JRNL 100 HY: Media History and Literacy

Syllabus – Spring 2015

Scope
This is a survey course of mass media – newspapers, magazines, books, television, radio and the World Wide Web – and journalism and their effects on American history and culture. It also includes an introduction to media literacy and the profession of journalism. The course traces the historical development of mass media from the invention of the printing press in 15th century Germany to the explosion of the Internet around the world in the 21st century. It also examines how media have helped shape history, culture and government in the United States and other countries. Students will learn basic critical thinking and media literacy skills to help them become smart media consumers.

Grading options
This course must be taken for a traditional letter-grade. No-credit grading is not permitted. The Montana University System’s plus/minus grading system will be used in this class.

Class Meetings
Mondays and Wednesdays, 9:40-11:00 a.m., in DAH 210.

Required Textbook
“Mightier than the Sword,” Third Edition, by Rodger Streitmatter. The UC Bookstore has this book. Read the assigned chapters before class. Information on the text is available on Moodle.

Exams
Scheduled for March 2, April 8 and May 13. Midterm 1 covers the course up to that date. Midterm 2 covers the course since Midterm 1. The final is cumulative. Exams cover lecture material, including main points from the video clips shown in class, plus corresponding textbook chapters. Exams are machine graded and multiple choice.

Successful JRNL 100 students will:

Demonstrate an understanding of how and why mass media developed, and the roles they have played in global history, culture and democracy.

• Demonstrate an understanding of the importance of journalism in a free society.
• Understand the role journalism has played at critical moments in the nation’s history.
• Analyze the historical, cultural and political impact of selected readings, photographs and audio, video and film clips.
• Develop media literacy through critical thinking.
• Foster a better understanding of the business, journalistic and ethical issues facing media companies and individual journalists.
• Develop a basic understanding of communication theory and the role of mass media in modern communication.

Course Grading

10% Attendance
20% Midterm #1
20% Midterm #2
20% Research paper
30% Final

Paper
You will write one four- to five-page, double-spaced paper for this class. The paper will account for 20% of your final grade. You will select one piece of investigative journalism and analyze the context in which it was written or produced, its significance and its lasting impact. All papers will be due on the last day of class (Dec. 4, 2014).

Attendance and participation
Come to class and stay for the entire class period. We cover vast amounts of material. A good portion of each lecture is video material that cannot be repeated. Most video clips shown in class are not available in the library. Several times during the semester I will give you short writing assignments that will count toward your attendance grade. I will not announce the dates of these assignments in advance. You will have about ten minutes to complete the assignment. Be sure to write legibly and put your name on each assignment. If you have questions, talk to me after class or visit during office hours.

Cell phones must be off or on vibrate while you are in class and must be off and totally out of your sight during examinations. Do not answer a call during class. Anyone whose phone rings during class will be made fun of by me.
Academic Honesty
I expect your honesty in presenting your own work for this course. Academic misconduct at The University of Montana is subject to an academic penalty ranging from failing the assignment to expulsion from the university. Students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. http://www.umt.edu/SA/VPSA/index.cfm/page/1321

Plagiarism
As defined by “The University of Montana Student Conduct Code” plagiarism is: “Representing another person's words, ideas, data, or materials as one's own.” This is strictly prohibited in this class and any case of plagiarism in this course will be subject to the penalties outlines in the student code of conduct.

Students with Disabilities
Students with disabilities will receive reasonable modifications in this course. Your responsibilities are to request them from me with sufficient advance notice, and to be prepared to provide verification of disability from Disability Services. Please speak with me after class or during my office hours to discuss the details. For more information, visit the Disability Services for Students website at http://life.umt.edu/dss.
