FIELD HOUSE OK'ED

We Applaud Student Foresight

Yesterday the students of Montana State University wrote a new chapter in MSU history by voting overwhelmingly in favor of the Field House proposal.

We applaud student foresight; we say MSU has taken a big step forward.

With the following statements we record the comments of MSU leaders:

Pres. Carl McFarland: "I think it was the right vote. I think it will be a lot of work for me, but I think progress for our institution was made yesterday.

"I am confident it will prove progress for our future."

ASMSU Pres. Dan Lambros: "I am certainly pleased. I am certain it is a big stride forward.

"It will prove our foresight for the future."

ASMSU Bus. Mgr. Don Cameron: "This represents a tremendous step forward for our University.

"It also represents that the majority of the students of MSU are cognizant of our need for such a structure."

With these statements in mind, we can only second their motions of foresight in MSU progress and urge such steps for the future.

Masquers Begin Rehearsals On Play, 'Death of a Salesman'

Masquers have begun rehearsals on "Death of a Salesman." The play, which won the Pulitzer prize for its author, Arthur Miller, when it was first produced in New York, will be shown Feb. 3 to 7 in Simpkins Little Theater.

"Death of a Salesman" has been acclaimed one of the greatest of American plays, according to Dr. Stanley K. Hamilton, assistant professor of drama. It is particularly valuable because of the universality of the situation in the story, he explained.

It is the story of a worker, Willy, who served a company for years and was fired when he was no longer able to work. It is the study of this man's family, his wife who was a faithful, hard-working woman and his two boys. The boys were taught by their father that there was nothing so important in life as being liked by others and making money.

In contrast is the family next door, Charley, and his son, Bernard. Charley takes a realistic, pragmatic approach to life. He has done everything possible to help the confused Willy revise his ideas, but with no success.

The play is given in a series of interweaving of time—first the present and then sudden shift-backs. The flashbacks serve to show the confused state of Willy's mind.

Cast are: Willy, Herb Carson, MSU speech instructor; Linda, his wife, Pat Koob; Happy, Jack Shapira; Biff, Tom Sherlock; Bernard, Alan Goddard; the woman, Marjorie Lovberg; Charley, Tom Kilpatrick; Uncle Ben, Neil Eliason; Howard, Gordon Rognlien; Jenny, Marynell Curtis; Stanley, Leslie Solberg; Miss Forsyth, Donna Murray; fellow traveler, Cecilia Twilde; Letta, Lois LeDuc; waiter, Gerald Wolfard.

Gilbert W. Gabriel in the Theater Arts Magazine has this to say about the play:

"There is the American language, the American scene, the Brooklyn accent, the Bronx cheer, all the muck and melancholy jokes of our petty-class life taken, shaken, re-

Catlin Will Take Sentinel Pictures Until Saturday

Sentinel pictures will be taken this week, through Saturday, from 1:30 until 5:30 each afternoon at the Catlin studio. The price will remain at $1.50. This is definitely the last chance to have your picture taken, said Helen Lenhart, Sentinel editor.

Any club, organization, or living group desiring space in the Sentinel must turn in contracts for that space before the deadline Jan. 15, she said. This should be taken care of tomorrow, if possible, Miss Lenhart added.

Pub Board Picks Associate Today

Noon today is the deadline for applications for the position of associate editor of the Kaimin. Applications may be turned in to the Student Union business office or given to Betty Smith, Publications board chairman.

Publications board will select the new editor at a meeting in the Bitterroot room of the Student Union at 12 noon today. Applicants will be interviewed at that time.

arranged, revitalized, and somehow rehallowed into the stuff of a compelling, singing quasi-poetry, of a widespread pity, a great hearted dream."

The New Yorker magazine said the play was a "tremendously affecting work." It was "told with a mixture of compassion, imagination, and a hard technical competence." According to the New Yorker Mr. Miller drew unerringly the "portrait of a failure, a man who has finally broken under the pressures of an economic system he is totally incapable of understanding."

Masquers began preliminary rehearsals on the play at the end of fall quarter. Dr. Hamilton chose the cast at that time.

F H Initial Construction Scheduled For March; McFarland Statement Friday

BY BILL JONES

No more frustrated seat-seekers at Friday night games—we'll have a Field House next season. The plans for the structure with a maximum seating capacity of 6,000 was presented to ASMSU voters Tuesday for sanction. It passed 637 to 169.

The ASMSU sanction came as a climax to the affirmative votes of the alumni, Missoula Chamber of Commerce, and MSU faculty. In accord with Pres. Carl McFarland's plan, work on the Field House will begin immediately.

The student body voted in the Student Union basement from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The largest surge of voters came at 3 p.m. Crowds milled through the Coke store as well as the Bitterroot room throughout the day discussing the election.

When the 5 p.m. closing hour was reached the Bear Paws closed the polls and took the ballot boxes to the ASMSU office for tallying. Lex Denson, Broadus; Norm Olson, Missoula; Wayne Bauer, Billings; and Ray Moholt, Glendive, tallied the ballots. Poll watchers from opposing factions were Wally O'Donnell, Havre, George Swords, Billings, and Don Cameron, Miles City.

There was never a question concerning the outcome. The first fifteen tallies were "yes" to the field house proposal as described on a sheet accompanying each ballot. It took less than 35 minutes to tally the 846 ballots.

When the last vote was counted, Tom Roberts, MSU news publicist, called KXLL who announced to the Missoula townspeople at 5:42 p.m. that the field house proposal had carried at ASMSU polls.

ASMSU Pres. Dan Lambros told Gwen Folsom, presidential secretary, the vote count at 5:45 p.m. She called President McFarland, now in Helena at a Board of Examiners meeting immediately and reported the news. The president said he would prepare a complete statement concerning the Field House for the Friday issue of the Kaimin. He will return Thursday afternoon.

In a phone interview with a Kaimin reporter the president said bonds for the Field House, construction bids, bids for an organ for the music school, and bids for machinery for the heating plant would all be advertised Thursday in the Daily Missoulian and the Helena Independent-Record. These advertisements will run once weekly for three weeks. Bids will be selected for the Field House in mid-February. Construction will start soon thereafter.

The 637-169 vote came as a surprise to some and as an expected occurrence to others. While waiting for phone connections with the president, Vice-Pres. Richard Jesse computed on a slide rule that 3.75 students voted "yes" for every negative vote.

To this, ASMSU President Lambros expressed extreme satisfaction. He said last night he expected the vote to pass, but was extremely dubious on Monday. He said during his week of campaigning, climaxed by speaking at North hall last night, he lost eight pounds.

ASMSU Bus. Mgr. Don Cameron also appeared pleased. He said he thought the vote would be much closer than it was.

U Enrollment Only Down 53 Students

The usual decrease in enrollment of about 150 students for winter quarter due to autumn quarter graduations and other causes "went by the boards" this year, Pres. Carl McFarland reported Tuesday. Winter registration, totaling 2,062, is only 53 less than the total at the beginning of autumn quarter.

A part of the larger-than-expected winter enrollment came with the registration of 33 Korean war veterans, many arriving without advance notice. Korean veterans on the campus now number 102, including one woman.

Other enrollment factors are a higher percentage of students returning after autumn quarter and an increased number of new students, and former students not on the campus last quarter.

The winter total consists of 1,412 men and 650 women. This compares to 1,577 men and 663 women, totaling 2,240, at this time last year. A total of 213 students did not return to school after autumn quarter last year and 354 the year before. Only 174 have not come back this year.

Figures on those not returning are: 124 men as compared to 50 women this year, 133 men to 80 women in 1952, and 291 men to 63 women in 1951.

J. Baldwin '53 Missing After Far East Flight

Second Lt. Jerry Baldwin is reported missing after a flight from Japan, according to the Air Force. Baldwin, who was a second-year law student in 1951, was called to active duty in the Air Force in the spring of that year.

He has been in the Pacific area about ten months and was stationed on the southern tip of Japan at Kyushu.

A brother, Roger '50, is a member of the State Board of Education.

Richman Tells Convo Plans

Dr. Luther A. Richman, dean of the music school, is new chairman of the Public Exercises committee. He succeeds Dr. Edmund L. Freeman of the English department.

The Public Exercises committee, whose purpose is to plan convocations, is made up of five faculty members, five students, and a faculty chairman.

"Our plan is to reduce the number of convos to three or four per quarter," said Dr. Richman. This will make it easier to arrange better convos.

Talks by John Scott, longtime editor and now a correspondent for Time and Life magazines, are planned for Monday, Jan. 26, said Dr. Richman. The talks, not a regular convo, are to be delivered during the day to the English, humanities, journalism, and political science department. Students from other departments will be welcomed.

The Charter Day convocation is scheduled for Feb. 17, Dr. Richman said, but no other dates have been set.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

HERE'S a sad Lobster tale. Sheedy was really in hot water. His girl kept saying, "The Maine thing I don't like about you is the way you put your hair! Haven't you red about Wildroot Cream-Boil Hair Tonic? Non-alcoholic. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Perfect for you 'claws you need Lanolin on that water-soaked hair." Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he shore looks slick. In fact, he's in salad with every girl on campus. So if you're net-tled about your messy hair, butter shell out 29¢ at any toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil, "Your Hair's Best Friend." Ask for it at your barber's, antenna to one you'll be tickled pink!

Bue Views TV Strong Competitor In Communication

During the presidential campaigns and convention television proved to be a strong competitor in the field of mass communications, but its challenge to newspapers reveals some pronounced limitations. This opinion was expressed by O. J. Bue, professor of journalism, in an article, "The Editor Looks at His Hole Card," appearing in the December issue of Quill, national journalistic publication.

Professor Bue helped cover the convention last summer for NBC television. He said that TV, while hitting peak effectiveness in covering prearranged spectacles, loses much of its interest when it tries to deal with abstract and complex news.

Newspapermen know that technical accuracy isn't enough, Bue said. "Communication is not achieved unless the medium is accurate in such a manner as to be rightly understood."

A newspaper permits choice in reading or not reading news. "No newspaper publisher would presume to ask its subscribers to read every word on the page and in rigid order. Yet that's precisely the kind of extravagance television imposes on our time."

In conclusion, Professor Bue said, "Television has done a lot more than put legs on the picture magazine, but it has much to do before it can challenge newspapers, save in very limited areas."

Three Teams Still Undefeated As Season Nears Midway Mark

BY BOB CHESNOVER

The Wyoming Cowboys are leading the Skyline league with four wins and no defeats. Last week end the Pokes downed the Grizzlies 19-65 due to greater accuracy at the charity lane. They also beat Utah State by 10 points 64-54. Bill Sharp of Wyoming dunked 25 points in each contest to lead the Wyoming scorers. Wyoming is rated second to BYU in the title forecast.

Brigham Young and Colorado A & M also share the league lead with three wins and no defeats. BYU had a tough time with Denver last week end and had to hustle to save a 55-54 win. The Colorado Aggies forced both their contests into overtimes last week end against Montana and Utah State. In the wild free fouling game with Montana, the Aggies scored 11 points in the five minute overtime period and won 93-86. Against Utah State the Aggies won 78-76.

Utah State, who won the Holiday Festival tourney in Madison Square Garden last month, haven't been faring well since they returned to Skyline competition. They have dropped three straight conference games to Wyoming, Colorado A & M, and BYU.

The Utah University Redskins are in the same boat with two conference defeats. Utah and Utah State meet tomorrow night and one will come out of the cellar.

Denver lost to BYU by a single point last week end and Wyoming 73-46 earlier in the season. Denver picked up their lone win over hapless Utah 62-49 in an overtime contest.

New Mexico posted its only league win over Utah too, with a 66-59 win last week. The Lobos were humbled 73-57 by BYU. In New Mexico's opener they pushed Wyoming to the limit before losing 77-72 in an overtime.

Skyline standings:

	Won	Lost
Wyoming	4	0
BYU	3	0
Colo. A & M	3	0
Denver	1	3
New Mexico	1	3
Montana	0	3
Utah	0	3
Utah State	0	3

Jumbo, Chis Share Lead With A-League Triumphs

Sigma Chi picked up an easy 45-33 victory from Ski club, and the Jumbo cagers won out over Phi Sigma Kappa, 34-27, in Monday night intramural A loop games.

The Sigma Chis garnered a comfortable 12-2 first quarter lead as they went after their second victory. Free throws counted heavily in the game, with the Sig Chis putting in 17 for 28 tries and the Skiers making only 9 out of 21. Ski club scoring was limited to two charity tosses in the opening frame, and the Sigma Chi squad was held to seven free throws in second quarter scoring.

Beach led the winners with 11 while Brott collected 10 points for Ski club.

After trailing for two periods,

Jumbo put on the press, limiting the Phi Sigma Kappa squad to three points in the third quarter, and kept going for the win. Zygmund and Harger sparked the third canto Jumbo rally, and Fowler led the losers with a total of 15 markers.

Jumbo, Sigma Chi, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon are in a three-way tie for A league honors with two victories apiece.

Montana Inaugurates Home Season This Week End Against BYU, Utah

Grizzly fans will see Montana trying for their first conference victory this week end, as they meet two conference foes on their home floor.

Brigham Young university, rated top team in the Skyline Eight this year, will encounter the Grizzlies Friday night. Harold Christensen at guard and Joe Richey at forward, two old reliables, are sparking the Cougars this year. Christensen and Richey were both regulars with BYU's NIT (National Invitational tourney) championship squad of two years ago. Richey was named an all-American se-

Lawyers Hold Bowling Lead

The Law school broke a first place tie with the Phi Deltis last Saturday in intramural bowling. The Law school won three from Phi Sigma Kappa while the Phi Deltis won two and lost one with the Theta Chis.

The Sigma Chis, led by Ed Over-turf, moved into third place and shoved the Sigma Nus and Phi Sigma Kappas into a fifth place tie. Both the Nus and PSKs lost all three games Saturday. The SAEs, by virtue of three wins over Sigma Nu, moved up into fourth place.

Dale Schneidmiller, SAE, took scoring honors for the day with a 204 high single game and a 580 series. The SAEs also bowled a high team series of 2,560.

Education Club Will See Movie

Education club students will see "A Study of Infant Behavior" at their meeting Wednesday night. This film was produced in the child development department at the Yale university clinic.

lection in pre-season polls this year.

Boyd Jarman and Nick Mateljan, two 6-foot 5-inchers will be competing for first string center.

Van Burgess, Dean Larsen, and Joe Cowser are the other likely candidates to complete the first five.

BYU was second in conference standing last year with 9 wins and 5 losses. Last year they defeated the Grizzlies at Provo by a 80 to 56 score but the Silver-tips gave them a scare here with BYU coming out on top, 50-47.

The Cougars have won 3 Sky-line conference championships in the past 7 years, and they are out to repeat their performance this year.

Saturday night the Grizzlies play host to Utah, who finished the season one rung ahead of Montana on the conference ladder last year. Coach Peterson of the Redskins is having trouble finding someone to replace graduated All-American Glen Smith. Peterson will rely on Kent Bates and Bruce Goodrich two of last year's regulars to carry the scoring burden Saturday night.

Last season the Redskins won by a large margin at Salt Lake City but the Grizzlies won (63-60) at home. In series history Utah has won 8 and Montana 7.

Children Learn to Cooperate In University Nursery School

BY MARGERY FOOT

Walk into Simpkins hall and turn to your left and you'll meet 32 children all playing, laughing, and shouting. Or, if it is a nice day they may be outdoors playing on the jungle gym, swings, or in sand-boxes. They may be listening to stories, singing, or painting.

The 32 children are enrolled in the University nursery school. The school has three regular teachers: Sylvia Stanley, Jane Reznor, and Artie Dawes. Ten cadet teachers from the child development course also help during the day. They are Tess Avery, Virginia Balkovetz, Kay Cotter, Richard Eichholz, Jane Gaethke, Beryl Handford, Sara Malone, Ruth Neptune, Marilyn Nichol, and Alice Woldstad.

"The main purpose of the nursery school," according to Mrs. Stanley, "is social development. To get it we need a happy, loving atmosphere. Through this happy, loving atmosphere, the children learn to cooperate, to take turns, to share, and to solve their own problems."

Children must be at least three years old before they can go to the nursery school. They have to be less than 4 1/4 years old when they start. Hours are from 9 to 3:30, Monday through Friday.

Play equipment includes tricycles, wagons, building blocks suitable for building either buildings or roads, painting equipment, a toy organ, cards, equipment to play house with, clay, and other toys. Outside there are jungle gyms, a teeter-totter, a slide, and a sandbox. Inside equipment also includes two turtles—live ones.

The youngsters are served lunches of meat, potatoes, vegetables, and dessert. The children are served family style—that is, the food is all placed on the table before them. The kitchen has nothing in it that would be dangerous to children, according to the dietitian, Mrs. Delore. The equipment is all electric, and no matches are kept in the room.

Anyone can enter their children in the nursery school. However, since the usual capacity of the school is 30—now it is 32—there is usually a long waiting list.

Wildlife Series To Begin January 15

A series of 10 forums on conservation and wildlife management will begin January 15 under the direction of Dr. J. W. Severy, chairman of the Division of Biological Sciences at MSU.

The meetings will be in room 106 of the Journalism building and will start at 7:30 p.m. They are open to the public free of charge. Dr. Severy's first topic will be "Some Characteristics of Life Communities."

This is the first year that the program has been presented in Missoula. Last year it was given in Great Falls, Helena, Cut Bank, and Thompson Falls. This year it will be repeated in Helena and for the first time in Plains as well as Missoula.

The program is being sponsored jointly by the Public Service division of the University, the Natural Resources Forum, and the Western Montana Fish and Game association. This is the fourth year that the program has been presented.

The meetings will begin Thursday and will continue through May 14. The first eight discussions will Only time will tell about young love! And only time will tell about a cigarette! Take your time...

Test
CAMELS
for 30 days
for MILDNESS
and FLAVOR!

THERE MUST BE A REASON WHY Camel is America's most popular cigarette—leading all other brands by billions! Camels have the two things smokers want most—rich, full flavor and cool, cool mildness...pack after pack! Try Camels for 30 days and see how mild, how flavorful, how thoroughly enjoyable they are as your steady smoke!

More People Smoke Camels THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!
