Greeks Dominate Election Field

ASMSU Aber Primary Race Will Have 73 Candidates

A Greek-dominated slate of 73 candidates will battle for nominations for ASMSU, class, and Store board offices in the Aber day primary election.

Central board yesterday approved their nominating petitions, thus assuring the candidates places on the primary ballot.

No Unity party or other independent movement has developed, and the absence of a Greek slate promises a wide-open race for all offices. There remains the possibility of write-in campaigns.

Two candidates for each ASMSU and class office will be nominated on Aber day. The ten highest office-seekers in the Store board race will advance to the runoff.

Also on the ballot Aber day will be a second attempt at student approval for the activity fee raise.

The ASMSU final election must be between May 1 and 5.

The candidates:

ASMSU president—Dick Anderson, Hamilton; Bill Reynolds, Missoula; Don Stanaway, Billings.

Business manager—Bryce Breitenstein, Plains; Harvey Schlie-man, Missoula; Duane Smith, Malta.

ASMSU vice-president—Nancy Calvert, Great Falls; Audrey Olson, Billings.

ASMSU secretary—Kaye Millons, Great Falls; Marilyn Schuch, Anaconda.

Store board—Joan Arnold, Malta; Rita Gray, Whitefish; George Harpole, Arcadia, Calif.; Doug Kuster, Hamilton; Robert Lamley, Kenton, Ohio; Ann Stone, Missoula; Dick Wood, Bridger. All are assured nomination for the general election.

Senior Officers

Beckwith, Bell To Represent MSU at Meet

Joan Beckwith and Norma Bell, both of Kalispell, left Sunday for the Athletic Federation of College Women convention in Ann Arbor, Mich.

The University sends the president and president-elect of the Women's Athletic association to the convention every two years. The convention attempts to acquaint its member schools with the activities of women's athletic departments throughout the country.

Miss Beckwith is president of WAA at MSU at the present time. Miss Bell will take office at an installation banquet this spring.

Student Chapter Of Music Teachers Forms on Campus

A student chapter of the Music Teachers National association is being organized at MSU. John G. Hummel, music instructor, said the group met for the first time Thursday.

Dick Remington, Kalispell, gave a report on the MTNA national conference in Washington, D. C. in December. The aims of the national organization are to maintain high teaching standards in music schools and among private music teachers.

Education Board Approves University System Budgets

Helena, April 9.—(P)—University system budgets were approved today by the State Board of Education in a routine business session at Helena. A review of the alleged maladministration at the State Industrial school at Miles City has been put on the docket for tomorrow.

At the meeting today, Pres. Carl McFarland of Montana State University won approval of a salary schedule which he says is up about 7.7 per cent over the previous one. McFarland also obtained permission for a hike in room and board rates at the university residence halls. The hikes would amount to $5 per month for room and $4.50 a month for board. However, McFarland said the board and room increase would be used only if the University began to run in the red.

The budgets of the six units were approved with provision that they may be re-examined if enrollment at the institutions shows a marked drop.

Reds Take It 'On the Lam'

Tokyo, April 9. —(P)—Chinese Communists were given a double jolt in Korea today.

First, the Reds tried and failed to halt the Allied advance by opening floodgates of the Hwachon reservoir on the Central front, north of the 38th parallel. Tons upon tons of water cascaded southward toward the border, but the Allies were safe on hill positions four miles east of the dam.

Second, the spectacular failure probably means that the Communists have lost for weeks any chance they might have had to stage a counter-offensive in that sector.

Students, City Residents Can Get Their Mental Problems Cured

"Health is a state of complete physical, mental, and social well-being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity."

This quotation is from the constitution of the World Health organization and is the key to happy living.

A key to happy living on the campus is the Mental Hygiene clinic. It is available to people who have worries and wish to consult someone about them. The office is located in the temporary classroom building directly behind the Student Union.

Three consultants, Dr. G. V. Holmes, psychiatrist, J. W. Donovan, psychological social worker, and T. H. Winchester, psychologist, are available to help you with your problems.

The state operated clinic, however, is not operating only for students, but is established for use by townspeople as well. Traveling clinics are supported at Hamilton, Polson, Plains, Thompson Falls, Hot Springs, Darby, and Libby. Other communities are in the process of planning participation now.

The purposes of the Mental Hygiene clinic are preventative and eight-fold. They are to promote mental health and happiness; prevent nervous breakdowns by getting cases early; clear up personality difficulties, such as fears and anxiety; find the causes and give treatment for delinquency, behavior problems in children, and maladjustment in adults; help adjust marital and sexual problems; estimate the cause and amount of mental retardation and to interpret these to parents and schools so that the child may get proper treatment; help rehabilitate those who have experienced a nervous breakdown; and educate the public concerning means of getting and keeping emotional and mental health.

"Many students leave school because of low grades, but low grades may be due to emotional difficulties," Mr. Winchester said.

The clinic staff mentioned some of the students' worries were money, grades, social disturbances such as making friends, sex problems, and difficulty reciting in classes.

Dr. Holmes said the approach to the problem must be through psychiatry and psychological analysis to find the conflicts and complexes buried in the subconscious mind so the person can see what the real sources are.

In order to receive help from the clinic an appointment should be made with the secretary and talks will be arranged with Dr. Holmes, Mr. Donovan, and Mr. Winchester.

Job Clinic To Hear Dr. Jesse

Dr. R. H. Jesse, vice-president of MSU and professor of chemistry, will be the main speaker at the second annual job clinic banquet, Thursday evening at the Student Union.

The banquet is in honor of the participating panel members, heads of University departments, members of the job clinic committees, and Bob Anderson, Missoula, ASMSU president.

Jim Lucas, Miles City, will be master of ceremonies.

Main Hall Recital For Three Today

Three music majors will perform in a student recital today at 3 p.m. in the Main hall auditorium.

Larry Martinec, Lewistown, a music school junior, will play Balay's "Petite Piece Concertante." Monroe DeJarnette, Missoula, will play Mendelssohn's "Sonata in Three Movements" for his clarinet solo. The movements are "Adagio Allegro Moderato;" "Andante;" and "Allegro Moderato."

Freshman soprano Anna Jane Caldwell, Dillon, will sing "Presto, Presto in M'innamora" by Mezzaserrata.

better all the time. The pinch is on."

Other methods of balancing the budget were probed again at yesterday's meeting.

Chaffin suggested the general fund be reduced to zero except for Aber day expenses and certain publications.

"It's already been cut to the bone," replied ASMSU Business Manager Jim Murphy, Missoula.

"Then let's gamble on the fee raise," Chaffin said, "and use the reserve for capital expenditures as a stop-gap measure." Murphy said this was not possible.

Athletic Director "Cac" Hubbard was queried on the athletic program. He told the board MSU athletic teams get $20,000 next year from student funds while other teams we will compete against average $78,000 from their student funds.

He said MSU students each pay $10.81 a year to athletics while students at competing schools pay $15.46.

"In dollars and cents," Hubbard said, "we should get an increase rather than a decrease because of our new conference affiliation. We have 36 trips to make next year. We are carrying on a remarkable program for the money we receive."

Asked about dropping a minor sport, Hubbard said swimming costs $1,500 and golf $700. He thought dropping those two sports would not jeopardize our Skyline Eight standing, but that is a personal belief.

He reminded board members that MSU was dropped from Pacific Coast conference basketball after it dropped baseball in 1938.

Prof. Edwin W. Briggs, board adviser, again suggested cutting the Sentinel budget and selling the yearbook to students on a partial-cost basis.

Sentinel Editor Donna Persons,

Concerts Get Lease on Life

BY C. J. HANSEN

Central board yesterday saved MSU's Community Concert program from the budget ax.

Board members voted unanimously to approve ASMSU's participation in a Community Concert contract for 1951-52. This means the present program of ample student tickets at reduced prices will be continued.

The board's action, however, did not settle student budget problems. Unless an activity fee increase is granted in Aber day's student referendum, some activities will have to be cut.

Senior Delegate Everett Chaffin, Missoula, keynoted Central board's attitude. He moved to approve the concert series and added: "We don't have the money but we'll have to worry about that later."

ASMSU Pres. Bob Anderson, Missoula, said chances for getting the fee raise passed "are getting Editorial . . .

For Community Service

This week, the Montana Kaimin set aside a $25 purse to award to an organization on campus that provides outstanding service for the University community during the school year.

Last quarter, the Kaimin received a $100 check as an award in a national safety contest. The Kaimin received the award for editorial excellence exhibited in a campaign to further safety through the formation of a workable parking plan. The staff feels that the most appropriate use of that money would be to recognize other services provided on this campus with an award in the form of a little financial kitty.

In order to qualify for the prize, a group must be made up of University personnel. This would include, of course, all professional honor societies, dormitory groups, both social and service fraternities, sororities, and groups that receive their sustenance from the student activity fee.

The size and need of the organization will be considered. That is, a small service fraternity with 20 members would not be expected to perform a service that another group with 40 or 50 members could handle with ease.

Need will enter into the selection to a certain extent. The $25 would be of little help to an organization boasting a thousand dollar treasury but would provide considerable impetus to a few fellows with just a few dollars in their treasury.

Sustained service to the community will count more than service given only in spurts or on rare occasions.

The award will be made at the regular awards convocation late in spring quarter.

The Kaimin is giving the award to give formal recognition to outstanding services provided by student groups on the campus. And, in addition, it is hoped that the $25 will aid and encourage those honored to continue providing service to the University community.—D. W.

Letters to the Editor . . .

(Ed. Note: The cartoon of Chesterfields for the best letter of last week's deluge goes to Duane Hoynes for his short letter and his salty comments. I am partial to short letters.)

(I received a letter yesterday from an "Adolph Meidenger" who doesn't seem to be registered in this school. If "Mr. Meidenger" wishes to disclose his identity, I will consider running his letter—provided he cuts his wordage in half.—D.W.)

Taylor Asks for Personal Letters

Dear Editor:

Not one constructive suggestion appears in the blanket condemnations and virtuoso letters about the Mountaineer. I am seriously concerned with our apparent inability to reach the students. I would welcome personal letters (the Kaimin does not put out the magazine, after all) giving the actual critical basis for statements of abuse and telling me what the students want in a magazine.

Further, Mitchell's badly chosen sarcasm about the "anointed few" has been taken much too seriously. There is no cult of the "intelligensia" in conspiracy against the student body; nobody writes to show his superiority by being obscure.

And I have never claimed that the Mountaineer is "great" literature, to go on the shelf with Shakespeare; no student and no magazine writer ever had such delusions. I do maintain that the Mountaineer is a good college literary magazine, and that is all I maintain. Athletes, for example, may achieve their top proficiency in college; writers almost never do; we are not professionals. We print the best of what we receive; if the detractors can produce better writing on the campus, I will be happy to use it.

I think we had a right to defend our position when we were damned on all sides on flimsy critical grounds and at last kicked in the teeth by Budget and Finance. I am willing to listen to constructive criticism and act on it. After all, nobody would suggest exterminating the band because he thought the clarinets were flat; he would suggest they improve their intonation; he would perhaps suggest how, also.

Robert T. Taylor,
Editor, Mountaineer.

(We heartily concur with Mr. Taylor's suggestion that letters of criticism concerning the Mountaineer be sent to Mr. Taylor in the future instead of the Kaimin. Letter cut.—Ed.)

CHESMORE, BULS HAVE SAY

Some ASMSU officers and others with vested interests in the athletic department have moved to eliminate so-called "minor" campus activities (Community Concert and Mountaineer). This is an obvious attempt to force a fee raise come Aber day. A fee raise was attempted once before but without this threat—it lost.

Are the few campus activities which rightly belong to an educational institution to be slashed and placed on the sacrificial altar of the football demi-god?

What is the purpose of a University anyway?

Sincerely,
Emily Chesmore.
Alice Anne Buls.

(Central board is NOT threatening or coercing the student body. Central board is fervently hoping, along with all ASMSU activities that are feeling the pinch, that the student body will vote the increase in fees so that we may continue to maintain a desirable student program.)

(If any activities are slashed, and they won't be if the raise is passed, their bones will NOT be thrown on the "sacrificial altar of the football demi-god," which, incidentally, is the one major sport that carries itself, and more, financially.—Ed.)

Stenographers Badly Needed; Lots of Jobs

Is shorthand a lost art?

According to Mrs. Kay Reardon, placement bureau secretary, it seems that stenographers are becoming extinct.

Five full-time and one part-time stenographers are needed to fill positions, but there aren't enough stenographers to go around.

The business administration school has had larger classes than ever in shorthand and typing, but marriage and commercial teaching are taking a large portion of the students who otherwise would qualify to enter the secretarial profession.

Still others take the commercial subjects for future reference but do not intend to make a career of them.

Mrs. Brenda Wilson, associate professor of business administration, said that the spring enrollment in typing and shorthand is much larger than in the past. Those going into the armed services can reasonably be assured of office jobs if they have shorthand and typing experience.

Civil service jobs are open to those in the secretarial field, starting at $2,450 a year. Typists need a speed of 40 words per minute, and stenographers 80 words per minute to start, and with improvement there is an increase in salary.

Opportunity knocks in the way of working with the FBI in Butte, but still the number applying is low compared to the number taking the courses of typing and shorthand.

"Shorthand, as many people consider it, is a stepping stone for many other professions other than commercial, including journalism, law, marketing, and sales," Mrs. Wilson said.

Travel can be combined with shorthand and typing. This profession can lead to interesting places and foreign countries, and those in it do not consider it dull.

STATE FLAG TO BE FLOWN

The state flag of Montana will be flying below the American flag on the flagpole in the oval, by June 1, Tom Swearingen, maintenance engineer, said yesterday.

By order of the state board of examiners, all state institutions are to fly the state flag by that date. The University has ordered two $50 flags, he said.

Counseling Center To Give Tests Like Army Type

Students who plan to take the Selective Service College Qualification tests this spring will be able to familiarize themselves with the type of test given by taking part in the counseling center's test orientation program. Standardized scholastic aptitude tests, (not, however, the ones that will be given under the draft deferment program) will be given on six successive Saturdays, starting this week.

The practice tests, which will be administered under standard conditions, give information regarding the proper procedure in taking tests similar to those given by the Selective Service commission.

The tests will start at 9 a.m. in Science 107. Draft-eligible students whose names start with A, B, C, or D may take the tests this Saturday. Those with E through H have been scheduled for April 21, I's through L's for April 28, M through P for May 5, Q through T for May 12, and U through Z for May 19.

EDUCATORS VOTE TONIGHT

Election of next year's officers will be the order of business at a meeting of the Education club in BE 211 at 4 p.m. today.

Circuit Clouts By Byrne, Clark Pace Reds' Win at Campbell Field

Home runs by Bobby Byrne and Russ Clark, both of Billings, enabled the Reds to win their third consecutive intra-squad game from the Blues at Campbell field Saturday, by a score 16 to 11.

It was a hitters' dual throughout the game with a total of 15 hits by both teams. The Reds were out-hit by the Blues, 15 to 14, but costly errors by the Blues proved to be a deciding factor.

The Blues started in front with three runs in the first inning on Bobby Laird's bases full triple to deep center field. The Reds were held scoreless the first two innings, but by the end of the fifth were one run ahead, 6 to 5.

In the sixth the Blues scored four more to pull ahead again, but the Reds put on the steam in the seventh and eighth. In the seventh Russ Clark and Doucette singled and Bobby Byrne rapped the ball over the center field fence, the Reds led 10 to 9. In the top of the eighth the Blues tied the score again on two walks and a single by Keyser.

Reds Concentrate Hitting

The Reds' big inning was in the eighth when they scored six runs on a walk to Jacobsen, a low throw to right field on a bunt, another walk, Hucko's single, and Russ Clark's blow out of the park. The Blues got one run in the top of the ninth, but it wasn't enough. Gene Carlson, Great Falls, gave up 12 hits in seven innings to the Blues, with Jacobsen yielding the most in the last two innings. Claire Johnston, Terry, gave up 8 hits in five innings with Dick Hansen, Jordan, giving up 6 in the four innings he worked. The lineup with hits for each team:

Reds: Sherbeck, ss, 2; Olson, lf, 1; Hucko, 3b, 1; Clark, c, 2; Doucette, 2b, 1; Byrne, rf, 2; Murray, 1; Greeley, 1b, 1; Carlson, p, 1; Jacobson, p.

Blues: Patch, ss, 2; Bross, 2b, 3; Martin, cf; Laird, 1b, 2; Artz, 3b, 1.

Grizzlies Hold Scrimmage

The Grizzlies had their first scrimmage in spring football practice on Dornblaser field Saturday, but with only a scant number of players participating.

On the offensive team Dick Heath was impressive in the quarterback slot. Dick Shadoan alternated with Heath. Lloyd Thomas, Benie Wilson and Milt Wikert were the other backs on the offense. Eddie Anderson and Charles Patton were at ends, Don Orlich and Bob Leonard at tackles. In the guard positions were Bob Annik and Bob Stewart. Jim Wilson played center.

Defensive Squad

The defensive club was composed of Dick Moomaw and Jack Paisler at ends, Don Talcott and Marshall Murray tackles, Mel Ingram and Jim Burke were guards. Marilyn Husband was at center. In the backfield were Bob Hudson, Jim Hoffman, Neil Leitch and Rudy Firm.

Milt Lewis, a new transfer guard, has an injured cartilage and will probably be out of the rest of spring practice.

Mucurovich Returns

Shipkey is expecting more players out soon including George Mucurovich, Butte, who was last season's second-string fullback. Scrimmage is planned every Saturday for the team. Fundamentals of blocking and running will be practiced during the week.

Trophy Won By Phi Delt

Phi Delta Theta earned permanent possession of the interfraternity touchball trophy Friday after they launched a successful attack during a California playoff against Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Neither team scored during the four quarters of regular play.

Backfield sharpshooter Gene Patch, Anaconda, flipped a pass to Ben Forbes, Billings, in the third down of the playoff to put the Phi Delt deep in SAE territory, thus giving the Phi Delt a 2-0 decision.

The Phi Delt threatened to break the stalemate late in the fourth quarter when Durwood Johnson, Billings, snagged a pass, which the officials voided because it was received outside the end zone.

Rough and tumble defensive play was dominant throughout the game, however, neither team seriously threatened until the last quarter.

Women's Softball Schedule Listed

The second week of the round robin in women's intramural softball gets under way today.

During the first week many large scores were run up, but most of the games were close.

Some of the teams have exhibited good pitching ability, and a large number of home runs and long balls for extra bases have been hit.

All games begin at 4:30.

Tuesday: Delta Delta Delta vs. Sigma Kappa. Independents vs. Delta Gamma.

Wednesday: New Hall vs. North Hall. Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Alpha Chi.

Thursday: Sigma Kappa vs. Alpha Phi. Delta Gamma vs. Kappa Alpha Theta.

Adams Pleased With Preliminary Trials

BY RAY SORUM

Grizzly track and field men turned in better times and distances in their first preliminary trials of the season Saturday afternoon, than at this time last year, according to Coach Harry Adams. Good weather has permitted the trackmen more outside workouts than last spring, although Saturday's winds held down some of the runners, he said.

Not all squad members were able to participate in the trial session, but most of those who did looked good for this early in the season, Adams said.

In some of the events, frosh trackmen bettered their varsity brothers. Freshmen will not be able to participate in varsity track until next spring, since the new intercollegiate ruling permitting four-year participation in sports does not go into effect until fall.

First Meet April 21

Adams announced that the date and opponents for the Grizzlies' first dual conference track meet has been settled: Brigham Young university, here, April 21.

In Saturday's preliminaries, sprinter Joe Brennan, Helena, ran 50 yards in 5.7 seconds, while sprinters Leon Conner, Victor; Ray Gray, Ronan; Bill McMasters, Butte; Tom Rademaker, Billings; and Brennan took a preliminary stab at 352 yards. Conner broke the tape first in 40.3 seconds—better time than early last year.

Conner, McMasters, Gray, and Speed Reynolds, Missoula, ran the quarter-mile with freshman Reynolds winning in 54.4 seconds. Gray pulled a close second in 54.8, with McMasters and Conner right behind at 55.0 and 55.4, respectively.

Rife, Fleming Shine

Running the half-mile, Bill Rife, Miles City, turned in the best performance of the day when he two-lapped the track in 2:04.2. Mike Fleming, Livingston, was on Rife's heels with a 2:05.0.

Milers Rife, Fleming, and Dick Urquhart, Bozeman, lapped the Dornblaser trail four times, with Rife winning in 4:49.7. Fleming and Urquhart followed with times of 4:53.4 and 4:59.0. In the mile and half-mile, Coach Adams said the times were better than last year, and "better than I had expected, considering the track is not yet in top shape." He said Rife looked especially good.

Team captain Bill McChesney, Portland, Ore., also turned in better preliminary time in the two-mile haul than last season at this time. He pounded out the eight laps in 10:53.0.

Badgley Tops Hurdlers

John Badgley, Missoula, was the only man to take a crack at the hurdles. He took the highs in 15.9 seconds and the 180-yard lows in 20.4—both times better than early last year.

Jack Luckman, Glasgow, heaved the shot 42 feet, 9 inches and freshman Neil Hunter, Great Falls, and Bob Beach, Missoula, pitched 42 feet, 8 3/4 inches and 41 feet 4, respectively.

Frosh Show Promise

Freshmen took the javelin throw when Doug Morigeau hit 165 feet, 4 inches and Eddie Anderson, 163 feet, 1 inch. Varsity man Paul Wold, who has been working out only three days, pushed the spear 152 feet, 8 inches.

Bob Ripke, Missoula, tossed the discus 143 feet and Harold Maus, Hamilton, 137 feet, 10 inches. Frosh, Beach and Hunter, hit 124 feet, 8 and 122 feet, 7 inches.

Vaulters Strain

Four pole vaulters pushed for high sky with Don Crosser, Lewistown, topping the bar at 11 feet, 6 inches. Bob Nooney, Missoula, poled 11 feet and Dick Anderson, Hamilton, and John Bryant, Missoula, each cleared at 10 feet, 6 inches.

There was a three-way tie in the high jump as Jack Coppedge, Polson; Bill Reynolds, Missoula; and freshman Keith Mason all sailed over a better-than-last-year mark of 5 feet, 8 inches.

Adams announced that there would be an intrasquad meet and varsity tryouts next Saturday.
