SANDPIPERS WILL BRING MUSIC WELCOME TO EARS OF YOUNG AND OLD

Young, but already successful in the entertainment world, the Sandpipers will perform in the University of Montana theater at 8:15 p.m. Saturday (May 20).

Sponsored by the Associated Students Program Council, the three young men comprising the Sandpipers are a rarity in that they have been as well accepted by the older generation as by the new generation. Tickets go on sale Monday (May 15) in the Lodge.

The trio performs "good" music, to which younger people can dance and listen, and music which at the same time appeals, melodically and lyrically, to those no longer in their teens.

"Guantanamera" was their first major record hit. They quickly proved their initial success was no fluke by coming out with another big-selling single, "Louie, Louie", which like its predecessor, offered a melody, lyrics and was performed well.

Despite the rapidity with which fame came, their success was far from freakish. It was the result of many years of training.

The Sandpipers--Mike Piano, Jim Brady and Richard Shoff--as members of the Mitchell Boys' Choir, appeared before both Pope Pius XII and John XXIII at St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome, did a special concert for Princess Grace of Monaco, and toured most of Europe, the Orient and the Philippines. They attribute their present achievements to their training in the Choir.
