MISSOULA --

Mrs. Peggy Gadbow, Director of Library Service for Missoula's District #1, is one of the teaching and consulting staff members of the NDEA Institute for Elementary School Librarians being held on the University of Montana campus, June 19-July 28.

Mrs. Gadbow will serve through June 30. The special field of organizing central library service for cooperating schools will be a part of her contribution to the Institute program, reports Director Larry Hodges. Thirty-five school librarians from Montana and nearby states are enrolled in the program which has as its purpose improving the skills and competencies of librarians and teacher librarians and to assist them and their schools in the development of effective library programs.
