Kenton Orchestra Will Give Concert and Dance Feb. 24 If Central Board Says Yes

Stan Kenton with his "Artistry in Rhythm" ensemble will possibly be the next "big name" band at MSU. ASMSU president, Dan Lambros, has been negotiating with Kenton's agent as well as Ralph Flanagan's agent since Christmas. Lambros said Kenton was selected because of his availability on Feb. 24. Flanagan's only open date was during final week.

The Kenton selection was okayed in a Budget and Finance meeting Monday afternoon. The Lambros recommendation will now be presented at a special Central Board meeting in the ASMSU office Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. The special meeting has been called by Lambros in order to pass on the Kenton proposal and validate petitions for Friday's election.

Budget and Finance passed a motion calling for a maximum of $100 as expense money for Central Board members attending student conferences in Utah this week. The allocation will allow four students to participate in the study of student government, field houses, student unions, and student newspapers. The group will travel with the basketball team to Ogden, Provo, Salt Lake, and return Sunday.

Ray Dockery, Lewistown, debate captain, appeared at Budget and Finance asking for $350 to enable the debate team to complete their scheduled activities. The group presented a budget calling for $500 more than they received when the current ASMSU budget was drafted last spring. Since then the publicity travel fund has given them $54, which, coupled with over $100 garnered from extra funds caused by the increased activity-fee paying enrollment, leaves $350 to be raised in order to complete the planned program. Action on the request was postponed until next week.

Forum Discusses Versions of Bible

The new Revised Standard version of the Bible was discussed by the Christian Science Monitor Youth forum Sunday evening at the J. Gordon Montgomery's where the Forum room is located.

Mrs. D. P. Bates, Missoula, led the discussion of the group which compared the interpretations of the King James version, American Revision, and the Revised Standard version which has just been completed.

Guests were Jo Mae Chase and Dave Schlieman.

Forum president Kervine Chauvin announced the next meeting will be Parents and Friends night, and will be Sunday, February 8, in the Bitterroot room of the Student Union.

John Scott Lectures Here On Europe's Reconstruction And Journalism Principals

"Europe's Second Renaissance," "America's Impact on Europe" and "U. S. Journalism" were the subjects of the speeches by John Scott, author, lecturer, foreign correspondent, and member of the editorial staff of Time and Life, given today in the Main Hall and the Journalism auditoriums.

Professor Vedder M. Gilbert, Dr. M. C. Wren, and Dean J. L. C. Ford introduced the speaker at the respective assemblies of students, faculty, and public.

In backgrounding the present European's situation of disintegration and disorganization resulting from war, Scott told the story of a little German boy out looking for his father in the piles of unidentified dead. He said he couldn't recognize his dad but he knew his "dog tag" number.

Another parallel Scott mentioned was the Soviet individual who had seen three revolutions and a civil war since 1900. The "psychological

Grizzlies Take 2nd Game Of State Collegiate Series; Tonight May Be Clincher

BY BOB NEWLIN

Montana's Grizzlies potted nine out of eleven shots early in the third quarter last night and moved on to their second victory over the Bobcats from MSC, after trailing most of the first half. The final score was MSU 84, MSC 71.

Led by Jerry Gleason's ball hawking, the Bobcats began an early rally and never quit during the first half. The Grizzlies looked ragged in their attempts to penetrate the Cat's pressing defense at first, but towards the end of the second quarter the Grizzly power began to show. Hollo and Salonen of the Bobcats dominated the backboards throughout the entire first half.

The aggressive Bobcats couldn't stop the Silvertip's third quarter rally. Davis and Rich Johnson began scoring from all angles. The Grizzlies tightened up their defense and from then on they were never in much danger. In the first five minutes of the third quarter the Grizzlies scored 19 points while the Cats added eight. Dale Johnson of the Grizzlies and Salonen of the Bobcats went out via the foul route during this period.

At the beginning of the fourth the Grizzlies had a 58-55 lead which quickly increased to a 10-point Grizzly edge. The Silvertips easily held their 10-point margin throughout the rest of the game. Bobcat scorers couldn't find the hoop at all during the final period.

The Grizzlies maintained their high shooting average with 31 of 74 field goal attempts and 22 of 33 gift tosses. The Cats made 26 of 72 field goal attempts and 19 of their 43 free throws.

The primary election for both offices will be in the Student Union this Friday. The final, in which the two persons receiving the highest votes Friday will compete, is set for Feb. 4.

A special Central Board meeting has been called by ASMSU president Dan Lambros for Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. to validate petitions.

EDITORIAL—

Questions-Answers
Let's Have Them!

Twelve days ago President McFarland laid before the students of MSU, in a by-lined Kaimin story, the proposal of incorporating a Student Union within the Field House structure. Since then much has been written in Kaimin news stories and editorials; much has been said in committee meetings; and much has been argued over a cup of coffee, between class discussions, and even in the classroom.

But despite all this flow of opinion and news, more will have to be written, said, and argued about a new Student Union, no matter what disinterested students may say about being fed up with building proposals.

Through the columns of the Kaimin we will continue to strive for complete and accurate coverage of the news pertaining to the new Union proposal. Also we offer the columns of the editorial page to our readers who have questions and opinions about the new Union plan. If you do, write a "Letter to the Editor." We will publish your letter and answer your questions.

We also urge students who have questions and opinions to attend either the Student Union Planning committee meeting Wednesday night at 9 in the Eloise Knowles room of the Student Union or the Student Union Executive committee meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4 in the Central Board room of the Student Union.

Now is the time for questions and opinions.—L.K.

John Allgood

BY JAY ESS

John Allgood left the house to see his girl, Lucy L'Affair. Although he was a freshman and she was a SENIOR, they got along well together. She liked a big masculine type of man, and, of course, that description fit John to a tee.

It was one of those balmy winter days when the temperature gets up to 34 degrees. It was beautiful to look out over the snow from the third story of a building and see the sun. But in the snow tunnels, John felt cold. Lucy lived in a dorm called Older-Than-Old hall. The Tebbitt college name bureau

Calls for Writers;
Deadline Feb. 6th

Dear Editor:

We almost have a new magazine on the campus! At the moment we have an enthusiastic staff, some good fiction, money available for publication, and a $20.00 prize from the Joyce memorial fund for the best piece of writing in the first issue. We still need: (1) a name; (2) stories, feature articles, poetry, light verse, humor, essays and art.

We urge writers to submit manuscripts as soon as possible to meet a deadline on February 6th. Simply leave your manuscripts at the post-office in Main Hall. We particularly want articles of any kind that will be of general campus interest. We want them from as many departments and schools as possible.

All those interested in any part of this project are cordially invited to attend our weekly meeting on Thursday, Jan. 29th, at noon in the Central Board room of the Student Union.

Sincerely,
H. V. Larom

had a quaint quirk whenever a building had to be named.

John groped his way through the tunnels. The maintenance department still hadn't put up the signs at the intersections. He finally found the right passageway, entered the dorm, jingled the bell to Lucy's room, and she came down.

"What's up, John?" she said. She was a pharmacy student and she loved little jokes. They both giggled.

"Just wondered what we could do tonight, Pet," he answered.

"Gee, Heartache, I'm still tired from working with the social committee. We had a tough time planning the functions for this semester. The fellows on the committee and I really worked hard. It took six nights working late to complete the dates."

"I know you've been working hard, Doll. Let's see, we could go to the concert. John Charles Charlie, the Met star is here. Or, the Coldernell college La Crosse team is playing our team in the gym. It's always fun being with a crowd at a game," he mused.

"How about going to see 'Death of a Gigolo,' Sweets," Lucy asked. "The reviewer said Carson Pirie Scott and the Tebbitt players do a swell job on that. Or, I have two passes to the I Roda Howdah frat dance. The kids say that's always a good time. They even have elephants at that one!"

John rattled off another list. "We could also go to the dog sled try-outs, the Ovi Lova Mena sorority house warming, and Mike Roscoe is lecturing on the social life of the paramonium. The Tebbitt debaters are arguing the proposition, 'Resolved: Sex will never replace night baseball.' The Ski club is having a fireside. All ex-members are donating their broken equipment to make it a success. There's a sleigh ride sponsored by the courtship and marriage class."

John stopped, paused, raised one eyebrow, and said with a nasal twang, "Ehh, let's go down to Squirrel's and sip hot toddies."

"You sly fox," Lucy whispered, and off they went.

A bill was presented to the state legislature of Wyoming this past week for proposed financing and building of fraternity and sorority houses in fraternity park, at the University of Wyoming. The bill provides that trustees of the University may build the houses, may issue securities, payable from proceeds of the houses to finance the building, to sell the houses by contract, with the organizations providing for annual payment of the purchase price over a term of years.—Branding Iron, Wyoming.

Pace Quickens in IM Action, Ten Teams Post Weekend Wins

The Blues romped over Rodeo club, 60-30, and South hall picked up their first win of the season, 12-38, over Alpha Tau Omega in Thursday night A league intramural games.

Scoring consistently, the Blues were never in trouble. They held the Rodeo five to a single field goal by Bob Ruden in the second quarter. Ruden collected 13 to lead the losers, but the Blue's Daryl Engbregson dumped in 19 markers to take high scoring honors. For Rodeo, it was their third straight loss.

South hall went ahead 13-10, then fell behind, but came back strong in the fourth period scoring 23 points. Forest Liebe had 17 for the losers, and he was followed by Jim Loebach with 12. Fred Baker dumped in 11 counters for South.

Strips No. 2 came from behind to beat out the Foresters, 34-26, and Sigma Nu kept strong their bid for B-loop laurels with a forfeit over Jumbolaya.

Gerald Stern pushed in 8 of his 12 points in the final frame as the Strips team made up a three-point third period deficit to take the win. Strips tied the game at 14-all at halftime, but fell behind as play resumed. Don Lantz made seven points for the losers, and Hugh Fowler tied his teammate Stern with 12. The game was played under protest because of a suspected error in timing.

Sigma Nu picked up their fourth win and gave Jumbolaya their second loss in the forfeited game.

Theta Chi, Oddball's Athletic club, Phi Delta Theta, and Corbin hall picked up B-league wins, and Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Alpha Epsilon posted A-loop victories in Saturday contests.

Winning by a slim 20-19 margin, the Theta Chis handed Sigma Phi Epsilon their first loss. Dan Schoenman, TX, and Gene Jurovich, SPE, both had seven points.

In another close game, Oddball's Athletic club beat the Sig Alph Scrounges, 41-39. Don Campbell, with 16 points, led the Scrounge offensive attack, and Don Cameron, who hit for 13, paced the Oddball's.

Phi Delta Theta held the tie with Sigma Nu for first place as they waxed the Education club, 60-23. All the Phi Delt players broke into the scoring column, and George Boifeuillet dumped in 17 to lead the pack. Cy Austin was second with 15.

Dick McDonald hit for eight points in the first quarter as Corbin hall easily handed Mel's Rejects their third loss.

Del Lune with 12 points, and Tom Ritter with 10, led Phi Sigma Kappa in their 33-21 victory over the Deacons.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon beat Sigma Chi, 39-38, in a tight scrap. Sam Davis, who had 11 points in all, picked up six of these in the second period as SAE fought to overcome a seven-point first quarter Sigma Chi advantage. They tied the score in the third period, and Dick Hansen hit 8 of his 14 points in the last quarter to keep the rally going. Don Clark dumped in nine for the losers.

In a contest off campus, Jumbo hall continued its unbeaten ways with a 97-68 win over St. Regis Home Independents. Five players hit in the double figures for Jumbo.

The only games scheduled this week are between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Rodeo club at 8 o'clock, and Alpha Tau Omega and the Sooners at 9 o'clock Wednesday night. The other games are postponed due to frosh basketball practice and the Forester's ball preparations.

Independents Edge SK By One Point

The Independents beat the Sigma Kappas 18 to 17 in a close game Thursday. The game was good during the first half, but it slowed down in the second. Sue Blake, Missoula, was high scorer for the Independents with 15 points. Jary Nelson, Conrad, was high scorer for the Sigma Kappas with 11 points.

Players for the Independents were: Sue Blake, Shirley Linden, Jeanne Stewart, Willa Andreasen, Glenda Zimmerman, Pat Turrell, and Alice Stark. Players for the Sigma Kappas were: Jary Nelson, Jane Gaethke, Dusty Weaver, Bev York, Sue Mann, Kayel Martinson, and Reba Turnquist.

Kappa Gamma Gamma won the scheduled game with Alpha Phi by forfeit. There were not enough players for the Alpha Phi team.

Gymnastic's Club Seeks Aspirants

All students interested in participating in gymnastics may join the gymnastic's club being formed on the University campus.

Intramural director George Cross said that we hope to eventually create enough interest, and to advance far enough, to start a gymnastic team in the future.

Anyone may join the club and those wishing to participate may do so every afternoon at four. Attendance each day is not required for those not wishing to do so.

Students will be taught basic and advance movements on the apparatus.

Cubs Impress Hoop Fans In Win Here

The University Cubs showed much good material for future Grizzly basketball squads in dropping the Missoula high Spartans 70-60 last Saturday night at the University gym.

The Cubs jumped to an eight point lead early in the first quarter and were never really threatened throughout the game.

Ed Argenbriht showed good form from far out as he dropped in several set shots. He scored 17 points to pace the Cubs in the scoring column.

Ed Bergquist was dead at driving into the basket and collected 15 points. Jack McGhee, Ed Bergquist, and Gary Jystad were effective in clearing the backboards. McGhee fouled out of the game in the third quarter and Jack Tidymann and John Vohs alternated at center the rest of the game.

Veterans Must Fill Forms To Receive VA Allowance

Korean war veterans who are attending the University this quarter must completely fill out forms in the Registrar's office before the first of the month if they expect to receive pay allowances from the Veterans Administration.

Veterans will not be paid for any period when they are not pursuing a course in accordance with the school's regular policies and in accordance with the law, according to Registrar Leo Smith. In addition, veterans in a non-accredited course or in on-the-job training will not be paid for any absences in excess of the rate of 30 days for a 12-month period not counting week ends and legal holidays.

A veteran in training receives an education and training allowance each month from the government. With this he must meet all his own training expenses including tuition and fees. Payments will be made in accordance with whichever of the following dates is latest: (1) the date the VA receives the veteran's application, (2) the date the veteran enters training, or (3) the date the course is approved by the State Approving agency. In the case of a veteran who has filed his application with his school, the starting of payments will be the date that the school certifies that the veteran entered training. This applies only if the VA receives the application within 15 days from the time the veteran began his training.

Under the Korean GI bill, an eligible veteran is entitled to a maximum period of training computed on the basis of one and one-half days for each day spent in the service after June 27, 1950 and prior to the end of the present emergency. The maximum amount of training any veteran can receive under the bill is 36 months. If a veteran's entitled period of training runs out part way through a quarter, he will be allowed to finish the quarter.

A veteran discharged before August 20, 1952 must start his training program before August 20, 1954. Any discharged before that has two years from his date of discharge or separation in which to begin. Those in training have the right to suspend their education for periods of not more than 12 consecutive months—and may suspend it even longer if suspension is due to reasons beyond their control.

Continental Oil Offers Jobs To Students

The Placement bureau has issued a last call for applications from students who would like to work for the Continental Oil company in Yellowstone Park next summer. Students who have applications out are asked to turn them in at once according to Mrs. Kay Reardon, secretary in charge of placement.

The Continental Oil company is offering $200 a month for service station managers and $150 a month to assistant managers. Service station attendants receive $115 a month. In addition to wages workers get room, board, uniforms, and their laundry done. They get five per cent commissions on all sales they make, excluding gasoline, and get 10 per cent of their season's earnings as a bonus for fulfilling their contract. The company also guarantees jobs for students' wives.

Working for the oil company would be a good opportunity for students who would like to work for the Continental Oil company after their graduation according to Mrs. Reardon. They will have completed their training program with the company after the summer's work.

The Continental Oil company is starting a $65,000,000 expansion
