McCain Talks On Finances At Convocation

Pres. James A. McCain explained recent legislative action on university finances at convocation Friday.

Giovanna Maria Ribet, an Italian student in America on behalf of the World Student Service association, also spoke.

President McCain also reported the passage of a bill by the Montana legislature which requisitioned $633,000 for financing MSU operations during the next biennium.

Of this, he said, $277,000 has been set aside for maintenance of the physical plant, a new boiler as well as repairs, remodeling, and improvements. Also among '47 legislation is the bill supporting a new $300,000 business administration building on the campus in 1948.

The legislature also provided for MSU participation in the World Student Exchange. Besides students, teachers will also be on this exchange agenda between Montana educational institutions and those of foreign countries. "It marks considerable progress in attitudes of the people of Montana toward the entire national and world situation," commented Pres. McCain on this action.

'Lemonade' Hour Proposed by ALD

A "lemonade" hour on the oval might supplant the weekly coffee hours on Wednesdays when weather is favorable if enough interest is shown, Eileen Roy, Anaconda, ALD coffee hour manager, has announced.

Alpha Lambda Delta, sophomore women's scholastic honorary, has sponsored the coffee hour fall and winter quarters as its project for the year. The purpose of coffee hour is to informally bring together students and faculty, according to Miss Roy.

No more coffee hours will be held for the remainder of the quarter, but attendance at the beginning of spring quarter will determine whether interest is sufficient to warrant the expense and time devoted to preparation and serving each week for a "lemonade" hour. When the weather is cold, coffee hour would continue as usual.

Miss Roy announced that new members would be selected into ALD as soon as winter quarter grades are released.

Marina Svetlova, Prima Ballerina of the Metropolitan Opera, will appear at 8:15 Thursday and Friday nights at the Student Union theater. Students may obtain tickets by presenting their activity cards and paying 75 cents at the Student Union business office.

Worth the Effort

In today's Kaimin, a letter from Dr. H. G. Merriam, chairman of the division of humanities, praises the work of the Masquers and others who worked on the recent stage production of "Hamlet."

We'd like to add our endorsement to Dr. Merriam's views.

After the play, we heard much comment about it, pro and con. While we recognized certain weaknesses, unavoidable in amateur productions, we must remember that Shakespearean drama is perhaps more difficult to produce and interpret than the work of any other writer. In fact, very few professional companies ever attempt to stage a Shakespeare play. That such a thing was done on the Montana campus is highly commendable, and we are satisfied with the job they did.

This is the second of Shakespeare's tragedies to be produced by the Masquers in recent years. In the winter of 1941-42, under the direction of Ad Karns, the dramatics group staged "Macbeth," and it was very well received. As with "Macbeth," "Hamlet" contained passages and sequences that were difficult for the audience to follow. But this is to be expected in such a production, and we believe that both plays were well worth the effort.

For our part, we'd rather see, at least once in a while, an amateur version of Shakespeare than a more professional presentation of some meaningless comedy or "Whodunit." The entire staff deserves more credit than they received.

Subsistence Pay

Dear Editor:

Many veteran students want more money from the government. Many are not satisfied with the present subsistence, annual leave, and free education. Legislation for increased allowances and a bonus is pending. It's nice to get paid for going to school. Ask a non-veteran who pays his way.

Liberal Uncle Sam has shown his appreciation to veterans already. Maybe we think this money is owed to us. It is a bonus and gratuitous aid. The government doesn't owe us a living or education for doing a duty expected of able-bodied men during wartime.

We will pay for these aids for years. The cost of the G.I. Bill alone is terrific. A veteran today spends more than he receives in subsistences. Does this mean that the government should make up the difference? Were veterans given any guarantee that they would live free? Many ex-servicemen, and their wives, work and make plenty, so $65 or $90 isn't our whole income often.

One reason for official support of veteran legislation is that the veteran vote can tip the balance of an election. Public officials hardly dare to vote against it. In contrast, look at the miserable conditions of some public institutions, due to the lack of funds to maintain them. Inmates can't vote.

To the veteran not physically handicapped, I say we are getting plenty now. It just costs money to live. It always has and always will. This isn't sour grapes. I served five years.

Sincerely yours,
 Jerry Casey.

"Hamlet"

To the Editor:

I wish to express publicly to all persons who had anything to do with the Masquers' modern version of "Hamlet" my appreciation of their hard work, their intelligent cooperation, and their skill in giving a commendable and interesting production. The settings and the handling of them were remarkably good and much of the acting was extraordinarily successful. The music added not only to the spectator's enjoyment but to his understanding of the play. Masquers and all persons connected with the production deserve praise.

To compare this production of amateurs in seven weeks of preparation to that of professionals is simply lean-witted, and to demand of the modern version that it be Elizabethan is unintelligent. The directors and the actors and all the others accomplished a terrific task commendably.

H. G. Merriam.

years, the president pointed out that it represented a decided increase. The current biennium appropriation amounts to $561,000 in state appropriations, while in 1933-34 the legislature set aside $365,000, and in 1937-38 only $284,000.

A two and one-half mill increase makes the maximum tax levy six mills instead of the former three and one-half. This university millage fund, which is to be divided among the six units of the Greater University of Montana, is the principal source of revenue for the university system.

Montana voters will decide in 1948 fall elections the fate of a $5,000,000 bond issue, President McCain continued.

House bill 406 provides money for the construction and equipping of necessary buildings for the six units of the University of Montana.

Appropriations for the new business administration building comes from the Postwar Planning and Construction commission's funds and do not have to be approved by the voters as the bond issue does, he said.

MSU Chances For Big Seven May Increase

BY P. H.

The University of Colorado's admission into the Midwest conference has given Montana a better chance of entering the Big Seven, and has also brought a deluge of further predicted changes from the coaches of the Rocky Mountain region schools.

MSU's athletic department has expressed its desire, not only recently but last fall, to gain admittance into the Big Seven conference. The only objection to Montana entering that seemed feasible at the Denver meeting this year was Montana's geographical location. Several of the conference members stated that Montana was too far from the other schools to make athletic relations compatible.

Colorado's drop from the conference left an opening which brought out some interesting possibilities. Denver university might pull out and go independent. Colorado college or Montana might replace Colorado. A complete realignment might be affected with Utah members forming a new conference with Montana and Idaho colleges. Colorado A & M and Wyoming may join the Rocky Mountain league.

Colorado will play its 1947 schedule and transfer to the Midwest conference in December. Members of the Midwest include Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas State and Iowa State.

Coach Reviews Baseball Men; Practice Inside

Twenty-five men responded to Coach Eddie Chinske's first baseball call last Monday. "If first impressions and advance 'reputations' are right," said Chinske, "MSU should be able to field a better than fair ball club this spring."

Missoula's unpredictable weather forced the squad indoors for the first week of practice. Chinske announced that until the elements are more favorable practice sessions will be in the gym at 4 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and 3 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

The first week or more of practice will be devoted to warm-up throwing and running. As the men round into shape, training will become more strenuous and inclusive. Chinske said that his biggest job of the season will probably be the selection of a first nine.

A complete schedule has not yet been carded, but so far the team is assured of 16 games. Jack Hoon, graduate manager of athletics, is looking for more competition, and is especially interested in scheduling more home games.

Schedule is as follows:

April 10, University of Oregon, at Eugene, two games. April 12, Oregon State college at Corvallis, two games. April 14 and 15, Linfield college at McMinnville, Ore., two games. May 9 and 10, Whitman, at Walla Walla, Wash., four games. May 12 and 13, Lewiston normal, at Lewiston, two games. May 30 and 31, Whitman, at Missoula, four games.

Spring Quarter Classes Begin March 25

Spring quarter classes will begin March 25 for students now attending the University. New students will register March 24 and 25, and begin classes March 26. Mrs. Emma Lommasson, assistant registrar, said last week.

MSU Rifle Team Ties Arizona For Sixth Place

The ROTC rifle team tied for sixth place with the University of Arizona in the Sixth Army area Hearst Trophy matches, and further out-strided a persistent losing streak by winning "mail order" matches with the Universities of Alaska and North Dakota, Coach J. D. Swenty said yesterday.

Both Montana and Arizona fired team-totals of 886 to tie up the sixth-place spot in the western district. High, with 938 points, was the University of Idaho. Returns on Montana's national standing in the Hearst competition have not been released.

The Montana squad out-pointed the Alaskan team, 1,820 to 1,560; and the University of North Dakota, 1,814 to 1,774, Swenty said.

Targets are now being fired for a play-off with the University of Arizona.

Grizzly Tankmen Win Seven Of Nine Firsts Over Bobcats

Grizzly swimmers flashed near perfect form as they won seven first places in nine events from a weak Montana State college team to gain a large lead over the Bobcats in the intercollegiate competition Saturday. Grizzlies won, 52 to 22.

The Bobcats lone star was Frank Holman, who smashed the 220-yard free style record of 2:32.8, finishing the event in 2:32.2. Holman also won the 400-yard free style by a large margin.

Bill McMannis, Grizzly ace, romped over the Bobcat opponents in the 60-yard and 100-yard free style events. McMannis, who established a new 60-yard free style record against Idaho, led the entire distance in both races. Norm Warsinske, Grizzly breast stroker, finished one lap ahead of other swimmers in this difficult event.

Dale Gillespie, Bruin captain, won the most exciting race of the afternoon when he came from behind to nose out Stanberry, Montana State, in the 150-yard backstroke contest. Grizzly relay teams won both the medley and free-style races. John Halberg offset a possible Grizzly defeat in the 400-yard free-style relay, by gaining a lap on his opponent.

Grizzly divers were uncontested, but Dick Bottomly was outstanding winning the event from Bob Sawhill by amassing 93.9 points. Bottomly exhibited perfect form in many difficult fancy dives.

Chuck Simpson, Don Sawhill, Tom Kelly, and Jack Davis all added to the Grizzly win. Besides Holman, Allen and Stanberry were the only strong contenders for the Bobcat team.
