

University of Montana

ScholarWorks at University of Montana

University of Montana Course Syllabi

Open Educational Resources (OER)

1-2014

DANC 399.01: Junior Creative Research Project

Michele C. Antonioli

University of Montana - Missoula, michele.antonioli@umontana.edu

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.umt.edu/syllabi>

Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Antonioli, Michele C., "DANC 399.01: Junior Creative Research Project" (2014). University of Montana Course Syllabi. 2191.

<https://scholarworks.umt.edu/syllabi/2191>

This Syllabus is brought to you for free and open access by the Open Educational Resources (OER) at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Montana Course Syllabi by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.

Spring 2014 University of Montana School of Theatre & Dance
DANC 399 (01) Junior Creat.Research Proj
F 1:10-2:30pm
PARTV 035

Instructor: Michele Antonioli
Office: PARTV 184
Contact: michele.antonioli@umontana.edu
Office Hours: M 11:00am-12:00pm; Th 9:00am-10:00am; F 11:00am-12:00pm

COURSE PURPOSE

The Junior Project is an independently directed endeavor and in-depth experience that is meant to expand one's knowledge and expertise in a specific area of choreography or teaching. The project is designed by the student and extends well beyond the typical classroom experience.

COURSE OBJECTIVE

To provide an ongoing forum through which student share creative ideas, questions, solutions and constructive criticism in relation to the Junior Project.

METHODOLOGY

This is a presentation/discussion course designed for upper-class students and is to follow previously completed course/creative work in choreography or pedagogy. Learning devices may supplement the class meetings, including video presentations, readings and discussions of works in progress to aid students in achieving set project goals.

REQUIREMENTS

Submit your application and proposal to your project advisor and to the instructor of record for this course. This usually is due early in the semester. Present work in progress as well as final product throughout the course of the term. The parameters of each project will ultimately be determined by the student and their project advisor. Some of the requirements might include: maintaining a journal devoted specifically to this project and maintaining a video or digital log of your process in rehearsal or while teaching. Because the purpose of this course is to provide an opportunity to share the experiences, questions, insights and feedback of the process with peers, it is expected that you will attend classes and provide participate in feedback and discussion.

GRADING

Attendance:

Grades will be determined by your project advisor. Students are expected to attend every class and arrive on time. Two absences are excused. Each additional absence will lower the grade by 1/3 grade point.

Participation: (10%)

As a portion of this course is designated for presentation, students are expected to attend class prepared to show work and discuss the progress of all projects.

The project advisor will establish the grading criteria for each individual project. Project grades are generally based on some combination of the project, the paper and supporting documentation. It is important that you speak early in the semester with your project advisor to determine the timeline, requirements and grading guidelines for your project.

There is no final for this class. Due date of final paper will be determined with faculty advisor.

Please Note Important Submission Deadlines:

Friday Feb. 14 project application and project proposal due to advisor and to course instructor.

Friday April 25: 1st draft of project paper due to advisor. You should be in regular contact with your advisor prior to this submission.

Wednesday May 14: final paper due to advisor.

Monday May 19: Grade for project will be issued.

IMPORTANT POLICIES FOR ALL STUDENTS IN SCHOOL OF THEATRE AND DANCE CLASSES:

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or a disciplinary sanction by the University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at http://life.umt.edu/vpsa/student_conduct.php.

All Theatre & Dance students must have an in-depth knowledge of the practices and procedures outlined in the School of Theatre & Dance Handbook. The Handbook is available online at <http://www.umt.edu/theatredance/about/handbook>.

The University of Montana assures equal access to instruction through collaboration between students with disabilities, instructors, and Disability Services for Students (DSS). If you think you may have a disability adversely affecting your academic performance, and you have not already registered with DSS, please contact DSS in Lommasson 154. I will work with you and DSS to provide an appropriate accommodation.

Due to safety considerations, at no point during a student's time spent in class or serving on a production (in any capacity) should non-enrolled persons be guests of that student. Presence of such unauthorized persons in a class, shop, or any backstage/off-stage area will negatively affect a student's grade.