Office Hours: Tues and Thurs 11.00-12.30 or by appointment

Course Description:

Students will study each play, the context of each play and its period, selected scenes through performance, participate in class discussion, write 2 papers for formal assessment, present a group research project, and complete in-class quizzes throughout the semester.

Course Outcomes:

On completion of this course students will:

• Have a broad knowledge of theatre history, style, context and audiences.
• Have a knowledge of chosen play texts through close reading
• Have a critically informed understanding of chosen play texts through reading and analysis of critical material
• Have an understanding of how each play performs its time, its politics and the conditions of contemporaneous production
• Have engaged with this work through script analysis, scene study, research and analysis
• Have articulated their engagement with the work through formal research and writing, through informal review and other writing, and through reflection on their own experience of the work as performers, dramaturgs, researchers and/or audience members
• Will have collaborated with each other to present research projects

Required Texts:

Norton Anthology of Drama Vol.2
Work for Assessment:

- 10% -- attendance and in-class writing and contribution, participation, effort, attitude, and respect
- 10% -- quizzes and tests on course material, distributed throughout the semester
- 10% -- group scene/presentation [credit/no credit]
- 30% -- PAPER One, 6 pages in length. [1500 – 1800 words]
  HARDCOPY ONLY
- 40% -- PAPER Two, 8 pages in length [2000 – 2400 words]
  HARDCOPY ONLY

All papers must be printed with course details etc. on the first page, all pages numbered, and include a bibliography or works cited. This must include a range of internet and printed sources, at least 4 of each, which are beyond those offered by the class [articles on moodle etc.].

Plagiarism will be taken very seriously, and may result in course failure.

Essays will be graded on:

- Relevance to the topic
- Evidence of original research
- Originality and creativity,
- Thorough response to the material
- Levels of analysis and critique
- Writing: syntax, structure of argument, coherency,
- Formatting, style and presentation, management of the task [submitted on time and in full etc.]

Ground Rules:

I cannot accept late papers unless the student contacts me with a reasonable reason before the beginning of the class on the day the paper is due.

Attendance is required - each unexcused absence will result in your grade falling by a third of a letter grade. Continued absence will result in course failure. It is your responsibility to keep up with your attendance. Please follow your attendance record on moodle – if there are any discrepancies contact Cohen Ambrose asap. If you are encountering any health or related issues that affect your attendance, please contact me, Bernadette Sweeney, about this as soon as possible.

Please feel free to ask and answer questions inside and outside class. If you have any questions about how you are doing, what you want to write about, or any of the material, contact me or COHEN AMBROSE by e-mail, or arrange to see one of us during our office hours.

Academic Misconduct and the Student Conduct Code

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or disciplinary sanction by the University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at http://life.umt.edu/vpsa/student_conduct.php.

All Theatre & Dance students must have an in-depth knowledge of the practices and procedures outlined in the School of Theatre & Dance Student Handbook. The Handbook is available online at http://www.umt.edu/theatredance/about/handbook.
There is inherent risk involved in many Theatre & Dance classes as they are very physical in nature. Please proceed through class, shop time, or rehearsal with caution. Always be mindful of your personal safety and the safety of others. Students participating in class/shop/rehearsal/performance do so at their own risk.

Due to safety considerations, at no point during a student’s time spent in class or serving on a production (in any capacity) should non-enrolled persons be guests of that student without my consent. Presence of such unauthorized persons in a class, shop, or any backstage/off-stage area will negatively affect a student’s grade.
