in class until it finishes. Consistent tardiness and/or departure from class before its end will result in lowering of one's grade, if a student arrives late three times or leave early three times it will equal one absence.

Injury

To avoid injury, it is recommended that you arrive early to class to begin warming yourself up, bring water to class and be sure that you have eaten before class. Please notify the instructor of any injury (current or past) that may affect your full performance in class. Should an injury require that a student observe class, it is expected that the student dutifully watch the class and apply what is being taught and discussed to her/his own improvement in class. Notes should be taken for each part of class. This observation should result in a substantial set of notes that should be submitted to the instructor following the class observed. While observing class, students are required to be mindful and quiet as to not detract from the teaching and performance efficacy of the teacher, classmates and accompanist.

Attire

Street shoes are not permitted in the dance studios. Movement will be experienced with ballet technique shoes or socks. Long hair must be pulled back. Students should plan to wear clothing suitable for movement and should take into account keeping the body warm for the beginning and end of class, bring extra clothing. To rent a locker: See Theatre & Dance Department Administrative Assistant, PARTV 199 before noon each day.

Tickets for performances in the PARTV Center are on sale in the Box Office in the Lobby of the PARTV Center, unless otherwise noted.

Your instructor will require a written critique, quiz, or something else of his or her own choosing. You will need to give specific examples, so take notes either during or after the concerts. As you watch, it will be helpful to think about the following:

1. Which pieces you felt strongly about (i.e., either really liked, disliked, were puzzled by, etc.)
2. On the choreography of each piece;
 - a. What is the theme or movement idea?
 - b. What is the style of dance and how does it work with the theme?
 - c. What is it about the movement or the way the piece progressed that made you react as you did?
3. Your reaction to the performances of the dancers: expression and technique.
4. Your opinion on the theatrical elements: costumes, lighting, sets and sound score. Did they work with the choreography?

Provide specific examples to back up your opinions!

Attendance: Attendance is important in any field, but vital in the field of dance. Learning to dance requires that your body do it. You won't gain in flexibility, and strength, or in your ability to pick up movement or generate your own movement by hearing about what happened from a classmate, or reading a book. In other words, there is no way to make up the material you miss. STUDENTS ARE EXPECTED TO BE IN EVERY CLASS. However, knowing that unpredictable circumstances can arise, students are granted two permissible absences. Students may also make up two absences by watching, and writing a one-page observation of another dance class that is approximately the approximate level and style of class that one is taking. AFTER A STUDENT HAS USED HER/HIS TWO ABSENCES AND TWO MAKEUPS, THE STUDENT WILL BE DOCKED ONE-THIRD OF A GRADE FOR EVERY ABSENCE FOLLOWING.

Grading: Dance is different from many other fields in that a student's work is not as quantifiable as it is in some other subjects, such as history or math. For this reason grading is not assigned a point breakdown. To earn an "A" a student must show signs of aptitude for dance technique and musicality have an energetic and attentive attitude, progress over the semester and be at the top level of the class. Additionally, the student must fulfill all attendance, critique and self-assessment requirements. Students may receive an "incomplete" (I) only if there are exceptional circumstances that have been discussed with the instructor. In order to receive Expressive Arts credit, a student must enroll for a traditional grade and the grade received must be a C or higher.

Students are required to see three concerts, write one critique and take one vocabulary quiz for this course.

V. Methodologies

Classes typically begin at the “barre” where students warm up and learn correct body alignment. Strengthening and stretching exercises precede “center floor” work. “Combinations” of steps throughout the class are demonstrated and explained by the instructor before being executed by the students.

PLEASE NOTE: At any point you feel further discussion would aid your development, please schedule a meeting with the instructor. Further assignments may be scheduled throughout the semester at the discretion of the instructor.

Students with disabilities may request reasonable modifications by contacting the instructor. The University of Montana assures equal access to instruction through collaboration between students with disabilities, instructors, and Disability Services for Students (DSS). “Reasonable” means the University permits no fundamental alterations of academic standards or retroactive modifications. For more information, please consult <http://life.umt.edu/dss>.

Academic Misconduct and the Student Conduct Code

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or disciplinary sanction by the University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at http://life.umt.edu/vpsa/student_conduct.php.

All Theatre & Dance students must have an in-depth knowledge of the practices and procedures outlined in the School of Theatre & Dance Handbook. The Handbook is available online at <http://www.umt.edu/theatredance/about/handbook>.

There is inherent risk involved in many Theatre & Dance classes as they are very physical in nature. Please proceed through class, shop time, or rehearsal with caution. Always be mindful of your personal safety and the safety of others. Students participating in class/shop/rehearsal/performance do so at their own risk.

Due to safety considerations, at no point during a student’s time spent in class or serving on a production (in any capacity) should non-enrolled persons be guests of that student. Presence of such unauthorized persons in a class, shop, or any backstage/off-stage area will negatively affect a student’s grade.
