Convo Time Is Changed

A change in the convocation schedule has been submitted to and approved by the faculty, according to E. L. Freeman, chairman of the Public Exercises committee.

Formerly held on Friday mornings from 11 to 12, the convocation hour will come as follows:

Eight o'clock classes will begin at 8:10 and end at 8:45;

Nine o'clock classes will begin at 8:55 and end at 9:30;

Convocation from 9:40 to 10:30;

Ten o'clock classes will begin at 10:30 and end at 11:45;

Eleven o'clock classes will begin at 11:25 and end at 12.

Featured on Friday's convocation program will be short talks by President McCain and by Jerry Anderson, president of ASMSU. Alan Merriam's dance band will furnish convocation music, and ASMSU's cheerleaders will stir up pep for the Saturday game with a rally practice.

Homecoming Group Offers Beard Prizes

Prizes will be awarded to the men winning in the Homecoming whiskers contest, according to Dave Drum, Miles City, Homecoming committee chairman.

The committee plans to raise funds to purchase a new suit of clothes for the first place winner and other items of clothing for other winners. The beards may be full, long or unusual.

Pres. James A. McCain approved the plan on a voluntary basis, saying that the whiskers would add color to the homecoming program.

Although growing whiskers is not compulsory, Drum said that the Bear Paws and the M Club would encourage the plan. He said that perhaps Kangaroo courts would be held in convocations to further encourage the men to participate.

The girls are asked to begin lining up "Gay Nineties" dresses to be worn the Friday and Saturday of Homecoming. Drum stated that there would be a prize for the best costume.

Free X-Rays Offered to All

All students who have not been X-rayed as yet are urged to do so during the coming week. The mobile X-ray unit will be open from 8 a.m. until 12 noon and from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. every day until Thursday. There is no charge for the X-ray.

Those who have not as yet been given a physical examination will be notified in the near future as to when they should report to the doctor.

The nursing staff has been enlarged to accommodate the increased student enrollment. Mrs. Ella Campbell, the head nurse, will be assisted by Mrs. Mary Jo Bouchers, Mrs. Ann Van Pelt and Mrs. Genie Harter. A welcome to the University is extended to the students by the infirmary staff and all are invited to make use of the facilities in the infirmary.

Applications For Degrees Due Soon

Only one week remains in which to file applications for degrees at the end of fall or winter quarter, Registrar Leo Smith announced yesterday.

Any senior who plans to graduate at the end of autumn or winter quarter, and those who plan to secure master's degrees at that time, must apply not later than 4 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8.

Applications for B.A. degrees must be filed in duplicate, and M.A. applications must be in triplicate, Smith said. Applications are to be submitted to the Admissions office, room 9, Main hall.

The $5 application fee will not be required this year, Smith said. However, if applications are submitted late, a $5 late penalty fee is charged.

Students who plan to secure the secondary certificate to teach must also make application on the proper form at that time, the registrar said.

Lunches Served In Copper Room

Light lunches are being served every noon, from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. in the Copper room of the Student Union building, according to Jack Cuthbert, manager of the Student Union fountain.

Sandwiches, coffee, milk, and ice cream cups may be purchased during these hours or while the supply of lunches holds out. Cuthbert explained that the new arrangement has become necessary since many more hot lunches are served at the fountain this quarter. Only hot meals will be served at the fountain during the lunch hour.

Cuthbert also asked that persons should realize that a strain has been placed on both facilities and help in order to serve lunches quickly and efficiently and that the patrons' patience will facilitate faster service.

Baton Twirling Classes Begin

Baton twirling classes will be given this quarter under the supervision of Bette Ronish.

All girls in the course should report to the band room in Cook hall Thursday at 4 o'clock.

Advanced as well as beginning classes are scheduled and credit will be given.

Student Union Building Approved for Classes During Emergency Year

For First Time In History, University Plans To Use Auditorium for Lectures; Students Will Still Have Use of Building

For the first time in its 11-year history, the Student Union building will be used this year for university classes. This decision, brought about by the present shortage of classroom space on the campus, was handed down yesterday afternoon by the Student Union executive board, headed by Harris

Hogan, Missoula.

Because of the emergency conditions now existing, the board voted to suspend for one year its long-standing rule that no classes be held in the building.

The 1,500-seat auditorium, it was pointed out, is the only room on the campus that is large enough to accommodate the record enrollments in certain survey courses such as social science and humanities.

With the two gymnasiums being used as sleeping quarters for veteran students, it may be necessary to hold certain physical education classes in one of the ballrooms on the third floor of the Student Union.

The board appointed a committee, consisting of Hogan, Student Union Manager Cyrile Van Duser, and Prof. Paul Bischoff, to make final decisions pertaining to the permission of the university to use the building for classes.

This does not mean that the entire building will become a classroom structure, it was pointed out. Only certain rooms will be used for classes, and those will be used only during designated hours.

Students will still have use of the building's facilities for recreation and meetings during most of the day. The auditorium will be free for convocations and other student gatherings, and the ballrooms will be available for student use at night.

The board approved the renting of the Copper room to the Student Store during the lunch hour, to provide additional feeding facilities.

Rental for this room will be based on a percentage of the income of that branch of the restaurant.

Because of crowded office space in the building, the board approved the use of the barber shop, now idle, as headquarters for football ticket sales. It was decided to permit the Student Store to use the Eloise Knowles room during certain hours as additional office space.

President James A. McCain spoke of the recent meeting of the State Board of Education in Miles City, at which he brought up the subject of a new Student Union building or an addition to the present one.

John P. Jones, Seattle architect, has been employed by the university to make plans and suggestions for further construction on the campus, and he has been advised of the possibilities of enlarging or rebuilding the Student Union, President McCain pointed out. In (please see page four)

Independents Stage Party

Between 200 and 300 students attended the first Independents-sponsored party of the school year Thursday night in the Copper and Silver rooms of the Student Union.

A committee headed by Dorothy Craig, Missoula, made arrangements for the get-acquainted party. Members of last year's Independent organization acted as hosts and hostesses.

Bear Paws Resume Work

The Bear Paw chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights has officially organized and has resumed all of its activities and service on this campus after a three-year period of wartime inactivity, Dick Miller, Butte, Chief Grizzly, announced yesterday.

Several meetings have been held and the Bear Paws supervised the recent freshman elections and were part of the staff of ushers at the Colorado A & M game last Friday night.

At a roll call of members, at the first meeting it was learned that seven members tapped last spring quarter were unable to return to school, consequently about the same number will be selected from the recommended list of last year's freshmen by Silent Sentinel, senior men's honorary, sometime early this week.

For the benefit of the new students, Bear Paw is the sophomore men's honorary service group (please see page four)

Kilroy Wasn't There!

At last week's temporary freshman class elections, a number of votes were cast for Kilroy, that mythical soldier, sailor, or gyrene who chalked "Kilroy Was Here" on shell-torn walls from Leipzig to Okinawa during the second world war.

Voting for Kilroy in an election of this type is perhaps not as irresponsible as it at first sounds. It indicates merely that a few of the freshman, rather than casting their ballots for someone they did not know, chose not to vote for anyone at all.

It is apparent from the total number of votes cast (only 517 for president) that many other freshmen decided against voting for a person without knowing him.

This is a good sign. If we and many of our elders would follow this policy of refusing to vote for a mere name about whom we know little or nothing, we would find ourselves with better local, state, and national leaders.

Let's exercise our right to vote, but let's make sure we know something about those we elect.

Are We a Lost Generation?

On July 12, 1946, at an education meeting on the Oregon State College campus, a nationally recognized educator termed today's college students "a lost generation." On August 20, 1946, before a meeting of Missoula students on the MSU campus, the term was applied to the same group by a different man.

Two capable educators, one from Massachusetts, the other from our university, having had no contact with each other whatsoever, arrived at the same conclusion, namely, that we are a lost or forgotten generation.

Being young and somewhat idealistic, we have a tendency to rebel against this term. We do not want to face such a black and dismal prospect. We want to fight back, to prove that we are not lost. We want to convince others that the future is brighter than they picture it. And, to convince them, we must first convince ourselves.

We are up against it. Of that, there can be no doubt. We are struggling for an education at a time when every institution of higher learning in America is jam-packed to capacity and then some. We are trying to study and learn while living in inadequate or crowded quarters. We have lost the advantages of small classes in which an instructor can devote time to each individual student. We have become the subjects of a mass-production educational system in which we lose our respective identities and become just part of a crowd. Yes, we're up against it.

But all is not black ahead. Colleges and universities have probably reached their all-time highs in enrollment. From now on, with fewer veterans enrolling, instead of more, and through that nasty word "attrition," conditions will gradually become eased. In the meantime, those of us who came to college for an education and who can stick it out, crowded conditions and all, will get our educations come what may. That is, we'll get them if we want them badly enough. And surely we do, or we would not be in college.

We may feel a little cheated at the loss of some of the atmosphere and pleasure of that thing which we call normal "college life." This is true especially of the recent high school graduates and others who were not privileged to attend university before the war. Those of us who were here prior to December 7, 1941, had a taste of normal peacetime college life, and we regret that so many must miss it. However, there's nothing we can do but resign ourselves to the prospect of a few unnatural years.

And so, having convinced ourselves that we are perhaps a cheated generation but certainly not a lost one, we can take further solace in some words from William Shakespeare, "Receive what cheer you may; the night is long that never finds the day."

Grizzlies Open Season With Decisive Victory Over Colorado A & M

BY BILL COONEY

Whirling through the heavy Colorado A & M team with dazzling speed and deception, Montana Grizzlies opened their season with a decisive 26-to-0 victory Friday night on Dornblaser field.

The victory-hungry Bruins won their first collegiate game since 1941. This powerful gridiron machine will crush many of a foe if it continues the outstanding play of Friday night.

Loren Palmer, dynamic left half, and bruising John Reagan alternated in ripping the Aggie line to shreds in a sustained 78-yard drive that resulted in the first Grizzly score. Reagan put the ball between the uprights and the score stood 7 to 0.

The 7,500 spectators stood amazed at this terrific juggernaut that had been untried and was relying on inexperienced freshmen. The "T" party was brilliant and Coach Doug Fessenden has come a long way with its execution.

Colorado Strikes Back

Colorado struck back with a series of deadly passes, only to be squelched by a clipping penalty. The Grizzlies gained possession of the ball just as the first quarter ended.

A complete new lineup started the second quarter fast with tackle Frank Briney snagging an Aggie fumble on Colorado's 10. Three plays gained five and big Buck Prueningner came in and booted a field goal to give the Grizzlies a ten-point lead.

After the kickoff the Colorado lads failed to gain and kicked out, likewise the Silvertips were stymied. Jack O'Loughlin booted a long kick that escaped the Aggie safety and was called dead on the two-yard line. The alert Briney again pounced on a fumble, but again the Grizzlies lacked the touchdown punch and Roy Malcolm added another field goal for three more points.

The Aggie aggregation again took to the air and Szunyog connected to Wurtz for 26 yards to the Grizzly 28-yard line. The Montana forward line became impenetrable and the Aggie threat was stopped. The mid-game rest found Montana leading, 13 to 0.

Penalties Heavy

Lee Cork recovered the third Colorado bobble, but three successive penalties eventually put the ball deep into Grizzly territory. O'Loughlin came through with a long spiral boot that traveled some 50 yards. Slippery fingers again cost the Aggies possession of the pigskin, this time on their 22. Palmer wiggled his way through a host of defensive Aggies to set the ball up on the 12. Reagan ripped off ten more and Palmer plowed over. Wardien kicked the extra point.

The entire third period was a comedy of penalties, with 55 yards against the Grizzlies, Colorado being set back 35.

The Bruins again capitalized on an Aggie fumble to rack up their final score. Malcolm eluded Aggie tacklers to go for 14. Two more plays netted 12 yards.

Pierre Roberts reared back and pitched a forward into John Cheek's waiting arms for the score.

BASKETBALL MEN

All men planning to turn out for Grizzly basketball are asked to report to the Men's gymnasium Wednesday, Oct. 2, according to an announcement made yesterday by "Jiggs" Dahlberg, basketball coach.

Kumpuris's kick for the point was blocked and that was the end. Montana had trounced a new foe from the Rocky Mountain conference to make the nation sit up and notice this new powerhouse.

Chuck Painter and Cox were outstanding in lugging the ball for the Aggies, while tall Szunyog was a dangerous threat with his forwards.

Exceptional Football

Every Grizzly played exceptional ball. Reagan, Palmer and Malcolm were good on running, while Wardien was the outstanding blocker of the game. Thiebes, Cork, Leeper and Briney were a few of the outstanding line men.

Starting line-ups:

Eddie Chinske, Grizzly backfield coach, is in his first year at Montana. However, "Ed" is well acquainted with the MSU campus, being a former Grizzly star himself. In 1929 he was captain and halfback of the football team and high point forward on the basketball squad. After graduation he entered on a career of high school coaching, quickly rising to the rank of Montana's number one mentor. His Missoula high school football teams won the state championship in 1943-44-45 and a co-championship in 1942. He will be assistant basketball coach this winter and head baseball coach next spring.

CROSS-COUNTRY MEN ASKED TO REPORT

All prospective cross-country racers are asked to report to Men's gym tomorrow at 2 p.m., according to Head Coach Doug Fessenden.

At this meeting the coach plans to explain what kind of a program Montana has in mind for its harriers and when workouts for the team will start.

Pigskin Roundup

BY DON WESTON

Last Saturday's surprises and upsets fed fuel to the 1946 Grizzly ambition to upset a few applecarts themselves.

Looking over Montana's future conference foes, it was obvious that this fall's PCC title chase promises plenty of misery for the usual "kingpins."

St. Mary's 24-to-20 upset of Washington headlined the weekend, closely followed by UCLA's 50-to-7 shellacking of Oregon State. (Grizzlies meet UCLA Nov. 16, Washington, Nov. 23.)

Oregon barely squeezed by the College of Pacific 7 to 6, and "weak" Stanford made sportswriters across the country sit up and take notice with a resounding 45-to-0 drubbing of "strong" Idaho. (Montana will tangle with Oregon Oct. 12 and Idaho Nov. 2.)

The coast favorite, Southern California, was pushed to the limit in downing Washington State 13 to 7, and California was pushed all over the field, losing to Wisconsin 28 to 7.

Three other Grizzly opponents tasted victory last week: Montana State outlasted Brigham Young, 13 to 12; Eastern Washington downed Lewiston Teachers college 13 to 0; and Utah State routed Idaho Southern 47 to 0.

Intramural Touch Football To Start Soon

Fraternity-independent touch football will open the year's intramural sports program, with six fraternities and the independents eligible to enter teams in the campus league.

The entire program is under the direction of ex-Grizzly Paul Szakash.

Other intramural sports events of the year will be basketball, track, baseball, and possibly softball. Szakash announced that the touch football field is in good condition and that men are needed to work as managers in the various sports departments.

Team managers of the fraternity and independent teams have not met, therefore, the schedule has not been made for touch football but will appear in the Kaimin at a later date.

The fraternities and independents should draw up a tentative list of their men intending to play and appoint the team managers of their respective teams, Szakash said.

Anybody wishing to act as official during the touch football games should contact Szakash.

Former Student Receives Post At Illinois U

Mrs. Helen Maddock Hudson, formerly of Missoula and daughter of W. E. Maddock, professor emeritus of education at MSU, has been appointed assistant dean of women at the University of Illinois.

The new assistant dean lectured in the Student Union auditorium last fall on her experiences in the airplane inspector to a Chinese-China - Burma - India war zone while serving in the Red Cross. Work as dean of the Starrett School for Girls, Chicago, and as a staff member of the Akron, Ohio, Beacon-Journal, preceded her two-and-a-half years spent in India.

Mrs. Hudson met her husband, John W. Hudson, in Karachi, India, where he was assigned as American flight unit. While Mrs. Hudson assumes her position on the Illinois faculty, her husband will enroll as a student. They plan to make one of the prefabricated housing units on the Illinois campus their home. Mrs. Hudson was a member of the Delta Gamma sorority at Missoula.

This year the group was tapped at a special SOS the first week in June. The members can be identified by their white sweaters with a maroon knight's helmet on the front, and will be seen at all games, rallies and many of the other school activities.

Miller also stated that there would be a Bear Paw meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Eloise Knowles room of the Student Union.

the event that a new building is constructed, the present one would probably become a classroom or office building.

The board approved a motion to purchase 400 six-compartment cafeteria trays, now on sale as government surplus. The stainless steel trays, the type used in army mess halls, can be purchased for 42 cents each. List price, it was stated, is $4.75 each.

These trays will be kept by the Student Union building for emergency use, and they will not be adopted for the use of the restaurant.
