Red Cross Official Explains Role of Individual in Drive

"You are the Red Cross and the Red Cross is you," Edwin D. Rounds, American Red Cross Pacific area director of field services said. "You are the answer to all of the services of the Red Cross."

Successful conclusion of the Red Cross drive depends equally on two factors, Missoula county's drive chairman said, "the individual's recognition of what a tremendous job the Red Cross performs in his behalf and the degree he backs it with money, and the effort that the canvasser puts forth to obtain donations and cover the field he has volunteered to do."

Distribution of Red Cross funds has been allocated as follows for the next fiscal year: Services to the armed forces and veterans, 41 per cent; disaster preparedness and relief, 5 per cent; blood program, 20 per cent; health, nursing, and safety services, Junior Red Cross, service and financial assistance to chapters, international relations, fund-raising expense and public information, 23 per cent; general management including planning and administration, 11 per cent.

More than 8,000 letters are being sent to Montanans in eight counties this month soliciting funds for the crippled children's fund, according to Bert Guthrie, Sigma Nu service chairman. The fraternity men are taking part in a national Sigma Nu project of some type of service for the community or state. The men have also distributed collection boxes and posters.

Finance Committee Votes $300 to A Cappella Choir

Musicians to Play Main Hall Recital At 3 o'Clock

A trumpet trio will play "Suite di Concertato" by Handel in today's music recital in Main hall auditorium at 3 p.m. Members of the trio are Sam Davis, Dillon, first trumpet, Dick Ely, Missoula, second trumpet, and Paul Louis Abel, third trumpet.

The program will also include an oboe solo, "Slavonic Dance" by Dvorak, played by Delores George, Absarokee, accompanied by Rosalie Space, Grangeville, Ida; "Adagio" by Schumann, and "Adagio" by Becker, cello solos, played by Alicejane Carkeek, Butte, accompanied by Donna Terpening, Midwest, Wyo.

Judith Harden, Billings, will play "Cantabile et Presto," a flute solo by Enesco. Her accompanist will be Shirley DeForth, Glendive. James Carrell, Missoula, will play a cello solo, "Tarantelle" by D. Popper. He will be accompanied by Gladys Lewis, Twin Bridges.

The brass trio will play "Benedictus" by Isaac. Members of the trio are Roland Grotte, Northwood, N. Dak., trumpet, Paul Louis Abel, horn, and Leo Musberger, Missoula, trombone.

Social Codes Are Discussed By Committee

Social Standards committee continued to make MSU's vague social codes more specific yesterday. This committee has met sporadically the last few years in an attempt to cope with a student's personal problems as well as to formulate a practical social standard code.

The problem of morality is not large on the campus scene at present, according to Dean Wunderlich. "We've had less trouble during the 1952-53 period than any other time I've been here," he said. The committee agreed that it was better to do preventive than remedial work in social standards. They wished to consider themselves a policy forming group, rather than a police department.

Dan Lambros, ASMSU president, suggested that all sorority, fraternity, and living group heads be called in during further meetings to help insert "specifics" in a forthcoming code. He felt that any regulations from that combined group would have more prestige among students than a policy from Social Standards committee.

The question of who should take action in the event of an "incident" was discussed. The opinions varied at that point. Committee chairman Gordon Browder suggested that individual living groups should be responsible for their own judicial work. Lambros felt that a committee, with a sprinkling of students, faculty, and administrative officials, would best serve the purpose.

Registration Begins Today

Advance registration for spring quarter begins today. Registration material is available in the basement of Main hall.

Checking will begin at noon today in the Main Hall basement and will continue through March 10. There will be no checking Saturday morning, March 7. Students should make appointments with their advisers before they begin to register.

Registrar Leo Smith said that students who do not register in advance but who plan to attend spring quarter will be assessed a special fee.

The A Cappella choir's financial drive to raise funds for a trip to Bellingham, Wash., received another boost in the Budget and Finance meeting Monday. The committee voted to recommend to Central Board that the choir be allocated $300, including the profits accrued from the Stan Kenton dance.

A previous move by Budget and Finance was to give the choir all profits of the Kenton dance. Since only $40 in profits resulted, the choir needed additional funds to complete the trip to the Northwest Music educators conference at Bellingham, March 20-21.

Don Cameron, ASMSU business manager, said the $300 granted by

SCA Will Elect Officers Tonight

Bob Lester, Butte, will oppose Donna Larson, Savage, in the Student Christian association presidential contest tonight at 7:30 in the Bitterroot room. Gil Bremicker, Chicago, and Susanne Slavens, Molt, are vice-presidential candidates.

George Bovington, Seattle, and Evelyn Davis, Deer Lodge, will contest the secretary position, while Bob McGuire, Stanford, and Jim Madison, Jefferson City, vie for treasurer.

Advisory board candidates are the Rev. M. J. Wilcox, the Rev. Guy Barnes, Asst. Prof. John Swackhamer, and Dr. M. P. Wright.

The program will include voting, worship, group singing, and an evaluation of the Student Christian association over the past year. The cabinet will meet following the meeting to discuss plans for a retreat next week-end.

Kaimin Wheel . . .

This energetic junior redhead from Butte, Winnie Dinn, will take over the financial reins of the Kaimin under the next regime. Business-Manager-to-be Dinn will start her Kaimin chores with spring quarter and finish at the end of winter quarter 1954.

Miss Dinn has been active in MSU publication work for the past year both as a Kaimin reporter and ad salesman and a promoter for the new MSU literary magazine, "Venture."

Wells to Interview Job Applicants On March 9, 10

James E. Wells, managing director of the Paris of Montana at Great Falls, will be at the Placement bureau March 9 and 10 to interview students for the Allied Stores corporation executive training program.

Allied Stores corporation includes 68 independently owned department stores in 21 states. Information about the program is available at Kay Reardon's office in Math-Physics 106. Students are urged to make their appointments as early as possible.

Fields of merchandising, operations, personnel, and sales promotion are open to both men and women.

Budget and Finance from the general fund, coupled with $300 expected to be granted by Doug Beighle's Publicity and Travel fund, should end most of the choir's problems.

The money will be used to provide transportation and lodging for the group. According to director Lloyd Oakland, the choir members will finance their own meals on the trip.

The motion passed unanimously. Patty Walker, Scobey; Byron Robb, Livingston; Shirley DeForth, Glendive; and Tom Van Meter, Ogden, Utah, were voting members in attendance.

The committee also voted to recommend to Central Board that $35 be granted to an MSU student to attend the Pacific Northwest conference on Higher Education. This conference is slated for March 13-14 in Corvallis, Ore. Prof. E. L. Freeman will attend, representing the faculty.

This conference is being conducted in conjunction with the American council of education. The Budget and Finance committee made the allocation with the stipulation that the MSU student envoy must make a full report of the conference to either Budget and Finance or Central Board. The student delegate has not yet been selected.

New Home Needed For Health Center

During the past year this campus has realized the biggest building boom in its history. From the lawns and lots of this campus have grown four new buildings and a fifth is on the way. But while we have been cognizant of this structural growth, do we realize the need for a new Health Center?

Sure we have a Health Center, but we should be ashamed to call it such. It is a worn, wooden, warped skeleton that houses a competent staff and necessary equipment in a fire trap. It isn't adequate. It needs a new home.

The students of this University pay for, and get, efficient medical attention from the hard-working Health Center staff. But both that staff and the many students shouldn't have to tolerate a fire trap, narrow, hazardous stairways, improper ventilation, unaccommodating space problems, or a passageway through the kitchen to the infirmary. These are just some of the problems—there are more.

We have a Health Center problem, but what's going to be done?

Through Kaimin editorial columns and pictures we will present the problems of the Health Center. We do this because we don't think the majority of the students or the administration fully realizes those problems.—L.K.

Forestry School Is Presented With An Alternative

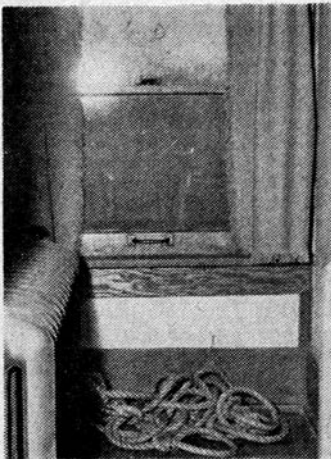

Dear Editor,
A re-challenge to Foresters:

The law school, having once challenged the forestry school to a basketball game and the foresters having failed to accept, are hereby declared to be cowards and low-lives and it is hereby declared that: inasmuch as it seems impossible for the vermin-infected parasites of the forest to meet the conditions specified by the law school Health committee relating to bathing, to wit, the health and safety of the citizenry in public places, it will be stipulated as follows; that as an alternative to bathing the fever-spotted, crusty-leaved, blister-rusted bunions of the forest may participate in the offering on the evening of March 6, 1953 at 6 o'clock p.m. by delousing, sheep dipping, and chloroforming their corpus delicti.

The health authorities will be in attendance to give tick shots to the spectators who accidentally come in contact with the Rocky Mountain spotted boys. It appears that last year's beating has caused such inaction.

Law School Association.

The building above is what we call our Health Center. It has been the home for former MSU presidents. From the outside it looks like a home, but its interior space is not adequate to house a Health Center.

Located on the corner of University and Maurice avenues it provides for the medical attention for some 2,000 MSU students at the present time. It was not adequate several years ago when this campus was occupied by 3,000 students. It is not adequate now. It will not be adequate for the future estimated enrollment of 4,000.

The picture to the left illustrates one reason why it does not provide adequate or safe quarters for the medical staff or for the students confined in the Health Center. This picture shows how the nurse that sleeps on the third floor would escape in case of fire. Yes, she must lower herself from the window by the rope on the floor.

Tryouts for Play Slated This Week

Tryouts for Moss Hart's "Light Up the Sky" will be in Simpkins Little theater March 4, 5, and 6 at 7:30 p.m., according to Stanley K. Hamilton, assistant professor of English. Everyone interested in working backstage, on the sets, or helping with the production is also urged to come to the tryouts.

Senior President Urges Attendance In Open Letter

Dear Seniors,

This year we would like to have a smooth-running commencement weekend, a commencement weekend never to be forgotten. Some new ideas have been arrived at with the aid of the faculty, after long hours of heated discussion in smoke-filled rooms.

We want your ideas, your opinions, or your approval of our ideas. To make this possible, we must have your attendance at the Senior Class meeting which is being held this evening, in the Copper room of the Student Union at 7:15

Sincerely yours,
Tom Sherlock

Three Grizzly Swimmers Leave for Skyline Meet

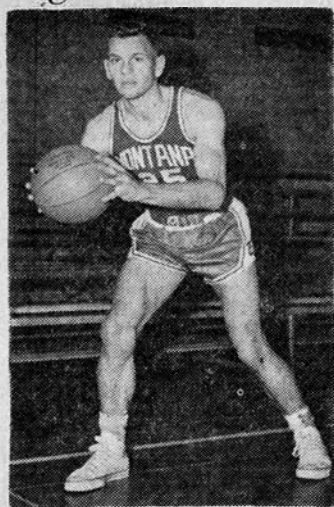

Coach John Zeger and three Grizzly swimmers left this morning by car for the Skyline conference swimming meet at Fort Collins, Colo., March 5 through 7. Zeger took backstroke artist Jack Daniels, freestyle swimmer Fred Carl, and sprinter Bob Moore.

Zeger has entered his swimmers in six events in the meet. In the 100-yard medley relay Daniels will swim the backstroke, Carl the breast stroke, and Moore the freestyle. Daniels will also swim the 100 and 200-yard backstroke. Carl will enter in the 100 and 220-yard freestyle events. Moore will swim in the sprints.

Qualifying heats will be Thursday and Friday and the finals will be run off Saturday night.

Last year Montana placed fifth in the conference meet. In that meet of a year ago Daniels took second in the 100-yard backstroke, Chuck Davis, high scoring Grizzly forward for the last two years was selected by the National Association of Basketball Coaches to the first five of the Skyline conference team.

The conference team was listed in the Collier's magazine in an article by Bill Fay, sports writer for Colliers. Others making the first team were Joe Richey, Brigham Young university; Ron Rivers, Wyoming; Bill Sharp, Wyoming; and Darrel Tucker, Utah State.

Those receiving honorable mention were Harold Christensen, BYU; Harold Kinard, Colorado A & M; Keith Patton, Denver; Bob Burns, Wyoming; Bill Hull, Utah State; Nick Mataljen, BYU; Kent Bates, Utah; Tom Rhone, Denver; Bruce Goodrich, Utah; Toby Roybal, New Mex.

Male Ski Squad Places Sixth In Intercollegiate Meet

The MSU male ski team placed sixth among nine entries last weekend at the Northwestern Intercollegiate Ski meet at Kimberley, B. C., Canada.

The MSU team placed fourth in the Sunday slalom event, and in the four-way individual combined results Cliff Wordal, Missoula, was fifth.

The meet was sponsored by the Kimberley ski club. Townspeople furnished racers with lodging and food for three days, said ski coach

Rivalry Flares in Split Of Grizzly-Bobcat Series

The traditional Grizzly-Bobcat rivalry flared again Friday and Saturday night at Bozeman as the two teams split the weekend series.

Friday night the Bobcats overcame a six point halftime deficit and pushed forward to a 66-60 victory. This was the first Bobcat win over the Grizzlies in four tries. Sparked by the accurate shooting of Jerry Gleason, Tom Parac, and Vic Berra the Cats scored 23 points to the Grizzlies 13 in the third period. Bobcat center, Holgrim Hollo, was high scorer for the evening with 19 points. MSU's Chuck Davis scored 17.

The Grizzlies made it four victories over the Bobcats in five attempts when they edged them 69-66 Saturday night. Substitute forward Fuzzy Fine "came through in the pinch" according to Coach Dahlberg. Fine made the last field goal in the final minutes and then added two free throws that brought MSU from behind to a three point lead.

The Silvertips made fewer field goals than the Bobcats Saturday night but made up the difference on free throws. The Bobcat victory Friday night was won under similar conditions.

Coach Dahlberg said, "The officials let the games get rough, but the officiating was fair to both teams." He said "the boys didn't hustle as much as was expected Friday night, and were not rebounding very well. Pat Curran, Grizzly center and ace rebounder, did not make the trip.

Montana will finish the 1952-53 basketball season Friday when they meet the Utah State Aggies at Missoula. It is possible for the Grizzlies to finish in fifth place in the Skyline Conference if they win this weekend, but if they lose they'll drop to a tie for last place.

18 Speeches Are Slated

Montana State University faculty members are already slated to make 18 commencement speeches in Montana high schools, according to Andy Cogswell, director of the Public Service division. Two applications received last week have not been assigned yet. Three more applications for commencement speakers came in yesterday. Mr. Cogswell said that the applications for commencement speakers often continue to come in up to two weeks before commencement.

The faculty members and the high schools in which they will make their speeches are: Linus J. Carleton, professor, education, Conrad and Highwood; Andrew C. Cogswell, director of the public service division, Savage; Edward B. Dugan, professor, journalism, Hysham, Colstrip, Thompson Falls, and Darby; B. R. Frost, assistant professor, education, Rudyard and Frenchtown; A. T. Helbing, professor, business administration, Plevna; C. R. Jeppesen, professor, physics, Noxon; Ralph Y. McGinnis, associate professor, English, Dixon; Carl McFarland, president, Missoula and Great Falls; John F. Staehle, assistant professor, education, Hot Springs; Robert P. Struckman, assistant professor, journalism, Simms, Sand Coulee, and Havre.

U Band Averages 50 Appearances Per School Year

In 1947 J. Justin Gray, the present director, took over the MSU band. That year they presented two formal concerts, played for ROTC reviews, and took a 1000-mile tour of the south and western parts of the state. The band was made up of 80 players, 25 women, and 55 men.

In 1950 the group acquired new uniforms, gray with maroon and gold trim, which they wear today. They plan to buy overcoats to match as soon as possible.

Mr. Gray estimates that the entire band appears in public up to 50 times during a normal academic year, averaging about one and a half performances per week. The entire band includes the Grizzly marching band, the symphonic band, two small pep bands, a brass ensemble, and a military band.

This year's symphonic band includes 65 members, director Justin Gray, associate director Paul Louis Abel, and student director Don Hardesty. Their concert will feature numbers by Bach, Handel, Rimsky-Korsakov, William Schuman, Rossini, Strauss, Skinner, and Respighi. Last Sunday they played for a special Washington's Birthday program in Helena. Several first chair players have been selected to play in the Intercollegiate band at the Northwest Music Edu-

Alcorn Resigns From Faculty

W. L. "Din" Alcorn has resigned from his position on the journalism school staff. His resignation will become effective March 20, according to James L. C. Ford, journalism school dean. Mr. Alcorn has also been secretary-manager of the Montana State Press association.

Mr. Alcorn and W. B. Vennard, an employee of the University Press, have bought the Seaside News Sentinel, a weekly California newspaper. Both Mr. Vennard and Mr. Alcorn are experienced newspapermen and printers. They bought the paper from Larry Drake in January and will take it over April 1.

Mr. Alcorn taught typography, graphic arts, newspaper management, and has handled the course in community journalism.

Valentino Picture Draws Big Crowd

A large and enthusiastic crowd attended the Montana Institute of Arts film "The Four Horsemen" Sunday night, according to Cyrille Van Duser, manager of the Student Union.

Mrs. E. K. Taylor played the organ for the silent movie and Mrs. Robert Prins reviewed the picture telling why women loved the Romeo of all time, Rudolph Valentino.

The next of the Institute's film series is "The Thin Man," starring Myrna Loy and William Powell, which will be shown in the Student Union auditorium next Sunday at 8 p.m. David Weiss, of the drama department, will review the picture, Miss Van Duser said.
