TOP TALENT TAPPED
FOR MASQUER AWARDS

Presentation of awards for outstanding performance in University of Montana theater and installation of Masquer officers highlighted the 10th annual Masquer Awards Banquet Thursday (May 11).

Glenn Gauer, Great Falls, captured the best actor award for the role of Orgon in "Tartuffe" and the best student director award for "Toys in the Attic."

Kathie Cody Schoen, Missoula, was named best actress for Louella in "Dinny and the Witches."

Missoulians Duncan Crump and Patricia Maxson won the best supporting actor and actress awards for their respective roles as the Chorus in "Antigone" and Mrs. Prine in "Toys in the Attic."

Austin Gray, Neihart, received the Daniel Bandmann Award "for outstanding achievement in all phases of theater."

The production award for outstanding work in technical theater went to Signe Anderson, graduate assistant in drama.

The gala event at the Elks Club featured a summary of 1966-67 Masquer activities by Dr. Firman H. Brown Jr., chairman of the Drama Department.

Masquer officers installed are Crump, president; Barbara Trott, Billings, vice president; Patti Swoboda, Billings, secretary; Linus Carleton Jr., Missoula, treasurer, and Teddy Ulmer, Townsend, historian.
