MISSOULA--

The Center for Economic Education at the University of Montana in Missoula, with the support of the State Council for Economic Education, is organizing a speakers' bureau as a statewide public service, Dr. John G. Photiades, director of the center, has announced.

Participating members of the speakers' bureau, who are experts in various areas related to economics and business, are prepared to give lectures on a variety of topics in those areas for educational organizations, other professional groups, service organizations and other groups in the state, Photiades said.

Photiades said the current members of the speakers' bureau are faculty from the UM Department of Economics. He said he is planning to invite other UM faculty members and business and economics teachers from other communities to participate in bureau activities.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Photiades at the University of Montana, Missoula, Mont. 59801.
