That Is Needed Now Aber Day Itself

barbecuing of nearly 800 pounds of beef and pork on Aber day will be under the supervision of M. DeJarnette, one of the best cue artists in the territory," C. Spaulding, professor of forestry, said yesterday.

DeJarnette, 402 Eddy avenue, is son of "Dad" DeJarnette, who usually took charge of the barbecuing for the foresters' spring picnic many years ago. DeJarnette, who studied the art under his father, was graduated from the forestry school in the 1920's. He is now in charge of bluster rust control and is chief of forestry for Region 1 of the Forestry Service.

New Fits
The Forestry club, which will be having its picnic with DeJarnette, will have a new time of it this year than in the other two years they have had. The maintenance department has constructed permanent barbecue pits so that they won't be dug each year, and the picnic grounds have a complete set of barbecue equipment which they are loaning to the students for the picnic.

Along with the meat, the raw materials for the feed will include 800 pounds of potato salad, 3,200 buns,

Paws Attend Woman Convention

The Bear Paws will attend the annual Intercollegiate Knights of the North convention in Bozeman this year.

There will be meetings Thursday, Friday, and Saturday with the Bozeman Fang chapter acting as hosts.

Those attending the convention are: Dirk Larson, Colville, Wash.; Badgley, Missoula; Bob Fra-Billings; Monroe DeJarnette, Missoula; and Brice Breitenstein, Missoula.

Luckner Becomes Club Secretary

J. Lennes, retired Montana State University professor, ended a year term as secretary of the Bozeman club Saturday when the club met to elect officers. Mr. Lennes is the founder of the club.

He will be succeeded by James Luckner, dean of education. Officers elected were: Melvin Lennes, associate professor of history and political science, president; C. R. Jeppesen of the Department of Public Instruction, vice president. Requirement for membership in the club is the publication of an original piece of writing. The club meets once a month to hear a lecture by an author on something he has written in any field of knowledge. Most of the members of the club are on the faculty.

Plans to Interview Applicants Today

Interviews will be conducted at the forestry school by Dirk Larson, chief of the soil and pure division of the Montana Forestry region of the Bureau of Land Management.

Larson talked before the forestry club last night about the organization and activities of the club, and about the fields of forestry and range management. He is a range ecologist. He has been active in airplane seeding and in the improvement of Montana range land.

and large amounts of pickles, mustard, coffee, cream, and ice cream cups. Rough estimates place the cost of the evening chow at $900.

Coney Island Fare
The noon meal will probably take about a $300 chunk out of the Aber day funds. The main course, hot dogs, will be supplemented with potato chips, pickles, coffee, and ice cream bars. Paper plates, cups, and spoons for the two meals cost $107.

Dick Strong, Missoula, is in charge of the Forestry club committee, and Jack McDougal, Phillipsburg, is in charge of food purchasing. The women's M club will serve the evening meal, and the men's M club will have the fun of cleaning up after it and returning all equipment.

Activities Galore
Since there are 21 events scheduled on the oval between 11:30 and 5 on Aber day, it probably will remain in a constant hum of activity. Some of the new events are a greased pole climb, an undressing contest, some cardboard races, a flour scramble, the New hall-North hall relays, and a funnel-string race.

The orchestra for the free Aber day dance will be rather unique in that it will comprise musicians from all four campus dance bands: Hal Harvey's, John McCrea's, Chuck Zadra's, and the Music Men. They have volunteered to play free of charge.

Prizes, Awards
During the dance, which will be in the Gold room from 7 to 10 p.m., the prizes of the day will be awarded. They will include the softball trophies, the four cups for the best cleanup jobs, and prizes for the winners of the numerous games.

Other prizes, which are on display in the Student Union store, are a tennis racquet, a golf bag, a pair of argyle socks knitted by Cyriel Van Duser, manager of the Student Union, and two cartons of Chesterfields.

Educators Finish Three-Day Meet Here Wednesday

The annual spring meeting of educational administrators of the state, held in Missoula Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, was attended by approximately 300 school administrators.

Mary M. Condon, state superintendent of public instruction, called the meeting at this time so that school officials could take part in the dedication of the Business-Education building. This building houses the School of Education where many of Montana's future teachers are trained.

The administrators began discussions of various school problems on Monday. They took part in the dedication convocation of the new MSU building on Tuesday. During the open house of the building on Tuesday, members of the State Department of Public Instruction conferred with school administrators.

Tuesday evening found the administrators at the Education club dinner and Wednesday the conference was concluded.

Havre Group Backs Selke

Helena, April 19.—(UP)—University of Montana Chancellor George A. Selke said that 15 members of the faculty at Northern Montana college in Havre have upheld the recent firing of G. H. Vande Bogart as president of the institution.

In a letter to members of the state board of education, Doctor Selke said that "approximately two-thirds of the staff of that unit, have unqualifiedly endorsed my recommendation and the action taken by the board."

Selke recommended the ouster of Vande Bogart at the recent meeting of the state board of education. The board then dismissed the Havre president by a six-to-four vote.

Selke said the 15 members of the faculty presented to him a signed statement endorsing the dismissal.

The statement in part said, "We, the undersigned members of the faculty of Northern Montana college, feel that the action taken by the board was for the best interests of higher education in Montana."

Graham Crowned Knight by Spurs

Pat Graham, Bear Paw of Colville, Wash., was dubbed "Knight of the Night" by the Spurs in informal ceremonies Sunday afternoon at a Spur-Bear Paw "Beanie" party in the Copper room of the Student Union.

Graham was crowned with a green beanie by Audrey Olson, Billings, Spur vice-president, and knighted by Loraine Eide, Scobey, Spur secretary.

"The Knight of the Night" ceremonies are something new for the Spurs, for this is the first time they have been given. In past years, Bear Paws have selected a member of the Spur chapter as "Spur-of-the-Moment," and have given a dance in her honor. This dance is tentatively scheduled as the first dance of the year next fall.

"Graham was picked by the Spurs for his service and co-operation," said Annemarie Beatty, Helena, president of Spurs. "We planned the affair as a surprise, and no one was more stunned than Pat when his name was called."

A sophomore journalism major, Graham is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

STATE VETS OF U.S. WARS RATE FREE FEES, TUITION

Helena, April 19.—(UP)—Honorable discharged veterans of any United States war who resided in the state prior to their service are entitled to free fees and tuition at any of the University of Montana units.

That is the opinion of Montana Attorney General Arnold H. Olsen.

Olsen says that inasmuch as World War II has never been officially concluded, any person who serves in the United States forces before a treaty of peace ends the present state of war shall be eligible for the exemption also.

The opinion was issued at the request of University Chancellor George A. Selke.

ELY ELECTED PRESIDENT OF METHODIST MOVEMENT

Harriet Ely, Missoula, was elected president of the Montana Methodist Student Movement during their annual convention Friday and Saturday in Butte.

Final Community Concert To Feature Cellist, Pianist

Edmund Kurtz, cellist, and Leo Nadelmann, pianist, will appear in a Community concert Monday and Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Student Union auditorium. Tickets are on sale today and tomorrow in the coke store and will also be sold there the days of the performances.

Kurtz was born in St. Petersburg, Russia, and started cello lessons after the revolution, when his family moved to Berlin. He made his debut as soloist in the Sala Bach in Rome in 1924, and made appearances throughout Europe during the next four years. He then spent several years on tour with Anna Pavlova, accompanist to her dance, "The Swan."

From 1932 to 1938 he alternated between European engagements and tours of Australia and New Zealand, giving more than 250 concerts in all. He entered the concert field in the United States in 1944, and has appeared with Arturo Toscanini, Artur Rodzinski, and Serge Koussevitsky, among others.

Nadelmann, Kurtz's accompanist, was born in Switzerland. He studied under Felix Weingartner at the Basle Conservatory and made his professional debut in Berlin at the age of 19. After concert tours throughout Europe, he returned to Switzerland at the outbreak of World War II for military service.

He continued his musical activities while in the Swiss army, composing most of his orchestral works during this period. Shortly after the end of the war he came to the United States. Since then he has appeared in New York's Town hall and Carnegie hall, as well as with the Detroit and Boston symphonies. He accompanied Kurtz on a tour of South America last summer.

Montana Bankers Give Scholarship

The Montana Bankers association presented its $250 scholarship for 1950 to William R. Tait, Missoula, junior student in business administration, Tuesday night.

The association's second annual award to an outstanding student in the business school was announced at the School of Business Administration's dinner. The dinner was part of the dedication ceremonies of the new Business-Education building.

Paul S. Gillespie, president of the Western Montana National bank of Missoula, presented the $250 check to Tait. Gillespie acted in behalf of N. B. Matthews of Stanford, president of the Montana Bankers association.

Tait graduated from Dillon high school in 1939. Mr. Gillespie said that the Montana Bankers association has been interested in the School of Business Administration for some time. The association has maintained a student loan fund to help needy students complete their college work in Montana's university.

Anaconda, Choteau, Conrad, and the Veterans hospital at Fort Harrison have been definitely scheduled for one appearance each. Two morning appearances are billed for Great Falls where the choir will sing for junior high school and high school assemblies.

All-State Groups Meet at MSU

About 750 Montana high school students are expected to attend the ninth annual music festival sponsored by the university School of Music, which will be held here on May 5 and 6.

For the first time, the Montana All-State band, orchestra, and chorus will be combined with the state solo and ensemble music festival in a single program. The all-state assembly met in Great Falls last year.

A concert in the Student Union auditorium presented by the all-state groups and the winners in the festival will highlight the week-end program. Scholarships for outstanding high school musicians will be awarded at that time.

Three distinguished music leaders have been engaged to direct the all-state groups. The band will be under the direction of Dr. John R. Halliday, director of music, Brigham Young university. Dr. Lorin Wheelright, noted composer and educator, of Salt Lake City, will direct the chorus, and the orchestra will be led by Harold Whelan, conductor of the Spokane philharmonic orchestra.

Not Any Old Splash Pool

A front page editorial in a recent issue of the Liberty County Times, published at Chester, defended Dr. Vande Bogart with indignant words, atrocious grammar, and liberal mis-spellings. Charging the state board of education with reaching a new low in conniving and foul play, the writer loyally defended the Havre gentleman as a high-thinking individual interested only in the welfare of his students.

At the present time, we won't take the writer to task for his opinion. However, we do protest his statement on the manner in which Montana State University plans to use its share of the bond money.

The Chester man charges that the University wants the money to "build a new swimming pool, not just any old swimming pool, but a NEW swimming pool."

We think his mental processes a mite foggy. First, any swimming pool built by anyone couldn't be anything but a new swimming pool. We suppose the writer is tenderly babying a grudge against the University for putting up a NEW Business-Education building, not just any old Business-Education building. We hope he approved of Old Science and antedeluvian Craig hall.

Secondly, we were not aware that the University and its supporters had been chewing their nails in want of a nice new swimming pool. Our impression has been that the bond money would be used to construct a sorely needed music building and a desperately needed women's gym with thoughts of an addition to the library and a new classroom building hovering in the background. The mention of a NEW swimming pool seems to indicate that the Chester man is a bit of all wet himself.—D.G.

GIRLS AND GLASS ARMS

James A. McCain, President
Montana State University
Dear Jim:

Now that the faculty has finally emerged from their hallowed halls of "cob-webbed" learning and offered a feeble challenge to the dynamic surging power of Montana State University youth, we have scraped together a team of neophytes who are entirely void of any knowledge of the art of softball and double-whammy MSU grade curves.

The students feel obligated, however, to provide some alternate reserves in case of lack of competition from the gnarled-kneed, glass-armed, and decrepit group commonly referred to as the esteemed and honorable faculty which "Captain Jim" has swept together in an honest but futile attempt to conquer the sterling youth of this University.

We are prepared to field an array of female "sandlotters" who are capable of reducing the supposed supremacy of the double-whammy grade curve to the potency of a mere bump on a kindergarten report by the presentation of a repertoire of curves never before equaled on any campus.

After our victory no rock will be left unturned in an all-out attempt to collect and assemble all faculty limbs and accessories necessary for proper identification to the nearest of kin.

The students eagerly accept the frail, injudicious challenge of your "incomparables" to meet on the softball field in combat on Aber day.

Our deepest sympathy.
Confidentially yours,

Jim Lucas Out as Grizzlies Travel for Four Games

Pitcher Jim Lucas' ineligibility will put a crimp in the Grizzly coaching staff for a four-game itinerary into Washington the latter part of the week.

Lucas, ruled ineligible by Pacific Coast conference standards yesterday because of junior college attendance in 1943-44, will be replaced by John Eaheart, according to Coach Eddie Chinske.

The Grizzlies will be shooting for their first win of the season when they meet Whitworth in a Spokane publichouse Thursday. And Chinske thought yesterday his club has a good chance of breaking its five-loss jinx against the Pirates.

Friday and Saturday, the Grizzlies will meet a tough Washington State college nine at Pullman. The Grizzlies are rated underdogs for the two games, but Chinske said a split would be possible if the locals are through with opening jitters.

"We are a better fielding club than we showed in the first five games," the coach said. He added that weak hitting was the most troublesome skeleton in the Grizzly closet, especially bunched hitting. This, he said, has been the biggest flaw in Grizzly baseball teams for three years.

Chinske said he planned to start on Fornall and Ted Tabaracci in the Whitworth duo, and Jack O'Loughlin and Bob Cope in the WSC games. Eaheart, Lucas' replacement, will do relief pitching, he said.

Netmen to Meet Gonzaga, WSC in Week-end Play

The MSU tennis team will leave this afternoon for Washington where it will meet Gonzaga university at Spokane Friday, and Washington State college at Pullman Saturday.

Jules Karlin, tennis coach, is not certain what the line-ups will be for the week-end matches because of Capt. Bob Kramer, Richmond Calif., is ailing again—this time with a severe heel bruise.

Gonzaga is led by Joe Brasch, a Spokane boy who has lettered at both Washington State college and Gonzaga.

Saturday's matches with WSC will be the first Pacific Coast conference play for the Grizzly netmen, who have won two each from Whitworth and Utah State so far in the season. The WSC Cougars have four lettermen back from last year.

No convo tomorrow.

placement, will do relief pitching, he said.

John Holding is back on the roster for the trip and will probably hold a starting shortstop assignment.

Those who made the journey yesterday were Howard Armstrong, Bob Byrne, Frank Cocco, Cope, Bill Docette, Fornall, Ted Greeley, Holding, Ted Hilgenstuhler, Jon Jourdonnais, Bill Mitchell, Bob Nichol, O'Loughlin, Tabaracci, Emmet Walsh, and Eaheart.

The luncheon is open to anyone interested, provided reservations were made on or before yesterday afternoon. Price of the luncheon is $1.

Miss Collins was educated in England and has headed the student center since July, 1947. She has met German students and has become acquainted with German university work through her daily problems.

Some of the subjects she will discuss are differences between German and Anglo-Saxon universities, difficulties created by Nazi education, and the future which the international situation offers students. She will describe some of the methods the student center uses to combat these problems.

Miss Collins speaks many languages and has traveled extensively in Europe. She spent two years in French schools.
