Course Description
Anthropology is a discipline that studies what it means to be human across time and space. From our biological origins and evolution, to the material record of our past and the languages and cultures of contemporary people, anthropologists attempt to understand as much as they can about the human experience. This course provides a broad perspective on the study of anthropology and covers key topics in biological and cultural anthropology, linguistics, and archaeology.

Course Objectives
• Students will gain an appreciation of the diversity and richness of the human experience.
• Students will acquire an understanding of the history, subject matter, and methods of study in anthropology.
• Students will increase their knowledge of the history of human biological and cultural evolution.
• Students will learn basic anthropological concepts and terms

Required Text
Robert H. Lavenda and Emily Schultz. Anthropology: What does it mean to be human? 4th or 5th edition only!

Supplementary Readings and Course Materials
In addition to the required text supplementary readings will be assigned prior to in-class discussions or in-class exercises. All of these readings can be found on the Moodle supplement to this course under the appropriate week. Please make sure that you can access the Moodle supplement as soon as possible and come to me with any problems.

Academic Integrity
All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or a disciplinary sanction by The University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at http://www.umt.edu/vpesa/documents/Student%20Conduct%20Code%20PDF-%20FINAL%208-27-13.pdf

MODIFIED 1/6/2019
Disability Accommodation
Eligible students with disabilities will receive appropriate accommodations in this course when requested in a timely way. Please contact me after class or in my office. Please be prepared to provide a letter from your DSS Coordinator. For more information, visit the Disability Services website at http://www.umt.edu/dss/ or call 406.243.2243 (voice/text).

Cell Phones
If the cell phone is not emergency related, turn it off. If the cell phone interferes with the process of the class, you may be asked to leave the class. If there is a reason to keep your cell phone active, place on vibrate. If you receive a call, please leave the classroom quietly to take the message. Cell phones, iPad (and other tablets) and pagers must be turned off during exams.

Changes to Syllabi
Instructor reserves the right to modify syllabi and assignments as needed based on faculty, student, and/or environmental circumstances. If changes are made to the syllabus, amended copies will be dated and made available to the class.

Grading and Assessment
Your grade in this course will be based on the following assessments:

Discussion forums ask you to engage with classmates on a weekly basis regarding readings and topics discussed in course materials.

Film Reviews are short assignments asking you to provide a synopsis and brief analysis of films that we watch in-class or that are assigned for out of class viewing. These will be assigned randomly throughout the semester to encourage class attendance.

Weekly assignments are writing assignments or short projects that ask you to synthesize and expand on the weekly course materials. These assignments may include additional readings, will be provided by Wednesday of each week and are due on Sundays by midnight.

Weekly quizzes cover the course materials assigned during the week. Quizzes open on Fridays and are due Sundays at midnight and will be completed on Moodle.

The final exam is cumulative and covers all the assigned course materials. Students are encouraged to use weekly assignments and graded quizzes to study for the final exam. In addition, a study guide will be provided one week prior to the final.
Late Work Policy
Assignments are due Sunday at 11:59 pm. With instructor consent, you may turn in film reviews and weekly assignments until the Tuesday following the week in which they are due for a 10% deduction for each day you are late. Quizzes close on Sunday at 11:59 pm. If you need additional time, please contact me and arrange to have the quiz reopened. Late quizzes must be completed by Tuesday following the week in which they are due and are subject to a 10% penalty for each day they are late. The final exam will not be accepted late.

Grade scale:
90 – 100% = A
80 – 89% = B
70 – 79% = C
60 – 69 % = D
< 60 = F
Please note that + and – modifiers may be added to letter grades at the instructor’s discretion.
