Montana State University, Missoula, Montana Z400 Vol. XLVII Thursday, March 25, 1948 No. 71

The News in Brief National and Collegiate

Oregon State College, Corvallis—The Oregon State Barometer, student newspaper, received a petition from 400 readers objecting to the paper's policy of devoting space to current national and international news. Two more petitions arrived several days later with more than 400 names backing the policy, however, so the Barometer still prints the latest news.

Colorado A. & M., Fort Collins—Johnny Speas, columnist for the Rocky Mountain Collegian, writes with an irked twist that the Aggies have been put on the possible investigation list for un-American campus activities. Writes Speas, "the day of the supposed investigation red sox and ties will be prescribed . . . lights over the entrances of all buildings on campus will be changed to a crimson hue (with the exception of the women's dorm) . . . Vodka will replace coffee in the canteen and only strawberry ice cream will be served. After all, it would be terrible to disappoint someone interested in finding that kind of stuff on our campus. We should make our guests feel right at home."

Washington, D. C.—Under tentative legislation being prepared by Defense Secretary Forrestal's staff, veterans 19 through 25 years old with less than 18 months service will probably be subject to the new draft call. Possible exemptions are purple heart winners, members of nation-

A Cappella To Present Cantata

The sacred cantata, "Seven Last Words," will be sung by the a cappella choir at convocation Good Friday, under the direction of Norman Gulbrandsen.

Soloists will be George Lewis, Missoula; Phillip Galusha, Helena; Robert Staffansen, Deer Lodge; Bruce Johnson, Missoula; Coyne Burnett, Missoula; Floyd Chapman, Great Falls; John Harpole, Deer Lodge; Vernon Alf, Missoula; Charles Lea, Stevensville; Joyce Degenhart, Phillipsburg; Patti Luer, Anaconda; Doris Egger, Billings; and Mary Lou Harrison, Billings.

"This is one of the most appropriate and well-known of the Good Friday cantatas," said Gulbrandsen. "The music is interesting in that it contains several beautiful solo arias, while the choral music ranges from the tender 'Christ, We Do All Adore Thee,' to 'He Is Death Guilty.'"

The cantata was composed by Theodore DuBois and is based on the seven words spoken by Christ on the cross.

al guard and other reserve units as of a certain date to be set by law, and clergymen. The draft law being written would call up nearly 3,000,000 men and would call for two years service.

Other exemptions may include holders of certain war medals for meritorious or distinguished service.

MSU—March graduates of the law school who will be admitted to the practice of law before the supreme court in Helena today are Warren F. Vaughan, Loran A. Johnson, Billings; William S. Mather, Lewistown; Stephen J. Streckall, Harris E. Hogan, Harold L. McChesney, Owen L. Coombe and Orville W. Robbins, Missoula; Irving C. Pearson and William Mufich, Butte; Robert H. Robinson, Kalispell; James W. Heath, Glendive; Richard F. Burns, Chinook; Arthur J. Aune, Havre, and Clyde T. Fritz, Hamilton. The list was released by Frank Murray, clerk of court.

MSU—Is the U.S. closer to war? Sample poll of MSU students, after the Truman message to Congress, shows many feel war is coming.

Montana State College—At the end of registration on Tuesday the Cow college found themselves minus 686 students from the previous quarter. Martha Hawksworth, registrar, pointed out that the drop is customary during spring quarter because students who find they are not suited to college life drop out at the end of winter quarter. Total registration was 2,456.

Vets' Housing Units Completed

All 92 veterans' housing units have been completed and are being furnished, according to Mrs. Peggy Leigh, secretary of student housing and employment.

Mrs. Leigh said that most of them have been promised, although applications are still being accepted. They are being occupied as soon as they are furnished.

Spaulding Concert Will End Series, Monday and Tuesday

Albert Spaulding, American violinist, will perform in the fourth and last of the community concert series March 29 and 30 in the Student Union auditorium, according to Martin Farris, Troy, outside entertainment chairman.

Mr. Spaulding was graduated from the Bologna Conservatory in Italy when he was only 16 years old. He studied in Florence with Chiti, in New York with Buitrago, and in Paris with Lefortin.

A new sonata accompaniment has just been published.

Summer Job Opportunities Seem Favorable

As the result of a recent poll of students registered at the Placement bureau concerning their preferences for summer work, letters were written to all parts of the country, and many favorable answers were received, according to Mrs. Peggy Leigh, secretary of student housing and employment.

Mrs. Leigh said that most answers were from cities and companies within Montana. The Forest service, Hungry Horse project, and the Great Falls smelter lead the list of companies who would employ students for summer work.

Highway construction, and construction in and around Missoula were high on the list for possible summer employment. The two parks, Yellowstone and Glacier, reported favorable job opportunities.

lished by Mr. Spaulding. This work in four movements will be included on many of his programs this season. His other works published this year are a cadenza for the Brahms concerto and cadenzas for the Mozart D major Concerto No. 2.

Late this spring the violinist will make a return concert tour of Latin America.

Tickets for the concert here will be on sale in the business office of the Student Union and at the box office both nights of the show, Farris said.

M CLUB ELECTS

John Holding, Missoula, was elected president of the "M" club at a meeting last night. He succeeds John Cheek, Dillon.

Other officers elected were Bob Anderson, Missoula, vice-president, who takes the place of Pierre Roberts, Missoula, and Bob Norman, Anaconda, secretary, who succeeds Mike Kumpuris.

Slight Decrease Indicated for Spring Quarter

Montana Not Crowded
Says McCain; Publicity
Program Underway

Enrollment for spring quarter ran true to form with a slight drop from winter quarter. The registrar's office judged from unofficial figures that registration would show about 3,000 students in attendance this spring.

Last year at this time the enrollment was 2,915 showing a decrease from winter quarter of 1947.

"Enrollment cannot be predicted," said Mrs. Emma Lommason, assistant to the registrar, when asked if this quarter's figures meant the long-awaited break back to normalcy.

President McCain is of the same view saying that no one person can tell how many students are going to enroll in the future.

"MSU is amply equipped and staffed to handle students who want to come to the University," he said.

"We have been contacting seniors of high schools all over the state and have been sending out people who are able to talk about the University to encourage them to enroll here," he said.

"It is mistaken that we are crowded here and this idea must be wiped out," he stated.

"The registration of students from high school is less than before the war."

The administration is expecting a larger freshman class for next year due to a concentrated publicity program.

VA Wants Info On Dependents

Veterans attending school under the G.I. bill entitled to $120 a month beginning April 1 because they have more than one dependent will be required to submit information about their additional dependents before payments at the new rate can be made, the Veterans administration announced Tuesday.

Survey Shows 7 of 10 Feel War Coming

A quick survey after President Truman's speech concerning UMT and redrafting of the selective service shows it left many students with the opinion that the United States will go to war.

Of the ten students interviewed, seven were of the opinion that we would go to war, one felt the opposite, and two students didn't hear the speech.

Doug Dean, Mullan, Idaho, feels that Truman should have taken even more drastic steps. "Yes, I think we'll go to war; it's just a matter of time."

Herb Boyd, Butte, said, "I think UMT and the draft are both the right moves, because I think we'll go to war."

Jud Moore, Memphis, Tenn.; "I'm against both UMT and the draft. I don't think they will prevent war."

Bob Adams, Columbus; "I thought it was a powerful speech and all his suggested measures a necessity. I am opposed to UMT, but favor the draft to prevent war."

Touring Trio Tops

While many MSU students were taking finals and vacationing, Nancy Critelli, Billings, cello; Lois Ibsen, Somers, piano; and Justin Gray, band instructor, took a publicity tour through northeastern Montana. The trio performed at Plains, Dixon, Ronan, Columbia Falls, Libby and Kalispell. Eureka was on the itinerary but the group had to bypass the stop because of impassable roads.

The Matter of Policy

The idea that will motivate the new Kaimin staff is to leave the paper just a little better than we found it. Vic Reinemer and his staff deserve credit for many improvements in the past year. Our ambition is to improve on these and make a stronger, more unified Kaimin—one that will speak directly for the students of MSU.

The only political policies that will be aired through Kaimin editorials are those pertinent to the students and administration. Since the Kaimin is directly responsible to the students as a student publication there must be an understanding of the paper's policies and objectives on all levels by all interested parties. We will take issue on any matter that affects the students or the University.

If we are not accomplishing our aims we expect to be told. Our responsibility will be the dissemination of news and to see that campus objectives are translated into action to the end that your wishes and desires are executed in full.

The staff has been chosen for cooperation as well as ability. No organization can attain the objectives set forth, or be successful, if there is a difference of opinion among those who guide its destiny. Personal ambitions and grudges will be subjugated to the end that only one thing is paramount—the success of the Kaimin and University. We shall be progressive for a better Kaimin, a better University and a better Montana.—P. H.

Forgotten Men?

Montana completed its most successful basketball season in history several weeks ago. The Kaimin on behalf of the students who have shown an interest wishes to throw a few laurels to Coach Jiggs and the boys for a job well done.

One doesn't have to look back too far when some of the boys were being criticized to some extent. Some of the criticisms probably were well taken—others we are not so sure of. At times in the past two years team members have felt better off playing on a neutral court because of the fans' attitude toward certain players.

This year it was a little different. The players were on the upswing. They had it. They played ball. Cheek didn't have some of the more rabid fans leaning over the railing breathing down his neck and Selstad didn't get the Bronx chorus when he went in the game. The fans even forgot to call Rock a ball hog because he was making counters. Yes, they had it and as some of them put it, "we were on."

Let's not forget it. If the time comes again on our court when the boys are down and aren't hitting, keep off their backs and give them a little more support. No one likes to lose, especially the boys playing.

To one of the best teams in MSU's history credit is due.—P.H.

ANOTHER NEW LOOK

Dear Editor:

We read your article on ticks but there is one thing which is bothering us.

It says in the article: "... when you are traveling in tick-infested areas," Dr. Castle said, "make sure that your pants are tucked in your shoes and your shirt tucked in your pants."

This brings forth certain difficulties to us of the feminine gender. Is this the "new look" on campus?

going down it's not impossible for the feminine gender to accomplish this feat, however, until research on this "new new look" is started constructive comment cannot be made.)

MSU Social Whirl

BY LOUISE MORRISON

Winter quarter drew to a close in a swirl of social events and spring quarter burst into full bloom Tuesday with many eager (?) faces, both old and new, being seen having their 8 o'clock braces in the union.

Among those students who are resuming their studies at

MSU after a brief absence are:

Mouriel Bottomly, Helena; Harriet Reif, Bozeman; Hazel Paul, Plentywood; Mary Hughes and Holmer Curtis, Glendive; Jack Davis, Knoxville, Tenn.; Bill Templer, Corvallis, Ore.; Wesley Wendland, Deer Lodge; Ralph Oswald, Plentywood; Martin Wolpart, Hamilton, and Laurie Johnson, Walla Walla, Wash.

Spring Has Sprung

March 21 brought with it not only snow but the first day of spring and you know the old saying that "In the spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love." Snow or snow this spring seems to be no exception.

With its dawning we find the wedding bells ringing out for Marporie Gjertson, Cutbank, and Norman Hanto, Sidney; Nadean Kircheis, Billings, and Cleo Schroeder, Epping, N. Dak.; and Barbara Brough, Salmon, Ida., and Louis Gagermeier, Glendive.

Dan Cupid's work has also been evidenced by Clarice Swartz, Missoula, who received a diamond from Bill Bush, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Billie Lou Berget, Butte, and Helen Packer, Miles City, who received Sigma-Nu pins from Tom Kelly, Butte, and Bob LaBonta, Brunswick, Mo.

Pins Fly

Speaking of pins, 12 Sigma Nu pledges received their active pins just before vacation. The new actives are Herbert Bloom, Evanston, Ill.; Richard Egeland, Livingston; James Harrison, John Harrison, Phillip Hauck, Charles Lovell, and Scott Porter, all of Missoula; Bruck Maclay, Florence; Robert Moore, Great Falls; Vernon Ott, Hardin; William Tester, Duluth, Minn., and William Walker, Billings.

Bob Zibell, Dickinson, N. Dak., and Chuck Little, Helena, also donned pledge pins at the close of winter quarter from the Sigma Nu and Phi Delta houses respectively.

New Officers

The Theta Chis are starting off the quarter with a new set of officers. Bill Sethre, Wolf Point, is the new president with Bob Garmoe, Glendive, as his right hand man and Dennis Mollander, Glacier Park, as secretary.

The strain of rehearsals for the cast and crew of "All My Sons" was broken Friday by a mass attendance of "Gone With the Wind." Any southern injections into the production may be attributed to this brief let-up.

The Thetas wound up last quarter in fine style with their dinner dance and 20 Sigma Chis celebrated the week-end holiday in Billings at their Third Annual Sigma Chi reunion. The question is, "Will O. E.'s ever be the same?"

Numbered among the vacation visitors to the campus were Mrs. J. A. Canavan, Mrs. Koenig, Mrs. A. R. Moe and Mrs. Christy who visited their daughters and Mrs. Forelick and Mr. Ray who dropped in to see their sons.

Managers Meet To Elect Board

Intramural athletic managers will meet today at 3 o'clock in Men's gym 303.

A board to handle intramural affairs will be elected from the group, according to Paul Szakash.

The board will be composed of two members representing fraternities, two representing independent organizations, and one from the Kaimin staff.

Invitational tourney won by Utah.

Grant Davis, Nevada captain and forward, will be remembered for the damage he did with his leaping push-shot. Menacing the Grizzly defense, he garnered 31 points in the two games in which he appeared here.

Idaho State's offensive wheel, Murray Satterfield, held the University court scoring record for an individual game for 24 hours when he looped 31 points here Feb. 13.

Norman Jones, Utah State's fleet southpaw guard, engineered the Farmer's scoring plays and was strong defensively.

Grizzlies Name Top Opponents

Grizzly cagers named an all-opponent roster recently, honoring the outstanding players they opposed in their record-breaking 1947-48 season.

The players for whom the Grizzlies had nothing but respect are Grant Davis, Nevada, and Murray Satterfield, Idaho State, forwards; Vern Gardner, Utah, center; and Arnie Ferrin, Utah, and Norman Jones, Utah State, guards.

Heading the squad is three-time all-American Ferrin who teamed with Gardner to make things miserable in the 72-to-43 thumping the Grizzlies suffered in the Salt Lake double-header last December. Ferrin is a smart, all-around player who can score from anywhere. A strong backboard man and a potent scorer, Gardner was named the most valuable man in the 1947 Madison Square Garden

Sports from Palmer's Pen

BY LOREN PALMER

There has been much controversy of late on whether MSU should continue its affiliation with the PCC. Victor O. Schmidt, conference commissioner, said the University belongs in the conference. If Montana is in the PCC and belongs there, it seems logical that competition should include basketball, baseball, and tennis. To this idea Schmidt stated that the distances between institutions made it almost impossible because of the time lost traveling.

Thoreau Speaks

Schmidt's assistant, H. D. Thoreau, said if travel by air was feasible, schedules in other sports could be arranged. If this is true it is about time something was done about arranging those schedules.

But according to information here we can't afford to fly.

There is just one way that Montana could save approximately $1,600 on the basketball season alone. At every home game the University gives approximately 82 complimentary tickets which are valued at $1.20 each. For 16 home games this amounts to $1,574, or enough money to pay for one-way flights to Seattle, Portland, and Los Angeles.

Good Will Problem

Of course the U will lose a little good will from those who have been receiving tickets, but someone will have to give up something if Montana is to get any place, and this is a place to start.

If students were agreeable, another plan could be adopted. This would be to have half of the gym, each night, open to the public and allow only the allotted number of students see the games. This would mean approximately $2,400 paid admissions for every series in Missoula. At present about $3,000 a season is taken in from season tickets and sales at the door. By increasing the paid attendance by approximately 2,000 per series enough money could be taken in at least to fly the team to the coast for their games.

Allotment for Flights

Having 1,200 paid admissions to each game, the University would take in $13,000, or $10,000 that could be allotted for flights. One-way trips by plane to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, and Seattle would cost $4,340. In the case of basketball, several games could be played on one trip and thus lower the cost by flying from Seattle to, say, Portland or Eugene and then home.

If competition with the PCC teams is wanted by the university students, it seems as though some similar arrangements could be made so that a team like the '47-'48 basketball team could have a chance to show themselves where it really counts.

LEGION DONATION GIVEN PLAY SCHOOL

A contribution of $25 was made to the University for the purchase of equipment for the play school at the community center by Hellgate unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, the president's office announced last week.

Graduate Receives Navy Position

Dr. Daniel B. Clapp '32 has recently been appointed scientific director of the London branch of the U. S. office for naval research, according to an article appearing in the Chemistry and Engineering News magazine, Feb. 23.

Dr. Clapp is the oldest son of Mrs. Mary Clapp, instructor in English, and the late Dr. C. H. Clapp, late president of the University. He received his bachelor's degree in chemistry from MSU and went on to Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he received his doctor's degree in 1935.

He was affiliated with Theta Chi fraternity.

MSU Senior Wins Graduate Fellowship

Mary Wall, Kalispell, MSU senior, will spend the next three years in a college of her choice with all tuition paid, and with $750 a year to spend—a guest of the Pepsi Cola company.

The Placement bureau announced last week that Miss Wall is one of six college students from 17 western states who won a graduate fellowship in the national Pepsi Cola scholarship contest. The winners were chosen from 452 applicants from 133 colleges by a national committee.

Miss Wall, who has a double major in Spanish and history, was selected for achievement in her field, for outstanding scholarship record and for qualities of character and leadership. She has been active in the International Relations club.

Miss Wall was undecided early this week on what college she would attend. She will be graduated from MSU in June.
