MEETING TONIGHT

Members of the freshman class will meet in the Student Union auditorium at 6:45 tonight.

New class officers will be introduced and plans for activities during the year will be discussed. The meeting will be short.

Dick Wohlgenant, Miles City, sophomore delegate to Central board is in charge of the election. He expressed hope that a larger percentage of freshmen would turn out for today's general election than voted in the primary. Only 39 per cent of the eligible freshmen voters cast ballots in the primary.

Voters must show activity cards and have their names checked with a class roster before they will be given ballots. Balloting will be secret.

Bond Hearing Delayed Again

For the third time the case of the university allocation has been postponed. This time, it is because Atty. Gen. Arnold Olsen is in the hospital with a throat infection.

The hearing was to have been next Monday in Helena.

In connection with the allocation court house, a hearing in the suit brought by Mrs. Cloyse Overturf, Helena, against the State Board of Examiners has been continued from November 7 to November 21. Mrs. Overturf got a temporary injunction which keeps the examiners from spending the building bond money without the approval of the State Board of Education. The hearing will be an order to show cause why the injunction should not be permanent.

Riflemen Firing Telegraphic Meet

ROTC riflemen will fire two matches this week in a telegraphic meet with the universities of Alabama and North Dakota, Milton C. Hansen, rifle team coach said. The 15 men competing must fire before Saturday so that the 10 best scores may be sent to the opposing schools.

Women's beginning riflery started Tuesday, Sergeant Hansen said. Carol Nancy Steinbrink, Columbus, was the sharpshooter in the first class with 93 points out of a possible 100.

Since the war, Hall has returned to Europe several times to witness the recovery of the Continental nations from the effects of the recent struggle.

John W. Bonner '28, governor of the state of Montana, will crown the Queen of Hearts at the first annual Sigma Phi Epsilon Queen of Hearts ball Nov. 12.

The candidates for queen will be guests of the fraternity at a sweater dance Friday evening.

The queen will be chosen Monday night by active members of the fraternity and announced at the ball.

Gov. Bonner is an alumnus of the University chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Time of Slack Dance Changed

The time of the Freddie Slack dance Saturday night has been changed to 8:30 to 12:30.

The dance was previously advertised as 9 to 1, and then from 8 to 12. The schedule had to be changed in order to comply with a university rule governing time limits for university functions.

Tickets are still on sale at the Student Union this week. Students are urged to buy their tickets beforehand in order to avoid congestion at the door, and so that ticket sales may be calculated.

'Our Town' Tickets Available Today

All students may get their tickets for "Our Town," fall quarter Masquer production, Thursday, Friday, and Monday from 1-4 o'clock in the box office on the second floor of Simpkins hall, on presentation of their activity cards.

Cadets Try For Air Force Commissions

Four air ROTC cadets, designated as distinguished military students at the University, were interviewed yesterday by a board of officers from McChord Air Force base at Tacoma, Wash., Capt. Irving A. Goldner, assistant professor of military science and tactics, announced yesterday.

The four men interviewed, all currently taking their final year of Air ROTC work, are Frederick W. Abbott, Boston, Mass.; Edward G. Heilman, Butte; Forrest H. Dobson and Theodore McDonald, both of Missoula.

Based on their overall records in Air ROTC work and other University activities, these men were chosen by the Air ROTC division, at the University.

Recommendations of the interview board will be sent to Air Force headquarters in Washington, D. C., which will later announce the names of those students to whom appointments as second lieutenant in the regular Air Force will be tendered.

The interview board was composed of Major David Conley, Major Roland McCroskrie, and Major Kenneth Young, all of McChord Air Force base.

STAMP COLLECTORS MEET

'The Way West' By Guthrie '23 On Sale at Union

The Student Store has just received copies of A. B. Guthrie's novel, "The Way West," according to Don Ritter, manager of the book store. This book by the Montana novelist-historian is second in a series of which "The Big Sky" was first. It was chosen as book of the month for October.

Clifton Fadiman in the Saturday Review of Literature says, "The Way West" is excitingly refreshing reading... the finest novel on the subject in existence." Bernard DeVoto said, "The pioneer West has found its novelist at last."

A. B. Guthrie Jr. graduated from Montana State University with a B.A. in journalism in 1923. He was one of the guest lecturers at the writers' conference on the campus this summer. Since his initial success in his first novel, "The Big Sky," Guthrie has quit his job as executive editor of the Lexington Leader and bought a "summer hideout" in the Montana Rockies to be back among the people he grew up with.

Don Ritter says that the book is being well received by students and faculty alike. He reports having sold seven copies already in the short time the book has been in stock.

ED STUDENTS SEE MAUCKER

All students who are not in Education 25a, b, or c and who plan to receive a teacher's certificate within the next two years are requested by Dean J. W. Maucker to see him within the next two weeks. His office is TO106.

This is necessary so a schedule for practice teaching may be made up; otherwise, some students may have to attend school another quarter to receive practice teaching.

Gimme Campaigns Hurt Merchants

Editorial

The idea apparently is quite prevalent that things are all milk and honey for Missoula merchants—that all the downtown business men have to do is to sit back and watch the money roll in.

Missoula businessmen are being sapped of their profits by every money-making or fund raising scheme that comes into the heads of students and townspeople. They are asked to donate to Red Cross, polio drive, the community chest, the athletic association, the cancer drive, the boy and girl scouts, campfire girls, the high school band, and dozens of other fund-raising ideas initiated by veterans, religious, altruistic, and profit-making groups.

All this is in addition to the great amount of legitimate advertising they do. This has got to stop somewhere. The poor results attained in the community chest drive might be an indication that it is beginning to stop now.

Among the organizations supported by the advertising of Missoula businessmen are two downtown daily newspapers, one weekly newspaper, two radio stations, and two high school weeklies. They are asked to support three campus publications—the Kaimin, the Sentinel, and the Mountaineer.

Now the downtown businessmen are going to be hit for a blotter which two university students are undertaking to produce.

The blotter should not be construed as a campus publication, however. It is the private enterprise of two university students who received Central board's permission to distribute the finished product on the campus. The only power Central board has over such projects is to allow or to refuse their distribution on the campus.

The blotter is not the undertaking of any sanctioned university organization. Its publishers do not have Central board's or the administration's blessings to solicit advertising from downtown businessmen. In fact, Central board, Publications board, and the three student publications would be much happier if the blotter were not published. It cuts in on their advertising revenue and it is not an effective advertising medium.

Effective advertising, by present-day standards, should be adjacent to news copy so that the news will draw the reader's attention to the advertising. The blotter will be one solid block of advertising on both sides except for athletic schedules and telephone numbers of living groups.

Most merchants set up a budget for advertising and donations. Good advertising is a benefit to the merchant, the consumer, and the advertising medium. It should not be considered a donation, but too often it is and is placed on the same budget with donations. Consequently, the more money given for donations—and since the blotter is such a poor medium it can be considered a donation—the less invested in advertising.

The Kaimin considers itself an excellent advertising medium. It reaches more than 3,300 students, all in approximately the same age group and with the same interests, four times a week. Its advertising solicitors are receiving courses and advice in layout and other advertising problems. They are prepared to assist the advertiser in his problems.

It hurts the Kaimin when untrained, and sometimes downright crude, solicitors from other publications or schemes plead, beg, or high-pressure merchants for alleged advertising which falls into the classification of donations.

Central board did not interfere with the publication of the blotter because it feared it would be accused of interfering with private enterprise and because it is powerless to prevent the two blotter publishers from going ahead with their scheme if they were really determined to do so. The board cannot post policemen in residence halls or Greek houses to see that the blotters are not circulated, and it has no power to prevent anyone from soliciting downtown advertising.

The Kaimin hopes merchants will not support these other donations at the expense of legitimate campus publications. Good advertising in the Kaimin, Sentinel, and Mountaineer should aid the merchants as well as the publication.—GR.

'Heat Wave' May Create New Mountain Ranges

The earth is getting warmer and if the "heat wave" continues new mountain ranges may form, Dr. Harold C. Urey, University of Chicago atomic scientist, reported to the fall meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

Urey, whose discovery of heavy water won him the 1934 Nobel prize in chemistry, is a former student and faculty member of MSU. He received his B.S. in 1917 and was a member of the faculty from 1924 to 1929.

Earth Once Cold

According to his hypothesis on the origin of the earth, it started as a cold planet and gradually warmed up. This warming-up is continuing.

The new theory is based on the amount of radioactivity measured in meteorites that occasionally escape through the atmosphere and land on the earth's surface. The meteorites are believed to be similar in content to the earth's core.

Earth Has Iron Core

"The earth was formed," he said, "from a conglomerate of metallic iron and rock. The iron, melted by the heat, fell to the center of the earth to form the earth's core."

Urey said the earth's crust—which is not too many miles deep—was affected by the "sinking" of the iron core and thus, mountain ranges were formed.

Touchball Title Game Today

SAE and Sigma Chi, league champions in intramural football, will meet at the Clover bowl, today at 4:15 p.m. for the intramural football crown. Each team has five wins and no losses with one of the wins by forfeit.

Both squads have looked powerful in league play. SAE boasts an especially strong defense club, Jumbo being the only team to score on them.

Sigma Chi had to come from behind to beat South hall and Sigma Nu; however, their total score for the five league games is much larger than the SAE's.

Winner of the game receives a trophy plus extra points toward the trophy for the yearly intramural crown.

Forum Plans Round Table

Socialized Medicine will be the topic of discussion this Sunday when the Montana University forum conducts its second round table of the fall quarter.

The discussion will be held in the Student Union theater and will begin at 3 p.m. Residents of Missoula, students, and faculty are invited. There will be no admission charge.

Participants on the discussion panel will include two faculty members, a student, and a representative of the Missoula Medical association. The names of the participants will be made known later this week, according to Carroll O'Connor, chairman of the forum committee. Campus R.C. Lists Year's Activities

As its first project this year, the campus unit of the Red Cross will sponsor an informal get-acquainted tea for MSU's 17 foreign students today from 4 to 5 p.m. in the Student Union Bitter-root room.

Norma Bell, Kalispell, is in charge, and Hossein Abhory, Teheran, Iran, will furnish cookies and napkins. Red Cross delegates from each living group will be hosts and hostesses.

At an RC meeting last Thursday, Pat Owens, Missoula, president, discussed the organization's main annual activities. Magazines and silk stockings to be used for occupational therapy at Warm Springs will again be collected regularly from living groups, she reported. Pat Carroll, Missoula, secretary, will supervise stocking collection, and a magazine collector will be chosen later.

The unit's main activity, Miss Owens explained, is the fund drive. Last year a $1,000 goal was passed. Accident prevention week, collection at a mixer of notebooks and pencils for students in foreign countries, and entertainment for hospital veterans or those at Warm Springs will probably be continued. So will a play school for retarded children, which was supervised last year by North hall women on Saturday afternoons.

In place of last year's poorly attended first aid class, a child care course will be given this year. Veterans' wives are urged to attend. Arrangements will be made by Pat Beaubein, Missoula.

All interested students are urged to attend monthly meetings, to be announced in the Kaimin. If delegates from living groups can't come, they should send substitutes, Miss Owens stressed.

Delegates present last Thursday included Marilyn Schuch, Anaconda; Anne Alderson, Birney; Miss Beaubein; Norma Bell; Raine Walston, Conrad; Abhary Hossein; John Fox, Great Falls; and Mary Joan Tascher, Missoula, publicity chairman.

Patti Luer, Miss Montana of 1948, May Visit Europe

Patti Luer, Miss Montana of 1948, may be able to study in Europe, she said in a letter recently received by her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Campbell of Missoula.

Miss Luer, the talented soprano from the University who was one of the top Miss America contenders in 1948, is now attending Barnard College for women in New York and hopes to receive her bachelor's degree in the spring. She told her grandmother that if she does get her B.A. in the spring the Metropolitan Opera Company may sponsor her to a two-year stay in Europe.

Sang in Carnegie Hall

Earlier this summer, Miss Luer achieved a lifetime dream of most musical audiences—an appearance in Carnegie hall. She sang in the famous music hall at the selection of Miss New York of 1949.

Another former MSU student, Dorothy M. Johnson '28, managing editor of The Woman magazine, saw Miss Luer's appearance at Carnegie hall and wrote that "she was simply bloated with pride that Patti was from Montana."

Still Time to File Applications for Kaimin Sports Job

Applications for the position of sports editor of the Kaimin must be submitted to the Student Union business office by 3 o'clock this afternoon, Laura Bergh, Froid, chairman of Publications board, has announced.

Publications board will meet at 5 o'clock Thursday to consider the applications for recommendations to Central board. Applicants must appear before Publications board for interviews at this meeting, Miss Bergh said.

The successful applicant will have the rank of associate editor and will receive $10 monthly compensation. The ASMSU constitution requires that applicants must be registered in the University for two quarters including the one in which they are selected, and that they have worked on the Kaimin or had one year of practical newspaper experience.

The position was vacated last week by Joe Stell, Hamilton. Stell is remaining on the job, however, until a replacement can be chosen.

Sentinel Requests A Photo Editor

Applications for Sentinel photo editor will be accepted until 4 p.m. today, Bob O'Neil, Sentinel editor, said yesterday. The photo editor's salary will be $35 a month for a nine-month period, he said.

To qualify for photo editor, the applicant must be able to use a Speed Graphic and to do dark room work, O'Neill said.

Applications should be turned into the business office or the Sentinel office in the Student Union. Publications board will meet Thursday afternoon at 5 to consider the applications, O'Neill said.

Zoologist Asks Hunters' Help

Attention hunters! Fluke-infected elk and deer livers are needed for a research project being conducted by Glen Cole, Missoula, wild life technology major, with the aid of Edmund Jeffers, assistant professor of bacteriology and hygiene.

Cole is doing research on parasites of deer and elk as a special project in connection with an advanced zoology course.

Fluke-infected livers of deer and elk may be turned in to Jeffers or to Glen Cole, Natural Science 102 or Jumbo hall 44.

Information concerning date of kill, sex, who killed the animal or collected it, whether the animal was adult or young, and where the animal was taken, should accompany the livers.

Cloth bags may be obtained from Jeffers or Cole in the Natural Science building.

Infected livers have a characteristic uneven surface with pigmentation discolorations, Cole said. Those collected are kept in a cold storage room.

Providing enough livers are obtained for this work, the findings may show a relationship to winter kill on big game.

Business Frat Meets Tonight

Alpha Kappa Psi, men's professional business honorary, will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Bitterroot room of the Student Union, according to Pres. Elmer Stevens, a senior in business administration from Libby.

The professional meeting, to which prospective pledges are invited, will be at 7:30. Representatives of the National Cash Register Co. will speak. Only members of Alpha Kappa Psi will attend the business meeting at 9 o'clock. Refreshments will be served at 8:30.

At their last regular meeting, Henry Murray, president of the Montana Realtors association, spoke on the problems of realty business in Montana, and explained what Montana's realtors are doing to improve their professional standing.

Faculty Members To Attend Meeting

Five MSU faculty members will attend a meeting of the Montana section of the American Chemical society Friday at the Montana School of Mines in Butte, Prof. Earl C. Lory, chairman of the Montana section, said yesterday.

Those planning to attend the meeting are R. H. Jesse, professor and chairman of the chemistry department; assistant professor of chemistry; Gordon R. Shuck, assistant professor of chemistry; John F. Suchy, professor of pharmaceutical chemistry, and Professor Lory.

J. G. Miller, resident manager of the Westvaco Chemical division, of Pocatello, Ida., will speak to the section on "Phosphorus and the Commercial Importance of the Molecularly Dehydrated Phosphates."

Few Student Tickets Are Available for 'Oklahoma'

Cyrile Van Duser, Student Union manager, has succeeded in getting 75 student tickets for "Oklahoma!" which will be at the Wilma theater, Tuesday, Nov. 15.

The tickets are for the middle balcony and are on sale at the Student Union at $1.80. This is the lowest price that any of the tickets will be sold.

All Seats Reserved

All seats are reserved and tickets other than student tickets sell for $4.80, $3, $2.40, and $1.80.

"The tickets cost so much," said

Miss Van Duser, "because of the expense in moving the show." It costs $5,000 every time they move. The show employs 30 stage hands.

The Theatre Guild's international musical hit is scheduled for a single Missoula showing on the stage of the Wilma theater the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 15. Curtain rises at 8:20 p.m. The show is coming in its full strength of 67 talented and exuberant singers, dancers and actors, and with an orchestra of symphony musicians to play the Richard Rodgers score.

Action in Claremore

The action of "Oklahoma!" is supposed to take place near Claremore, Okla., in 1901, in and around the Williams farm—the home of Laurey, the heroine—and the Skidmore cattle ranch where Curly, the cowboy hero, works.

There are two acts. Each has four changes of settings, with a couple of additional incidents acted and sung in front of a traveler curtain. The scenes, painted in bright colors in the Grant Wood style, give hints of vast space of prairie and trees.

Phi Beta Kappa Is Closer to Chapter

The first definite step toward obtaining a Phi Beta Kappa undergraduate chapter at MSU will be taken Nov. 15 when a preliminary petition is filed with the national organization by the university's Phi Beta Kappa faculty committee.

Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic honor society has chapters in more than 100 American colleges and universities. The society was founded in 1776.

James L. C. Ford, dean of journalism, is the faculty committee chairman. Cecil Bull, university library cataloguer, is the group's secretary.

The Characters 'In Our Town'

Carroll O'Connor

Remembered for his "Winter-set" gangster performance, Carroll O'Connor's "Our Town" role is that of Mr. Webb, a newspaper editor. Webb edits the Grover's Corners Sentinel and incorporates all of his loyalty to the New Hampshire village in his paper.

O'Connor is a sophomore English major. Coming to MSU last year from New York, his Masquerade career includes major roles in "Life With Father" and "Winter-set." He has also been an active participant in radio guild work.

Helen Hayes

Helen Hayes, Missoula, plays Editor Webb's wife. A busy "Our Town" citizen, Mrs. Webb sings in the church choir, watches her children grow up, and is chiefly concerned with the Webb household.

Miss Hayes, a sophomore drama major, has already spent a busy Masquerade year. She appeared with the Masquers last year as the Queen of Hearts in "Alice in Wonderland" and was cast in summer session's, "Creatures of Impulse." Assistant to the director in both "Life With Father" and "Glass Menagerie," she is now theater secretary and devotes most of her free time to drama department work.

Prof Protests Stop Sign on Maurice Ave.

A stop sign at the intersection of Maurice and Beckwith avenues has been causing trouble for motorists.

A number of them, including four faculty members, have paid fines this week for violating the stop sign.

The four faculty members are Ludvig G. Browman, professor of Zoology, Rufus A. Coleman, professor of English, Donald J. Emblen, professor of business administration, and David R. Mason, professor of law.

Professor Browman protested the location of the sign in a letter to Fred W. English, commissioner of public safety, asking why the signs were placed on Maurice rather than Beckwith, since Maurice has the heavier flow of traffic.

Browman asked if it would not be advisable to make Maurice a through street instead of Beckwith for the purpose of expediting traffic.

He also sent copies of the letter to James Phelan, chief of police, and Mayor Ralph Starr.

Six drivers, including Emblen and Mason, were arrested by Traffic Sergeant Dan Rice Tuesday and charged with running the sign.

Hayride, Hoedown Slated Friday

The members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, met last night to discuss pledge welcoming activities and plans for their fall hayride and barn dance, which they will sponsor in the Copper room of the Student Union Friday night.

New officers were elected and installed at last week's meeting. They are Bob Nicholson, Hamilton, president; Herb Waltermire, Missoula, vice-president; Ralph Julian, Flandreau, S. D., recording secretary; Jack Simkins, St. Ignace, corresponding secretary; Neal Clement, Sheboygan, Wis., alumni secretary; Dale O'Brien, Saco, treasurer; Dick Hansen, Oshkosh, Wis., historian; Bill Bethke, Butte, sergeant at arms; and T. C. Spaulding, chairman of the advisory committee.

At their regular meeting next Wednesday night, the pledges will be formally initiated, according to Nicholson.

Wood Directed Polish Relief

The Rev. Bruce E. Wood, new director of the affiliated School of Religion, and Mrs. Wood directed relief work in Poland for two and one-half years before coming to the University this fall.

While in Poland the Rev. and Mrs. Wood handled the distribution of food and clothing to impoverished people in that war-ravaged country. Their work was under the auspices of the Brethren Service commission of the Church of the Brethren. Mrs. Wood also is a minister. They went to Europe in 1946 upon graduation from the Yale divinity school. Prior to entering divinity school the Woods taught in grade and high schools in Indiana.

The Rev. Wood's work here will be to assist in the development of Christian leadership on the campus by assisting in a program of study, discussion, worship, social life and service activities.

At present he is devoting his time to organizing activities at the University. Winter quarter he will begin teaching.
