Cocktails, Bar—Fish Included in 'Upstage'

Want to see a Fifth Avenue cocktail party? A bowery beer parlor? A ballet number? A chalk talk on the "art of drawing?" The Masquer variety show, "Upstage," contains all of these, and many more, including an old-time "flick," a powder room in a cocktail lounge, and a male card party.

An all-star cast has been collected and integrated into a musical comedy production to be presented tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 in Simpkins Little theater. Many of the numbers are from prominent Broadway plays and musicals, with others written by the Masquers. For instance, the Fifth Avenue cocktail party number, "A-Ta-Ta," came from the musical, "Allegro," and the chalk talk "art" was written by Nancy Elds, Missoula.

An old movie will be portrayed in pantomime with the characteristic flick and jerky action.

Act in Net
Maxine Taylor, Jacksonville, Ill., has arranged a ballet number, "Under the Sea," which depicts a fish as it gets caught in a fisherman's net.

A powder room of a swanky nightclub shows the various types of women who enter it and the poor maid who tries to keep order and be of assistance to the independent women.

The theme is show business in general, with each scene different, thereby alternating the pace. No emcee will be used for this variety show, giving the whole production a base and not just a few separated numbers without a common bond.

All tickets are 80 cents, including tax, and are being sold by Masquers and at Simpkins Little theater box office from 1 to 4 p.m. daily and at the Student Union business office.

Three Students To Participate In Work Camps

Three students from the newly formed Student Christian association have recently been accepted in student summer projects here and abroad. Clara C. Wood, associate director of the religion school, said.

Carol Fraser, Billings, Miss Montana of 1949, will attend an international work camp at Le Chambon, France. The camp, sponsored by the World Council of Churches, will erect a stone classroom building on a foundation dug by the 1950 camp at Le College Cevenol.

The participating students, chosen from various countries, also participate in a study, recreation, travel, and community service program.

Lee Ann Stewart, Missoula, and Cecil Gilmore, Lewistown, will attend a "Students in Industry" project in Milton-Freewater, Ore.

In addition to regular work in a pea cannery there, they will participate in a program of seminars designed to further the understanding of economics, labor and management, and social problems with particular reference to migrant workers, Mrs. Wood said.

Plans Progressing for Three New Structures

'Requiem' To Feature Buls, Cole

Two MSU solosists and three University music groups will present an all music school production, "Brahms Requiem," in the Student Union auditorium Tuesday night at 8:15.

Donna Buls, Miss Montana of 1950, Missoula, and James Cole, Livingston, are the solosists. Miss Buls and Mr. Cole were trained for the production by John Lester, professor of music, and Hasmig Gedickian, assistant professor of music.

The combined choral groups of a cappella choir and the University chorus will be under the direction of Norman Gulbrandsen, assistant professor of music. Eugene Andrie, assistant professor of music, will conduct the University Symphony orchestra.

"Brahms Requiem" was written by Johannes Brahms during the last months of the 19th century following the death of Robert Schumann, German composer, and also the death of Brahms' mother.

The New York Philharmonic and Westminster choir will make a national radio production of the composition this summer.

Draft Quiz Scheduled Saturday

The first Selective Service qualification test will be given Saturday in the journalism auditorium to 112 applicants.

Permission to take the examination has to be granted by the Educational Testing service. Only those applicants receiving passes from the Education Testing service will be admitted. When the applicant reports to journalism 304, he must have a ticket of admission, an official document which shows his Selective Service number and the address of the local board having jurisdiction over him. The applicant also must have a fountain pen or a No. 2 pencil.

Walter Mitchell, MSU counseling center director, will supervise the tests to the eligible applicants.

The test schedule is as follows: At 8:30 a.m. applicants report to the examination center. At 9 the test begins. At approximately 12:30 p.m. the examination session closes.

To be eligible to take the test, the applicant must be a registrant under the Selective Service act who intends to request deferment as a student and must be under 26 years of age. The applicant also must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course leading to a degree.

The test, which may be taken only once, will be given three other times this spring and summer: June 16, June 30, and July 12.

Sub-Committees Making Plans Toward New Campus Buildings

Three planning sub-committees are "making quite a little progress" toward making three new MSU buildings become a reality, Dean C. W. Leaphart, University planning committee chairman, said yesterday.

Some sub-committee members are meeting with architects, and the groups are drafting plans to be submitted to the full planning committee.

As present plans stand, a humanities-social sciences classroom building will be constructed west of the law school and south of the Student Union, near the oval.

The proposed music school building will face on Maurice avenue behind the Student Union and the music practice houses, west of the business administration-education building.

Also in the planning stage is a new men's dormitory, which will also face toward Maurice, to be built north of South hall and just east of the present site of Jumbo hall.

The classroom and music buildings will be paid for from the $1,700,000 MSU share of the long-disputed state bond allocation. The dormitory's construction is dependent upon the University's receiving a federal government housing loan. The state board of education authorized MSU in March to ask the national government for a $1,250,000 loan from a special $300 million fund set up by Congress last year to finance collegiate housing at special interest rates. Earnings from campus residence halls would go to repay the loan.

Soon as Possible

It is too soon to make any estimate of how soon construction of the buildings will get underway, Dean Leaphart said, but every effort is being made to push the building plans through as soon as possible.

The planning committee is primarily a faculty group but has two student representatives appointed by the ASMSU president taking part in its decisions.

The group follows the "Jones Plan," set up a number of years ago to chart a long-range University building program, as a guide in its selection of building sites.

Card Drive Continues

ASMSU's post card drive will continue today and part of next week. Students who wish to write postage-free cards to friends who might be prospective students, urging them to attend the University, should get them at the stand in the Coke store lobby or at the Student Union business office.

About 100 cards were sent out during the first two days of the drive, which is sponsored by Central board in conjunction with the University's enrollment drive.

CHEM. MATH CLUBS TO MEET

The Chemistry club and the Math club will meet today at 3 p.m. at the CP building.

Peace Campaign of Red Press Questioned by U. S.

Tokyo, May 24.—(P)—Talk of peace overshadows the war in Korea tonight.

The question is whether a peace campaign for which the Communist press is going all-out is the real thing or phony.

The State department is keeping a sharp eye on developments, but otherwise is mum.

Senator Edwin Johnson touched off new peace talks by introducing a resolution in the Senate. The Colorado Democrat wants a cease-fire proclamation in Korea at 4 a.m. June 25—the anniversary of the start of fighting—with Communists pulling back north of the 38th parallel and UN forces staying south. The Johnson resolution also would require all non-Koreans—except diplomats—to leave Korea by December 1.

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper in Moscow, printed the text of the resolution. And the chief Red mouthpiece in this country, the New York Daily Worker, is supporting the resolution with considerable vigor.

The move was made public by Sweden's representative to the UN. Sven Grafstrom said that on May 7 the Swedish foreign office received a note saying "that Russia would regard a settlement of the Korean war along the line of the 38th parallel as acceptable."

Frat Council Elects New Governors

George Ostrum, Kalispell, Theta Chi, was elected president of Interfraternity council yesterday. Duane Smith, Malta, Sigma Phi Epsilon president, was elected vice-president, and Larry Hill, Great Falls, Phi Sigma Kappa, is the new secretary-treasurer.

The new officers succeed Bob Smith, Choteau, Phi Sigma Kappa past president; Jack LeClaire, Anaconda, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, vice-president; and Val Pishkin, Butte, Delta Sigma Phi, secretary-treasurer.

Plans were also discussed for the rush week next fall and the first meeting was set for September 24 to complete the plans.

Special Convocation for Graduates

A special senior convocation for candidates for University degrees in the 54th annual commencement June 4, will be staged Monday at 10 a.m. in the Student Union auditorium.

Complete information on commencement week activities will be sent by five speakers in the program. Prof. E. A. Atkinson, commencement committee chairman, said yesterday.

The speakers are President Carl Farland, A. C. Cogswell, alum-secretary; Boyd Swingley, senior president; Prof. O. J. Bue, with Cogswell is in charge of commencement march; and Professor Atkinson.

Following the convocation, the four class women will meet with Maurine Clow, associate dean students, and Dr. Agnes Stood, associate professor of physical education. At this time, a brief discussion of plans for the lanternade June 2 will be given.

EDITORIAL—

Progression or Regression?

Tucked away in a corner of the temporary office building are the offices of one of the most worth-while, but little-known, schools on campus—that of the School of Religion.

This year that school has doubled its staff from one to two—with a man and wife teaching combination, both of whom hold master's degrees from Yale Divinity school. During the year this school has made great strides forward in the scope and student interest in its program.

Right now, however, the school is faced with a crisis in its existence. Unless $4,000 is raised soon, the school will have to carry on next year with a one-man faculty and with its program greatly curtailed. Because no sectarian course may be supported by state funds, this money will have to come from individual donations throughout the state.

One member of the religion staff has not received any imbursement for services since October, for she was hired under agreement that she would be paid when and if funds came in. The other staff member of the staff has received no retirement payment since last year.

One can chart an impressive list of achievement for the Woods for the year. The Religious Emphasis week of last fall was coordinated through their offices. Two 5-credit religion courses designed to make students think religion through for themselves have been offered each quarter. Seven different student study and discussion groups have been kept going through their efforts—covering subjects from Bible study to marriage preparation. An up-and-coming student organization called the Student Christian association has made a promising start.

Last Sunday, 11 university students journeyed to Butte and Kalispell, entirely on their own impetus, to explain the situation of the School of Religion and to ask for donations and pledges from the churches there. Other students are planning to hit Missoula, Deer Lodge, Anaconda, Helena, and possibly Great Falls this Sunday.

Students and faculty alike here need to realize just what is happening in our religion school. And we should inform the folks back home.—J.B.

Square Dancers To Get Together For Jamboree

Missoula square dancers will meet Saturday at 8 p.m. in the men's gym for a general jamboree, at which time plans for the summer Western Dance clinic and festival will be announced. All local callers will assist in the Saturday program, according to M. A. McFarlane, president of the Missoula Federation of Square Dance Clubs.

The local federation is sponsoring a special dance clinic and festival July 19 through 21, in conjunction with the University's annual Regional Arts Roundup. Ralph Maxhimer, noted Los Angeles caller and instructor, will participate in the July program. Maxhimer directed the California centennial celebration dances in the Hollywood bowl. His records are widely used, McFarlane said, by dance groups throughout the country.

Included in the July event will be instructional sessions, a clinic for leaders and caller, panel or round-table discussions of the place square dancing should hold in a community, the problems of organization, and a hoedown and festival, McFarlane said.

The Regional Arts Roundup will also include workshops in arts and crafts, community theater, and the annual writers' conference.

Reporter's Notes About Gals' Campus Honor Societies

By AUDREY OLSON

Alpha Lambda Delta and Tanan of Spur have tapped their new members recently. These two organizations recognize outstanding freshman women to serve during their sophomore year.

ALD Recognizes Scholarship

ALD encourages superior scholarship since freshmen must have maintained a 2.2 grade index average for fall and winter quarter to be eligible for spring quarter tapping. In addition to promoting high scholarship its purpose is to encourage intelligent living with increased appreciation of both the love of study and the cultural phases of campus life.

High standards of the organization try to teach freshman women that each of their college years is built on their freshman year foundation. ALD seeks to awake in freshman women the realization that each individual is solely responsible for her own achievement.

Founded in 1924

The national organization was founded at the University of Illinois in the spring of 1924. MSU's chapter joined the national organization in 1936. There are 56 ALD chapters in the country. MSU was the 36th chapter to join.

The ALD pin is a gold candle in a gold candleholder symbolizing the "light of knowledge."

ALD members present a program to the freshman women in North hall early in fall quarter. This program informs the fresh of the purposes and membership requirements of ALD. After each quarter ALD members present red roses to the freshman women who received a 2.2 or better grade index for that quarter. The roses are awarded at a special freshman women's meeting in North hall.

Planning New Program

Next year the ALD's are planning some program whereby they can honor those freshman women who have received scholarships for college training.

Vivian Sletten, Billings, is the ALD president for next year. She succeeds Gwen Flightner, Darby.

Spurs Recognize Service

"At your service" is the appropriate motto for the Spurs. Their purpose is to promote school spirit, to support all activities in which the student participates, to foster a spirit of loyalty and helpfulness among the women of the college, and to uphold college traditions.

Gold Spur Pin

The Spur uniform is the familiar white skirt and sweater which the Spurs wear once a week. The pin is a gold Spur. Active Spurs wear the pin with the blue shield of the spur down, while the inactive members wear the blue shield up.

In addition to recognizing outstanding interest and participation in college activities selection is also based on dependability, sense of humor, unselfishness, a sense of democracy, and a scholarship grade index of 1.2 for fall and winter quarters.

Tanan was the name of the local service organization before it joined the national Spurs in 1924. Tanan was founded here in 1924. The national Spur organization was founded at Montana State college in Bozeman in 1922. There are 22 active chapters now. With the exception of one chapter they are all west of the Mississippi.

Twenty-five freshman women were tapped as Spurs last weekend at the Interscholastic track meet to be the active group next year. Up to this year the Spurs weren't initiated until fall quarter, but due to changes in the national constitution they are now initiated in the spring several weeks after they're tapped. In this way they are active only during the sophomore year.

Work with Bear Paws

During the year the Spurs work with the Bear Paws to sell tickets, keep alive traditions, conduct tours, help with freshman orientation week, and usher at University functions. They also sponsor Sadie Hawkins dance and host freshman women at teas.

Jamie Brennan, Missoula, is present Spur president. Next year the Spurs haven't elected their president yet.

A success: One who has finished the grade—points.

Fashions Show End Must Justify Jeans

This summer shows a greater use of cottons than ever before, but certainly not mere plebian cottons. Cotton skirts, blouses, dresses, evening and sports wear, and even bathing suits are being disguised to look like satin, brocade, and lace.

Foreign flavored fashions are winning great popularity, as witnessed by the sudden vogue for bright Siamese print skirts and blouses. Light muslins, sheer cottons, voiles, organdies, and dimities are all increasing in popularity.

The day of the Bikini bathing suit seems to be gone forever. Its successor is a slim, fitted, one-piece affair, the strapless decollete enhanced by waterproof flowers and braid. Terry cloth, long a favorite for shower, beach, and just lounging, is dressed up with rhinestones and gilt.

Full skirts are again back in fashion, following last year's preference for the sheath dress. Paris and New York experts agree that although skirts will go little higher in the near future, the most becoming and comfortable length should be decided by the wearer.

Little-boy shorts and short slacks which fit tightly all along the leg are high style. One word to prospective purchasers: make sure your ends justify your jeans!

COMMITTEES TO CONTACT SENTINEL FOR PICTURES

Tennis Squad At Skyline Championship

BY BUD SCOTTEN

Four MSU netmen, Bob Nogler, Bob Kramer, Pete Densmore, and Bob Sparks, finished their Skyline conference play last Monday and are now en route to Fort Collins, Colo., to compete in the western division championship, to be held today and tomorrow.

The four-man team (all western division schools are represented by four men teams, not the customary six) will play their preliminary matches today and will enter the finals tomorrow.

Among the net notables the Montana men will encounter is Jerry Glade, sophomore Utah U flash, who has shown his best style in defeating both MSU's No. 1 men, Kramer and Nogler. Glade has yet to lose a conference match.

Another Redskin who will probably make every one of his opponents hustle is John Bennett. He also has downed both of the top Grizzly men.

Lee Hales, hot-tempered musclem from Utah State, and Wally Steinhilber, whose fancy footwork bested the Montana men only once in the two Aggie-Grizzly matches, will be gunning for all honors as they take to the courts with a longer practice time to their advantage.

Silvertips in Running For Skyline 8 Crown

By RAY SORUM

Montana Grizzly trackmen enter the Skyline conference trackmeet today and tomorrow at Salt Lake City as a definite contender for the crown in their first season in the Skyline Eight. Montana is a likely candidate for the winner's circle because of several probable first places and the strong showing the team made against Utah.

Grizzly trackmen have consistently improved throughout the season with practically all squad members turning in superior marks with each meet. Four men have quickened their pace enough to remain undefeated during the four previous meets.

Biggest point-catchers in this week end's meet will be the University of Utah, University of Wyoming, and Colorado A&M. Montana narrowly lost a dual meet to the Utah Redskins 66½ to 64½, and placed second to them in the western division meet, 64½ to 51½. Wyoming edged out the Colorado Aggies in the eastern division meet 66 and one-third to 64 and two-thirds.

Best bets for Grizzly firsts lie in the running events—the 100, 220, 880, mile and low hurdles, and the discus should be a Montana victory. The Bears also have excellent possibilities of placing near the top in the 440, pole vault, high hurdles, and broad jump.

Conference meets award points for the first five places with five points going to the winner and one less for each of the succeeding places.

Four Unbeaten Grizzlies

Montana's four unbeaten squadmen, Joe Luckman in the 100 and 220, Mike Fleming in the half mile, Bill Rife in the mile, and Bob Ripke in the discus should grab about 25 points for the Bears.

Leon Conner, quartermiler, has only one peer in the western division: Bill Wolfersheim of Utah who beat him by a foot in last week's meet.

Now consistently clearing 12 feet, pole vaulters George Tarrant and Don Crosser should place right behind Colorado's Gordon Riddell and Utah State's Jim Brownell, who have crossed the bar at 13 feet 3 inches and 12 feet 9, respectively.

Top honors in the high jump will be split between Utah and Wyoming when Redskins Bill Dyer and Fred Pratley face Cowboy Mickey Dunn, Wyoming's one man track team who won the high and low hurdles, 100- and 220-yard dashes, and broad jump, and tied for first in the high jump in the eastern division meet in Denver last week. Jack Coppedge, who cleared six feet for the Grizzlies in the division meet, will pick up a place for the Bears.

John Badgley's time in the low hurdles is better than Dunn's, and his division meet time was also better than Utah's Clayne Jensen who beat Badgley in dual meet previous to the division meet in which Jensen did not run because of injuries.

Joe Luckman, if he has enough push left after his sprinting, should be able to place high in the broad jump. His best jump this year, 22 feet, 4½ inches, is better than any marks set by other winners in western division contests. Badgley, too, has bettered 22 feet, but gives most of his effort to the hurdles where he is a top conference contender.

Jack Luckman, who set a new MSU record in the shot during the division meet, will probably place second to USAC's conference record holder Ross Morris who has heaved the 16-pound shot 49 feet 6 inches. Luckman's 48 feet 5 inches will stand him in good stead against the other weight pushers.

With Bob Ripke pitching the discus, Montana's outlook for five points in that event is good. Hal Maus should place in the platter passing event and Jack Rothwell will pick up a point or two for the Silvertips in the javelin.

Utah's sharp relay team will fight it out with favorites from Colorado and Wyoming. Montana will place ahead of USAC, BYU, and Denver and possibly ahead of the Cowboys.

The finale to the conference track season should be a tight race among the top four—Utah, Wyoming, Colorado A&M, and Montana.

I-M Track Teams To Compete Today

Intramural track and field aspirants get their big chance today at 3 p.m. when the intramural trackmeet gets underway on Dornblaser field.

Preliminary trials were held two weeks ago.

Grizzly Golfers To Enter Final Matches

With a season record of two wins and four losses, the Montana Grizzly golf team will enter the Skyline Eight championship matches at Denver today and Saturday.

In the first round of play, which is for individual honors, the linksters will play 18 holes. On Saturday the top golfer from each team in the conference will tangle for the individual title in another 18 holes.

To Play 54 Holes

Also on Saturday, the top two men from each team will battle for the Skyline team title. In all, 54 holes will be played. The scoring for both the individual and team honors will be scored on the Nassau scoring system with one point for the first nine holes of play, one point for the second nine and one point for the 18 hole total.

Montana Well-Matched

Taking a look at past records, it looks as if Montana will be fairly well-matched with all the teams, except Denver, in the Eastern division and Utah in the Western. Both these teams won their divisional titles.

In conference play Lee Williams and Dick Hubbard scored the most points for Montana, each having nine points. Hubbard and Williams also tied for medal honors with 73's. Both shot these scores against BYU in the first match of the season.

Three Play Every Match

During the season golf coach Dr. Don Barnett, has used pretty much the same team. Lee Williams, Bob Williams, and Hubbard have played in every match, while the fourth position has been divided between Bob Bates and Prescott Towle. Bates played in matches against BYU and Utah State. Towle played the other four matches.

At Denver the Williams twins, Hubbard and Towle will tee-off for Montana.

Golfers Wind Up Season . . .

The Grizzly golf squad enter their final games for this season as they take part in the Skyline championship tourney at Denver University this weekend.

South Comes From Behind to Win

Coming from behind in the bottom half of the seventh inning the South hall squad edged Phi Delta Theta in the consolation round of the intramural softball tournament yesterday, 8 to 7.

Going into the bottom of the seventh, PDT was ahead 7 to 5, but South pushed across two runs to tie the score and Phi Delta pitcher Roy Baumgarth walked in the eighth inning run after the bases had been filled by an error, a hit, and walk.

The loss eliminated the Phi Deltas from the tournament while the South hallers play the SAEs for third and fourth places.

Score by innings:

Phi Delta Theta	400	201	0-7
South hall	400	010	3-8

Batteries: PDT—Baumgarth and White; South hall—Dahood and East.

SAE Edges SX, 15-14, in Softball

The SAE's notched a win over the hapless Sigma Chi last night, in a crazy, error-streaked, lead-changing marathon which, hit and error figures indicate, the Sigma Chi should have won.

Timely hits and untimely Sigma Chi bobbles gave the SAE's the necessary edge.

Sigma Chi pitcher John McKown permitted only six scattered hits, one of them a circuit clout by SAE shortstop Bob Souhrada.

Both pitchers and backstops performed excellently but the frequent mental lapses and slippery fingers committed by the other SX's gave the SAE's the needed runs.

The running score: R H E
SX 420 035 0-14 12 8
SAE 103 540 2-15 6 7

Batteries: SAE—Newgard and Hinton. SX—McKown and Wolfe.

Grizzly Gab

by
LEW KEIM

Tomorrow is the end of the first Skyline spring sports season for the Grizzlies, and the track team could make it great by winning the conference championship at Salt Lake City. The first season for the baseball, tennis, and golf teams was not too productive in the win column for the smallest school in the Skyline Eight. However, all three squads were made up of varsity-inexperienced men and most of them will return for next year's competition with a year of tough experience behind them.

The baseball squad will be intact except for Bross, Clark, Greeley, and ex-captain Doucette. Towle and Bates leave the golf team, and only Kramer and Crawford depart from the tennis team.

Preliminary trials will be run off today at the conference track and field meet and tomorrow it's for the honors. Can the Grizzlies do it? It is doubtful because it is not known how the eastern division's two top teams, Wyoming and Colorado A&M, will affect the favorite Utah Redskins. It is known, however, that Dunn of Wyoming is a one-man track show. He runs the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the hurdles, and the broad and high jumps. He is a definite threat for winners' laurels in all of those events.

The question marks for the Grizzlies besides Wyoming and Colorado A&M, are threefold, and if fulfilled they could mean a Grizzly victory. They are: (1) Can the unbeaten foursome of Joe Luckman, Fleming, Rife, and Ripke continue their winning ways? (2) Can Joe Luckman and Badgley pick up valuable points in the broad jump? and (3) Can Rife deliver five points in the two-mile?

The only Skyline record under definite threat is the high jump mark of 6 feet 5 3/4 inches set by Sheffield of Utah in 1946. The threat is Utah's two high jumpers, who have cleared six feet seven inches.

Lefty Bryne collected 23 hits in 58 official trips to the plate in all of the Grizzlies games for a .391 average. His .412 Skyline average should place him close to the conference batting crown. It is unknown, like most Skyline statistics, because the information has not yet been released from the conference commissioners' office.

A good many of the Interscholastic point-winners of last week end should be Grizzlies next season. Seniors like Strutz, Billings; Ralston, Forsyth; Gompf, Libby; Delaney, Damaskos, and Mohland; Missoula; Hill, Helena; Ritt, Great Falls; Platt, Hamilton; and others would make a strong frosh squad next spring and Grizzlies of the future.

SN Downs Jumbo In I-M Semifinals

Three home runs, clutch hitting, and costly Jumbo hall errors gave the Sigma Nus a 10 to 8 victory over the previously undefeated Jumbo hall nine yesterday in the semi-finals of the intramural softball tourney.

The Nus started right off against George Jurovich, the Jumbo pitcher, with three runs in the first inning on Don Lucas' homer. Jumbo came back in the bottom half of the second with three runs but the Nus blasted away again in the third for three more runs on a homer by their pitcher, Ralph Ripke. The other Sigma Nu homer was hit by Dick Biggerstaff.

The score was close throughout the game with the Nus always in the lead and Jumbo challenging.

Sigma Nu goes into the championship and Jumbo has to play the winner of the South-SAE game to decide who will meet the Nus in the championship.

The running score: R H E
Sigma Nu 313 020 1-10 13 2
Jumbo 031 112 0-8 9 6

Batteries: Sigma Nu; Ripke and Abbott. Jumbo hall—Jurovich and Fecht.

Job Picture for Girl Grads Will Brighten This Spring

"You and your newly minted bachelor's degree can find a job this year, say more than 120 employers." This is the statement made by the Jobs and Futures Panel members of Mademoiselle magazine to the woman graduate.

If your diploma reads B.S. rather than B.A. jobs may have come looking for you by now according to the magazine. Chemistry, physics, mathematics and biology are the majors that means jobs for young women.

Hiring will be as active in June as in September for journalism, science and laboratory work, advertising, most social work, banks, insurance and even in department stores in most cities this year.

According to one panel member, "If the graduate's father offers her a trip to Europe, she might as well take it, for job hunting will probably have another open season in September."

Typing and Shorthand Helps

The magazine panel strongly suggests the graduate to be supplied with typing and shorthand to give employers something tangible to start them on.

The following list is a breakdown of some of the fields and their openings available to the woman graduate as indicated in Mademoiselle:

Teaching will welcome the graduate almost anywhere, although pay is still rather low.

Social work is the place where a B.A. can get a toe hold as the more advanced professions move into expanded emergency programs, although graduate work is strongly desired.

Department stores want college

SENIORS GET TRAVELING ORDERS MONDAY MORNING

Instructions regarding commencement will be given to graduating seniors at a senior convocation in the Student Union auditorium at 10 a.m. Monday.

trained personnel. Merchandising welcomes women right up to the top.

Banks are generally disposed to welcome the college graduate.

Advertising Good Bet

Advertising is "one of the surest bets a college graduate can make if she wants to make money sometime in the future," says one panel member.

Journalism is "still a siren," but men who go to war have veteran's preference when they return, and recent journalism graduating classes included stiff competition from the mature GI's.

Secretarial work is offered everywhere including overseas assignments.

Senior Banquet Tickets on Sale

Tickets to the senior commencement banquet will be sold today from 10 to 12 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Student Union business office.

The banquet will be staged in the Empress room of the Palace hotel, June 2 at 6 p.m., Edwin O. Dwyer of the business ad school, ticket sales chairman, said.

Students can obtain tickets for their parents and friends as well as for themselves. Price of the event is $2.

GRADS TO BRING MONEY, ADDRESSES TO VAN DUSER

Graduating seniors should bring their mailing addresses and 35 cents to Cyrille Van Duser's office in the Student Union by June 1 if they wish to have their 1951 Sentinel sent to them.

The yearbook will be ready for distribution Sept. 7.

Students who haven't yet picked up their 1950 Sentinels may do so by calling for them at the Sentinel office.

Norman Green Wins Fulbright Scholarship

Norman N. Green '49, Missoula, recently received a Fulbright scholarship which will entitle him to study political science at the University of Brussels, Belgium, during 1951-52.

Green, who graduated with a B.A. in history and political science, is one of the seven recent recipients of this scholarship from MSU.

Others awarded the scholarships were Ellalee Birkett, Roundup; Robert Moran, Red Lodge; John Spielman Jr., Pullman, Wash.; Merton Robertson, Whitetail; and Arnold Bakken, Missoula.

Applications for Fulbright scholarships for the academic year 1952-53 can be obtained from Dr. B. E. Thomas in Room 206 of Old Science. Applications may be filled between May 1 and Oct. 15, but students wishing to apply should do so within the next two weeks, Dr. Thomas said.

Wesley to Honor Seniors Tonight

The Wesley foundation will honor the University and high school graduating seniors at a banquet tonight at 6:30 in the Methodist church.

The Reverend Roger Robinson of Corvallis will give the address. Don Cameron, Miles City, will be the toastmaster. Fred Colbern, Missoula, will sing, accompanied by Carol Coughlan, Missoula. Phyllis Clark, Petuluma, Calif., is in charge of decorations.

Wesley will meet again Sunday at 5 p.m. A fellowship supper will be served and a film will be shown.

The 17 Montana national forests cover 15 and one-half million acres.

ORGANIZATIONS TO CONTACT PERSONS ABOUT PICS

All clubs and honorary societies which have contracted for space in the 1951 Sentinel but have not yet had their pictures taken, are to contact the Sentinel office at the Student Union before Monday according to editor Donna Person Cheyenne, Wyo.

Montana was the 41st state to enter the Union.
