Missoula Elks Donate $2,000 For Buckskin Band Uniforms

Donation of $2,000 by the Hellgate Elks lodge of Missoula for the purpose of acquiring buckskin uniforms for the Grizzly band was made known in a letter sent last week by lodge officers to Prof. John Crowder, dean of the School of Music.

The letter, sent by Casper N. Nybo, chairman of the lodge's board of trustees, and Edward T. Dussault, exalted ruler, notified Crowder that the $2,000 would be made payable to the MSU School of Music foundation.

"The members of the lodge . . . voted unanimously in support of your campaign to obtain deer and elk hides for this purpose," the letter stated. "Unusual enthusiasm has been displayed for this project as members feel that the uniforms would not only be serviceable, but would create extraordinary interest in the university band."

"We feel this program merits the support of all interested in the Greater University of Montana and we have no doubt at all that you will encounter no difficulty in reaching your goal."

The project to equip the Grizzly band in buckskin uniforms, long planned by the university music staff, became a reality when Betty Wright, Browning, enlisted the support of citizens of her community this summer.

Approximately 50 deer and elk hides have already been received. Received letters from the university from Montana alumni, who had sited asking their support for the plan. The hides, now stored beneath the football stands, will be sent to the Blackfoot tribe for processing.

At least 600 hides, either deer or elk, will be needed, Dean Crowder explained.

That the project has received nationwide publicity is evidenced by an article from the Chicago Sun of Oct. 15 in which the appeal for hides, addressed to university alumni, was reprinted under the heading "How to Get a Suit."

Dr. Harold Chatland, associate professor of mathematics now on leave, is working for the Curtiss Wright corporation as a teacher of graduate courses to employees in Dayton, Ohio, according to a letter received by A. S. Merrill, chairman of the mathematics department.

Dr. Chatland left at the end of the summer session on a nine month leave of absence.

$750 Gift Goes to Foresters

The School of Forestry has received a gift of $757.50 from Lt. Col. Edward G. Cook, son of Prof. Irwin W. Cook, former member of the forestry school faculty, according to Dean Kenneth P. Davis.

The gift was given in memory of Professor Cook and his wife, Mary Cook. Professor Cook taught forest engineering and management in the School of Forestry from 1924 until his death in 1936. Mrs. Cook resided in Missoula until her death last month.

Dean Davis said the money will be used by the School of Forestry either to establish a scholarship or to purchase special equipment for the school in line with Professor Cook's interests, "to serve as a continuing memorial to his deep regard for the school."

Colonel Cook is a former student of the university and served overseas with the 925th Aviation Engineering regiment during the war.

Grizzlies' 20-to-7 Triumph Over Bobcats Maintains State Grid Championship

Line Plunge and Two Passes Spelled Touchdowns for MSU; Both Teams Played Alert Game, Keeping Crowd on Its Toes

Montana's Grizzlies jumped back from last week's drubbing at the hands of Oregon to defeat the Montana State Bobcats 20 to 7 before an estimated crowd of 13,000 fans in jammed Naranche stadium at Butte last Saturday.

Two pass plays and a line plunge did the trick for the Grizzlies. The first tally came in the opening minutes of the game when Dan Radakovich plunged over from the two-yard stripe after the Grizzlies had brought the ball down 70 yards with a sustained drive of brilliant runs. Wardien then kicked the extra point and Montana forged ahead 7 to 0.

Reynolds Scores

A Bobcat fumble set up the second Grizzly touchdown. Jerry Walterskirchen recovered. On the first play, Johnny Holding stepped back and flipped a bullet pass to End Bill Reynolds, who went over standing up. Halfback Johnny Reagan's kick for the point was wide.

The Bobcats' only score came in the second quarter on a 40-yard pass from Gene Bourdett to Left Half Ed Krissman. Don Dunn booted the ball through the uprights to make the score 7 to 13 for the Grizzlies.

At the beginning of the third quarter both teams exchanged punts and played back and forth between the mid-field stripes. Midway through the fourth quarter the Silvertips went on the rampage again on a downfield attack to the 30. Then Reagan dropped back behind beautiful pass protection and tossed to Reynolds, who snared the ball in the end zone. Reagan converted to end the scoring for the day.

Game Thrills Crowd

The game, played in ideal sunny football weather, featured a number of thrills for the huge crowd. Several long Bobcat passes were close misses in a clear field. The aerial attacks of both squads proved to be the most effective method of gaining yardage, a total of 46 passes being heaved during the wild tussle. John Reagan and John Holding were the passing stars for the Grizzlies, completing 8 out of 21 attempts.

Bill Reynolds brought the crowd to its feet in the third quarter, when he punted from the Grizzly ten-yard line to the Montana State 21, the kick traveling 69 yards from the line of scrimmage. Holding provided another thrill, leaping into (please see page three)

Students Will Harvest Beets

Dr. George Selke, executive head of the University of Montana, reported that four of six units of the greater university system have been authorized to release students for two weeks for work in the sugar beet harvest.

Pres. James A. McCain said that students who are out the two weeks harvesting beets will be excused and given an opportunity to make up work missed.

"Veterans," McCain said, "will be able to work only two and a half days before losing compensation pay. The two and a half days do not include Sundays and other days on which attendance is not required at the university."

Other units in the University of Montana system releasing students for work in the beet fields are Northern Montana college, Havre, Eastern Montana Normal, Billings, and the state college at Bozeman.

Gay Nineties Duds Cancelled

Because of a scarcity of appropriate clothing, costume plans for the "M" club-sponsored dance Friday night have been cancelled, Bud Drum, Miles City, Homecoming committee chairman, said yesterday.

Original plans called for wearing of Gay Nineties costumes by all students attending the informal dance, which starts at 9:30 in the Gold room.

Election of the Homecoming queen from the ranks of 11 residence hall, sorority, and organization candidates, and introduction of beard contest winners are scheduled for the dance.

Week's Events Will Center In Union

Homecoming activities for this week end will be centered in the Student Union for both alumni and students, Cyrille Van Duser, Student Union manager, announced.

Friday morning the special convo will begin at 9:45 a.m. in the theater and will be repeated that evening. At 9:30 the Gold room will be the scene of the big Homecoming dance for students. Miss Van Duser said that during this dance the competing queens will be introduced.

Two receptions, one on Friday at 7 p.m. and the other on Saturday after the game, have been planned for alumni, and Saturday noon the alumni will attend the Homecoming luncheon in the Gold room. The special Alumni dance will begin at 9 p.m. that evening, according to Miss Van Duser.

Student Directory Lists Posted

The list of names and addresses to be published in the student directory will be posted on a bulletin board in Main Hall entrance this week and next, Mrs. Emma Lemmasson, assistant registrar, said yesterday.

Because the student directory will go to press early in November, students are requested to check the information on these sheets and make any additions or corrections necessary as soon as possible, she said.

The list of names beginning with the letters "A" through "G" will be posted Tuesday through Friday of this week, those starting with "H" through "M", Saturday, through Tuesday of next week, and those from "N" through "Z" Wednesday through Saturday of next week.

BEAR PAWS HUNTING FOR SWEATERS

Anyone having an old Bear Paw sweater is urged to inform the Student Union business office so they can be sold to new Bear Paws, according to Dick Miller, Butte.

Low Tactics

Time was when someone could put up a poster or sign on the campus and expect it to stay there unmolested. Today, it seems that's no longer possible.

Friday afternoon, girls of Delta Gamma sorority put up two signs in the Student Union building advertising Joan Kuka, their candidate for Homecoming queen. By Friday night both posters had been destroyed and the photographs taken.

Whether the culprit opposed Miss Kuka's candidacy or merely wanted the pictures for himself is not known. But the photographs were borrowed by the Delta Gammas with the promise that they would be returned unharmed. The girls still have hopes that the person who destroyed the signs will at least return the borrowed photographs.

This is not the first instance of signs being destroyed on the campus this quarter. Two weeks ago the Organized Independent students placed cards on bulletin boards announcing a meeting of that body. By evening of the day they were posted, many of the signs had been removed—and there were no photographs on them. Someone was using underhanded methods to prevent the OIS from having a successful meeting.

These tactics are neither clever nor original. People have resorted to such low practices for generations. It might be well for Interfraternity Council, Pan-Hellenic, and the Organized Independents to take action to see that such a thing never happens again if members of their groups were responsible.

Foresters Stage Charivari

In keeping with the traditions of the forestry school, a charivari (Webster's definition: to celebrate the nuptials of an old man with a buxom lass) was staged Wednesday to acknowledge the marriage of two forestry couples.

The victims were Euel Davis, Missoula, and Beverly Amundson, Neenah, Wis., married June 13, and Vernon Hamre, Opportunity, Wash., and Jean Peterson, Missoula, married Oct. 1.

Perched on top of the "high wheel," a logging trailer used to snake big pine from the forests, the two newlywed couples were jostled through the university district behind a truck of raucous foresters.

Forestry students, abiding by the custom established many years ago, deem the celebration as "official" recognition of the marriages.

The "high wheel" was placed again in its customary place behind the forestry building to await the warming of another marital occasion.

Failure To Use Study Halls Causes Closure

Evening study halls in the forestry and natural science buildings will be closed because of slight demand for their use at the present time, the president's office announced yesterday.

Study halls in the journalism and chemistry-pharmacy buildings will remain open. If the study facilities of those buildings now closed are needed later, they will be opened, the president's office said.

Jugs to Reign At Masquer Mixer

Two unidentified persons labeled "The Stein Sisters" will appear at a mixer sponsored by the Montana Masquers Nov. 2, according to Paul Williamson, dance chairman, Missoula.

Staging two floor shows on the dance program, Masquers will play up traditional rivalry between MSU and the University of Idaho for possession of the Little Brown Stein. Music for the "after-the-game" mixer will be played from 9 p.m. to midnight by Al Merriam's 15-piece orchestra.

The dance chairman promises that a stein will be featured on the program whether or not the original trophy is recaptured by the Grizzlies from Idaho Saturday.

Rankin Speaks At Convocation

"If there is a main plank in my platform, it is that I pledge myself to the preservation of the American constitutional government by laws made by elected representatives of the people," W. R. (Barney) Rankin, Republican congressional candidate, said Friday before a convocation audience.

The speech by Rankin was made at the first of two political convocations planned to allow Republican and Democratic party members to explain party platforms and programs.

James Annin, Republican state secretary, spoke briefly on qualifications of the state Republican candidates.

Barbara Williams, Deer Lodge, was taken into Tannan-of-Spur during the convocation after introductions by Mrs. Paul Bischoff, organization sponsor, and Peg Hanley, Helena, Spur president.

Cubs Beat Normal Eleven By 18-6 Score

Making the weekend an all-Grizzly success story, the Cubs racked up a second straight victory, downing Montana Normal 18 to 6 at Dillon Friday night.

It was a hard-fought battle, but a clear-cut victory for the junior varsity. The university scored in the first quarter on an 11 yard run by Hammerness, in the second quarter by a five yard plunge by B. J. Smith, and in the third period on a 25 yard pass from Roberts to Crain.

Dillon tied the game up in the first quarter on a pass from McDonald to Kamp, but from then on the issue was never in doubt. Two touchdown runs of 90 and 45 yards by Cub Jim Graham were nullified by penalties.

Graham injured his ankle and tackle Scott Cunningham broke his hand.

Coach Johnny Dratz said that Dillon played a good game and the junior Grizzlies had to be on their toes throughout.

Montana made 11 first downs to Dillon's nine, was penalized 35 yards to Dillon's 15.

Due to the end of draft calls, quarterback Babe Bellusci was not inducted and has returned to the Cub roster.

Foresters Will Visit Kootenai Area

Graduating forestry seniors will spend five weeks of intensive field training and practice in the Kootenai national forest near Libby next spring. Arrangements for the field trip were made by Dean Kenneth P. Davis and Cris G. Kuehlke of the School of Forestry who returned Sunday from Libby.

Camp headquarters for the senior foresters will be at Warland, where they will be housed by the Forest service in a permanent camp near the ranger station. They will eat at Neils' logging camp.

All the facilities and equipment of logging and lumbering operations in the Libby area will be available to the students for observation and study.

"The situation at Libby is unexcelled to round out the training of a forester," Dean Davis said. "Some of the best equipped and organized logging operations in the country may be seen there."

The Neils Lumber company plant is modern in every respect and is developing facilities for more complete wood utilization, particularly in handling and treating poles.

The Kootenai forest has the largest timber cut of any in the region and is a leader in timber management work. All important timber types of the northern Rocky mountains can be seen within a few miles of Libby and an abundance of cutting operations, old and new, are available for study.

"The active interest and support of the Neils people and of the Kootenai forest personnel in planning for the student trip was most heartwarming," Dean Davis said in emphasizing the friendly cooperation of the Libby foresters. "Without their strong cooperation it simply could not be handled successfully."

Community Concerts start in January.

FOUL SHOTS

BY DICK KERN

The Bobcat-Grizzly game each year invariably turns up some outstanding examples of physical proficiency and also some shining bits of misconduct ordinarily on the part of a spectator.

Possibly the two most clear cut examples of ability were the kicking of Bill Reynolds and the ball handling of quarterback Johnny Holding. Reynolds' 69 yard boot (actually 79 yards as he kicked from 10 yards behind the line of scrimmage) was very possibly the longest collegiate punt in the nation for that day.

Holding's artistry throughout the game and especially his behind-the-back hand-off of the ball on several plays gave a very clear picture of the many talents required of a T formation quarterback.

The Foul Shot Award for boneheadedness this week goes to the spectator who threw the empty tonic bottle out on the playing field. A Grizzly cheer-leader saw it and immediately ran out and brought it off the field. It was fortunate that he did because about two minutes later, on a punt, Danny Yovetich piled into a Bobcat receiver on the exact spot. If the bottle had been there when the tackle occurred it might have resulted in a very messy injury.

The last time this "big game" was played was in 1941 and that year a Grizzly fullback name of Eso Naranche was the big wheel of the Montana club both offensively and on defense. Saturday's renewal establishing the Grizzlies on top again was a fitting spectacle for Naranche Memorial stadium.
