Dixieland Jazz to Hit Campus: Louie Armstrong Is Coming

Debaters, Coach Leave for Oregon Tournament

Eight university debaters left yesterday afternoon for McMinnville, Ore., where they will participate in the northwest qualifying tournament at Linfield college, March 1 to 3. They were accompanied by coach Ralph Y. McGinnis.

Entered in the men's varsity competition are Wade Dahood, Anaconda, extemporaneous speaking; and John Spielman, Pullman, Wash., impromptu speech. Bonne Lu Perry, Havre, oratory; and Joan Gibson, Butte, oral interpretation, will take part in the women's varsity competition. James Reid, Billings, oratory; and Duane Degen, extemporaneous speaking, will participate in the freshmen men's lower division, while Joan Ward and Cathy Doherty, Missoula, extemporaneous speaking, are entered in extemporaneous speaking in the freshmen women's lower division.

Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, and Montana are entered in the tournament, according to McGinnis. Usually from 45 to 50 schools participate, he said. The winning team will enter the national tournament at West Point, N. Y. Last year Dean Jellison, Kalispell, and Spielman took first place at the Linfield debates.

RITA PLANS TRIP TO U.S., DENIES SHE IS EXPECTING

Cairo, Feb. 27.—(U)—Rita Hayworth arrived in Cairo today after a trip through Africa with her husband, Prince Aly Khan, and announced that she will visit the United States soon.

The glamorous Rita denied reports that she was expecting another child. A barrage of such reports greeted her soon after she checked in at a luxurious hotel.

She said she wants to go to the United States soon, but did not plan to appear in any new movies at the present time.

Beck, Ambrose, Smith, Keim Appointed Editors

The appointments of Jewel Beck, Ronan; Tom Ambrose, Eureka; Lewis Keim, Kalispell; and Dick Smith, Minneapolis, as Kaimin associate editors were approved by Central board yesterday.

Publications board had nominated the four after interviews last week.

Miss Beck, Kaimin society editor for three quarters, is a junior in the journalism school. A member of Alpha Chi Omega, she is a North hall sponsor, a member of Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity, and the junior sponsor of Alpha Lambda Delta honor society. She is a former Spur and is an ex-editor of the Ronan high school Pow-Wow.

Ambrose, also a journalism junior, has been a Kaimin assistant editor for two quarters and is also a Sentinel associate. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism professional fraternity, and is a former treasurer of the now-defunct Independent Students association. He edited the Lincoln county high school Evergreen at Louie Armstrong's going to play here. Ralph Flanagan isn't. Monday, March 19—the first day of spring quarter—has been set for the Dixielander's appearance. His group will give a two-hour concert in the Student Union auditorium, and will play for two hours of dancing in the Gold room.

The latest development in the name-bands mixup came after Flanagan's "Best Band in the Land" turned down a Central board offer that it take the net profits, with $1,000 guaranteed, in payment for an appearance.

Armstrong, who cancelled a January date here because of a conflict in engagements, will get $1,500 for his show.

Opposition to sponsoring the concert-dance developed in Central board yesterday when several members opined that ASMSU couldn't afford the financial risk involved in backing a start-of-the-quarter dance. Dick Wohlgenant, junior delegate, and ASMSU Business Manager Jim Murphy voted against affirming the engagement.

In other action, the board authorized the Red Cross and the World Student Service fund to solicit on campus.

A request that a $50 Traditions board surplus, which resulted when a donation of a bear skin cancelled that item from the committee's budget, be turned back to Central board, which in turn should give it to the Job Clinic, was deferred for action next week.

Aber day chairman Gordon Stewart outlined some of the problems his committees will face this year. Rising prices may force a strictly-pork barbecue, he said.

He also suggested that an activity-fee-checker at the head of food lines might prevent the free feeding of high school students and townspeople, who have often, he said, taken advantage of the MSU cleanup day's meals.

Senate Sustains Bonner's Veto of Compromise Bill

Helena, Feb. 27.—(U)—The GOP-controlled senate failed tonight to override the governor's veto on house bill 75 allocating the $5,000,000 university building fund according to a compromise by presidents of six university units.

The vote in the upper chamber followed party lines with the final tally 28 to 26 in favor of over-riding the governor's action.

But a two-thirds majority—or 36 votes were needed.

The vote, held under call of the senate, followed a Democratic caucus.

Earlier today the house overrode Bonner's veto by a 61 to 28 margin in a drama-filled session.

The senate's action came after a two-man debate between Senators G. M. Moss, Flathead county Republican, and George Wilson, Toole county Democrat.

Apparently the house wanted the allocation matter on the books as being officially settled. Bonner thought the bill was not needed as legislation since the board of examiners allocated the fund last Saturday.

The board's allocation was also in line with the presidents' compromise.

The compromise by the six presidents was made last December in a final attempt to settle the allocation before the legislature met. The money had been tied up by an injunction suit ever since the board of examiners reallocated the money from the board of education's original recommendations.

Dramatics Classes Present Play For Clubwomen

The play, "Riders to the Sea," by John M. Synge, was presented before members of the Missoula Women's club yesterday afternoon in Simpkins Little theater.

The production was a classroom presentation produced, directed, and staged by students registered in acting, directing, and stagecraft courses.

Larry Kadlec, Missoula, directed the play. The cast included Mary Maurer, Libby; Newton Buker, Victor; Karen Whittet, Livingston; Dorothy Ross, Butte; Joan Hardin, Missoula; Nancy Hays, Missoula; Charles Schmitt, Chicago; Charles Cromwell, Couer d'Alene, Idaho; and Eldon Johnson, Missoula.

Schmitt was in charge of staging and lighting. Miss Hays and Helen Hayes, Missoula, were in charge of the costumes.

U.N. Patrol Crosses Han; Fights Way Into Seoul

Tokyo, Feb. 27.—(U)—A United Nations patrol has entered the area of Seoul for the first time since the allies gave up the former South Korean capital to the Communists two months ago.

In a daring foray Tuesday night, a United States third division reconnaissance patrol crossed the Han river and fought its way into the suburbs of the Communist-held city.

The U.N. patrol killed six enemy soldiers in a brief fight and then returned to the U.N. lines with a Chinese prisoner. The Communists also stabbed across the Han after a brief artillery barrage and sent a patrol into the South Korean first division area. ROK troops chased it back across the river.

Operation Killer

Meanwhile, the allied "Operation Killer" in Central Korea goes ahead. The report from the eastern flank is that enemy casualties are "terrific"; American losses are "amazingly low."

The American seventh and second divisions broke through the main Communist defenses in the east, nine other U.N. divisions pushing the Reds back on the west wing and in the middle of the 45-mile line across Central Korea.

Weather Bad

Wednesday dawned in Korea with no improvement in the weather. Snow flurries again hampered allied planes. On the ground, some 160,000 U.N. troops crawled, slid, stumbled, and trudged ahead. For the first time, they were told by their officers, they have a slight advantage in numbers over the enemy forces left below the 38th parallel.

The order was to kill the enemy or drive him out. As eighth army commander General Ridgway put it, "We have only one objective—kill Chinese and save ourselves."

PLEVEN PARTY WINS SLIM MARGIN VICTORY

Paris, Feb. 27.—(U)—The French government of Premier Rene Pleven remains in power tonight after winning a vote of confidence by a narrow margin. The vote was taken after a split among the various parties over how to decide the country's next general election—by proportional representation or majority vote.

The premier staked his government on a compromise proposal and squeaked through to a victory by 27 votes. However, 159 deputies refused to vote at all, and Premier Pleven offered to resign because of the large number of abstentions. President Vincent Auriol refused to accept the resignation.

ANTI-CONTAMINATION BILL PASSES IN WASHINGTON

Olympia, Wash., Feb. 27.—(U)—An anti-smog bill also designed to protect Washington from effects of atomic blasts was passed unanimously today by the house of representatives.

The measure would authorize the State Pollution Control commission to make studies of existing air contamination due to smoke and other impurities from industrial smoke stacks or other sources.

LEGISLATURE APPROVES BILL TO UP HOUSE MEMBERSHIP

Helena, Feb. 27.—(U)—The house of representatives approved senate amendments today to a bill which boosts from 90 to 94 the membership in the house of representatives. The reapportionment is in line with the state constitution which provides that this shall be done every 10 years. Under the measure as it now stands, counties will be granted one representative for every 7,000 persons. This is similar to the original house bill, which was later amended to raise the figure to one for every 9,000.

Skiers' Candidate To Be Selected

Ski club will meet tonight to choose a representative for their group to vie for queen of the National Ski meet at Whitefish this week end. Bruce Silvey, Billings, president, announced that the meeting will be in the Eloise Knowles room at 7:30.

Candidates for the honor are Nonie Brown, Butte, Alpha Phi; Dottie Reed, Livingston, Alpha Chi; Carol Boberg, Kalispell, Tri-Delt; Helen Lambros, Missoula, Sigma Kappa; Jayne Radigan, Great Falls, Theta; Ann Evans, Washington, D. C., Kappa; Phyllis Treweek, Kalispell, North hall; and Shirlene Stevenson, Stevensville, New hall.

These women are requested to attend the meeting in ski clothes, Silvey said, and members must have their Ski club membership cards to vote.

EDITORIAL

Almost the End Of the Chapter

The Greater University of Montana has been on a merry-go-round for two-and-a-half years. Today, it looks as though the University may be on solid ground again.

Two authorities have decided that control of university finances either are, or should be, vested in the State Board of Education. Last week the legislature sent to the governor a bill specifically conferring such control on the education board. Yesterday the position of the board was further strengthened when Judge George W. Padbury Jr. apparently marked finish to the marathon court test between the Board of Examiners and the Board of Education by deciding in favor of the latter group.

The whole mess appears well on the way to becoming little more than an unpleasant memory. The presidents of the six university units, the Board of Education, and the Board of Examiners have agreed on a compromise distribution of funds; the Board of Education has been confirmed in its control of finances; and the six schools, at long last, may receive the desperately needed buildings and equipment.

Yet, before the long struggle becomes entirely a thing of the past, its lesson should be made clear to everyone. Control of the Greater University of Montana must be in the hands of the specifically appointed board. Only harm and ill will can result when the state education system becomes the victim of a game of political handball.—D.G.

Hoover Bolsters Argument Against Shipping Troops

Washington, Feb. 27.—(U)—The "great debate" over troops to Europe shows no sign of abating.

In Sacramento, California's Gov. Earl Warren lined up on the affirmative side. In a senate committee room in Washington, former president Herbert Hoover bolstered his arguments against sending more American troops to help defend Western Europe.

If Russia decided to march on Western Europe, Mr. Hoover said, the Red juggernaut could swallow the American forces before the Soviet war potential could be destroyed.

One of the largest audiences to witness a congressional hearing in years sat in on the proceedings. Mr. Hoover got prolonged applause when he entered the committee room, and again when he finished reading his statement. After one burst of applause, Senator Connally remarked testily, "Anybody else want to cheer?" The crowd answered with more applause.

Opposite views from those expressed by Mr. Hoover came from California's Governor Warren, who said the "great debate" must be "a great comfort to Stalin." Not to send troops to Europe, Warren said, would be like fighting with one hand tied behind our backs.

NEW FREEZE ORDER HITS FURNITURE, CLOTHING

Washington, Feb. 27.—(U)—Price Stabilizer Michael DiSalle issued a new freeze order tonight affecting prices in 230,000 clothing, furniture, and other retail stores. The order freezes the percentage of mark-up at last Saturday's level. The order goes into effect March 29. Food, drug, hardware and appliance stores are not covered by it, but DiSalle said he will issue similar orders for them in the near future.

VANDENBERG HAS RELAPSE; CONDITION NOT FAVORABLE

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 27.—(U)—Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan has suffered a setback in his efforts to regain his health.

The senator's physician, Dr. A. B. Smith, says Vandenberg's condition isn't as favorable as it was when he left Butterworth hospital here several weeks ago. The Republican senator has been recuperating in his home in Grand Rapids.

Botany Professor Classifies Seven New Grasses; Findings Published

Seven new grasses, six in Mexico and Central America and one in the United States, have been classified by Asst. Prof. L. H. Harvey of the Botany department.

The new species were identified as part of Doctor Harvey's doctoral thesis. He began the work in 1938 and has done most of the research at the Smithsonian institute in Washington, D. C.

He calls the one species found in the United States Eragrostis Perplexa L. H. Harvey—Perplexa because after searching through publications containing descriptions of around 350,000 different species, he hadn't found anything similar.

Doctor Harvey explained that the search cannot be termed complete because all the scientific information necessary is not available. He cited the lack of information from Russia as one deterrent to a complete search.

Doctor Harvey said Perplexa is one of the "love" grasses. The term was applied by ancient Greeks to certain species of grasses they believed to contain magic powers when used as a potion.

Perplexa has no commercial value. It is an annual, bunch grass variety, found on the borders of alkaline buffalo wallows. The species Doctor Harvey classified is found in Mellette county, North Dakota.

Notice of the discovery of Perplexa has been published in the current issue of the Hotchkiss manual of grasses of the United States. Dr. Harvey said the original publication was made on micro-film. He believes this is the first time a micro-film publication has been accepted as authentic.

Draft Situation Is Chief Discussion Topic on Campus

Key topic of discussion on U. S. campuses this month was the draft. Students were being called up by their draft boards, but the trend was definitely toward voluntary enlistments. The high rate of enlistments may soon necessitate a ceiling on the number of enlistees in the preferred branches.

At the University of California, the Daily Californian warned students not to consider themselves privileged characters regarding the draft.

"It sounds like a superior race theory that people of only a certain class of I. Q. level should be subject to the tortures a war can inflict on a human body. Our Declaration of Independence states that all men have an equal right to 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.' They should have an equal right to die for it."

Coeds at Northwestern university report receiving letters from the war department urging them to join the Women's Army corp. Inducements were a $275-a-month check, a second lieutenant's commission, and a "permanent career." Reactions were mostly negative. One girl said, "My fiancée would disown me if I went in."

The Last Word

BY JOHN OWEN

Yesterday's Kaimin contained a letter from Jules Karlin, former tennis coach, defending his recent resignation. According to Mr. Karlin, our entrance into the Skyline conference was a step downward as far as tennis was concerned.

We agree with him in that MSU tennis teams of the last two years could compare favorably with any of the teams in the northern division of the PCC. However, we do not agree that this is proper justification for his resignation.

It hardly seems wise to maintain our membership in a conference that continually fields teams superior to ours in every major sport, merely because we may be their equal in a minor sport. Furthermore, it seems highly likely that Montana has reached and possibly passed her peak as far as tennis is concerned. It is entirely plausible that Grizzly net teams in future years will be as thoroughly outclassed as any of the other athletic squads.

I do not condemn Karlin's resignation. He has done a fine job in his few years as tennis mentor. But I do condemn him for the reason that supposedly prompted his resignation. If he is tired of coaching or if he is disheartened by the graduation of some of his top players, I wish he would admit it. I do not think he has been fair to the school, the team, or to the athletic department.

Butte Bobcat

Chuck Mitchell, 6-foot 3-inch forward from Butte, rates as the most improved player on the Montana State college quintet this season. After playing his prep school basketball at Butte high, he served a couple of years in the navy, and entered MSC as a commercial science major. Last year, as a sophomore, he didn't survive the final squad cut, but he wanted to play so badly he went back to the freshman team and worked hard, winding up as the top scorer on the frosh squad. This season he's in the lineup a good share of the time and should see a lot of action when the Bobcats and Grizzlies clash at Bozeman this week end.

Thursday: Sigma Chi vs. Jumbo hall, 6:15. Games will be scheduled from 7:30 to 10, providing ties exist in final league standings.

Friday-Saturday: First round of the double elimination championship tournament. Games will be scheduled later. Managers should consult the bulletin board in the Men's gym.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL
Wednesday: Delta Delta vs. North hall No. 1, 4:30 (for third and fourth places).

Thursday: Independents vs. North hall No. 2, 5 p.m. (for first and second places).

PDT, PEK, SN, Jumbo Win in IM

The last week of intramural basketball play started out with a bang Monday night in the Men's gym, when eight intramural hoop squads battled to raise their league standings.

In the first game of the night, the Sigma Nus dominated the hardwoods, dumping an out-matched Newman club squad, 65 to 27. Ripke, Sigma Nu center, tossed the ball through the net for 27 counters, breaking all individual scoring records in intramural basketball play this season.

Phi Epsilon Kappa squeezed out a close 37-to-34 win over a fiery Wesleyan quint. Scott, PEK guard, led his team to their victory with 16 points.

In other games played Monday, the Phi Deltas, League A leaders, stepped up another notch with a 57-to-36 win over the Ski club, and Jumbo took a low 30-to-13 game from the Phi Sigs. In the Phi Delt-Ski club game, Darky White and Delos Robbins, Phi Delt hoopsters, made 16 and 13 points, respectively, to pace their squad to the win.

MONTANA ENTERS RACE FOR SKYLINE GRID CROWN

The MSU Grizzlies will go into the 1951 grid season with a full Skyline schedule. As the result of a change in dates between Wyoming and Denver universities, it was arranged for the Silvertips to travel to the mile-high city next Oct. 6.

This brings to five the number of games MSU will play against Skyline foes and enables Montana to vie for league honors.

Fourth Player Involved in CCNY Fix

New York, Feb. 27.—(U)—Floyd Layne, the City College of New York basketball player who became the hero of the team when three of his teammates confessed taking gamblers' bribes, admitted tonight that he was in on their ring.

District Atty. Frank Hogan has announced that Layne confessed accepting bribes totaling $4,000 to throw the same three games his teammates dumped. Layne only collected $3,000 of the money, Hogan said, because "payoff man" Salvatore Sollazzo ran short of cash.

Shocked City College of New York, which withstood the storm when the other three players confessed, cancelled the intercollegiate basketball program for at least the remainder of the season after Layne was picked up by police today.

New Hall Sextet Beats Sigma Kappa In WAA Tourney

New hall took the consolation game last night in the women's intramural basketball tournament when they downed Sigma Kappa, 20 to 10.

Beverly Madson, Billings; Beryl Handford, Kalispell; and Willa Rosean, Columbus; New hall guards, kept the Sigma Kappa forwards away from the basket most of the game. The Sigma Kappa forwards played a game of controlled basketball, passing the ball slowly, waiting for openings under the basket which never came.

Helen Lewis, Boulder, netted 11 points for the dorm team. Joan Arnold, Malta, scored four points for the losers.

Sleepy Sig Eps Get Hot Flashes; Try to Sleep to Dots and Dashes

Dash--Dot--Dot--Dot--Dash! Until the wee hours of the morning, this is all that the members of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity hear, in the house at 140 University avenue.

The cause of this annoying disturbance, reason for more than one case of insomnia, originates from W7NEF, a 6-watt short-wave station.

The station, located on the second floor in room 202 of the fraternity house, is owned and operated by Don Patterson, Great Falls, a freshman majoring in mathematics.

Don, who developed an interest in radio during his two-year hitch as a radioman in the army air forces during the last war, received his license from the Federal Communication commission to operate a "ham" set in 1945. He is a member of the Hellgate disaster communication network, which is composed of 35 members, 27 of whom are active. They meet on the air, usually Thursday nights, and after calling roll, exchange information relative to their work in short-wave radio, conducting various kinds of disaster drills.

Don advises college students, who are interested in radio, to wait until they finish school to become "ham operators." He said, "Equipment is extremely costly and the average person going to school has neither the time nor the money to operate a ham set."

Three Face Charges For Gasoline Racket

Helena, Feb. 27.—(P)—Charges will be filed against three men tomorrow in connection with a gasoline tax refund racket which was designed to swindle thousands of dollars from the Montana treasury.

Attorney General Arnold H. Olson says that one of the complaints to be filed tomorrow is against Medric Joseph LaRoque. LaRoque was arrested in Los Angeles as a burglary suspect and was found to have four state checks totaling $922.20 in his possession.

The other two men who will be charged are a minor Board of

Lady Cagers Foul For Official Tests

Women cage stars took a holiday Friday and Saturday in the women's gym and forgot all they learned about playing a careful game of basketball and went on a fouling rampage.

Players went wild seeing who could commit the most fouls in a game. During one 12-minute game 40 fouls were called, a new record.

The women proved they could follow instructions when they were told to foul. The games were for the benefit of the women taking the basketball officiating tests.

One consolation of the players who fouled out was that they could re-enter the game under an assumed name. Most of the women tried to see how many names they could use.

MacFADDEN SAYS TRUMAN IS JEALOUS OF JUMP

New York, Feb. 27.—(P)—Eighty-two year-old physical culturist Bernarr MacFadden has offered to help President Truman realize his secret ambition to take a parachute jump. MacFadden, now in Los Angeles, released a statement through his New York office saying, "As a fellow Missourian, I understand how he thinks. He's jealous of my parachute jump on my 81st birthday in 1949." MacFadden now invites Mr. Truman to jump "side by side" with him when he takes his second jump on his 83rd birthday. Says MacFadden: "I'll hold his hand."

SMOKE 'EM

MAKE THE TOBACCO GROWERS MILDNESS TEST YOURSELF...

YES... Compare Chesterfield with the brand you've been smoking... Open a pack... enjoy that milder Chesterfield aroma.

And—tobaccos that smell milder, smoke milder. So smoke Chesterfields... they do smoke milder, and they're the only cigarette that combines MILDNESS with NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE.
