(local + HT)UNIVERSITY MEN TAKE
BUSINESS PLEDGE

Fifteen University of Montana business students are pledged to Alpha Kappa Psi, a business fraternity in existence on the Missoula campus since 1917.

The professional fraternity seeks to foster research in the fields of business administration, according to Jack H. Doty, UM associate professor of business administration and adviser to the group.

The pledgees and their hometowns are Tom Wilkins and Bob Vandegenachte, Billings; Peter Nulty and George Redding, Butte; Jon Nitchke and Norm Williams, Great Falls; Ken Heddich, Hamilton; John MacLean, Havre; Myron Laible, Helena; Dan McFall, Kalispell; John Thompson, Missoula; Rich Dunn, Superior; Bob Spears, Whitefish; Mark Bunyan, Santa Rosa, Calif.; and Bryant Ortt, Emmaus, Pa.

Tom Hopkins, Havre, president of Alpha Kappa Psi, said the non-social fraternity is open to any business or economics major who would like to learn more about the business world. The fraternity co-sponsors the business awards banquet in the spring with Phi Chi Theta, the UM business sorority.
