Sig Eps Revel at Bowery Ball

The Sig Eps put on their Bowery ball last week end and from the looks of things, it was an appropriate Bowery. Guests had to go down the coal chute to get in. Dancing, poker, dice games, blackjack, and roulette wheels provided the entertainment.

The News in Brief

National and Collegiate

University of Missouri—A poll is being taken to determine whether students will support the board of curators' proposal to admit Negroes to the University. A bill to admit Negroes to the University will be introduced in the legislature soon after the poll and the results will materially affect action taken in the house, according to one student spokesman.

University of California — Walter M. Fitch, 20-year-old undergraduate, was asked to withdraw from the University. Fitch had refused to register for his second term of military science on the grounds that he was a "conscientious objector." The university requirement is that all frosh and soph men must enroll for military training courses. The student is now enrolled at San Francisco State college.

Washington—The senate labor committee has ended hearings on the administration bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law. During the past three and a half weeks, the group has heard a number of witnesses about equally divided between those in favor and those against the Taft-Hartley law.

Detroit—The Chrysler corporation has announced an average increase of nearly seven per cent in prices of Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler cars. The new price rates also cover the so-called small Plymouth and Dodge cars.

Washington — Anna Louise Strong, American writer expelled from Russia as a so-called spy, landed late Wednesday at Gander, Newfoundland. Miss Strong told newsmen, "Don't use me to inflame international friction." The 64-year-old pro-Russian journalist refused to answer questions.

Washington — Senate banking sub-committee has okayed a bill providing for 810,000 government-financed low-rent housing units over the next six years.

Washington—Mildred Gillars, war-time Axis Sally, has admitted broadcasting for the Nazi radio. Testifying in her treason trial, she said she had refused to tell the Gestapo about military installations in the United States "even if it meant death."

Weather report—Cloudy, with rain by night. Max. 45-50 degrees.

MSU Music School Entertains Montana Solons at Helena

Sixty-five members of the University Symphonic band, directed by J. Justin Gray, and several vocalists from the School of Music, entertained members of the state legislature in Helena, Wednesday in a program commemorating the anniversary of George Washington's birthday.

The program took place in the legislative chambers of the state capitol building.

The band played several selections including "Americans We" and "Montana."

Miss Patti Luer and James Callihan, both of Missoula, and a university male quartet sang several selections for the legislators.

Miss Luer sang a selection called "Ouvre ton coeur," Callihan sang "Seven Beers with the Wrong Woman," from the Montana School of Mines' folk music selection. The quartet sang "Serenade" from "The Student Prince" by Sigmund Romberg.

The University and State College music departments have for several years participated in programs at the legislature in honor of Washington's and Lincoln's birthday anniversaries. The State College symphonic band participated in the program on Lincoln's birthday.

Gloria Swanson Is Ski Queen; To Represent Club at Whitefish

Gloria Swanson, Potomac, was chosen university ski queen by Ski club members Tuesday night. She will represent the club at the national downhill and slalom races at Whitefish March 4 and 5 where she will compete against queens from other Montana clubs for the title of "Queen of the Nationals."

Miss Swanson, a freshman majoring in home economics, is 18 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 115 pounds, and has dark hair and brown eyes. She is a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

Skiing is the favorite sport of the university queen. She lives on a ranch at Potomac which is just a few miles up the Blackfoot from Diamond mountain where she learned to ski. She has skied for three years. Although she lives on a ranch, she doesn't care too much for horseback riding.

"I get too much of it when I help out with the haying in the summer," she said.

At Whitefish contestants will be judged on beauty, poise, personality, and appearance in ski clothes. Knowing how to ski is not necessary, but Miss Swanson has no trouble handling herself on the slopes.

The winner at Whitefish will be crowned on a huge ice throne at the Big Mountain run. She will receive a one-week expense-free vacation at the Big Mountain with six days of lessons by Toni Matt, internationally-known instructor who now heads the ski school at the Whitefish run. In addition she will receive a complete ski outfit including skis, poles, bindings, boots, and clothing, all made by nationally known manufacturers.

Pet Registration Begins Today At Strip Houses

Registration of all animal pets in the strip houses, prefabs, and trailers will begin today and continue through March 10, Bob Breen, housing manager, announced yesterday.

Housing residents are to bring their pets to the office in the Community center so that a description of the animal may be written on the registration card, Breen said. This card, with the owner's name and address and the dog's description, will be kept on file in the housing office.

At the same time, pet owners will receive a brass tag for the pet's collar with the veteran's housing registration number on it. The office has a metal marking machine which will inscribe the dog's name and address on the tag.

Breen stated that after March 10 any animal found within the project areas without proper registration at the housing office will be picked up and turned over to the Humane society.

There will be no charge to housing residents for this registration.

Loran A. Johnson Receives Miller $100 Law Award

Loran A. Johnson, 1948 graduate of the School of Law, has been selected for the annual Justin Miller award for the best comment appearing in the current issue of the Montana Law Review, published by the Law school association. The award consists of a $100 U. S. savings bond.

Johnson, formerly of Billings, is now associated with the regional land office of the Continental Oil company in Denver. His article dealt with certain phases of accounts receivable as preferences in bankruptcy.

The award was established by Justin Miller, 1913 graduate of the MSU law school, who is now president of the National Association of Broadcasters. He is a former associate justice of the U. S. court of appeals and former dean of the law schools of Duke university and the University of Southern California.

U Housing For Families Still Short

Figures released from the university housing office show that a definite housing shortage still exists for married students and their families.

Seven families who applied for housing last fall quarter are still unable to obtain university housing. Thirty families who applied for winter quarter housing have not been housed as yet. Forty-eight families have applied for housing for spring quarter.

A survey is being taken at the present time to determine how many of these applicants are still actually in need of housing. All of the survey forms so far returned have indicated a definite need.

"At the present time, we have received indications of only four vacancies at the end of this quarter," said Mrs. Peggy T. Leigh, director of student housing.

Many of the married students who are on the waiting list for university housing do not have their families with them, or have housed them in less desirable quarters.

At the present time 62 applicants are on the list for housing for the coming summer quarter. This compares with a total of 66 applications for summer housing last year at this time and 31 applications at this time two years ago.

Forty-four applications have been received to date for housing next fall quarter. At this time last year 88 had been received, in comparison with 40 received in 1947. These figures indicate that the housing situation next fall will again be fairly normal.

First Football Game Slated For Billings

The Grizzlies will open their 1949 football season against the University of South Dakota in Billings, September 17, it was announced yesterday by the athletic department.

The game, slated as a night tilt, will mark the Grizzlies' first appearance in Billings; they will be feted as the "home team" by Midland Empire fans. This will be the third annual college grid event in Billings, Montana State college Bobcats having played the University of Hawaii there in 1947 and the University of Wyoming last year.

Negotiations for the game were carried on by Pres. James A. McCain and M. C. Gallagher, Billings school superintendent. It will be co-sponsored by the Midland Roundtable and the Billings high school athletic association with proceeds to be used for the new stands recently constructed in Daylis stadium.

The stadium is named for Fred T. (Cubs) Daylis '23, former outstanding Grizzly athlete and assistant principal of Billings high school, who was killed in an automobile accident in 1947.

Dave Dean Chosen Bear Paw Chief

David L. Dean, Mullan, Idaho, was elected Chief Grizzly of the Bear Paws at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

Student Dance Will Feature Bob Leighton

Tickets for the ASMSU-sponsored dance Friday night will be on sale in the Student Union today and Friday.

The announcement was made by Louise Morrison, Billings, ASMSU vice president. She said the dance will be in the Gold room of the Student Union from 9 until 12. Bob Leighton and his 11-piece band will play at the affair in their last public appearance in Missoula.

Tickets for the dance have been distributed to all campus living groups, Miss Morrison said, and Spurs will be in charge of ticket sales in the Union.

Convo Features Soprano Soloists, MSU Symphony

The university symphony orchestra, conducted by Eugene Andrie, will play several selections at convocation Friday. Duets by Joyce Degenhart, Philipsburg, and Carol Savaresy, Helena, are also included on the program. Convocation is scheduled to begin at 9:40.

Miss Degenhart and Miss Savaresy, both sopranos, will sing selections from "Aida," by Verdi, and "Martha," by Flotow. Miss Degenhart is a candidate for Miss Montana, 1949. Both are seniors in the music school.

Robert Staffanson, graduate student in the School of Music, will conduct Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony."

Other selections by the orchestra will be the "Port Royal" suite by George McKay, "Espana" by Chabrier, and the overture to "La Scala da Seta" by Rossini. The English title of Rossini's composition is "The Silken Ladder."

Student Union Budget Revision To Be Discussed

The Student Union executive board will hold their monthly business meeting today at 4 o'clock in the Eloise Knowles room of the Student Union, Cyrille Van Duser, student union manager, announced yesterday.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the revision of the present budget. The board is made up of five student members and three faculty advisors.

Chairman of the board is Tore Reuterwall, Hawthorne, N. Y. The purpose of the executive board is to make up laws concerning the operation and functions of the Student Union.

Music Bids Open On Pageant, Ball

Bids for the music for the Pageant and Coronation ball, April 1 and 2, are now open, announced Pat Shorthill, Livingston, chairman of the Miss Montana committees.

Bids for one night or both nights, number of pieces and vocalist should be submitted to Miss Shorthill at the Delta Gamma house before March 15.

At the Miss Montana Pageant, April 1, the contestants will appear several times to display their talent. Coronation ball, April 2, will feature the crowning of Miss Montana and presentation of the other five contestants who will receive $75 scholarships each.

Gems of the Week

In a recent meeting in Spokane, held to discuss CVA, a Montana Power spokesman ranted for about an hour on why the project wasn't needed—that the Montana Power, for example, was providing plenty of power for the state. After this, a very quiet little man, also from Montana, was given the floor and completely shattered the former's argument by remarking that there wasn't enough power in his home a few days ago to toast a slice of bread.

ISA Will Stage Rummage Sale

ISA will meet next Monday evening in the Bitterroot room at 7:30 p.m. to discuss promotion ideas which were offered at a council session Tuesday, according to President Les Rutledge, Big Sandy.

The Independents will stage a rummage sale in early March. The organization has obtained permission to sell unclaimed articles which have accumulated for several years in various departments, Rutledge said. Details of handling the sale and the exact date have not yet been determined.

Possibility of organizing an amateur show to be presented next quarter will also be discussed, he said.

Record War Wages Locally

A poll of students shows different views on the battle of new disks and turntables raging between Columbia and RCA Victor. The "record war" started when Columbia placed on the market a new record which revolved at 33 1-3 rpm. Victor announced in January that its new records, to be released in the spring, would spin at 45 revolutions per minute. Feeling is running high, because the record war places the burden of extra equipment on record collectors.

Students, supporting Victor, stated that they would withhold criticism until new equipment and records reach the market. Others mentioned their plans to use present equipment until the record companies arrive at some agreement as to standards. Columbia's long-playing disks and turntables were approved by collectors of classical works.

A typical comment was offered by Jerry "Jack" Hammer, sophomore political science major, from Williston, N. D.:

"I plan to stick to my conventional recording set (78 rpm), because I believe the record companies will continue to make the standard recordings for some time before the public accepts the new equipment. In my opinion, popular music will still be placed on 78 rpm disks."

"There are advantages to Columbia's LP records—for classical music, but I like Victor's idea because single recordings are more convenient—and less expensive."

If the record war goes from bad to worse, Jerry plans to record music from the radio on a tape-recorder in order to avoid the expense of new turntable equipment.

RUSSIAN TRAINING BIG JOB

According to one important statistical book, military training in Russia begins at the tender age of 12 when elementary courses are given for two hours each week. Pre-war military training follows and at the age of 16 compulsory service begins and continues to the age of 50. The book didn't say anything about a degree being awarded at the 50-year mark but we'll warrant at that age the perennial student should qualify for a Ph.D. in military science.

Guild to Record Seventh Drama

"Pygmies Are Pygmies," seventh in a series of Radio guild dramas featuring MSU student talent, will be transcribed this afternoon in Main hall auditorium for possible future broadcast over Montana radio stations.

Centering around the story of a playwright who tries to run away from selfish, demanding people, the play will star Don Bradley, Great Falls, in its lead role. Jerry Franklin, Bozeman, will be heard as a small town storekeeper, Lem; and June McLeod, Ekalaka, will lend support as Mrs. Carter, a rooming-house keeper.

Others in the cast will be Carol Gould, Lewistown; Elaine Allen, Roundup; Ben Fauth, Glasgow; and Bob Wilson, Ronan. Warren Miller, Ronan, will be announcer; and Walter Smith, Evanston, Ill., Virginia Risch and John Gregory, both of Missoula, will assist as musical and technical advisers. The play will be directed by John Suchy, Missoula.

Broadcast arrangements for this play are being handled by MSU's public service division.

Alaska Needs Communicators

The Civil Aeronautics administration has openings for single men as aircraft communicators in Alaska, according to E. W. Olson, chief aircraft communicator at Missoula.

Successful applicants will be assigned to the 45 airway communications stations operated by the CAA along Alaskan airways.

Several weeks of orientation training will be given to the appointees at the CAA aeronautical center in Oklahoma City before they travel to point of assignment in Alaska. Salary is paid while in training. Appointees will be required to remain in government service in Alaska for at least 12 months following their appointments.

Further details regarding requirements for application may be obtained from Mrs. Peggy T. Leigh, assistant director of the Placement bureau.

Two Speakers Scheduled For J-School

Eugene MacKinnon, general manager of the Salt Lake City Tribune and Telegram, and Joseph Kinsey Howard, Montana author and newspaperman, will be professional lecturers at the journalism school this spring, Dean James L. C. Ford said yesterday.

Howard will lecture on various aspects of Montana history during the week beginning April 18, and MacKinnon will discuss business management of newspapers during the week beginning May 2. Professional lecturers have been scheduled by the school each year since 1944.

MacKinnon, a student in the School of Journalism in the early 20s, was assistant general manager of the Philadelphia Bulletin until he went to Salt Lake City and has been chairman of a standing committee of the American Newspaper Publishers association. Three Montana journalism graduates, Colin Raff, Felicita Pease and Bob Blair, are on his Salt Lake staff.

Howard is widely known as the author of "Montana: High, Wide and Handsome" and "Montana Margins," and for several years he was on the staff of the Great Falls Leader.

Campus Briefs

Dr. D. W. Babcock will give a short address on socialized medicine in the United States at the bi-monthly luncheon of Phi Delta Phi, legal honorary, at 12:15 today in the Redroom lounge of the Florence hotel.

Chairmen of the Miss Montana committees will meet in the Copper room of the Student Union tomorrow at 4 p.m., announced Pat Shorthill, head of the Miss Montana planning committee.

Miss Montana candidates will meet tonight at 9:30 in the Bitterroot room of the Student Union, announced June Canavan, chairman of the Miss Montana training program.

The campus unit of the Red Cross will meet in the Eloise Knowles room today at 4 p.m. to discuss the Red Cross drive which will start the first of March. Eleanor Linse, Ronan, urges all representatives of the living groups to be present at this meeting.

Montana Rifles, drilling* honorary in the ROTC department, will have an emergency meeting today at 4:10 in the ROTC building in Room 3. Attendance is compulsory.

Sinfonia, men's music honorary, will meet at 9 o'clock tonight in the Bitterroot room. Sentinel pictures will be taken at the meeting.

McCain in Helena For Council Meeting

President James A. McCain left today for Helena where he will attend a meeting of the University of Montana executive council. President McCain will meet with Chancellor George A. Selke and the presidents of the other five units of the University of Montana.

Panhel Will Renew Traditional Songfest

Revival of the traditional Panhellenic songfest will be renewed tonight in the Student Union lounge from 9-10, Barbara Lou Kitt, social chairman of the group, announced.

Songs of the sororities will be sung to promote good relationships between the girls. The songfest has been a tradition at MSU but the past few years it was discontinued because of lack of interest, she said.

Other activities of the evening include a collection for the Panhel adopted war orphan and a talk by Connie Shruder, president of the Panhel council.

Chinske Calls Baseball Men

"I hope there is a large baseball turnout this year even though we have 12 returning lettermen," said Eddie Chinske, baseball coach, yesterday. All candidates will meet in Room 304 in the men's gym at 3:30 Monday afternoon.

With lights installed at Campbell park, and a prospective 30-game schedule, Coach Chinske believes that baseball is ready to assume its role as a major sport at the University.

"The more men who show up for tryouts, the more representative and the better our team will be," Chinske said.

Turnouts for varsity teams have been disappointing during the past two seasons because of the advance notice that so many lettermen were returning. Consequently, many men never bother to show up when tryouts are announced. Coach Chinske hopes this situation will not prevail this spring.

"I judge ballplayers on what they show me on the diamond," the baseball coach said.

Duets Featured For Concert

Eugene Andrie will conduct the University symphony orchestra in its second concert of the winter season at the Student Union auditorium, 8:15 Sunday evening.

Carol Savaresy, Helena, and Joyce Degenhart, Philipsburg, will sing duets from the operas "Aida" and "Martha." Both are voice majors in the School of Music.

Robert Staffanson, graduate assistant, will direct the orchestra as guest conductor, through Schubert's "Symphony No. 8 in B Minor."

Following the intermission, the orchestra will play Prokofieff's "Peter and the Wolf." John Lester will narrate the tale.

Community Center Dance Saturday

The second juke box dance for the winter season will take place at the Community center for residents of the strip houses, prefabs, and trailers Saturday night at 8:30, Mayor Andy Arvish said yesterday.

Refreshments at the dance will be potluck with the attendants bringing their own food. The dance committee will furnish coffee and eating utensils.

Arvish said that he hoped those attending would contact their neighbors to insure some variety of food.

The mayor also promised an interesting wild-life movie starting promptly at 9 o'clock and running for about an hour.

Except for a few nickels to use in the coke machine and juke box, the dance is free.

Radio Discussions Feature Foresters

The third in a series of four round-table discussions will be broadcast by members of the course in Public and Private administration over Station KXLL, today at 5:30 p.m., according to Ralph McGinnis, MSU speech coach.

The topic for discussion this week is "How important are our assets for recreational use, and what are the tangible and intangible benefits derived from them?"

Those participating in the broadcast are David L. Condon, William R. Moore, H. A. Payson, Roy E. Berg, Lowell Asher, and Richard H. Woodcock. These men represent the Park and Forest service.

The class of Public and Private Administration is sponsored by the MSU Public Service division in conjunction with the Forest service.

Denver Alums Hubbard Hosts

"Cac" Hubbard, MSU's new director of athletics, and Mrs. Hubbard will be the guests of honor at a dinner sponsored by the Denver alumni association on March 24, according to Edward J. Eighman, ex-'43, president of the Denver alumni.

Before coming to Missoula, Hubbard will stop in Billings where he will confer with members of the Billings Booster club.

Ted Shipkey, newly-appointed Grizzly football coach, will be a luncheon guest of the Los Angeles Athletic club on March 3, according to Stienor A. Larsen '30, a member of the Montana Alumni association in Los Angeles.

Shipkey is expected to arrive in Missoula about March 15.

Grizzly Departure Time Today Is 3:30

Coach Jiggs Dahlberg, 14 Grizzlies, and Mgr. Fred Lerch will leave for Bozeman this afternoon aboard the 3:30 N. P. train.

The Grizzlies went through their final practice of the season yesterday afternoon in preparation for the two-game series with the State college Bobcats. The games are the final ones of the 1949 Montana season and will decide the unofficial Montana state intercollegiate championship. By winning one of the games the Grizzlies can take a title they have not won since 1941.

Dahlberg worked his men on two techniques this week that strongly indicate he expects a couple of tight games with the 'Cats. Yesterday afternoon the Whites tried to steal the ball from the Reds, who were freezing it for 30-second periods.

Earlier in the week Dahlberg drilled the Grizzlies on a set offense, which he will use in the event the 'Cats manage to slow down the Montana fast break.

The 'Cats chose to outrun the Grizzlies but failed in the previous meeting of the two teams last month. This week the Bobcats may come up with a set offense and try to slow down a Montana team that has speed to burn.

Starters for the series are in question. Capt. Lou Rocheleau and Bob Cope are definite first-string forwards, but the center and guards were not named by Dahlberg. Dick Carstensen, John Eahheart, Jim Graham, and Tom Selstad will vie for the three spots.

Selstad may ride the bench at the tipoffs Friday and Saturday with Carstensen starting at center, and Graham and Eahheart at the guards. Dahlberg has used Selstad this season as lubrication for the Grizzly fast break when rust slows down operations and speed is required.

Grizzlies Hit .478 Average On Zag Win

Annexing 59 points in their final home game against the Gonzaga Bulldogs Saturday night, the Montana Grizzlies boosted their total points for the season to 1,465.

The win over Gonzaga brought the season's win-loss average to .478 as compared to an average of .608 at the same time last year. A double win over the Bobcats this week end will bring the Grizzly average to .520 as compared to last season's final percentage of .656. A double loss would lower the MSU squad's average to .440.

In the individual scoring department, Cope still leads with a total of 393 points although he was held down to 14 points in the Gonzaga game and fouled out in the final half. Carstensen tied Cope for high-point man Saturday night to raise his total to 129. Bauer still has a slight edge on Selstad in the scoring battle between the two.

Here is the individual scoring increases:

Cope	from 379 to 393
Rocheleau	from 288 to 300
Eahheart	from 237 to 244
Carstensen	from 115 to 129
Bauer	from 107 to 107
Selstad	from 96 to 102
Graham	from 85 to 90
Marinkovich	from 36 to 37

Cubs End Season With Bobkittens This Week End

The University Cub basketball team finishes its season this week end by playing host to the Bobkittens of Montana State college Friday and Saturday at the university gym.

Monday night the Cubs took over first place in the Western Montana Independent league by overpowering a weak National Guard quintet, 90 to 36, at the Ft. Missoula gym. The Cubs have won six and lost one in league competition.

Every member of the 14-man frosh squad hit the scoring column for at least two points in the Cubs' final league game. Luckman notched high total of 14.

Coach Chinske said yesterday that his freshman tossers would not be entered in the independent tournament for Missoula and vicinity.

SAE Has Easy Time With TX, 64-28; ATO Triumphs Over Bus Ad

With less than 10 seconds playing time left in the second game Tuesday night, Phi Delt Bob Alkire scored three points to tie the Ski club, 40 to 40, and throw the game into overtime. The Phi Delt protected a two-point lead in the overtime with a stall to win the game, 46 to 44.

The Ski club led the Phi Delt from two to four points during the second half until Alkire was fouled as he made a hole shot. Alkire made the gift toss to knot the count.

The Ski club effectively stopped the Phi Delt fast break but the resulting fouls cost them the game. They outscored the Phi Delt in field goals, 17 to 16, but the winners made 14 out of 20 free shots to their 10 out of 20. Ski club lost Holland and Lind on fouls.

The win gave the Phi Delt an undisputed first place in the B league with seven wins. Ski club is second with seven wins and one loss.

In the first game, SAE took an easy 64 to 28 win from Theta Chi. SAE scored 22 points in the second quarter while holding Theta Chi to one point. Manuel and Gunklikson scored 18 and 14 for SAE. Barsness and Sykes were high for Theta Chi with six apiece.

ATO stopped the Bus Ad club 42 to 39 in the third game. Neils and Breidenfeld hit 14 and 11 for ATO and Wagner and Myers were high for Bus Ad with 16 and 14.

Soldiers Lead, 'Slingers Trail

The Soldiers regained the top rung in the faculty bowling league Monday night by taking two of three games from the Businessmen at the Echo bowling alleys.

The Inkslingers of the J-school, tied with the Soldiers last week for first place, slipped into the No. 2 spot by letting the Humanists defeat them twice.

Vince Wilson, who only a short while ago had a 125 average, walked off with both high-game and series honors. The Phys Ed prof, rolling for Military, hit 221 pins in one game and his total for the night was 518.

Journalism's Ted Ostrom recorded a 194 game and Don Emblem, Bus Ad prof, was in the limelight the second straight week with a score of 183.

Echo alleys officials announced yesterday that wives of faculty members will roll Friday at 4:30.

Chinske Wants 30-Game Baseball Schedule This Spring

If Coach Eddie Chinske's wish materializes, the Grizzlies will face a 30-game baseball schedule this season. Each placement with another school schedules a doubleheader, so that the greatest number of games may be played throughout the season.

Chinske has scheduled 20 games to date, and is awaiting word from five other schools for placement in his proposed spring season.

The proposed schedule is as follows:

April 15, Whitman college, at Walla Walla; April 16, Northern Idaho college, at Lewiston; April 22, Whitworth college, at Spokane; April 29, Gonzaga university, at Spokane; May 5, Whitworth college, here; May 7, Whitman college, here; May 14, Washington State college, at Pullman; May 16, Idaho university, at Moscow; May 20, Gonzaga university, here; and May 27, Northern Idaho college, here.

Fairly well assured are games with Eastern Washington college and Montana School of Mines, and remote possibilities are games with Utah university, Utah State college and Brigham Young university.

Last year, because of weather-hampered spring workouts, the Grizzlies were handicapped in early-season games.

The subject of lighting for Campbell field has progressed to the point where local doubleheader baseball games may be played, commencing at 3 p.m. Last year, doubleheader games were restricted to seven innings, but with the floodlights the games can be full-length. Revenue can thereby be increased for the ball team by encouraging "downtown trade." With baseballs costing $25.10 per dozen and bats at $3 apiece, the minimal allotment needs some extra aid.
