Miss Padilla, a native of Costa Rica, told the club about economic, social, and political conditions in her country.

After the meeting, the members sang Spanish songs and refreshments were served.

Interfraternity Decides on Date For Annual Ball

Interfraternity council decided Wednesday night to stage its annual formal Interfraternity ball in the Gold room on Saturday, Dec. 14. Lou Stevens, Chinook, Phi Sigma Kappa president, is general chairman for arrangements. The committee will include a representative from seven fraternities.

Dick Kern, Livingston, was appointed adviser to Junior Interfraternity council by Raymond Peete, Bozeman, senior council president.

Howard "Chippo" Golder, Missoula, presented a detailed report of the proceedings of the Western Interfraternity conference, which he attended in Seattle Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 and 2. Golder reported that many problems of the fraternity system had been aired. Among these were methods of pledge education and preparation of satisfactory rushing regulations.

Dick Merritt, Helena, reminded the council of the Phi Sigma Kappa open house tomorrow evening honoring the members of Sigma Phi Epsilon. He explained that the time would be from 8 p.m. to 12 p.m., and that every student, Greek or Independent, is invited.

Montana Students Believe New War Almost Certain

BY A. E. PEDERSEN, JR.

MSU students believe that another world war is almost a certainty, and that lack of understanding among peoples may cause that war. These opinions are the result of tabulation of results of a Time magazine test given approximately 230 students by the journalism school.

The test, required of journalism majors and the current events class, was given Oct. 17, and included questions based on personal interpretation of world events. The fact that many left one or more questions unanswered explains why voting totals vary.

Next World War

Thirty-nine expected the next world war in 3 to 5 years, 110 in 5 to 25 years, while 49 foresaw conflict in 25 to 50 years. Twenty-five expected no future world wars.

Lack of understanding among peoples is the greatest threat to world peace in the opinion of 152.

Dogpatch Manhunt Ends; Daisy Maes to Exhibit Catch at Student Stomp

BY DICK MILLER

A triumphant Daisy Mae and her captured Li'l Abner will don their Dogpatch best and chop up three or four acres of dance floor tonight at the annual Sadie Hawkins ball in the Gold room of the Student Union.

'Dinner' Cast Dotted With Returned Vets

Kenneth Moore of Great Falls, will play Mr. Stanley in the "Man Who Came to Dinner." His is the part made famous by Monty Woolley a few seasons ago.

Moore, who is now a freshman in business law, finished high school in 1942. He then entered the Army where he served three years, seeing service in Germany, France, Belgium, and Holland. He was forward observer for a mortar section and holds the Bronze Star.

While in high school, Moore was active in drama and music, belonging to the National Thespians.

Georgia Wendt

Georgia Wendt, who will play Mrs. Stanley, lives on a ranch near Lewistown. After she was graduated from Fergus county high school in 1945, Georgia taught for one year in a country school near Brooks. She is a freshman majoring in English.

Robert Kauffman, Chambersburg, Pa., who will play Bert Jefferson, attended Loyola college in Baltimore a year and a half before he entered the army.

Kauffman served both in the European and Pacific theaters and was discharged with the rank of major in May 1946.

Kauffman was southern Pennsylvania free style swimming champion in 1939.

Audrey Averill

Audrey Averill, a small dark-haired home economics senior from Collins, will play Harriet Stanley in the forth-coming Masquer production. After she was graduated from Teton county high school at Choteau, Audrey spent her freshman year at Northern Montana college, Havre, before coming to Montana State University.

She was stage manager for "Blythe Spirit" and has taken minor roles in other Masquer plays. Audrey, who lives on a wheat ranch, said that she does the cooking for the ranch during the summer.

"The lucky females who have caught a Li'l Abner will drag their captives to the scene of struggle," said Peg Hanley, Helena, Spur junior adviser, "to compete for prizes for the best Dogpatch formal attire."

Rules of the Game

Now that the chasing is nearly over only three of the five Dogpatch rules still remain in force:

1. Yo can't come to the shindig wifout yo' bestest Dogpatch duds. (That goes fer yo Li'l Abners, too.)

2. A prize will be offered fer the bestest Li'l Abner and bestest Daisy Mae what appears.

3. Judgin' is from 9 to 12 in the Gold room.

"However, hunting season is not over," said Miss Hanley. "There still are a few Li'l Abners hiding around in various parts of the campus."

Started Seven Years Ago

Sadie Hawkins day dance was started seven years ago and sponsored by the in-active members of Tanan-of-Spur. Downtown stores have always brought out their extra supply of track and tennis shoes for the fall influx of business caused yearly by this affair.

In past years the fraternities and men's dormitories have put up candidates for the Li'l Abner contest with the winner of the run-off designated as the grand Li'l Abner of them all.

In 1942 while there was still a good supply of eligible men around the campus, one fraternity was forced to resort to Kaimin advertisement (please see page four)

South Hall Party Set For Nov. 15

Plans for South hall's annual fall party Nov. 15 were moving ahead this week with Darcy Van Dyke, Helena, social chairman, announcing that a "special cigarette girl" would be one of the features of the party.

The arrangements committee is preparing to dress up James Beakey, Butte, South hall resident, for the role of the cigarette girl. Beakey will sing a "blues" number.

Theme of the annual fall party will be a "Southern Club." The hall will be decorated on the night club motif, the chairman said. Floor show numbers will be presented throughout the evening.

The annual dance is set for 8:30 p.m. and open only to members of South hall. A committee, under the direction of Walter Gilchrist, Great Falls, is working on decorations.

United States Policy

One hundred thirty-one believed the United States should support a move in UN to force sparsely-settled countries to admit European displaced persons. Forty-three would let Europeans solve the problem themselves, 25 thought the United States should force displaced persons to return to their native countries, while 19 favored relaxation of immigration laws to let thousands enter this country.

The United States should be firm, and not give in on any major issue, said 115 in answer to a question regarding Russian-American relations. Cooperation with Russia in every way possible was urged by 61, while 39 favored continuation of the present policy.

A Helping Hand to the Sig Eps

Yesterday's Kaimin carried an account of the tomorrow's Phi Sigma Kappa open house for Sigma Phi Epsilon at the Phi Sig home. Of special interest was the statement that the open house is for members of other Greek letter organizations and the independents as well as the two sponsoring organizations.

It is gratifying to note that groups like Phi Sigma Kappa are lending a helping hand to the Sig Eps, who were forced to close and sell their house during the war.

The local SPE chapter has reorganized and is now searching for a house. In the meantime, we are glad to see other groups offering their facilities and assistance in re-establishing the Sig Eps as an active fraternity on the campus.

The Spirit of Agreement

November 28 is Thanksgiving day. So that many of us may be at home on that day, the University has decided to dismiss classes at 2 p.m. Wednesday, November 27, with school scheduled to resume the following Monday morning.

In the case of a very few students for whom these hours would preclude the possibility of their reaching home, it was agreed that the Dean of Men and the Associate Director of Student Personnel may have the power to excuse in individual cases.

In dismissing classes from Wednesday afternoon until Monday morning, the administration of the University is relying upon the individual honesty of each student in observing the spirit of this vacation.

At a recent Deans' Conference, the statement was made "that in the past several years, students have been living very well to their agreement to return on time on Monday, but that the problem has shifted over to the time of departure on Wednesday; and second, it would be well to emphasize that the Dean of Men and the Associate Director of Student Personnel intend to give individual excuses only on grounds of real hardship, they do not expect to give excuses for such reasons as, 'I can save a dollar or two if I can leave early to ride in my roommate's car,' or that 'It would be inconvenient for me to get up at 5:30 to get off the train at Miles City,' etc. They expect to act in matters of real hardship, rather than in matters of inconvenience."

"Practically all of the trains and buses have sections leaving Missoula shortly after 3 p.m."

It adds up to this: The University is giving us the opportunity to go home, if we live near enough, for the Thanksgiving holidays. This is a privilege, not a right. To keep this privilege, we must obey the spirit and the letter of the agreement—to attend all classes until 2 p.m. Wednesday and to be on hand for our first scheduled classes the following Monday.

Vet Earning Report Due Tuesday

Veterans under the GI Bill (Public Law 346) have until next Tuesday to report their earnings for August, September, and October to the Veterans administration regional office at Ft. Harrison, Claude L. Meredith, regional manager, says.

Under recent changes in education and training provisions of the GI Bill, veterans are required to file a quarterly report of earnings showing the total wages and earnings for each month. Subsistence payments will be suspended until the report is received in the regional office.

Earnings do not include subsistence, pensions, or other government compensation. Under recent changes to the GI Bill, the student or trainee receives no subsistence if the wages and outside earnings exceed $175 per month in the case of single veterans and $200 in the case of married veterans or those with dependents.

The provisions pertain only to those in education or training under Public Law 346, the Servicemen's Readjustment Act or GI Bill. The limitation does not apply to the disabled veteran following training under Public Law 16, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act.

Ninety-nine would vote Republican if President Truman were now running for reelection, 39 would support the president, 36 wanted a third party, while 22 indicated they would stay away from the polls.

Thirty-two believed this question too vague to answer.

United States peacetime production has been held up by a wide variety of causes, said 144. Labor's unreasonableness was blamed by 54, management's unreasonableness by 18, and government interference, by 10.

Little Did I Know

A SERIAL STORY BY JOHN F. BRUNETT

(In the preceding installments: Of the two persons who had immediate access to the abducted bacteria, the hero found that neither could be developed into a good, self-respecting suspect. The jabbering co-ed proved harmless. The secretary, Miss Stencil, broke under the strain of her job and was destroyed in the campus incinerator. In that event, he reasoned, the only logical suspects now left in the bacteriology department are the members of the very staff, itself. He is now waiting to question them.)

CHAPTER VII

Doctor Robe sat in his chair, whining.

"First you destroy my confidence in Miss Stencil," he complained, "and now you want to tamper with my instructors. Is nothing sacred?"

"May I remind you, Doctor, that Boothococcus Petetroff must be found at all cost," I reminded him. "Let's not act like a jealous child!" "Very well," he said, his spirit broken.

Doctor Robe summoned his instructors and hurriedly prepared to face them. Putting on his dress uniform and buckling on his gold microscope, he stood gravely behind his desk, waiting.

In the distant corridor I heard the rapid pounding of bacteriologists' boots, heard them swing into the outer office, and heard them hesitate before the doctor's door. The door burst open, and three men entered in single file. They halted before the doctor and executed a left face in perfect unison.

As they stood there at rigid attention, their gold bacteriologists' buttons gleaming in the dull candlelight, they seemed pitifully young. One was a mere boy.

For a moment I felt a twinge of compassion. Then I steeled myself, for my duty was clear.

I nodded curtly at the doctor who immediately cleared his throat loudly.

"Gentlemen, you have been called before the head of the bacteriology department because of an unfortunate——"

Startled, I looked at the doctor to discover why his voice had choked off so suddenly. I found him staring, speechless, at one of the instructors.

"You, there, on the end," he shouted as he strode down their ranks. "You are not one of my men!"

"Why, I've seen you before," he gasped in astonishment. "You are an instructor in the English department!"

Rage seized him. He pulled his gloves from his belt and slashed the man across the face.

"What are you doing in the uniform of a bacteriologist, you filthy English department spy?"

My blood tingled in my veins. At last, a clue! I felt that soon the problem of the missing bacteria would be solved.

Little did I know.

Phi Sigs Lead Touchball Race

Phi Sigma Kappa went into the lead in the intramural touchball league by downing Sigma Chi 6 to 0 Wednesday on the girl's athletic field. PSK scored the only touchdown of the game when Cornell shot a pass to Forsyth in the end zone in the second quarter. The try for extra point failed.

Sigma Chi threatened several times in the second half but their drives were stopped by pass interceptions and fumbles. Outstanding for PSK were Cornell, Forsyth, and Stevens. Leinart, Kittel, and Williamson showed up well for SX.

SAE vs. SN

Sigma Alpha Epsilon beat Sigma Nu 7 to 0 in the other Wednesday game, played at the Clover bowl. SAE scored with a successful passing attack in the first quarter. Davis passed twice to MacPherson and then shot the touchdown pass to Hawkins. Davis passed to Reed for the extra point. Those outstanding for SN were Walsh and DiRe. Davis, MacPherson, and Hawkins were the main guns for SAE.

FOUL SHOTS

BY DICK KERN

The hometown variety of Grizzly football came to a crashing halt last Saturday with the Idaho fracas and from now on the Montanans perform in the far off, hostile lands of California and Washington.

This open date for the Grizzlies offers a chance to contemplate their record, discuss the situation, and maybe gather a bouquet of thoughts from so doing. To date, the score sheets show four wins for Montana stacked up against a mere brace of losses. Montana has punched out a total of 105 points while their opponents have made 74.

In the traditional game department Montana has come up with a very creditable record. That school over in Bozeman which has been trying to beat a Fessenden coached team for more than 10 years was whipped soundly as was only fitting and proper. The seven points which they managed to scrounge from the Grizzly this year makes the day a red letter one for them because it's only the second time since 1933 that they've even scored against Montana.

The Idaho stein game was 100 per cent favorable again this year, which offers a good place to state that Fessenden coached teams have turned this trick in five of eight tries.

Next week's UCLA game marks the third time a Montana team under Doug has tried for a win against this club in Los Angeles' Memorial stadium. In 1939, the Uclans' two great backs, Kenny Washington and Jackie Robinson, were the cause of a 20-6 loss for Montana and in 1941 the Grizzlies lost a heartbreaker 13-7.

Looking at the big picture from any angle the record of the 1946 Grizzly is the record of a winning football team and that type of record made against the sort of ball clubs that are around and about this year in almost every school is an achievement, indeed.

Cubs, MSC Reserves Tangle This Afternoon on Dornblaser

The Grizzly Cub's major battle of the season will begin at 2 o'clock this afternoon on Dornblaser field where they match ability with the Montana State Bobkittens. Last week the Cubs fought to a 6 to 6 tie with the Vandal Babes from Idaho at Kellogg while the Bobkittens were edging out Dillon Normal 7 to 5.

Coach John Dratz's Cubs, reported to have several injuries, will field grid veterans of the current season. Clark Leaphart and Jack Jourdonnais are nursing minor injuries, but both are expected to see action.

The MSU squad will be pitted against a heavy line with the Kittens lining up Tony Degel, 250-pound tackle, George Langdorf, 195, at guard and Bill McMannis, 180-pound end. McMannis sparked the Kittens to victory over Dillon Normal when he ripped off a 103-yard run for a touchdown.

The State backfield averages 180 pounds, with Dave Smith, a hard runner from Great Falls, Ed Gorrilla, a 185-pounder from Michigan, and Loran Casey and Maurice Sivertson, both Montana athletes who weigh 170 and 180 respectively.

Probable starting lineup for the Cubs will be Delaney and Moore, ends; Preuninger and Leaphart at tackles; Gilchrist and Llewellyn at guard; and Gjeffe at center.

The backfield will be chosen from Bellusci, Hammerness, Jourdonnais, Martin, Smith, and Keim.

General admission tickets for adults will be $1, high school students 50 cents, and university students will be admitted by showing their students activity cards.

Farragut Plans Full Schedule Of '47 Sports

A full schedule of sports is planned for next year at Farragut College and Technical Institute, according to W. A. Ramsey, athletic director. At present the one time Naval Training station in Northern Idaho has 250 students enrolled, but an enrollment of 1,500 is expected by next spring.

During the war years Farragut was the second largest naval station in the United States. The new college now boasts the finest and most complete arrangements for sports in the Northwest. Here is what will greet the future athletes of Farragut College, which should be a dangerous opponent for any team in the Northwest next year.

The football teams have 8 fields to play on, and 18 basketball courts will provide plenty of room for hoop stars. Minor sports have use of 37 tennis courts, 6 swimming pools, 78 bowling alleys, and 3 badminton courts.

In addition to these minor sports, Ramsey said that other activities would be skiing, boating, tobogganing, horseback riding, and trap and skeet shooting. And for the hunters it is noted that 1,000 deer roam the 4,000 acre campus.

Week-End Sports Predictions

By P. A. H.

With the Grizzlies resting this week end, many Montana fans have turned their eyes elsewhere for a glimpse of football action in important games, both sectional and national.

Probably holding the focus more than any other tussle is the Army-Notre Dame party which will take place in New York's Yankee stadium. Capacity is 78,000 and every seat has been sold for quite some time.

Army had to use Blanchard-Davis and company almost the entire 60 minutes last week in subduing West Virginia 19 to 0. And then again it was Arnold Tucker who was flipping for most of the points.

If Notre Dame, who used four teams in whipping Navy last week, can stop Tucker's passes tomorrow as easy as some of Army's opponents have stopped Blanchard and Davis from running this year, they should come out on top by one or two touchdowns.

Local fans have one sectional game of interest—the Montana State Bobcats against the Portland Pilots, at Great Falls. The Great Falls high school stadium is expected to reach a capacity load for this one which the Cats should win.

Other Northwest games should see Southern California trimming California, UCLA trouncing Oregon, OSC winning from Idaho, and a very close one between Stanford and Washington with the Indians a slight favorite on the home field.

Largest women's dormitory on U. S. campuses is Main dormitory at Alabama college, Montevallo, Ala.

Fraternity Bowling Teams Will Open Contest Tomorrow

Intramural bowling will commence tomorrow afternoon at 1:15 on the Liberty bowling alleys. University keggers should be ready to start splitting the wood at 1:15 sharp, the intramural sports committee announced today. Game forfeiture deadline will be 1:30 p.m.

Saturday's schedule is as follows: Alleys 1 and 2—1. Phi Sigs vs. Sigma Nu; 2. Phi Sigs vs. South hall; 3. Sigma Nu vs. South hall. Alleys 3 and 4—1. Sigma Eps. vs. Phi Delta Theta; 2. Sigma Eps. vs. Theta Chi; 3. Phi Delta Theta vs. Theta Chi.

Alleys 4 and 5—1. Sigma Chi vs. SAE; 2. Sigma Chi vs. Independents; 3. SAE vs. Independents.

Athletic Board Will Finance Ski Activities

University athletic board will adequately finance the activities of the ski team this season, Coach Doug Fessenden said at a recent meeting of the University Ski club.

Men who signed up for the try-outs were: Buell Felts, Opportunity, Wash.; Ward Fanning, Butte; Royal Johnson, Miles City; Bob Brazill, Anaconda; Winsor Fennett, Los Angeles; George Savage, Great Falls; George Remington, Anaconda; Glenn Wallace, Anaconda; Stanton Diehl, Missoula; Otto Ost, William Adams, and Homer Akey, all of Whitefish; Denny Ladders, Butte; and Ken Ryan of Missoula.

Two Lead Volleyball Race

Delta Delta Delta and Sigma Kappa, each with three wins and no losses, lead the two divisions in the WAA volleyball tournament. The contest began Oct. 31 in the Central school gymnasium.

Wednesday night's games resulted in wins for Sigma Kappa, taking the game from North Hall by a forfeit; New Hall, defeating Alpha Chi Omega 47 to 25, and Tri-Delt, defeating Delta Gamma 48 to 23.

The Womens Veterans' team won their game on a Co-op forfeit, which automatically eliminated Co-op from the tournament, this being their third consecutive forfeit.

Tuesday night ended in victories for New hall, defeating Independents 44 to 26, Alpha Chi Omega, defeating North hall 36 to 27, and Tri-Delt, defeating Alpha Phi 48 to 10.

Several hundred copies of the 1946 Sentinel are available to University students, Sentinel Editor John Rolfson, Missoula, said yesterday.

tising to secure a date for their Li'l Abner candidate.

"After all," said a spokesman for this group, "it would look very unusual if our candidate won the contest and was unable to get a date." Kaimin advertising held true to its slogan and got the desired results. The contestant arrived at the dance with an attractive Daisy Mae.

He didn't win the contest, however; Harry Hesser, Whitehall, Corbin hall candidate, won.

The year 1943 found a few Li'l Abners around left to run, and Tom Eigeman, Missoula, Phi Delt candidate, came out on top as the coeds choice.

The air corps had control of the campus in 1944 and Li'l Abner donned his GI boots and khakis to compete in the Dogpatch derby.

In 1945 Bill Sethrie, Townsend, Theta Chi runner, came out on top as the king of the ball.

This year there are plenty of Li'l Abners around for the Daisy Maes to run down. The winner of the best Li'l Abner costume will be chosen as the grand Li'l Abner of all Dogpatch. His queen, and second in command, will be the winner of the best Daisy Mae costume.

Dogpatch jive will be provided by Al Merriam and his orchestra.
