United Nations Commandos Raid North Korean Coast

Tokyo, Dec. 3.—A delayed Navy dispatch revealed that British and American marines have pulled off a commando raid on the northeast coast of Korea, blowing up communications lines and tunnels near Tanchon.

Another Navy announcement revealed that off the west coast, 1,000 North Koreans, sailing sampans and other flimsy craft, have taken three strategic islands held by the United Nations since last spring.

The British and American marines, together with royal marine commandos, went ashore on the northeast Korean coast from the American transport Horace Bess this past week end.

They blasted a tunnel with bazookas and blew up enemy roads and communications leading to the front. The Navy announcement said the raiders left a "wake" of enemy dead.

Six Musicians To Present Recital Today

Six music students will present the last recital this quarter this afternoon at 3 p.m. in Main hall auditorium. The public is invited.

Jack McFarland, Anacoda, will play "Wings of Morning" by Clay Smith, on the trumpet. He will be accompanied by Rosalie Spade, Granville, 1da, Roland Oberg, Hamilton, will play "Pulice Concertant" on the trumpet, accompanied by Virginia Harkins, Butte.

The Grizzly Guide Said Almost Completed

The new Grizzly Guide will be reprinted in next week's issue for the quarter or the beginning of winter quarter, according to Paul Tuchace, Hamilton, president of the MSU Grizzly society.

A directory of all students and faculty at MSU, will be prepared by Bill Smurr. Tuchace said the information for the guide has all been compiled and is now in the process of being typed. If the weather is ready, the Grizzly Guide will go on sale at the Student Union.

Smurr to Speak At IRC Meeting Tonight in Union

Bill Smurr, research assistant in the history and political science department, will speak on "The Science of Geopolitics," at the International Relations club meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Bitterroot union.

At present, Smurr is working with an attorney, who is preparing a motion for the International Relations club, which will deliver the report. All students are invited to attend the meeting.

Gambling Tax "Hurts" State

Helena, Dec. 3.—Montana is leading the nation in the number of gambling tax applications filed with the collectors of internal revenue.

But the state is taking an awful beating as a result of the tax, according to a board of equalization report.

The board of equalization said in its report that in October, 1950, Montana was 37th state from the state's 3 per cent tax on potential value of panboards.

Accident Aid Extended

The policy of the Student Health Service of not providing coverage for off-campus accidents has been modified slightly. Formerly the director of the service, said yesterday.

Noting the large number of students who come to the health center with minor accidents, the Health service will offers coverage as far as facilities permit, Dr. Wright said. The changes in off-campus accidents may receive X-rays, care for injuries in the gym, if possible, for the Health service, from 9 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 12 to noon Saturday.

The new program will relieve some financial burden of students, who come to the Health center, he said.

Students admitted to the Health center during the month of December in the closing case of 277 cases, Dr. Wright said.

Smurr to speak at IRC meeting tonight.

The scholarship was established by the forum committee. The scholarship was awarded to 100 students on the basis of good citizenship and excellent work in the academic year.

Peruvian Student Notes International Differences

"International Differences" is the topic of the speech to be presented this year by the forum committee.

Swimming in January, golden tans in February, are the rule, not the exception, in the home of Maria Scarpatti, foreign business administration student, native of Lima, Peru.

"The climate change is symbolic of the numerous adjustments that must be made to accustomed to the ways of life at Montana State College in Bozeman, Co., and MSU."

"The Christmas season occurs between December and April," said Miss Scarpetti. Peruvians buy gifts for Christmas instead of under a Christmas tree. "The two seasons come as a result of having different customs."

"The latest fashions always come to Peru before America because of the advantage in social customs," said Maria. "Peru has the advantage of the 'three Kings' may put presents in them. Few of the shoes remain empty, even in January."

The children are not even expected to become accustomed to the ways which the children are warned are different. "The children are expected to follow the 'three Kings' in Peru is the rule, not the exception, in the Peruvian home," stated Maria.

Grade Teacher Shortage Still Great, Says Chumrau

The shortage of elementary schools is much different from the shortage of secondary schools this fall. A still larger number of teachers is far less than is needed, says Paul Chumrau, placement bureau assistant in the University of Montana.

The problem is that there is a big difference in social customs in America is much different from the problem in South America. Peruvians are accustomed to the ways of life at Montana State College in Bozeman, Co., and MSU."

More than 30,000 new teachers are still needed. The school population is 50 per cent higher than for most other students in the same age group.

The teachers are required to be proficient in the school.
Exam Ruling Questioned

Why has the old ruling that did not require graduating seniors to take final examinations been changed?

According to reliable sources, the faculty committee passed this new proposal last spring. The ruling now states that only seniors graduating in the spring are exempt from the exam. There is a reason for spring exemptions. Commencement exercises conducted before finals week makes it impossible for a senior to take tests.

But that doesn't explain why other seniors who have the misfortune of graduating during fall, winter, or summer quarter must be subjected to the whims of this faculty committee.

Despite the fact that the new ruling was passed last spring, the registrar's office had no knowledge of it earlier this quarter. Faculty members were thrown into the dark as to the proposal until five days ago when a notice was sent out. Many instructors had already excused seniors from the finals.

It seems highly improbable that a majority of the faculty enjoy this ruling, for it merely means needless extra work for them. As one history instructor put it—after a student had endured 11 or more-quarters of classes and tests, he has earned a final test exemption.

If a senior, however, has low marks in a course, he should be required to write the examination.

Perhaps there is a hidden justification for this recent change of ruling, but if so, it would be a good idea to make the reasons known to the students. This would prevent further confusion and gripes.

If there is little or no justification for this discrimination, why not revert to the original ruling or at least submit it for another vote.—Burton Warren.

A Dangerous Solution

The question of restriction or review of campus organizations' activities was sounded out at Central board's meeting last week.

Before the discussion had gone very far, the matter was shelved on a doubtful constitutionality count. Edwin Briggs, faculty advisor to the board, explained whether Central board's powers were broad enough to allow a restriction on the number or type of organizations that could come on campus.

Even if the legal question had not developed, it would have been wise for the board to discard the move to set up a review board that would have the power to decide whether this or that group had the necessary qualifications to organize at MSU.

Granted that there is a problem of not saturating our campus with an abundance of dead-weight organizations, the obligation to a freedom of organization is still evident.

One wonders whether enough credit is to be given to the ability to pick and choose groups with which to surround himself. An indiscernible, authoritarian grasp upon campus groups would provide dangers far worse than the problem of too many organizations.—D.W.

The Montana KAIMIN
Established 1898

The name Kaimin (pronounced kaym-in) is of Shoshone origin, and means "message," or "a word from the Great Spirit." It was adopted many years ago by the MSU chapter of the National American Indian Student Association as their name. The Kaimin is published every Thursday morning in the Student Union auditorium.

Sinfonia Convo Shows MSU Music Talent

Sinfonia, national honorary music fraternity for men, presented a conversation Friday morning in the Student Union auditorium.

The program consisted of vocal solos by Fred Knepp, Fairbridge; S. D., and Jim Cole, Livingston; numbers by the Sinfonia dance band, Sinfonia men's chorus, a woodwind quartet, a trumpet trio; and a satirical comedy about a music student.

Pat Frager, who was recently presented in a student recital, was a guest vocalist on the program. She sang "I've Got You Under My Skin," Jim Cole sang "Captain Mack."

The Sinfonia men's chorus, under the direction of Laird Oakland, associate professor of music, sang three numbers: "Hail Sinfonia," "Rare Old Wine," and "Brothers Ring On."

The woodwind quartet, composed of Spot DeJarnette, Missoula; John Kohler, Everett, Wash.; Jane Valentine, Conrad; and Irwin Brulettin, Phoenix, presented an American Sketch.

The trumpet trio, consisting of Fred Nelson, Missoula; Doug Kueber, Hamilton; and Sam Davis, Dillon, played a novelty number.

The Sinfonia dance band played three numbers: "Miss Veter," "September Song," and "Lover's Leap." Jeanne Couture, Arlene Beier, and Eve Hinsley did vocal for the band, and sang "September Song."

A sidelight of the program was the extension of "Willum," a music student, and his progress from a beginning student to his graduation.

Roy Hoffman, Helena, was master of ceremonies for the program, and Rod DeJarnette, president of the MSU chapter of Sinfonia, introduced the pledges.

Pharmacy Dance Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the Pharmacy club dinner-dance Saturday night in the Student Union auditorium are available at the campus drug store in the Center Pharmacy building.

A pharmacy and pre-pharmacy majors are urged to attend the social function. The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. and tickets will be from 9 to 12 to the music of the Blue Knights orchestra.

UCF to Conduct Discussion Today

Anna M. Gookin, Miles City, and Carlene Schlarbaum, Whitefish, will summarize the religions of the world for members of the University Christian fellowship at 7 p.m. today in the Eloise Knowles room.

The topic of the student discussion will be "World Religions: What Hope Have They?" The fellowship groups will study the first chapter of Paul's letter to the Ephesians Thursday afternoon.

Art Holoman, Pan a de a, Calif., will lead the discussion at 5 p.m. also in the Eloise Knowles room of the Student Union.

Winter Dates Due

Social chairmen of all organizations and living groups must have winter date preferences into the dean's office today by 4 p.m.

Tickets $1.25, adults; $.60, students

Dr. O. E. B. Johnson, director of the University Christian fellowship, reaffirmed the annual tradition of "Thanksgiving" evening, November 26, in the student union auditorium.

To be featured in the program is the Piano quintet "Piano Man," consisting of Leonard G. Johnson, Kansas City, director of the University Christian fellowship; Howard Beran, Missoula; and three unknowns.

"Thanksgiving" was chosen as a "message" or a "word from the Great Spirit." It is derived from the original Selish Indian word and means "some-thing written* or a "message."

A sidelight of the program will be the American Sketch by the pharmacy students.

"Thanksgiving" is one of the many written messages from the Great Spirit to the people of this country. The Thanksgiving Holiday is one of the many written messages from the Great Spirit to the people of this country. Sparks, Davis High Men In Whites' Hoop Victory

Chuck Davis and Bob Sparks led Grizzly hoopsters in scoring last Friday in an intra-squad game with 19 and 18 points, respectively. Davis and Sparks played for the Whites, who beat the Reds, 76 to 42. Coach Jiggs Dahlberg had both squads using full court press this week for the opening tilt with the Idaho Vandals next Monday.

AP Splashes To Swim Win

Alpha Phi won the women's swimming meet with 37.7 points last Saturday at the university pool. Delta Gamma made 21 points; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 22.5 points; and Alpha Theta, defending champions, 28 points.

Andrew Wins Crawl

In the separate events Shirley Anderson, Fort Benton, won the 50-yard crawl for Delta Gamma in 11.7 seconds; Judy Harkin, Billings, also a Delta, took the 50-yard breaststroke in 16.8 seconds. Delta Gamma won the 40-yard medley relay (three swimmers) in 47.7 seconds.

For Alpha Phi Rosie Leung, Missoula, won the 40-yard crawl in 27.5 seconds and the 40-yard breaststroke in 39.5 seconds. Alpha Phi won the 40-yard medley relay (four swimmers) with a time of 35.8 seconds.

Murphy Takes Backstroke

Kappa's Mary Pat Murphy, Missoula, won the 200-yard backstroke in 15.7 seconds. Eileen Poole, Williston, N.D., took the 40-yard backstroke for Theta Chi. The Alpha Phi team were Payoaki Kind, Maxine Highower, both of Missoula; Ruth Reiquam, Choteau; Margaret Tange, Outlook, and Miss Leung.

Today's I-M Sked

First volleyball round at 7 p.m.:
- Sigma Nu Epsilon vs. Sigma Nu, Wesley Foundation vs. Phi Delta Theta, Theta Chi vs. Alpha Tau Omega, and Sooners vs. Jumbo Backs.
- Second round at 8 p.m.:
  - Near Paws vs. Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Nu vs. Alpha Tau Omega.
- Rochelleau with 16 points. Curt Harlow, a former Missoula high and Oregon State hooper, tallied 14 points for the winners.

PDT Remains Top Team in I-M Volleyball

Phi Delta Theta continued to set the pace in the intramural volleyball race last night. They downed the scrappy Sooners in their only match to remain undefeated.

For Sigma Kappa suffered their first defeat last week when the Sigma Chi edged them. The Phi Sigma won their first match handily, however, from Alpha Tau Omega. Sigma Chi lost their third game, this time by virtue of a forfait from Jumbo Backs.

Sigma Nu garnered a fast victory over Theta Chi in their only match last night. Sigma Phi Epsilon followed suit by winning from a hapless Jumbo Backs crew.

Alpha Tau Omega clipped their first victory of the season from the Bear Paws. Sigma Phi Epsilon also notched their first win when they dumped Wesley Foundation.

Byrne Makes First String All-Conference Grid Squad

Bobby Byrne of the Grizzlies was selected as a first team backfield man by coaches and sportswriters who selected the official Skyline Eight all-conference team in Denver last week.

Three luminaries from otherwise lackluster teams were picked for starting posts in the backfield. Besides Byrne, they were Paul Dinan of Utah State and Ray Ollivander of Brigham Young. Tom Dublinski of the champion Utah eleven nailed down the other backfield spot.

Lineemen on the offensive squad included, ends, Dewey McConnell of Wyoming and Gordon Cox of Denver; tackles, Harvey Ashby of Colorado A and M, and along with Fred Mann of Denver; guards, Charles Kalani of Utah and Cal, Chavez, Denver, and center, Doug Reeves, Wyoming.

Grizzlies Harold Maus, Gordon Jones, Bob Antonick, and Jim Murray were given honorable mention on the all-conference polling. Byrne and Murray are seniors, while Jones, Antonick, and Maus are juniors.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil

Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

SHEEDY looked bod-seedy with his ruffled hair. He didn't know feather to bury his head, or go on a wing-dig! "Ow! I ever get a draft of the tree roommates! You're roughing yourself of poise, bionize!" they chipped. "Better he explained. "You know, the new Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's got lanolin!" You know your barber, ask him for a professional application.

Then you'll really be in there pigeon!

The MONTANA KAIMIN
School of Journalism Building

Tuesday, Dec. 4, 1951.
Plans for Music Bldg. Approved

Plans for the new music building have been approved by the music staff, the president, and the maintenance department. Architects Ballas and Fox of Missoula have been instructed to complete the work on the plans. The plans will be turned over to the state board of examiners who will advertise them for bids. The building is planned so that additional studios and practice rooms may be constructed in future years as needed. It is hoped that the organ will be installed in the auditorium of the new building. The former deals chiefly with zoology.

Donald Schaff, Butte; Harold Boyd, Montana;
W. P. Clark, dean of the graduate school, states that the University is for the first time offering a master's degree in wildlife management. The former deals chiefly with wild life units in the country. This unit is divided into wild life technology and wild life management. The former deals chiefly with zoology.

Grad Student
Enrollment Up; 170 Registered

Graduate school enrollment has jumped to 170 this year in comparison to last year's 130 students. W. P. Clark, dean of the graduate school, states that the University is for the first time offering a master's degree in wildlife. Montana State University has one of the 16 wildlife units in the country. This unit is divided into wild life technology and wild life management. The former deals chiefly with zoology.

Music Fraternity
Introduces Pledges

New pledges of Sinfonia, men's honorary music fraternity, called a special meeting in honor of province governor Donald Allton, from the music department faculty at the University of Oregon, Nov. 17, in the Copper room of the Student Union.

Fourteen new pledges were initiated into the Sinfonia fraternity. In order to be eligible, a student must be actively interested in the promotion of good music in America, and need not be a music major. Those initiated into the fraternity include Don Schaff, Walkerville; Miles O'Conner, Missoula; Dick Kibbels, Hamilton; Dick Fletcher, Billings; Larry Coloff, Great Falls; Paul Robeke, Helena; Larry Warn, Helena; Art Tuomi, Sand Coulee; Don Hardisty, Butte; Ward Shanahan, Miles City; Gordon Travis, Mohrsville, S. D.; Don Landreville, Anaconda; John Marvin, Missoula; Charles Coleman, Lewistown.

Discussion Topic
Featured by AWS

Meetings of Associated Women Students have taken on a new aspect. Along with the regular business meetings they are holding educational discussions. Some of the topics for discussion are: What are we getting out of college? What do we expect from academic work? Which do we place higher, social or academic work? and many others.

Ski Club to Meet
The Ski club will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Gold room.
