Ray Anthony Troupe Plays to a Thousand

About a thousand people saw Ray Anthony play his initial Montana engagement last night in the Student Union.

Bill Reynolds, ASMSU president, said they would probably take a loss of $100 to $150 on the concert-dance. He said the turnout was better than advanced sales had indicated, and townspeople accounted for the difference. The president said that he and the ASMSU officers were well pleased with the turnout.

Tuesday night the band played to about 900 people in Boise, Ida., one band member said.

They arrived here about 6 p.m. last night, an hour late due to bad flying weather and one delay in stopping for gas.

Approximately 30 people, mostly girls, welcomed the band as they alighted from their chartered plane. They were taken to the Sigma Chi house for supper, and then rushed to the Union.

Bandsmen talked mostly about the cold weather (22 degrees above) at the airport. One said he had lived on the warm desert before going on the road.

They left after the dance for an engagement in Spokane tonight.

MRS. DUFFALO TO ATTEND CONFERENCE IN ILLINOIS

Mrs. Jane Duffalo, assistant professor of health and physical education is leaving Nov. 5 to attend the national conference on the Cooperation of the Physician and the School Health program.

The conference is in Highland Park, Ill., and is sponsored by the American Medical association. Attendance can be by invitation only.

Frosh Women To Vie for Sponsor Corps

Thirty-six freshman women have been selected candidates for ROTC Sponsor Corps membership, according to Caryl Wickes, publicity chairman. Of the 36, 18 will be picked for membership Nov. 9 at a dance by members of advanced ROTC.

Kaimin Rate Hiked Today

New Kaimin subscription rates effective today are $3 per year and $1.25 per quarter, according to Pat Graham, business manager. The rate raise is due, he said, to increased publication costs.

FEM SWIM TODAY

University women are invited to a recreational swim today from 4 to 5:30 in the pool at the Men's gym.

Bloodmobile Unit on Campus Nov. 14 For Student and Faculty Donors

Beginning next Wednesday students may make appointments to give blood when the bloodmobile unit is on campus Nov. 14. Members of the Red Cross council will be on hand from 1 to 3 Wednesday through Friday in the Student Union canteen to register all those who wish to donate blood, according to Harvey Schlieman, Missoula, chairman of the drive.

The unit will be on campus from 10 to 3 and can accommodate 300 persons at that time. The quota for each living group is 12 persons. Members on the council from each living group are responsible for seeing that the quota is reached. Faculty members may also donate blood, but they must also make appointments.

Donators must be between the ages of 18 and 60. Men who are between 18 and 21 who wish to donate blood must have written permission of their parents. Such men are encouraged to write home immediately for permission. Women between these ages are not required to have written permission.

Blood will not be taken from those who have yellow jaundis or who have a bad cold at the time of donation. Persons who have had malaria, however, may give blood.

p.m., he said. This means that once the traffic light has been installed drivers will have to stop for the light all day long. Mr. Swearingen wished to predict that many students would then complain and eventually jump the light and get tickets. "Sure as I'm sitting here as soon as that happens there will be an editorial in the Kaimin insisting that the maintenance department has failed to recognize the traffic situation that exists," he said.

"When this happens," Mr. Swearingen said, "The Kaimin should just remember—you have our sympathy."

Within five days this blood will be in Korea.

The unit will be located either in the Bitterroot room or in the Eloise Knowles room. If the response to this drive is good the unit may return winter and possibly spring quarter.

After donating blood persons will rest for 10 minutes. Following this they will go to the canteen which will be located in the Student Union to get coffee and food. Fatty foods must not be eaten for four hours before the time of donation.

Five PE Staff Members Participate in Convention

Several members of the University's physical education departments were elected or appointed to offices of the Montana Health, Physical Education and Recreation association at the convention in Bozeman.

Robert Oswald, assistant professor, was elected president of the association. Deanne Parmeter, instructor, will lead the section for women's physical education at the convention next year. Dr. Agnes Stoodley and Jane Duffalo are on the constitutional revisions committee. George Cross participated on several panels.

Several resolutions were passed at the convention. Recommendations asked for the return of a state supervisor for health, physical education and recreation to the staff of the State Department of Public Instruction. This office was dropped from the state budget last year.

A resolution passed for the formation of a state organization of girls' athletic associations which would give uniformity to point systems and constitutions. Methods of and plans for recruiting more women as physical education majors from high school graduating classes were discussed.

A recommendation stating that in the future the certification of all grade level teachers should require a minimum of four credits in health education was sent to the State Board of Education.

The main change recommended by the Constitutional Revisions committee was that officers will be elected one year previous to their installation in that office in order that they may work with the present officer and thus give continuity to the program. The amendment passed unanimously among those present at the convention but absent members must vote by mail.

The convention will be in Missoula next year at the same time as the Montana Education association meetings.

Brush Race To Commence

"Registration for the beard contest begins today at 1 o'clock in the lobby of the Forestry building," Wes Morrison, Missoula, beard chairman for the Forester's ball said yesterday.

"We had hoped to get a picture of Paul's beard to give registrants an idea of what we want them to look like," Morrison said, "but Paul wouldn't pose and we don't have an old print available."

"I want to remind all the lads on the campus that we're going to have two prizes for Bunyan-type beards." Prizes for costumes will be offered again, Morrison said, "so if you want to cultivate something other than the bushy variety, that's fine with us."

"Chief-Push Don Cullen will be available to receive complaints filed by girl-friends when the registration table is set up in the Forestry building." Registrations will be taken from 1 to 3 today and again tomorrow.

"The contest is open to all university men who register clean-shaven," Morrison said.

Nine to Serve On Committee

The president's office has announced the following members of the faculty and student body to serve as members on the Housing Advisory committee for the 1951-52 academic year:

Assistant Prof. R. P. Struckman; Robert M. Oswald; Gille Wooten, 1 Cascade; Robert W. Seaman, 39 Custer; Kenneth L. Kershner, 10 Choteau; George Stokes, Prefab 9.

Dean H. J. Wunderlich, S. K. Clarke, and Robert Breen will act as ex-officio non-voting members of the committee.

Cigs, Red-eye, Gas Go Up

By United Press

It will be some trick or treat after last night... liquor, cigarettes and other items are jumping in price over Halloween.

Gasoline and new automobiles go up in price today. The Office of Price Stabilization says it's OK, along with smokes and drinks. The price hikes go into effect the same day as the five and a half billion dollar tax bill. The liquor industry has the green light to jump its prices slightly more than the new tax, but most of the other items just add the tax.

There is some good news. Prices are dropping on baby oil, footballs and roller skates. And, we almost forgot, on boxing gloves.

Dad's SOS Tonight

A special SOS in front of Main hall tonight from 7:30 to 8 will be another attraction in the Dad's day program.

Dr. Emerson Stone '19, Missoula, will lead the songs. Dr. Stone is the son of the late Dean A. L. Stone, founder of the School of Journalism.

Boyd Swingley, Missoula, will be the accompanist at the song fest.

LAW OFFICERS TO MEET AT INSTITUTE HERE TODAY

Montana law enforcement officers will gather at Montana State University today for the fifth annual Montana law enforcement institute. The institute, sponsored jointly by the University and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will be welcomed to the campus by A. C. Cogswell, director of the public service division.

Student Tickets for Play To Go on Sale Today

Student ticket sales begin today for the first Masquer production, "The Madwoman of Chaillot." The play will run from Nov. 13-17.

Tickets may be purchased at the Simpkins Little Theater box office or from any Masquer for 25 cents. The added price was approved by Central board recently because of the drop in enrollment and the percentage drama receives of ASMSU funds.

LeRoy Hinze, drama professor, said most of the casting is complete. Joan Hardin, Missoula, heads the cast as Countess Aurelia, the Madwoman of Chaillot. It is the madwoman, who in collaboration with her associates, attempts to rid the world of the grafters, percenters, and spoilsmen.

Jack Shapira, New York, is one of Aurelia's friends, the Ragpicker. Dick Barsness, Medicine Lake, portrays the president of the corporation and one of the people the Madwoman wants to liquidate.

The three madwomen of other Paris streets and henchwomen of Aurelia are played by Mary Maurer, Libby; Marjorie Lovberg, Missoula, and Pat Koob, Bozeman.

Others in the cast and their roles are:

Irma, Clair Kulawik, Missoula; Baron, Harry Connick, Missoula; Doctor Jadine, Bill Simmons, Hardin; the Broker, Bob Hoyem, Missoula; the sergeant, Larry Kadlec, Missoula.

Sewer man, Louis Elmore, Billings; Pierre, Dean Jonson, and the Prospector, Dean Jellison, both from Kalispell; the street-singer, Chuck Stone, Butte; the waiter, Falle Nelson, Glendive; the flower girl, Cecilia Twilde, Billings; the policeman, Doug Anderson, Conrad; Therese, Caro Murray, Kalispell; and Paulette, Nancy Dahl, Butte.

Sinfonia Members To Select Pledges

Dr. Onnie M. Hartsell, music instructor, will speak at Sinfonia's meeting on Nov. 7, according to Spud DeJarnette, president.

Dr. Hartsell was president of the Sinfonia chapter at Columbia university during his undergraduate days.

The men's music honorary will also select pledges at the meeting. Sinfonia and Mu Phi, women's music honorary, plan a musical program for the music school party after Mrs. Florence Smith's organ recital on Nov. 18.

A musical convocation will be presented by Sinfonia on Nov. 30.

GRADUATING SENIORS TO REGISTER AT BUREAU

Seniors graduating this quarter who desire help from the Placement bureau in general and teacher placement should register with the bureau as soon as possible, according to Paul Chumrau, director.

UCF TO HAVE BIBLE STUDY

Harvey Young, Fairfield, will lead the University Christian fellowship in a Bible study this afternoon at 5 in the Eloise Knowles room of the Student Union. The group will study the "Holy Ghost and Its Work in the Lives of Men."

Sympathy Is No Solution For Traffic

"Sympathy will not get us a traffic light at Maurice and University but the city will," T. G. Swearingen, maintenance engineer, said yesterday. This was a reply to the Kaimin editorial expressing sympathy for the man-who-directs-traffic-at-Maurice-and-University in the October 23 issue.

The maintenance department has realized the traffic situation at this corner, he said, and can back up the statement with facts. In the 1950, March 31 issue of the Kaimin, the traffic committee recommended that "The traffic plan also provide for the regulation of rush-hour traffic at Maurice and University avenues by a University enforcement officer." We have provided the man, who is doing a very good job, and the city will, when it is possible, provide the traffic light, he said.

The traffic situation occurs only at the hours of 8 a.m., noon and 1

Campus Chest Question Again Troubles Board

Back again at Central board is the campus chest question, and back again also are the larger charities that oppose and refuse to participate in a community giving program.

Latest spokesman for one of the larger charities, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, was Vince Wilson of our physical education department. The stand that he took represented the views, not only of the polio group, but of the Red Cross and a number of the other better known welfare organizations.

His reasons for opposing a chest program were that it was "un-American" to regiment the humanitarian impulses of the people and that multiple appeals were necessary to meet the welfare needs of the nation.

His most telling argument, however, was that one chest drive would probably not take in as much money as the total amount collected by the dozen or so charities that invade the campus each year.

The Red Cross and the Infantile Paralysis Foundation definitely refuse to participate in any community chest program.

On this point they must be complimented for their shrewdness—they know that since they are the better-known charities, a donor will insist that the big names be included in a chest program. The big name charities refuse to be included—so the program fails.

The question of creation of a campus chest that faces Central board is no small problem and should not be entered into lightly. Too many forces are eager for the trial and failure of a chest program.

The student body itself, although I believe they overwhelmingly favor the campus chest idea, could unwittingly defeat the program by failing to contribute as generously to the one drive as they would to a total of others.

Even though I favor the campus chest idea and believe Central board has a definite responsibility to the student to rid the campus of the annoying annual influx of a hundred and one drives, I cannot urge the board to effect a hasty solution.

The problem is not local. It exists on every campus, as can be seen by glancing at the exchange papers of other colleges in this area. And since the larger charities have capitalized on the inability of campuses to organize, it is difficult for one school to carry the battle.

For MSU alone to fight the charitable giants is to beg the obvious answer. Red Cross or polio will not junk their national ruling for the few hundred dollars they would collect from our campus.

If an organization such as the much-discussed National Student association were to take united action toward setting up a chest program on the campus level, the over-all impact would be enough to cause the larger charities to help and participate in a singular community solicitation.

But alone, the chances of success are slim.—D.W.

English Began Musical Style Of Their Own

The English started a music style of their own with the invention of keyboard instruments in the Sixteenth century, said Dr. Nan C. Carpenter, assistant professor of English.

Dr. Carpenter demonstrated and lectured on the vocal and instrumental music of the Elizabethan period at the English club meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Bitter-root room.

There was no music for these instruments at first, she said, but the composers of the time followed the invention with music.

She pointed out that the vocal music of the period contained many notes that had to be held, and that the music had parts that were soft and parts that were loud. This music could not be played on the keyboard instruments, she said, because the notes could not be held or the loudness and softness varied.

Dr. Carpenter then demonstrated on the piano how the keyboard composers varied the music from vocal use to use on the new instruments.

Dr. Carpenter said that William Beard was probably the most important composer of this period. He is generally thought of as the dean of English composers. His name was connected with many of the compositions, and many of the composers studied with him at one time or, another, she said.

Education Club To Meet Today

The second meeting of the Education club is scheduled for 3 p.m. today in the Eloise Knowles room, according to acting secretary Doris Little, Helena.

All student members of the club, the Montana Education association, and all students interested in the club are urged to attend, Miss Little said.

The business will include the selection of officers, the time of meetings, and the forming of the program of activities for the year.

As a result of the membership drive which began last week, membership in the Education club now totals 76 persons.

"Do you find it hard to teach English to draft-age students?"

Kaimin Reporter Marvels At Students' John Henrys

Student's names and their hometowns have always interested me as a campus journalist. I've wrestled with their spelling and marvelled at their oddity.

What's more, I've used, abused, and misused many of them. But the names and addresses of university students enrolled this quarter are more intriguing than ever. I took a look at the registrar's list the other day.

Winner, S. D., Truth or Consequences, N. M., and Circle, all have favorite sons at MSU this fall. They are Merlin G. Leat, Edward W. Anderson, and Alan Lehman, respectively.

There's a representative here from the Kremlin—the village of Kremlin, Mont., that is. He is Howard W. Hammond.

Five Hills, three Halls, and five Hunters are on the campus. There are really more than five hills and three halls though. And the number of hunters here has increased considerably since the season opened.

Shortest and Longest

Danny On, Red Bluff, Calif., has the distinction for having the shortest last name. There are many long names, but Delores May De-Dobbeleer, Glasgow, should get a prize. Her name also lies in the tongue-twister category.

The first student's name listed in the Grizzly guide when it is published this quarter will be Kermit D. Aaboe, Hamilton. Bet he always answers roll call first. It will be easy to find Jack J. Zygmund, Havre. His name will be last in the guidebook.

Johnson has the largest following on the campus. There are 36 students with that name. Seventeen Smiths and 15 Andersons don't give the Johnsons too much trouble. Jones is way behind with nine.

If your name begins with Z, don't feel bad because there are 10 others just like you. Five Little students are attending the university this quarter. There's also a Judge and a Husband—sorry, no Wife.

It should be interesting to find out what sorority Alice Jean Pledge, Great Falls, has pledged, is pledging, or will pledge. Colors are represented rather well this quarter. There are seven Browns, three Grays, and one Green.

Three Moes and One Noe

In the pronunciation tangle, three Moes and one Noe give some trouble. The Moes pronounce their name "mow" (as with lawns), and hope their friends do too. Noe sounds off his name like the last syllable in annoy. He also appreciates correct pronunciation.

Jor Bol, Palo Alto, Calif., may have his name slandered at times. That's not nice, you guys—he didn't think it up.

Tom Payne, Livingston, says his name is not to be confused with a Payne (Paine) of another era. An instructor by the same name in the political science department also insists that he didn't write Common Sense.

Everybody is calling Prosper F. Paul, Missoula, by his last name. He is being insulted as he should be. Robert M. Lake, Missoula, lies in the geographical name category.

Cowboys to Field Rough, Spirited Team Saturday

Wyoming's Cowboys, when they invade Dornblaser field this Saturday afternoon, will present a squad that isn't the heaviest in the Skyline Eight, but is undoubtedly the most spirited. Coach Bowden Wyatt's team is currently in second place in conference standings, but last week knocked off league-leading Utah. Wyoming's line is one of the best in the league, with ends Dewey McConnell and Ted Layman outstanding. All-conference tackle Jim Martin and center Doug Reeves also spearhead the offensive platoon.

Harry Geldien, successor to last year's All-American Eddie Talboom, is the chief backfield threat. Geldien has been bothered by injuries, but will be ready for a full afternoon against the Grizzlies. From his tailback post in the Cowboy single wing, Geldien runs, passes, and punts.

The Cowboys haven't passed much this year, but even so McConnell is leading Skyline Eight pass receivers with 27 snags good for 360 yards. Bob Spaulding, who replaced the injured Geldien in last week's game against Utah, is also a backfield threat.

The 'Poke defensive platoon is spearheaded by linebacker Dale Haupt and safety-man Selmer Peterson. Haupt is a defensive demon

Dahlberg Says Cage Squad Looks Good

"We had our first varsity vs. junior varsity scrimmage last Friday night and the team looks about as good as we can expect so far," Jiggs Dahlberg, head basketball coach said yesterday.

Dahlberg said that another intersquad game would be played this Friday night in an effort to "smooth out some of the ragged spots in our play."

Dale Johnson has resumed practice after being out with a weak ankle for several practice sessions. Don Lucas is also back on the hardwoods limbering up his right ankle, broken early this quarter in practice.

Showing up well in the first scrimmage were Jack Luckman and Dale Johnson at the center position; Jim McNaney, John Petros, Bud Bellis and Bob Sparks, forwards; and Chuck Davis, Rich Johnson, Dick Anderson, and Bob Luoma at the guard spots.

High scorers in the practice game were Davis with 24 points; Sparks, 14; Dale Johnson, 13; and Rich Johnson with 12 points.

Botany-Chemistry Top Bowling Team

Botany-Chemistry moved into sole possession of first place in the faculty bowling league Tuesday night by virtue of taking three games from Humanities. The Military Science keggers, who were in a tie with Botany-Chemistry for first place last week, slipped to second. They won two and tied one with the Administration five.

The Physical Education squad replaced Liberal Arts in the fifth position as they won two of three from the Liberal Arts bowlers. In the other bowling match Business Administration copped two of three from Journalism.

Despite dropping into second place the Military keggers still walked away with team high series with 2,568 pins and high game with 880. Three of their bowlers dominated the individual high series. Sgt. E. J. Allen rolled the high series with a 569 score.

High individual game went to Prof. E. B. Dugan of the Journalism team with a 222 game.

Standings—	W	L	T
Botany-Chemistry	10	2	0
Military Science	9	2	1
Journalism	7	5	0
Business Administration	7	5	0
Physical Education	5	7	0
Liberal Arts	4	8	0
Administration	3	8	1
Humanities	2	10	0

Bowden Wyatt has coached the Cowboys to national recognition in the last four years. His teams have won three straight Skyline conference championships and the Gator Bowl game last New Year's day.

Sigma Nu Wins in Cold Clover Bowl

Sigma Nu passed their way to a decisive 21 to 0 win over the Theta Chis yesterday afternoon in the Clover bowl. The cold Hellgate wind didn't seem to cool off the passing arm of the Nus' Bob Artz as he passed for three scores.

Miles O'Connor was on the receiving end of Artz's flips twice for touchdowns to boost his touchdown total to three for the season which gives him the intramural point lead. Danny Lambros caught a short pass from Artz for the third Sigma Nu score.

Early in the game Howard Burke of the Nus caught the Theta Chis' Rod Jones in the end zone to give the Nus a safety and two points. Fran Polutnik converted once for Sigma Nu for placement.

The Theta Chis threatened only in the last minutes of the game when they drove to the Nus two yard line.

Tri Delts, SK Win in Fem VB

Delta Delta Delta won over Alpha Chi Omega, 28 to 14, and Sigma Kappa took the game from New Hall No. 2, 26 to 18.

With a half time score of 6 to 12, Tri Delt's Caryl Wickes, Missoula, made 8 points that put the team ahead in the second half. In all she made nine points. Faye Hammond, Wibaux, and Jerry Holland, Butte, each scored four points for Alpha Chi.

Sigma Kappa took their fourth straight victory when they sent New Hall No. 2 to their fourth straight defeat. Jane Gaethke, Salem, Ohio, chalked up seven points for Sigma Kappa while Lola Farias, Fromberg, and Marg Kirpatrick, Vancouver, made five points for New.

Purdue university abolished final examinations in 1922.

Dewey McConnell, Wyoming end for stopping short line bucks, while Peterson is adept at stealing passes and returning punts. Both offensive and defensive lines aren't particularly heavy, but are extremely fast.

Comparative scores definitely favor the southern visitors. Wyoming has defeated Idaho by 28-0, Utah State 37-0, and Denver by a 20-14 score. Montana has lost to all three of these teams. Denver pashed the Silvertips by 55-0; and Idaho and Utah State ground out 12-9 and 19-6 wins respectively.

Besides being the occasion of Dad's day at Dornblaser the tussle Saturday will mark the first gridiron contest between the Cowboys and the Grizzlies. Both teams have met mutual foes since their inception in the late 1890's, but have never met before on the turf. Officials will be John Good of Butte, referee; Reed Collins, Colorado, umpire; Ocie Evans, Colorado, head linesman; and Delbert Young of Utah, field judge.

Civil Service Examinations For Graduates Released

Two Federal civil service examinations designed for outstanding college students were recently released, according to Paul Chumrau, placement bureau director. They are for junior management assistant and junior professional assistant.

Chumrau said closing date for receipt of applications is Nov. 13, and that copies of the announcements and application card forms may be obtained at the bureau in Craig hall 106.

The Junior Management assistant examinations will be open to students with training or experience in the social sciences, business or public administration, who show leadership and management ability. The positions pay entrance salaries of $3,100 and $3,825 a year.

Students may also apply if their major study is in government, economics, international relations, industrial management, industrial engineering, sociology, psychology, anthropology, geography, or history.

The Junior Professional assistant examination will be used for filling positions paying $3,100 a year and will be open to students in the fields of bacteriology, economics, geography, geophysics, social science, and statistics.

Persons may apply for both examinations, according to the release Chumrau received. The JMA examination will select persons to fill positions in Washington, D. C., and throughout the country in social science and administrative fields where the need is high for executive and administrative development.

The JPA positions to be filled are located in Washington, D. C., and vicinity with the exception of geophysicist positions which are located throughout the country. These positions will require a high type of professional competence and the duties will involve professional research.

Applicants for both examinations must pass a written test, in addition to having had college training in the appropriate field of work.

Students who plan to complete work on their bachelor's or master's degrees by June 30, 1952, may apply for these examinations. If they qualify, they may be offered appointments before graduation and go on full-time duty immediately after becoming available.

Dad's Day Activities Set As Big Event Draws Near

Parents of Montana State University students will be honored at a Dad's day plate luncheon Saturday in the Bitterroot room of the Student Union. The luncheon will begin at 11:30 a.m.

Students, as well as their parents, here for the Dad's day game, are invited to attend the luncheon, Don Lucas, Miles City, Traditions board chairman, said. There will be entertainment for the event.

Two prizes will be awarded to Dads during half-time ceremonies of the Montana-Wyoming football game on Dornblaser field Saturday afternoon. Kickoff time is at 1:30, a half-hour earlier than usual, athletic officials announced.

One prize will be given to the father traveling the greatest distance for Dad's day, and another for the oldest dad present for the game.

One trophy each will be awarded to the best senior linesman and the best senior backfield as judged by five businessmen from downtown Missoula. Dads who have sons playing in the game, will sit with them on the benches, Lucas said.

SENTINEL PHOTOGRAPHERS TO TAKE FACULTY PICTURES

Faculty group pictures for the 1952 Sentinel will be taken in the Copper room of the Student Union starting next Monday. Departments and schools will be notified as to the date and time when each group's picture will be taken, announced Bob Lindborg, Missoula, Sentinel editor.

NEWMAN CLUB TO ATTEND MASS FOR STERNHAGEN

Newman club will attend a 7 o'clock mass Friday in St. Anthony's church for the repose of the soul of Donald F. Sternhagen, former university student. The Gregorian Requiem will be sung by the Newman club choir under the direction of Charles Stone.

TWO BIG SEASONS

In 51 years of Grizzly football the Silvertips have had two undefeated seasons. In 1909 the record was six wins, no losses, and one tie. The 1914 Grizzly squad had a record of seven wins, no losses, and one tie.

A prominent Montana citizen said in 1899 that high schools and colleges were over teaching young people.
