Description:

This studio class is designed specifically for the acting student who is pursuing a professional career as an actor. It assumes that the actor has already advanced to a level of proficiency in his/her training that would equip him/her to perform as an actor in a professional environment.

The focus of the class is the professional life of the actor. It is designed to present the "raw facts about careers in acting," that is to examine the myriad aspects of a professional career. We will explore how to get the job rather than what to do when you have the job. This is not a course that will develop acting technique, but introduce you to the complex world of professional acting. The course should be sub-titled, "REALITY," as it will focus on you as an actor and how you fit into the "system" that we call the profession.

Objectives:

To help you clarify and define your goals as a professional actor.

To help you create a plan for establishing yourself as a working actor by an examination and discussion of the professional life of an actor.

To help you enhance your casting skills for employment through selecting and honing audition material as well as assembling a resume and picture.

To help you understand the business aspect of show business.

Text:

Acting Professionally (7th Edition) by Robert Cohen.

Note: In addition, various articles, essays, and trade publications that relate to specific topics with which we deal in class will be assigned.

Academic Misconduct and the Student Conduct Code:

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or disciplinary sanction by the University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at <http://life.umt.edu/VP SA/name/StudentConductCode>.

School of Theatre and Dance Policies:

All Theatre & Dance students must have an in-depth knowledge of the practices and procedures outlined in the School of Theatre & Dance Handbook. The Handbook is available online at <http://www.umt.edu/theatredance/about/handbook>

Students with disabilities may request reasonable modifications by contacting me. The University of Montana assures equal access to instruction through collaboration between students with disabilities, instructors, and Disability Services for Students (DSS). "Reasonable" means the University permits no fundamental alterations of academic standards or retroactive modifications. For more information, please consult <http://www.umt.edu/disability>.

Graded Course Requirements:
