Women Will Sing Carols To Men's Living Groups

Women from every living group on campus will serenade the men's dorms and fraternity houses tonight during the Christmas song festival.

Each group will sing to three of the men's residences. The reason for this change from the former custom of singing to every group, said Roine Walston, Conrad, is that classes on Tuesday and Thursday nights and the WAA party on Wednesday would conflict with the serenades. Miss Walston, secretary of Panhellenic, said the board ruled that all women will have 11 o'clock hours tonight. The serenades will begin at 9:30.

Mary Ann Dimock, Anaconda, will lead the Alpha Phis in "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town;" Delores Gilskey, Lewistown, will lead Synadelphic in "First Noel;" Genevieve Welch, St. Ignatius, will lead Sigma Kappa in "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day;" Ramona Egger, Whitehall, will lead Delta Delta in the "Christmas Story;"

Barbara Dickinson, Helena, will lead the Kappa Alpha Thetas in "Silent Night;" Marilyn Erb, Billings, will lead Delta Gamma in "Bring a Torch, Jeanette Isabella;" Kaye Millons, Great Falls, will lead Kappa Kappa Gamma in "Lo! How a Rose 'Ere Blooming;" Alice Norris, Fort Shaw, will lead New hall in "Joy to the World;" Barbara Deisher, Hot Springs, S. D., will lead the Alpha Chi Omegas in "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen;" and Charlotte Gains, Arches, will lead North hall in "Happy Christmas."

man newsmen are indefinite for the Christmas vacation.

Peter Thelen tentatively plans to go to Chicago to visit relatives. Alfons Ensling may go to San Diego, Kurt Reinhold to Seattle, and Christian Kracht to Colorado Springs, Colo.

Robert Catlin, Missoula photographer, will take test shots of the 40 women, and from these pictures, he will select the ten finalists. The choice will be made on the basis of photographic beauty and pose, Shirley Pahrman, Missoula, contest chairman, said.

Students attending the Royal-ee's Miss Photogenic dance Feb. 2 will make the final choice. The dance date is subject to approval by the University social committee. Lynn Hestiken, a Tri-Delt from Malta, was crowned Miss Photogenic last year in the first campus contest.

Letters to the Editor . . .

ADMINISTRATION SCORED AGAIN REGARDING FINALS

Dear Editor:

We are willing to admit that the people who were responsible for exempting all graduating seniors from final exams have the right to change their minds. The administration giveth and the administration taketh away. What annoys us is the kind of reasoning employed to defend the latest change in policy.

The Kaimin was absolutely right when it cited the importance of giving a graduating senior a free hand to settle his personal affairs. No matter when a student plans to leave the University, he has to hunt for a job, and fast. It takes a lot of letter writing, a lot of personal interviewing, a lot of TIME to get even the meanest position. The graduate can concentrate on job hunting or on finals, but not on both. Students who have enough money to tide them over after graduation, until they can find a spot to land, are mighty rare.

If the administration wants to play fair with us, it has only to recognize the fact that there are some things in this red-taped world which are more important than final examinations. But if finals are as important as the administrators seem to think, let them find jobs for us that we can fill the day after finals. Let them fill out the forms at the employment offices, and let them knock on all the necessary doors. Let them explain to our parents why students must be kept in school an additional week. Maybe they will want to pay the room and board for that time.

As we remember it, the present policy was put into effect between Dr. McCain's departure and the arrival of Dr. McFarland. Whoever promoted it is no longer in a position to carry it out, and the present administration is not obligated to defend it. A review of the evidence is plainly necessary, and we hope that more reasonable counsels will prevail.

Sincerely,

Pat Solvie
Rosalie Slocum

HONKALA PRAISES GEOLOGY HONORARY, HITS KAIMIN

Dear Editor:

What has happened to the Kaimin editorial writers? Last week's editorials were certainly confused. Leo Smith corrected Tuesday's editorial, but your answer continued the confusion.

However, I wish to criticize Wednesday's "Honors for Sale" editorial. Apparently honorary societies are a racket, a way to get rich, and with a reason for existence similar to Schlieman's reason for class officers.

Probably no student honorary was ever formed with anything but the finest of motives. What the honorary actually depends on is its members. Our national honorary geology student society is a typical "racket." The grade requirements are lenient, it costs ten dollars to join, and we send a delegate to a national convention. Most geology majors eventually join Sigma Gamma Epsilon.

It has a few insignificant activities. The society meets every Wednesday noon attended by 15 to 25 people. Every week there is a half hour talk by members, faculty or visiting geologists. Faculty members from other departments often attend. The club sponsors weekend field trips, review sessions for civil service exams and keeps a file on job possibilities. Members may publish papers in the national's fine monthly bulletin. The club makes an annual scholarship award to one of its members.

It participates in campus activities such as job clinics, building a prize-winning float for the Homecoming parade, and sponsoring social events. We all feel that it definitely helps the geology students and we refuse to accept the irresponsible label of "racket."

Sincerely,

Fred S. Honkala,
Faculty adviser,
Sigma Gamma Epsilon.

(In last Wednesday's editorial, the geology society was not singled out as the object of attack.)

If you feel that the picture painted in that editorial was a picture of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, that is unfortunate, for the editorial was directed at those groups who call themselves honorary societies and then hold up little in the way of grade or achievement requirements.

If you feel that the editorial would not apply to Sigma Gamma Epsilon, then certainly no offense need be taken.—Ed.)

Vandals Edge Montana, 64-58 ATO's Retain Bowling Lead

Fall Idaho Squad Means Short End for Grizzlies

Idaho's tall Vandals overcame a Montana third quarter lead early in the fourth quarter, then shot accurately and stalled out the last four minutes for a 64 to 58 win over the Grizzlies. The Grizzlies scored in erratic spurts but found a lid on the hoop in the closing minutes while Idaho dominated the backboards.

Fouls were many and sometimes tempers got hot. But despite the fouls the game was fast. The Grizzlies, in their first game of the season, looked good at times, but the Vandals height was too much. Idaho centers Kruger, Morrison, and Heller kept Grizzly Mickey Luckman occupied consistently as he tried to cover the giants. He did good job, but it was too much of a job for one man.

Captain Hal Sherbeck of the Grizzlies and Vandal Kruger were the top men in the scoring column, each tallied 15 points. Sherbeck was assisted on the Grizzly ledger by hustling Chuck Davis with 14, and Bob Sparks and Luckman each with 12.

Vandals Mather and Morrison aided Kruger with 13 and 10 respectively.

Davis scored the first point for

Montana with a free shot, then Sherbeck hit close up. The two teams traded shots and points throughout the quarter with the Grizzlies leading 14 to 10 as the quarter ended. Vandals pulled up to 24-all just before the half. Mather led the Vandals as he hit from all angles. Then the two teams traded baskets and Kruger dumped one just before the half-time whistle. Idaho led at half-time, 28 to 26.

Sherbeck started the Grizzlies off on a scoring spree with two quick baskets, then Sparks scored as the Silvertips hit their first three shots. Grizzlies showed their best form as they ran up a 47 to 43 third quarter score, Sparks and Sherbeck scorching the cords.

Idaho slowed down, gained possession of the ball with good ball handling, and started hitting, to pull away from the Grizzlies. The whistle tooters started having a field day and Idaho connected from the foul line whereas the Grizzlies didn't. Kruger used his height and dumped three in a row.

Then the Vandals stalled with a six-point lead. Luckman dropped two, but Mather matched him. The Grizzlies scrambled for the ball, but in vain.

The box score:

Montana	FG	FT	PF	TP
Davis	3	8	4	14
Sparks	3	6	5	12
Luckman	4	4	4	12
Sherbeck	7	1	5	15
Anderson	2	1	1	5
Idaho	FG	FT	PF	TP
Dollinger	1	1	2	3
McIntosh	2	1	5	5
Mather	6	1	3	13
Kruger	6	3	5	15
Morrison	3	4	3	10
Haller	1	2	1	4
Flynn	2	0	2	4
Domke	1	1	3	3
Jenkins	2	1	5	5

ROTC Rifle Team Defeats Bozeman, Butte Saturday

A five-man ROTC rifle team fired a score of 672 to defeat Montana Mines and Montana State college in a three-way meet at Butte Saturday.

The state college team fired a 644, and the mines team fired a 522. The teams fired five shots from each of three positions—prone, standing, and kneeling.

Plans are currently underway to have three of these three-way matches each year—one match at each of the three schools.

The ROTC rifle squad dropped two matches last week in the Southwestern Montana league. The Victor civilian team defeated the MSU squad by a score of 1,420 to 1,377 Thursday night on the ROTC range, with Dorothy Williamson of Victor firing a 292 for high score. Miss Williamson fired a possible of 100 in the prone and sitting positions, but dropped eight points in the standing position.

The ROTC team lost a postal match to the Missoula Moose at the same time they were defeated by Victor. The Moose team had fired a score of 1,385 earlier in the week, and the score of 1,377 fired by the ROTC team Thursday night against Victor was used in the postal meet with the Missoula Moose.

The footprints herald the ticket sales for the Forester's ball, the idea being that when Paul gets to town the festivities can commence any time.

This year ex-chief-pushes will share top honors with Bunyan. In the early years of the ball they were called "woods bosses" and two served each year.

Chief-push Cullen says the theme of the 35th ball will be to "honor the ex-chiefs. We want a lot of costumes, good costumes, this year. Remember that costume prizes will be awarded, so dig around in the attic while you're home for Christmas and come back ready for the ball."
