Kelly Michele Braun, Loma, and Shannon Louise Green, Big Sandy, have been awarded $500 Dosia J. Shults Scholarships at the University of Montana. Both women are 1980 graduates of Big Sandy High School.

Braun, a freshman in general studies at UM, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Braun, Loma. In high school she was active in band, chorus, speech and girls' athletics. She was an officer in Future Homemakers of America, the Girl's Athletic League and Student Council. Braun also worked as a volunteer to raise funds for charitable and local community projects.

Green, a freshman in health and physical education at UM, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Green, Big Sandy. In high school she was a member of chorus and band and an officer in Pioneer Club and the Honor Society. She played varsity basketball and track and was chosen Big Sandy High School Female of the Year in 1979-80. She was academically ranked fifth in her graduating class.

The Dosia J. Shults Scholarship was created in 1980 by Dosia Shults, a 1933 UM journalism graduate who is the publisher of the Adams County Record in Hettinger, North Dakota.

The Shults Scholarship Fund provides two $500 scholarships annually to outstanding graduates of Big Sandy High School.

The Shults scholarship is administered by the UM Foundation. Founded in 1952, the Foundation over the past quarter century has become the principal source of scholarship funds for the University, providing scholarships in virtually every discipline.
