Grizzlies Play Aggies Tonight

Tournament Gets Underway Bobcats, Vandals in Opener

Montana plays Utah State tonight in the second game of the MSU Invitational Tournament, which starts at 7:30 in the Missoula County High School gym. Montana State College tangles with the University of Idaho Vandals in the first game.

The Grizzlies last played the Aggies in a tournament conducted jointly at Missoula and Bozeman in 1942; Montana defeated the Utags twice, 48 to 44 and 44 to 43, and winning the tourney by dumping Idaho 42 to 30.

This year, Utah State has played only one game so far and comes to the tournament undefeated. The Farmers are a small team and depend upon speed and aggressiveness to make up for an absence of altitude.

Aggie Roster

The only regular back on the Ag roster is Bill Holmstead, a Navy veteran, who was the sparkplug of last year's Utah State victories over Denver, Montana State, Wyoming, Idaho Southern, Webber College, twice, and Fort Douglas.

The rest of the Aggie roster consists of guards Udell Wankier, 6 feet, 1 inch, and John Putnik, 6 foot, 1 inch, (football star and infantry veteran of 31 months); at center, Carvel Jackson, 18-year-old, 6 foot, 2 inches; forwards, Keith Whitesides, 19 years old, 6 feet, 2 inches, and Keith Allard, 6 feet, 1 inch sophomore.

In reserve, Utah coach H. B. (Bebe) Lee has Mickey Hughes, 18-year-old Idaho all-stater, and Ed Preece, Jack Harris, and Jack Sorenson, all ex-GIs.

Montana will probably start Baracker and Arthur at forwards; Clawson at center; Young and Lane at guards with a reserve roster of Giesy, Stegner, Marinkovich, Flemming, Cramer, Gallagher,

Morrison, Thorsrud and Johnson.
Idaho-Montana State

Idaho's once-defeated Vandals have a powerful, high-scoring outfit headed by war veterans Fred Quinn and Bob Ryan at forwards; 6 feet, 9 inch Jack Phoenix at center and Pyne and Carbaugh from last year's Vandal lineup at guards.

The State College Bobcats, who meet the Vandals in the tournament curtain raiser, pin their hopes on Boyd DeTonancour, a member of last year's Bobcat squad and former Anaconda High School star, at center; Ted Nakanishi, Japanese lad from Renton, Wash. and Dick Casey of Lewistown or Tom Jenkins of Three Forks at forwards; 6 feet, 7 inch George Michotte of Billings, Walter Narkevich from Pennsylvania, George Ryan of Great Falls, Emil Blazma of Anaconda, Bob Cooke of Billings, and Bob Chenkovich of Helena.

The Bobcats have won all but one game this season, that being dropped to Brigham Young in the Billings tourney. They have beaten Montana 42 to 25; Three Forks Independents 67 to 35; and Butte Cheerios 74 to 59.

A trophy will be awarded the winner of the tournament but will not be available until after the tourney.

Correction !!

We wish to call attention to an error in our report of President McCain's recent convocation talk. The story appeared in our last Tuesday paper and erroneously quoted the president as saying that the university is not accredited by the American Association of Universities. THE UNIVERSITY IS FULLY ACCREDITED BY THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITIES. President McCain assured us Thursday.

Our regular paper is being published Monday in connection with the inauguration of President McCain. Look for it about noon.
