Central Board Okays Plea For More Debate Cash

MSU's fifth-in-the-nation debate squad persuaded Central board to dip into ASMSU's closely guarded general reserve fund yesterday. After more than an hour of discussion, the student governors voted to allocate $400 for the debaters.

Campus organizations can receive money from the fund only in case of emergency.

The Debate and Oratory association spokesmen stated the drop in its funds occasioned by reduced enrollment this year made competition on the national level impossible.

Debater Jim Lucas, Miles City, reported that the squad was forced to cancel its plans to attend the Western regional tournament at Los Angeles, where MSU placed third last year. Neither would the squad be able to compete in the Red River tournament at Moorhead, Minn., he said, or in the Rocky Mountain meet at Denver.

The squad would have practically no chance of retaining its championship in the Northwest regional competition without the experience of debating in the two major tournaments, Lucas said. He asked that the $400 be added to the squad's treasury to pay transportation costs to the two meets.

Dean Jellison, Kalispell, also speaking for the debaters, said the debate squad is one campus organization that can compare with those like it in the nation's largest schools. He cited MSU's victory over Northwestern university as an example in point.

Tom Payne, Livingston; John D. Spielman, Butte; and Jack Irwin, St. Regis, added to Lucas' and Jellison's remarks. Irwin commented that, unlike "some other campus organizations," the debate squad had already secured a national reputation, and had only to maintain it.

Anderson Fears Precedent

ASMSU president Bob Anderson, Missoula, said that not only the debaters, but almost every other campus organization, was short of funds this year. He feared, he said, that granting the squad's request would establish a dangerous precedent, and suggested the debaters curtail some of their activities, and adopt a more modest program.

Business Manager Jim Murphy, Missoula, also opposed the measure.

He contended that the debaters' problem did not constitute an emergency, and said that the drop in enrollment slashed only $150, not $400, from their allotment. The squad's arguments, he said, were the same as those presented last spring, when their allotment was cut from 3 per cent to 2.4 per cent. Central board overruled them then, he said, and he thought its decision should stand.

Don Graff, Laurel, Kaimin editor, while expressing sympathy with the debaters, said that they, like other campus groups, should strive for more economy.

Faculty Members Approve

Upholding the squad's request was faculty adviser Edwin W. Briggs. ASMSU secretary Jackie Perry, Butte, and member Dick Wohlgenant, Miles City, also leaned toward the debaters' side of the discussion, as did Dean Herbert J. Wunderlich.

Wolgenant introduced the debaters' resolution to the board, and Professor Briggs seconded.

Voting for the proposal were Miss Kind, Wohlgenant, Clark, Miss Perry, Professor Briggs and Dean Wunderlich. Against it were Murphy and Miss McKown.

Awards Given During Annual Snow Party

Various awards were presented at the annual Snow party sponsored by the Women's Athletic association Wednesday night.

Six women were tapped for Women's M club. Beverly Madson, Billings; Margery Marion, Brown; Norma Bell, Kalispell; June Smith, Wallace, Ida.; Janet Ferguson, Great Falls; and Doris Peterson, Missoula, were presented with M sweaters at the party.

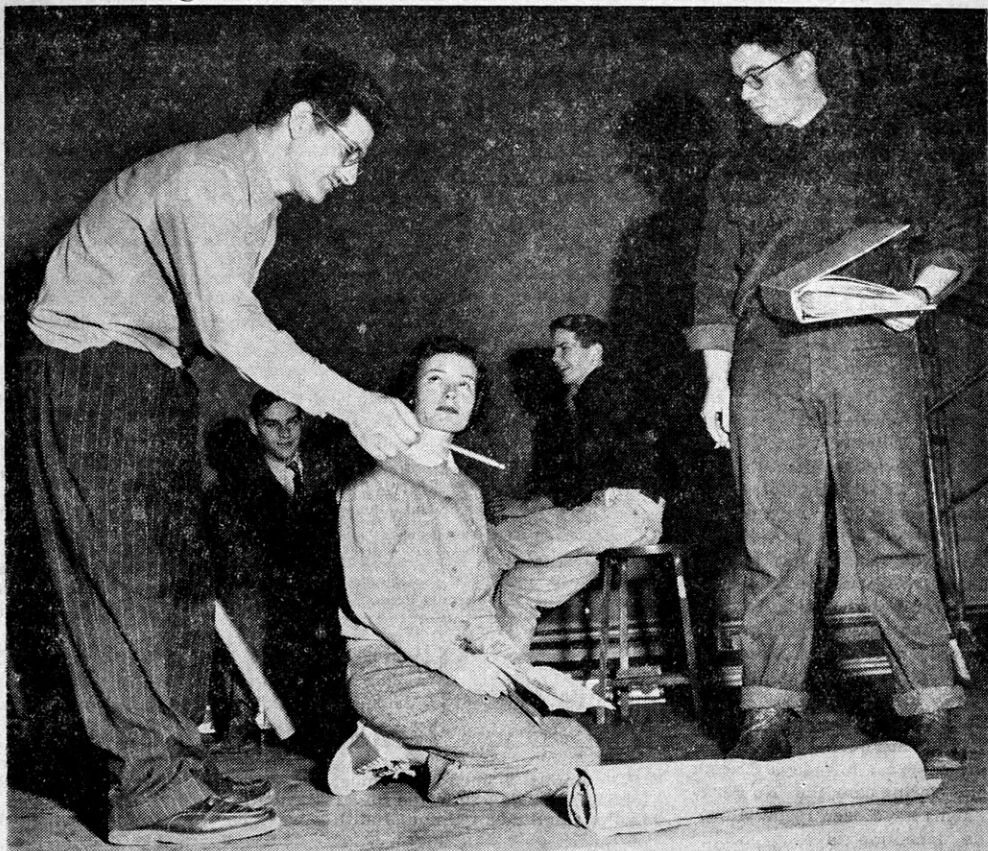

To become a member of M club, a woman must be at least a junior, have a C average for the last two quarters, and have earned at least 10 participation credits in women's sports.

Miss Stoddley awarded 15 women official rating certificates in sports. The women who earned these had passed a written and practical test in volleyball last quarter. Women's M club sponsored this program.

Deanne Parmeter, Plains, and Marjorie Anderson, Kalispell, received local ratings in sports. Donna Bar, Colstrip; Joan Beckwith, Kalispell; Carol Fraser, Billings; Beryl Handford, Kalispell; Margery Marion, Brown; Beverly Madson, Billings; Marian Nelson, Spokane, Wash.; Willa Rosean, Columbus; Ruth Reiquam, Choteau; Oreme Stritch, Missoula; Jeanne Shreeve, Milltown; Eva La Pine and Reba Turnquist, Ronan, were given intramural ratings.

"M" pins were awarded to Willa Rosean, Columbus; Janet Ferguson, Great Falls; Genevieve Welch, St. Ignatius; Clara Sexton, Deer Lodge; and Shirley McKown, Seattle, Wash. Six participation credits must be earned to be eligible for the award.

More Army Openings for WAC Officers

Expansion of the army is creating increased opportunities for regular army commissions in the women's army corps for qualified college seniors and graduates, Col. E. D. Porter, professor of military science and tactics at Montana State University said Tuesday. He brought out that women officers are assigned in practically every branch of the army except combat.

Applicants under the present procurement program must be college graduates or seniors anticipating graduation in June, 1951, and between 21 and 27 years of age. Applicants must be unmarried and with no dependents under 18. Applications for the current quota will close Jan. 15, 1951.

Successful applicants will receive second lieutenant commissions in the organized reserve corps and will be assigned to officer's training school at the women's army training center, Fort Lee, Va. Upon graduation they will be tendered regular army commissions.

Detailed information and application blanks may be obtained from Lieut. G. A. Lansrud at the military science department.

Faculty Recital Sunday Presents Abel, Gray

Paul L. Abel and J. Justin Gray will present a trumpet and clarinet recital Sunday afternoon at 4 in the Student Union auditorium. Rudolph Wendt, associate professor of music, will be accompanist.

This is Mr. Abel's first year at MSU as an instructor of music. Mr. Gray, an assistant professor of music and director of the university band, has been at MSU since 1946.

Trumpet solos by Mr. Abel will include "Al'Antica," by Goeyens; "Prelude in D Major," by Bach-deHerve; "Concerto for Trumpet," by Hayden; and "Petite Piece," by Balay.

Mr. Gray's program consists of "Sonata," by Saint-Saens; "Improvisation from 'Pocket Size Sonata,'" by Alec Templeton; and "Premiere Rhapsodie," by Debussy.

U.N. Cease-Fire Plan Rejected By Russians

Lake Success, Jan. 11.—(U)—The United States has approved, and Russia has rejected, the newest peace plan by the United Nations cease-fire team. The three-man committee, with wide support, including that of India, proposed a truce for Korea.

This would be followed by the withdrawal of foreign troops and then a conference on Formosa and Chinese Communist admission to the U.N. American Delegate Warren Austin says America would go along with such a resolution.

Russia's Jacob Malik rejected the plan, saying that, as usual, the cease-fire was placed first. It's expected the U.N. political committee will approve the plan and send it to Peking. However, in view of the Soviet stand, it appears Red China will turn it down.

HAVRE URGES NEW SPLIT FOR UNIVERSITY MONEY

Havre, Jan. 11.—(U)—The Havre Chamber of Commerce has urged members of the Montana legislature, the Board of Education, and the State Board of Examiners to add $1 million to the university bond issue from the general fund and allocate it to the university units.

The money would be divided as

LOCAL MINISTER TO SPEAK AT FELLOWSHIP MEETING

A meeting of the University Christian fellowship is scheduled tonight at 7:30 in the Bitterroot room of the Student Union. Members will leave from there for the Martin Suess home, Pre-fab 14, for another meeting. The Rev. W. G. Collier of Missoula will speak on "A Corn of Wheat."

A mission report will be given by Phoebe Habib of Cairo, Egypt. Refreshments and song service will follow her report.

follows: $1,900,000 to the State University at Missoula, $1,700,000 to the State College, $275,000 to Western Montana, $600,000 to Eastern and $1,200,000 to Northern Montana, Havre.

Six LSA Students Journey to Helena

Six members of the Lutheran Students' association will leave here for Helena this afternoon to attend a week-end conference of the Montana regional executive council of LSA.

Those making the trip are Dick Bolte, Livingston, regional president; Henry Pratt, Colleymount, B. C., chapter president; Dorothy Beck, treasurer; Dale Conover, Broadview, publicity chairman; Ray Woepel, Brockton, social and political action chairman; and Kris Wittenberg, Missoula.

Miss Norma Arneson, traveling secretary for the division of student service of the National Lutheran, is scheduled to be a major speaker at the gathering.

Student delegates from Havre, Billings, and Bozeman are to attend the business and fellowship sessions which begin tonight and end Sunday morning.

The MSU delegation will return to the campus Sunday for the regular LSA program from 5 to 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Joan Burrough will lead a discussion on I Peter and the theme "stand fast in the true grace of God."

Film Society Offers Oscar Vehicle Sunday

"It Happened One Night," a 1934 Academy Award winner, will be the University Film society's presentation Sunday. Showings will be at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. in the Simpkins Little theater, and admission is 50 cents.

The movie, based on Samuel Adams' novel, "Night Bus," was voted "outstanding picture of the year," and won Oscars for its director, Frank Capra, and its two stars, Claudette Colbert and Clark Gable.

"The story of the runaway heiress and the newspaper man who meet on a cross-country bus should be amusing to all," Virginia Bulen, Missoula, film society manager, said. This picture is often credited with raising the amount of bus travel in the years immediately after its release, according to Miss Bulen.

The picture was burned in the Chicago post office fire last quarter, but was re-ordered as soon as possible.

Assorted Talent To Entertain at Military Ball

Joyce Siperly, Great Falls; Caryl Wickes, Missoula; and Virginia Vincent, Missoula, will provide the floor show entertainment at the Military ball scheduled for Jan. 19 in the American Legion ball room.

The co-sponsors of the dance, Scabbard and Blade and the Sponsors corps, met Wednesday evening and discussed detailed plans for the annual affair, according to Marilyn Schuch, Anaconda, publicity chairman.

Miss Siperly will sing a novelty number and Miss Wickes and Miss Vincent will pair up to do a tap dance act.

The Moon Moods, a 10-piece orchestra, will provide the dance music for the three hour dance beginning at 9 p.m.

Miss Schuch said that everyone on the campus was invited to attend the dance and that the wearing of uniforms was optional.

Tickets are $2 for a couple.

Results Are Encouraging

MSU's new parking plan has been praised, damned, and belittled orally and in writing for the past few months. Now that the much-belabored scheme has been in operation for several days, there are several specific points on which to base further comment.

No one could be so rash as to state that the program has proved itself an unqualified success in its short period of operation. But it has not flopped at the start and there are indications that, given time to correct its faults and work out details, it will develop into a practical program of campus traffic control.

The registration results are encouraging. Some five hundred car owners went through the line the first of the week. Drivers who neglected to register, either deliberately or unintentionally, are definitely in the minority.

Compliance with the parking regulations has been fairly general during the past few days. Except for one glaring case, the "No Parking" signs have been respected.

The exception is that chronic sore spot, the entrance to the oval near the Law school. The Maintenance office reports that other forbidden areas have been kept clear of illegal parking to a great extent.

So far the results have been encouraging. No one seems to be any more handicapped in regard to parking than before. It appears that some order has been brought out of the confusion.—D.G.

Off-Campus Group Elects Patton As Temporary Head

Off-campus women will meet Monday night at 7:30 in the Silver room of the Student Union, Judith Patton, Missoula, announced. After a short business meeting there will be a social hour.

This group was recently organized so women living off campus could be represented in the Associated Women Students organization. Before this group was organized the off-campus women had no means of representation at AWS and no associations as the women's living groups have, Dr. Maurine Clow, associate dean of students, pointed out.

The organization has named Miss Patton as temporary president and Florence Cook, Missoula, as AWS representative. Committees have been appointed to arrange a series of programs and social activities for future meetings.

Mrs. R. H. Jesse spoke on social etiquette at last Monday night's meeting.

Ina Ranstrom, Dorothy Patten, and June Dutton, all of Missoula, are in charge of the next meeting.

Miss Patton urged all off-campus women, regardless of sorority affiliation, to attend the meetings because it gives them an opportunity to enter women's campus activities.

JOHNSON GIVES VIEWS ON TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

Dear Editor:

May I second Asst. Prof. Fred Honkola's letter regarding the dangerous traffic situation at the Van Buren bridge and the Milwaukee Road crossing? I've often wondered what it would be like to slip off that bridge and watch the fish swim past my windshield.

I would like to make an additional suggestion for us Van Burenites. The gauntlet between Law and Natural Science is bad enough for two-way traffic even in the rare cases when the No Parking signs are obeyed. But to make the left turn into the area behind Main hall, or to come out of that outlet at noon, is really a nightmare. I had a blow-out the other day that completely wrecked my tire and I attribute it directly to scraping the tire against the curb when passing cars on this turn.

I think the outlet should be widened at least ten feet. This would be easy in that the width of the driveway, including the island in front of the Women's gym, is about three times wider than the present outlet.

Thank Heaven the bottleneck between the forestry school and Cook hall has been broken. There we have an example, when students and faculty obeyed the No Parking signs, of volunteer cooperation. The question is, will all No Parking signs receive the same cooperation without fines? Since the faculty receives the most benefit from the traffic control plan, it will always amaze me why they vetoed the fines. However, it takes time for innovations to be initiated and still longer for innovations to be perfected.

NAVRATIL PROPOSES USING DISCRIMINATION IN DRAFT

Dear Editor:

While nothing in the story itself mentioned vets in Thursday's Kaimin story entitled "Vets May Escape Draft If Younger Men Called," I believe that if vets are called I fail to see why 18-year-olds should not go first. They should not be called indiscriminately.

There were many vets, myself included, who served in the closing days of the war and in the years which followed. These men may be considered vets of service but not vets of combat.

While I myself have not rushed to the recruiting offices, I do feel

Hetler Memorial Group to Raise Scholarship Funds

Dr. Earl C. Lory, professor of chemistry at MSU, has been named treasurer of the Rossleene Arnold Hetler Memorial Fund committee, which will raise money to provide a scholarship for an outstanding chemistry student.

Mrs. Hetler, who died of cancer Nov. 2, was an assistant professor of chemistry. She was the wife of Dr. Donald M. Hetler, chairman of the department of bacteriology and hygiene. Their daughter, Kathryn, is a sophomore in the MSU music school.

Mrs. R. C. Line, chairman of the committee, said that Mrs. Hetler, during her illness, expressed the wish that her friends, rather than that some of us veterans (perhaps a considerable number) are protected by law in the same light as men who went through years of overseas duty and combat. We vets who have not seen combat, or even overseas duty, or overseas duty only when hostilities were over, can not and must not be judged in the same light as those of our buddies who went through hell.

While I am against the policy of taking vets with disabilities (it has been done—close to home) many of the mentioned vets, if vets are recalled, should be the first to go, that is, those who are physically fit without disabilities.

Yours for justice where it is most needed,

Gerry J. Navratil

APO, Forestry Club, TX Win First Intramural Tilts

APO went on a scoring rampage in the second quarter to maintain a small lead over the ATO's, and to win a close 28-26 tilt Wednesday in intramural basketball play.

Art Burch, Kalispell, was high man for the ATO's with 11 points, and Hanson and Stoll paced the APO squad with 7 counters each.

In the second game Wednesday the Foresters won a decisive victory from Jumbo hall. Lantz and Mellgren sparked the Foresters' scoring attack with 11 and 12 points.

Theta Chi swept the courts with a clean 33-26 win over Lambda Chi in the third contest of the night. John Holland, Fergus Falls, Minn., hit the hoop for 11 points for Theta Chi, as did James Craig, Geraldine, for Lambda Chi.

Zahn to Advise Cage Officials During Clinic

An intramural basketball clinic is scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 16 for all intramural officials, to clarify rule interpretation and improve the mechanics of intramural officiating.

Eight teams from the intramural leagues will be used as demonstrators for the officials. Each official will work two quarters while the remaining officials will make criticisms from different vantage points in the gym.

Henry Zahn, district MOA delegate, Ed Chinske and Jiggs Dahlberg will advise the clinic. Dave Cole, director of the intramural program, urges all intramural players and fans to attend.

Alpha Phi Romps Over North Hall

Alpha Phi won over North hall No. 1 last night, 25-15, in a rough game in women's basketball. Lola Farrias, Fromberg, was high scorer for North hall with 13 points. Maxine Hightower, Missoula, took honors for the winners with 11 counters.

Delta Delta Delta also won by a forfeit from Kappa Alpha Theta.

Collegians Primed for Grizzly Pelt; Varsity Figures To Even Tally

The Montana Grizzlies meet the Montana Collegians tonight at 8 o'clock in the second game of a two-game series. In the first contest last week, the Collegians took the measure of the Grizzlies by a 64-52 count, and the Grizzlies will be seeking revenge in tonight's game.

This evening's game will find Dick Anderson and Hal Sherbeck at the guard positions for the Grizzlies, Mick Luckman at center, and Bob Hasquet and Jack Sparks at the forward spots.

Opposing them will be a team that broke 12 of 20 existing records while playing for the University of Montana, in the previous four seasons. Leading the Collegian attack is Bob Cope, high scoring pivot man on four Grizzly squads. Cope also coaches the Collegians.

Other bright spots of the Collegian attack are Dick "Moose" Carstensen, Johnny Eaheart, Jim Graham, and Ray "Moon" Bauer. These five have held down the starting positions of the Collegians so far this season, and are expected to take the floor against the Grizzlies in tonight's game.

Bob Cope, one of the University's most versatile athletes, has won four letters in basketball, four in baseball and two in track. In the 1948 season he was the outstanding scorer in the west with 509 points, and during that season he won a place on the Helms Athletic Foundation All-American team. In his senior year as a Grizzly, Cope was third highest scorer in the nation with 701 points. He holds eight individual University scoring records, and is sixteenth in the nation for all-time scoring while playing college basketball. Where experience is concerned, the Collegians point to a total of 17 basketball letter awards gained while playing college ball, and a number of AAU standouts.

Eaheart has earned a total of six letters in basketball and in baseball while at the University and has gathered a total of 656 points in his college basketball career.

Ray Bauer is known more for his football achievements than those gained on the hardwoods, but nevertheless, he has earned four letters in basketball while playing on the Grizzly lineup. Last year Bauer was teamed with Jim Graham at the forward position for the Grizzlies. Graham is another four year award winner in basketball at the University.

Tallest man on the Collegian squad is Dick Carstensen, last season's first string guard. "Moose" is another four year basketball letterman on the Collegian squad.

Supporting these five are Tom Kingsford, Gus Nash, Bob Souhrada, Ralph Ripke, and Gar Thorsrud, each one of who has played either AAU basketball or lettered for the Grizzlies.

Joe Louis' real name is Joseph Barrow.

With the Social Set

BY AUDREY OLSON

Christmas bells weren't the only bells ringing over the holiday vacation. For many MSU students wedding bells rang, too.

Carol J. McIntosh, Forsyth, was married to Bob Webb, DSP, Billings. Rosalyn Midge, Shelby, and Bill Sherman were married; Virginia Smith, Kalispell, was married to Bob Dean. Janet Young, Butte, and Doug Dean, SPE, Mullan, Ida., were married in Butte. Ethel Goyette, Cascade, and Erwin Byrnes, Glendive, were married.

Beverly Burgess, KAT, Missoula, was married to John Frankenfield, SN, last Wednesday at the First Presbyterian church here. The reception was at the Theta house.

JoAnne LeFevre, ex-'52, AP, Kalispell, was married to Bill Gaskill '51, Livingston. They were married in Kalispell on Dec. 26.

Pat Stanley, DDD, Walsenburg, Colo., and Vern Fisher, PDT, from Fort Benton were married.

Jeannine Lillithun, ex-'53, SK pledge, and Don Pettit, ex-'53, both of Ronan, were married Dec. 27. Other SK's married over the Christmas holidays were Joanne Powell, West Glacier, to Tom Dimock, SAE from Anaconda; Marjorie Anderson, Kalispell, to Bob Anderson, PDT, Missoula; Betty Jo Staves '49, Missoula, to Kay Bridenstine, ATO also from Missoula; and Alberta Swearingen, Missoula, to Scott Brown, Missoula.

Delta Gammas married were Joyce Harden, Billings, to John Johnson, PDT, Butte; Aida Castro, Lima, Peru, to Les Dunlap, ATO, from Lewistown; and Lolly Koefod, ex-'52, Havre, to Frank Holloway, ex-'52, PDT, from Butte.

Engagements

Four North hall women were engaged over the holidays. Nancy Kaus, AP, Kalispell, received a diamond from Jack McDermott, also from Kalispell. Donna Larson, DDD, and Bill Elko, both of Savage, are engaged. Barbara Boulton, KKG, Great Falls, received a ring from Lloyd Holbrook, Great Falls. Another North hall engagement was that of Leita Dickinson, AP, and Kenny Erickson, both of Kalispell.

Beverly Dirkes, Billings, received a diamond from Russ Clark, SX, Billings. They will be married Feb. 2 in Billings.

The DG's came back from Christmas vacation with five diamond rings. Mary Anderson, Livingston, received one from John Holding, SX, '50, Missoula. Peggy Trower, Livingston, received one from Howard Kenna, PDT, Billings. Marge Marion, Browning, received a ring from Mike McGowan, PDT, Billings. Denny Alling and Dorf Harris, both of Fairview, are engaged. Florence Durense, DG president from Milltown received a diamond from Don Weston, '50, Sioux City, Ia.

Annual Nite Club Dance to Use Musical Cabaret Theme Tomorrow

Tomorrow's the nite.

The music school's 11th annual Nite Club dance will be presented tomorrow night at 9 in the Student Union Gold room. Music will vary in type from Fred Waring to light opera and will be furnished by the Sinfonia band.

Make Reservations

"Group reservations should be made in advance, as the seating will be cabaret style," Glenn Patton, Victor, said. Tickets are $3 per couple and may be purchased in the Gold room.

Everything has been done to give the dance the flavor of a real nite club. The color theme of silver, black, and pink will be carried out with balloons. There will be tables around the dance floor, with refreshments for the dancers' convenience. Cigarette girls and flower girls will add to the atmosphere.

Note Costumes

The big attraction of the evening is the floor show, which begins at 11 p.m. This will feature a chorus line with girls dressed as musical notes. The dresses were designed by Joe Orrino, Anaconda. Selections by the Jubileers, a musical comedy act, a trumpet trio, violin solo, and a vocal solo will complete the entertainment. Lyrics have been written by Gib Leibinger, Miles City.

The music school faculty worked with student committees in planning the dance. Profits from the dance will be placed in the music foundation loan fund for needy music students on campus.

Fall is a nice time of year—we've enjoyed it all summer.
