VERY BEST WISHES

At this stage of the game we still don't know for sure who our next ASMSU officers will be, but names are immaterial for the point we have in mind.

We want first of all to promise full cooperation with the new administration. Our tactics to-date may not have given the impression that we will do this, but we will, as our future coverage will show.

However, we shall no more condone sloppy procedures in Central board this year than last. When student officers are legitimately absent from their desks, that is one thing; but when they come to meetings unprepared and indifferent, that is something else.

If we have jumped on the Greeks before, we have done so solely because they were running the government, and not doing a good job of it. After the criticisms in this campaign they must surely realize that they owe it to the voters to prove that we were wrong by going ahead, without being prodded, and giving us a fine administration.

In Friday's issue we intend to outline our policy in the handling of Central board news. The board-elect can read it with profit. We intend to increase publicity of student affairs to the point where laziness will no longer be profitable to anyone—Greeks or Independents.

High Brows Dealt Low Blow By Campus 'Scandal Sheet' Rakings

Campus Rakings, that yearly libel sheet devoted to obtaining high readership by dishing out low blows, pulled out all the stops this Aber day.

Again the private lives and loves of a large part of the student body and faculty were maliciously printed to the delight of everyone except the victims.

Smurr Smeared

Bill Smurr was the target of a rather witty satire, "He's Just My Bill," written by Pegen Clapp. The scene of the satire is an editorial Olympus in which Smurr plays Jupiter. Space limitations force us to plagiarize only the last three paragraphs of the piece:

"Just then there was a rapping on the golden door. 'Oh Most Highly Potent Potentate, we are having trouble with someone down the hall.

'A pox on you, rude fellow. What seems to be the matter? More news from Central Board, I hope?

'No sir,' he replied. 'It's God. He thinks he is Bill Smurr.'"

Dean Ford Too

Even the spotless character of the J-school's Dean Ford was assaulted with this vile heresy: "We suggest that the journalism majors get reinforcements at Allied Fashions. The Dean is noted for not ever looking above a girl's sorority pin."

Turning to the love department we find that Rakings left no stones unturned there. We reprint some representative samples:

"Bob (I like big cars) Hawkins was going great guns with Helen (just don't try to hold my hand) Lambros until he insisted she take the Cadillac instead of the Mercury."

And Some More

"Lee (Kiddy Car) Birkett is pulling pretty hard on the ring in Scooter (How high shall I jump, honey) Rostad's nose, but she still hasn't succeeded in alienating him from all his friends."

"Why doesn't Mary Ann Hanson wear Julie Wuerthner's Sigma Chi pin? Maybe she doesn't like the idea of wearing a second-hand one. But, after all, it's only been hung six times."

"Carol (When it comes to making love, Johnnie, you'd be a better dog catcher) Savaresy will go to California this summer just to see if Dick (I'm cute) Grieb will follow her.

The University's newest architectural gem was subjected to a drubbing when Rakings declared that the Alpha Phi dwelling was designed in the style of classic "Old Road House."

Architectural Comments

Some of the most interesting (and certainly the most vulgar or insulting, either by innuendo or outright accusation) comments are too foul to see the light of respectable Kaimin print. However, we assume that nearly all of our readers have chuckled (or groaned) over them by this time.

This year's Rakings contains an informative list of contributors to the slaughter. They are no doubt busy making themselves scarce since several of the most abused have murder in their hearts.

Signs Swipers Still at Large

The identity of the person who tore down two ISA campaign signs from the door of the library was still unknown yesterday. The maintenance office said it was against library rules to post bills on the door, but didn't know whether the janitor or ISA opponents had removed the posters.

Les Rutledge, president of ISA, complained to the Kaimin early Monday morning that his posters, "representing hours of work," had been forcibly removed.

One hour after his complaint two Greek signs appeared on the doors, but other candidates were quick to point out that various types of bills have been posted on the doors through the years. They said the Greek candidates were unaware of the ban.

Golden Opportunity—If You're a Greenie

Travel . . . adventure . . . excitement . . . recreation. Earn Bear Paw points . . . earn a letter. Know the team . . . and be assured of a seat at all the games.

There is only one way to get all of this in a life time. If you are a freshman, report to coach Ted Shipkey at the men's gym and find out if you're eligible to become a football manager. Do it now.

The Greek political machine rallied late this afternoon to probably prevent anything like a strong ISA success at the polls in the coming general election, unofficial balloting indicated.

Hank Ford was leading John Holding in the ASMSU presidential race, 550 to 549, and will face him in the finals, but Bob Stermitz' 406 votes will probably go to Holding at that time.

Dave Freeman, Greek business manager candidate, was leading Ross Miller, the Independent, 612 to 530. Freeman will probably pick up added strength in the finals from his eliminated Greek rival, Dean Jellison, who had 352.

The proposed fee raise referendum was apparently doomed, 662 to 745.

In the vice-presidential race Kay Hennessey, with 612, made a surprise showing against Margot Luebben, 540, whom she will face in the finals. Eliminated was Virginia Risch, the ISA candidate, with 447.

Popular Lex Mudd led the Greek parade in the secretary race, 798 votes to 387 for Edith Dresner, ISA. Eliminated was Barbara Dockery, 284.

The one apparently conclusive ISA success was in the race for senior delegate to Central board, where Torv Halvorson was leading Henry DiRe, 277 to 202.

Jeanne Jones was leading Lynn Lull, ISA, in the junior delegate contest, 122 to 102. Diana Matson was trailing with 90.

Dick Wohlgenant, the hybrid independent candidate, was leading the field in the sophomore race, 196 to 68 for Bob Smith, 52 for Lane Justus, and 46 for Art Stone (the ISA hopeful).

Winners in the primary runoff for class officers, who will participate in the final election, are as follows:

SENIOR CLASS—President, Joe Estes 231, James Murphy 234; Vice-president, Marian Bell, 224, Martha Brown 239; Secretary, Joan Smith 262, Barbara Hartin 195; Treasurer, Virginia Floyd 279, Rhoda June 187.

JUNIOR CLASS—President, Edna Geary 168, Betty Lou Berland 131; Vice-president, Everett Chaffin 287; Secretary, Joan Beckwith 175, Bernice Wiley 120; Treasurer, Helen Lambros 161, Michael O'Shea 130.

STORE BOARD—Jack O'Hern 410, Howard Heintz 305, Joe Murphy 265, Marjorie Fryberger 245, Ruby Popovich 200, Beverly Way 200, Lee Miller 150.

Corbin Hall, Alpha Chi Get Cleanup Firsts

The Corbin hall men and the Alpha Chi women were declared winners in the Aber day clean-up contest today. Awards will be given to the winners at tonight's barn dance.

The Corbin crew, under Foreman Joe Siemanski, Ambridge, Pa., was given the judge's nod for its neat work in the area north and east of the Women's gym. The Alpha Chi girls, led by Virginia Kreitel, Ekalaka, won first place for the women's clean-up groups by making the Chemistry-Pharmacy area shine.

The judging committee for the clean-up contest was composed of Ross Miller, chairman; Bob Stermitz, Joe Estes, Jim Murphy, Dean

Richard Jesse, Virginia Risch, Diana Mattson, Betty Lou Berland, and Torval Halvorson.

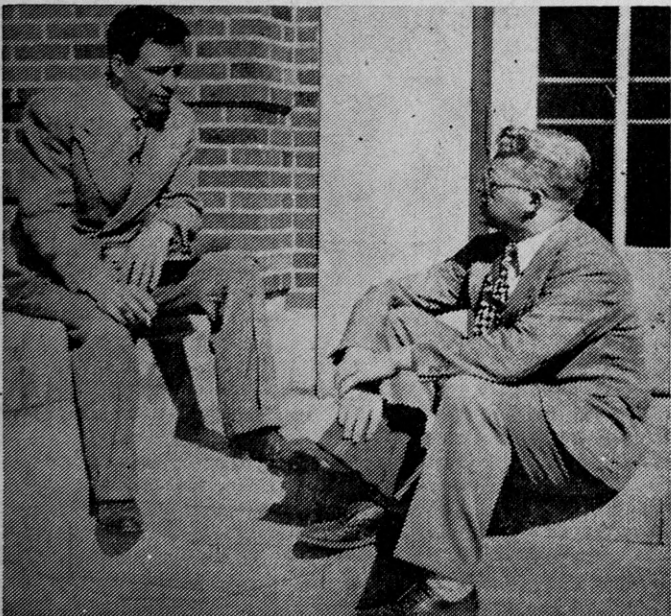

Miller complimented the winners for "turning to with a will." He especially praised those groups who did a good clean-up job on some of the more difficult areas of the campus.

Second and third place in the men's contest went to Sigma Chi with Harry Farrington, Seattle, Wash., as foreman; and Kappa Sigma Delta with John Haynes, Bozeman, as leader. They cleaned the Jumbo hall area and the Cook hall area, respectively.

Runners-up in the women's division were Sigma Kappa, who worked on the music hall and health service grounds and New hall who tackled the Corbin hall area. Jean Popham, Glendive, and Marian Lenn, Heron, bossed these groups.

Chancellor Selke might be called a graduation baby. He was born on June 28.

Good, But Not Good Enough

Ross Miller will be the first Independent business manager candidate to get into the finals in a long time, but he trailed Dave Freeman in the primaries. Hank Ford, running for president, beat his eventual opponent, John Holding, by one vote.

Error Results In New Story Contest

A new short-story contest was opened by the English department Saturday after a misunderstanding over requirements for the Stearns contest earlier squeezed out possible contributors.

The Stearns competition specified that only manuscripts of more than 3,500 words would be judged. The second (Joyce) contest specifies a maximum of 3,500 words. The winner will receive $15.

Stories of fewer than 3,500 words which were entered erroneously in the Stearns contest will automatically be entered in the Joyce Memorial contest. Local persons will judge the manuscripts.

Here are the regulations:

1. Three typed copies, double spaced and with four margins of at least one inch, of stories of 3,500 words or fewer. Stories are to be left in L-101 by noon, April 30. Careless typing and slovenly manuscript will disqualify a story. Use fresh carbon paper.
2. On each copy will be an assumed name, sealed envelopes containing (a) title of the story, (b) the assumed name, (c) the writer's real name and his home and Missoula address.
3. Any undergraduate in residence during this spring quarter may enter as many as three stories.

Humphrey Bogart was born on Christmas day in 1899.

The Gay Old Days

Alpha Chi Omega

Members of the Whitman debate team visiting the house Saturday were Mary Jo Reed, Donna Gestenberger and Carlan Heathcots. Other guests were Ed-die Loss and La Rene Rushnell.

Grizzlies Take Drubbing In Weekend Ball Games

By LES DIMMITT

The Grizzlies returned home Sunday with a .250 win average. They split a doubleheader with Whitman college Friday at Walla Walla and dropped two games to Northern Idaho College of Education Saturday at Lewistown.

Montana edged out Whitman, 10 to 8, in their first game and lost the second, 7 to 3. NICE dropped the Grizzlies in both games Saturday, 8 to 5 and 10 to 3.

Afternoon Game With Whitman
MSU 10, Whitman 8

Whitman took a 3-to-1 lead in the first inning, but the Grizzlies came back and tied it up with two runs in the third. After each team scored once in the fifth, MSU scored a run in the sixth to pull ahead, 5 to 4. The Grizzlies increased their lead and won the game by outscoring the Whitman nine, 5 to 4, in a big seventh inning. Hilgenstuhler scored three runs for the Grizzlies; Cope scored two; and Armstrong, Walsh, Nicol, John Holding, and Bob Holding each scored one. Hilgenstuhler showed his old form with one stolen base and John Holding came through with a three bagger. Armstrong, Hilgenstuhler, and John Holding each had one error.

Whitman had seven errors. Bob Holding walked three men and Mitchell for Whitman walked five. Holding struck out four men and Mitchell struck out two. Whitman got eight hits for seven runs off Holding in 6 and one-third innings and two hits for one run off O'Loughlin in two-thirds of an inning. The Grizzlies got nine hits off Mitchell.

Afternoon Game With NICE
MSU 5, NICE 8

Armstrong, Hilgenstuhler, Tabaracci, Walsh, and Cocco scored one run each for the Grizzlies. NICE cinched the game with a big seven-run second inning. The NICE nine scored another run in the fifth. The Grizzlies scored one run in the second and rallied with four more in the seventh. Hilgenstuhler stole another base and John Holding credited himself with one stolen base. Walsh made the only error for the Grizzlies and the NICE team made four errors. In one and two-third innings Cope walked seven men, struck out two, and gave two hits for seven runs.

In 6 and one-half innings Tabaracci walked two men, fanned five, and gave up three hits for one run. Chase for NICE walked seven, struck out seven, and gave up four hits for five runs in 6 and two-thirds innings. Fike for NICE walked three and gave up one hit in 2 and one-third innings. MSU and NICE each got five hits.

Editorial

For another, win or lose, the unaffiliates will probably vote in larger numbers this year than before. You must see to this.

There is no merit in partisan voting if it doesn't result in a larger voting total. Actually, a partisan vote is difficult to justify on any other grounds. One way or another, we see little excuse for affiliate or non-affiliate abstention from the polls today.

In this election the Greeks have a great deal to lose, and the unaffiliates can do nothing but win . . . if they vote.

Matrix Table This Week

Lulu Holmes, nationally known educator and former member of General MacArthur's staff, will be the guest speaker at Theta Sigma Phi's Matrix Table banquet in the Florentine Gardens of the Hotel Florence Sunday, April 24.

The problem faced by the United States in the Orient today in regard to the education of the masses to accepting women on an equal mentality level with men will be the basis of Miss Holmes' talk, President Smith said. During recent years Miss Holmes has had considerable association with this problem as head of the educational program for Japanese women under General MacArthur.

New Members

In addition to Miss Holmes' address, the banquet will be the scene of the tapping of new members to the collegiate chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honor fraternity. A number of women who are outstanding for their achievements in various fields will also be pledged to honorary membership in this group.

Students may make reservations with Mrs. Dorothy Francis in the journalism library by 4 p.m. Thursday, April 21. Mrs. Ralph Fields, chairman of the committee, is making reservations of towns-women and other guests.

Soph Awards

During the course of the evening the presentation of the annual scholarship award to a sophomore student in journalism will take place. The award is made on the basis of the student's scholastic record and journalistic achievements during the past two years.

Among the special guests at this formal gathering will be Mrs. Louise Denny, Billings, national vice-president of Theta Sigma Phi; Mrs. Mildred Walker Schemm, Great Falls, Montana novelist and Matrix speaker of a few years past; and Mrs. Kathryn Wright, Billings newspaper woman.

A trio composed of Mrs. H. M. Blegen Jr., violin; Miss Charlotte Williams, cello; and Mrs. E. L. Marvin, piano, will provide musical entertainment.

Interfraternity council will meet tonight at 6 p.m. at the Phi Delta Theta house . . . providing this is not Aber day.

Betty Lou Hoffstatter and Gerry James were the first coeds to have their paint removed.

Foresters were on the roof of the law building with their flag at 8 a.m.

The Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism honorary again produced the Campus Rakins, free to all students.

The voting took place from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and there was a dance in the Gold room of the Student Union from 9 to 11 p.m.

And, oh yes, the women were granted 11:30 permission that evening. (ho hum).

ANOTHER ABER!

Greeks Whoop It Up For Favorite Son

The campus had a flash of old campaign form yesterday when one of the frats erected this combined election headquarters and refreshment stand. Coffee and punch were served, and only the very latest and loudest popular records were played. No one will ever know whether or not high-level campaigning of this sort ever produces votes, but it is just oodles and oodles of fun. This particular version of bread-and-circus may in time replace the Greek motorcades that make life so noisy for all of us. Good! The coffee was good too!

Bygone Aber 'Daze' Rapped by Moderns

IN HONOR OF PROF. ABER

This will be the 34th annual Aber day

In the Montana Kaimin of March 26, 1915, we find:

"At convocation last Wednesday morning, the student body took action which will result in benefit to the institution and will also do signal honor to one of Montana's greatest men. The students decided to begin this year the custom of having a clean-up day.

"On this day the campus will be cleaned, tennis courts will be built, and a baseball diamond will be laid out, and the campus generally beautified. In honor of the man who each spring has taken personal supervision of the beauty of the campus and who has made it his pride that the campus shall present a pleasing appearance, the student body voted unanimously that the day should be called "Aber day," and that each year one day will be set apart for this purpose."

At that time, William A. 'Daddy' Aber was a professor of Greek.

Bureaucratic

Part of the general rules read: "at night there will be general jollification in the form of a shirt-waist dance." Thus the ingredient pleasure has come to season our Aber day potpourri.

As plans proceeded, the date was definitely set for April 16 and Aber day rules were set up.

In the second Aber day (1916), "police girls" daubed the noses of women who showed up late for work, with red chalk. That year, two would-be elopers were snatched from a Bitterroot train and forced to take part in the work and play of that day.

"Don't be in too big a hurry to get into uniform," advised University Chancellor Elliott, in 1917, the first war Aber day. (Shades of recent years).

That year the Chancellor also advanced the idea of having the faculty group work at the next Aber day (1918).

Rules Altered

Only seven of the 15 rules set up in 1915 have been altered to any extent, in practice:

The hours have been changed from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. to 8 to 12 a.m.

Aber day is now chosen by a

Central board-Faculty committee and announced by the President of ASMSU, instead of the Friday of the third week in April.

A special work group now serves the noon lunch and not just "all the women workers of the University."

For the tardy or delinquent who are found, (1) "resort to suitable punishment"; (2) the suitable punishment is now administered at high court.

No programs of the arrangement of more than three dances in the evening dance, will be allowed.

Absence from work on Aber day, will be counted as an absence from class and so registered. (Hah!)

Personalities

We went all the way back to April, 1940, editions of the Kaimin and found that:

Jack Hoon, Missoula, was appointed chairman for the "day of days." He was a three-letter man and a journalism senior.

An Aber Memorial Oratorical contest had only four entries; Walter Coombs, Missoula; Glen Nelson, Missoula; Burke McNamer, Shelby; and Bill Scott, Great Falls.

Fifty-four students filed for class and student offices.

CORRECTION

Sincere apologies to Bob Smith, PSK candidate on the Greek slate for sophomore delegate. Smith was approved late by Central board, and our story yesterday was drawn from incomplete board minutes. We are genuinely sorry for the omission, and hope it won't effect Smith's chances today.

Women Counselors Wanted Next Fall To Guide Frosh

Missoula women and non-sorority women who would like to be counselors next fall may pick up application blanks in the Student Union business office and in the dean of students office this week, Irene Stritch, chairman of the counselor-counselee program said.

Sororities will have the application blanks this week and they should be filled out and returned by next Tuesday. Women will be picked from those who submit their names.

The program, sponsored by AWS, is arranged so freshmen women coming to school in the fall will have contact with upper-class women during the first week to orient them in the school, Miss Stritch said.

Activities planned for next fall will include a counselor-counselee tea.

Editorial

MESSY, MESSY, MESSY!

One year ago at this hour, even as now, the student body was flexing its muscles on the campus rubble. By 10 o'clock the green was indeed green. By noon we had a rather nice looking campus.

By 3 o'clock the place was a mess again.

After lunch was served and High court adjourned, the lawns around the library and Main hall were mottled with the leavings of a thousand luncheon aids, candy wrappers, cigarette butts, etc., etc., etc.

High court was a success. Everyone enjoyed the pie eating contest. The faculty-student baseball game was pleasant. Everything went the way it should — except the cleanup. Somehow, taking stock of what had been done during the morning, the casual critic might reasonably assume that whatever the purpose of Aber day MIGHT be, it certainly wasn't to clean up the grounds.

This campus has a beauty potential of 100-plus. Transfer students from many other states see here a promise that may find full expression in genuine beauty in a very few years—if we all protect and enhance the natural advantages given to our campus. Certainly one of the requirements for a handsome campus anywhere is student co-operation in keeping it looking the way the designers intended it to look.

Professor Aber was not a doddering old fool whom we honor in sarcastic jest today because he gave us a jolly good holiday gratis, but a thoughtful promoter of student interests who probably put more faith in student pride than he should have.

The muck that perennially clutters the Student Union is a tribute neither to Daddy Aber, nor to the students in whom he saw so much solicitude for the University. It is indeed a strong indictment against the slovenly personal habits of a good part of our student body.

The yeggs who rest their logging boots on tables and overstuffed chairs in the Student Union lounge, the others who grind out cigarette butts on floors and desks and chairs, all those who behave like none but the worst people from Tobacco Road, take a great deal more from the University than they put into it—regardless of what they spend for tuition.

We can't answer for you, but we are sick and tired of this sort of thing.

Our motto from now on is this: Every Day Is Aber Day.

WHY YOU MUST

No one that we know reads all the way through an exhortation to vote on election day, and probably few will read this one; but those who do may at least understand that this is no ordinary election.

For one thing, this marks the last year of Greek domination on the campus, if that year hasn't passed already. While the Greeks may win today, they will meet an impossible resistance next year. We will see to that.
