Budget, Finance Completes Recommendation Yesterday

ASMSU's proposed '53-'54 budget was drawn up by the Budget and Finance committee at a meeting yesterday. On May 7 it will go to Central Board for final approval.

A 2 per cent (.1 per cent equals 40) reduction in the amount allocated for men's intramural sports is the only major change recommended at the meeting. This amount will be added to the 2 per cent given to the band, which already has been given a .5 per cent increase over last year's amount.

Men's intramural sports was cut in view of a surplus of funds this year and with no anticipated increase in the program.

Other than the band, five increases are indicated on the proposed budget. These total 3.5 per cent, which would be made up by an equal cut from the outside entertainment fund.

"Debate and oratory" was given a second largest increase (.6 per cent), making a total of 3 per cent of the total ASMSU budget to be given this department. The increase was made "primarily in recognition of the favorable publicity and extensive work that the debate squad carries on each year."

"Dramatics" was given .5 per cent more, making the total 3.5 per cent. The money will be used primarily to purchase needed equipment and materials.

Women's intramural sports received a .2 per cent increase, and the "publicity-travel" department .4 per cent increase. The extra money was given the women's intramural program, because the

Work Begins On Planning Of New Union

The beginning of preliminary plans and sketches of the new Student Union was authorized by President Earl McFarland after the students voted in favor of an increase of 2.33 per quarter to help meet union expenses and possibly help subsidize the construction of a new union.

Members of the New Student Union committee will work on the plans with the aid of any other interested students. Peder Hoiness, chairman of the committee, emphasized the need for freshmen to take initiative in working on the new union as they will be the ones to benefit from it.

The new Union will probably be on the order of the Union at Valparaiso university, Ill., which is new, modern, brick and limestone, designed by the architect, Michael M. Hare.

Bob Lawrence, Richland, is in charge of the building committee and Ed Overturf, Helena, is in charge of analyzing locations to determine where the new Union will be situated.

In a discussion of the functions of the new Union, Hoiness emphasized that the Union program will be "co-curricular, not extra-curricular."

committee feels that there is an increased participation by students in activities sponsored by this group, and that there is a need for additional equipment. "Publicity-travel" was given more because the committee thinks the publicity program at MSU is definitely inadequate.

Venture magazine received a .3 per cent increase, and at the same time the committee recommended that "a more varied and appealing publication, if possible, be the aim of the editors next year."

A recommendation was passed to the effect that $600 of the amount allocated to athletics "be used for participation in intercollegiate skiing." "Athletics" receives 48 per cent of the total budget.

BYU Singers Perform Tonight at 8

The Brigham Young university Madrigal singers, under the direction of Dr. John R. Halliday, will perform tonight in the Student Union theater at 8.

The 24 singers were organized this season by Dr. Halliday on his return from an 8-month study in France and Italy last year. This was his second period of study in Europe. He is chairman of the music department at the Provo school.

Latin, Russian, French, German, and American songs will be sung by the group. Solos by members of the Madrigal singers and artists appearing only in solo capacity will be presented.

Two of the solo singers are Marva Dance, Blackfoot, Ida., and Florence Ipsen, Malad, Ida., both sopranos.

Tickets for the performance are 90 cents for adults, 60 cents for University students, and 30 cents for high school students.

The group sang at Richmond, Utah, and Blackfoot, Ida., yesterday. From here the singers go to Cardston, Calgary, and Lethbridge, in Canada, and Idaho Falls and Malad, both in Idaho.

Theater Festival Draws Contestants From 26 Schools

Twenty-six Montana high schools had entered the 47th Interscholastic Little Theater festival by Friday, according to David W. Weiss, chairman of this year's festival.

The plays will be presented on Friday, May 15, in the Student Union auditorium and Simpkins Little Theater.

The four best plays, two from each theater, will be presented in the Student Union Saturday evening. The plays will be selected for imagination, excellence of acting, and quality of production.

Lowell Lees, head of the University of Utah drama department, and Stanley K. Hamilton, MSU drama director, will judge the plays.

MSU Plays Host To 600 Musicians At Music Festival

Over 600 high school students have entered the 12th annual Montana State Solo and Small Ensemble festival to be held at MSU May 7, 8, and 9.

Stanley Teel of the music school, chairman of the festival, said the students represent 97 private and public music teachers from 50 towns. The vocal division has 119 entries, brass 87, and piano 85 entries.

Auditions for the various School of Music scholarships for prospective freshmen are scheduled Friday and Saturday during the festival, Teel said. The scholarships are in piano, voice, string and wind instruments, organ, and public school music. The scholarships are awarded on the basis of musical ability, performance, versatility, character, personality, and scholastic record.

The music school faculty will judge the entries. Justin Gray and Eugene Andrie will judge woodwind instruments; Hasmig Gedickian and John Lester, vocal soloists; Lloyd Oakland, vocal ensembles; Bernice Ramskill, Rudolph Went, and J. George Hummel, piano; Robert Sutton and Andrie, strings; and Gray, percussion instruments and twirling.

The students will be entertained Friday, May 8, by various musical groups, and a dance is scheduled Saturday night.

Recital Slated By Music Students at 3

Six music students will present a recital today in Main hall auditorium at 3 p.m. The program will feature vocal, trumpet, clarinet, and piano solos.

Numbers on the program will include "Lasciate mi Morire" by Monteverde, sung by Edward Fochoer, baritone of Ballatine, accompanied by Virginia Van Horne, Wallace, Ida.; "Sonata, Opus 2, No. 3" by Beethoven, a piano solo played by Katharine Crockett, Chinook, and a trumpet solo, "Vois tu la neige qui brille" by Arban, performed by Jack Lind, Polson, with Marie Duff, Fromberg, as accompanist.

The program will continue with a clarinet solo, "Premier Concertino" by Guilhaud, played by LaMar Forvilly, Anaconda, with Arlene Werle, Billings, as accompanist; a piano solo, "Papillons, Opus 2" by Schumann in 12 parts, performed by Susanne Slavens, Molt; and "Concertino for Trumpet" by Vidal, played by Larry Martinec, Lewistown, accompanied by Rosalie Space, Grangeville, Ida.

The School of Music office has reminded music students that they must attend eight recitals during the quarter or receive incompletes in music courses.

Lester Presents Faculty Recital

John Lester, baritone, presented a faculty recital in the Student Union auditorium Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Lester presented works by Caccini, Carissini, Paisiello, Handel, Schubert, Massenet, J. Wolfe, Vere Rountree, Deems Taylor, Daniel Wolf, John Sacco, and a work arranged by Copeland.

Rudolph Wendt was accompanist.

Students must present their activity tickets to be able to vote, Newlin added. The polls will be open until 4:30 p.m.

Vote counting will begin at 3 p.m. in the Copper room. "All freshman men and women interested in earning Spur and Bear Paw points may help to count votes," Newlin emphasized.

The names of the following candidates will appear on the ballot:

ASMSU president, Norm Anderson, Chinook, and Dave Leuthold, Billings; vice-president, Kay Hudson, Rapid City, S. D., and Dorothy Reeves, Butte; secretary, Ann Fowler, Lewistown, and Phyllis Kind, Portland, Ore.; and business manager, Don Chaney, Livingston, and Peder Hoiness, Billings.

President Advises Prospective Heads In Final Address

BY DAN LAMBROS

It is with deep appreciation that I address you for the last time as president of the Associated Students of Montana State University. Serving as your president has been the greatest honor of my life.

To the new officers, you are about to face an experience which will be included with the most worthwhile experiences of your lives. You will be faced with many important problems, and you shall be asked to decide these problems. You shall make your share of mistakes, and you shall be criticized; many times justly, and other times unjustly, but you must never let discouragement interfere with any legislation which may benefit the welfare of the student body as a whole.

To mention all those who have contributed their time and services to ASMSU would take hundreds of inches, but I can not help but stop and pay tribute to one officer—Business Manager Don Cameron. He has served many extra hours over and above those usually required for that office in a sincere effort to serve you honestly, efficiently and conscientiously. In my book, Don rates tops, both as a personal friend and a student leader.

Now the decision rests in your vote; exercise your privilege intelligently and conscientiously.

One day in 1896 William Allen White ducked into a little newspaper office in Emporia, Kan., and, while still seething from a side-walk argument, wrote his greatest editorial—"What's the Matter with Kansas." In this scathing evaluation of the Sunflower state he raked apathetic Kansas over the proverbial coals. Perhaps, it's time we ask, "What the Matter with MSU."

This editorial was inspired by a red-hot fireside at Corbin hall Sunday night. Some fifteen collegians heard John Swackhamer, one of the few professors who unreservedly express opinions both outside and in the classroom, talk on topics from morality to Lattimore for two hours.

In the belief that firesides as editorials should occasionally be concerned with the unbecoming phases of University life, thus promoting progress by lessons learned from self-appraisal, we simply ask, "What's the matter with MSU."

Study: "Profound thought or Perplexity"—Noah W.

MSU's library is the "white elephant" of Montana. It's the biggest and most complete library between Minnesota and Washington; yet, viewed proportionately in light of available patrons, it's probably the least used. Of course, it's packed with bodies from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. But there's a huge difference between the original purpose of libraries and the MSU belief that a library is a combined study hall and rendezvous for Coke dates.

The collective attitude at MSU regarding academic pursuits seems simply "to get the most grade points for the least effort." The professors who are known for their ambitious interests in attempting to completely teach a subject are avoided with consistent regularity. In contrast with small liberal arts colleges, the University of Chicago, and the majority of European universities, MSU students, collectively speaking, degenerate into that contemporary limbo conducive to the belief that a graduation sheepskin is a key to any door.

There are, of course, exceptions to that collective condemnation. There are also valid reasons why all students should not be expected to devote their every minute to the purposes for which universities were originally founded. One reason is extracurricular activities justifiably warrant time and effort. Another is that it takes money to go to school.

Perennial Fodder for Greek Row Scrapbooks . . .

Yet in a close scrutinization of the extracurricular set-up at MSU we find, collectively speaking, a meager proportionate participation. AWS is constantly shaking its puritanical finger at harried lasses who, through lack of contemporaries' interest, are forced to do more extracurricular work than AWS deems correct. Past trends indicate that once a boy is elected to Central board his stay on that board through college is assured if he expresses even moderate interest in re-election at the proper time.

On a larger scale we find that MSU's collective interest in all-University functions is likewise stagnant. It took the miracle of inclement weather to keep enough students on campus during Aber day to make it worth while. Because of apathy ASMSU lost $600 on the Junior prom. At today's elections some 750 out of 2,000 will consider it important enough to go to the polls to decide who will win, and by that token, how ASMSU money will be spent the next year. Only in intramural sports is that collective interest shown that breeds hope for a complete extracurricular program.

The fact that it's occasionally necessary to work part-time in order to meet expenses is another contributor to the semi-intellectual bankruptcy at MSU. Yet if a check was made the results would show that a great number of those who are sacrificing their education in order to work are not subsidizing themselves through school, but in reality are heaping the offering plates in worship of the Great God Automobile and/or its financial counterpart, Alcohol.—B.J.

"Operation Cooperation" was chosen as this year's theme for BYU's Y-day which is comparable to MSU's Aber day. Their festivities are similar to ours and included sack races, inter-class competition for a trophy award, an exhibition football game, and an out-door dance. They also have a cake-baking contest. In addition to their Y face-lifting and campus beautifying, new jobs like tree-planting are on the agenda for the Y-day which is today.

The engineering departments on the Fort Collins, Colo., campus are having special demonstrations as a part of their annual Engineer's day celebration. The foresters and engineers must be as friendly as the lawyers and foresters at MSU, for an announcement in the "Rocky Mountain Collegian" stated that, "At 2, they (the engineers) bat(tle) with their forester rivals in the annual grudge baseball game. Everyone interested in seeing the foresters massacred are invited to be witnesses of the game." Looks like a small bit of prejudice crept in the last sentence.

If the Brigham Young Universe's editorial writer was correct in his surmise that enthusiasm generated for an election is indicative of a "live wire" student body, then MSU must have one, for slogans, posters, songs, and other campaign devices surround the "student Susie's and Sams" wherever they go.

The "Student Life" also made accurate prediction on their spot page when an article on the MS Utah track meet was headed "Cindermen Go to Montana with Point Deficit."

Grizzly Track Squad Tops Utah Farmers Saturday; Rife Betters Skyline Mark

The Grizzly track team had little trouble with Utah State last Saturday as they swamped the Farmers 92 2/3 to 38 1/3 on Dornier field. A sparse crowd saw the Grizzlies take 12 first places, a record breaking two-mile run by Bill Rife.

Rife ran the two-mile in 9:28.2, eclipsing Arnold Gillette's old record of 9:33.6 set in 1926. Rife's time bettered the Skyline conference record of 9:41.7 set by Clarence Robinson of BYU in 1948. Rife also won the mile in 4:34.5.

Dick Lindsay and Don Brant are other double winners. Lindsay swept the high and low hurdles and Brant took the 100 and 200 yard dashes.

Freshman Hal Utsond surprised the fans and Coach Adams when he threw the javelin 192 feet to take first place in the event. Utsond consistently threw the javelin in the 180's Saturday. Two weeks ago against BYU his best throw was 6 feet.

Leon Conner ran his best 440 of the season in a fast 49.9 seconds. In the 440, Don Bissell provided another surprise, taking second not far behind Conner. The Grizzlies swept the event as Floyd Smith took third.

Mick Luckman continued his dominance in the shot put, winning with a trial throw of 46 feet 3 inches.

Bob Hudson and Rich Johnson picked up six points in the broad jump with a first and third place respectively. Doug Delaney won the pole vault at 11 feet 10 1/2 inches. George Tarrant, who vaulted 12 feet 2 1/4 inches against BYU, was hampered by a sore shoulder and tied for third with Skip Weishaar of Montana and Burger of Utah State at 11 feet.

Montana high jumpers did their best in competition as Ray Dunn and Jack Coppedge tied for second at 6 feet. Spainhower of the Aggies won the event with a jump of 6 feet 1 inch.

Buley Looks For Success Of Jumbolaya

"With a little improvement in our pitching and a few hits at the right time we should do all right," said Chuck Buley, coach of the Jumbolaya softball team.

The Jumbolaya team dumped the Foresters 13-2 in their only game played to date.

The squad includes LeBlanc at third, Campbell at shortstop, Buley at second and Curran at first. The pitching chores are handled by Trinastich and Kasala with Bofto doing the catching. Most of these players have had intramural experience and have played during the summer in hometown leagues.

The outfield includes Palmer, Smading, Luoma, Boland, and Heath. Jumbolaya is currently in fourth place in the A league.

Sigma Chi Leads Horseshoe Race

Sigma Chi is leading in the intramural horseshoe competition, with three wins and no losses. Phi Delta Theta is second with one win and no losses.

Theta Chi is in third place, winning one and losing two, followed by Sigma Phi Epsilon, which has no wins and one loss, and ATO with two losses.

Grizzly Ballmen Split Doubleton With BYU's Powerful Cougars

BY J. D. COLEMAN

The Montana Grizzly baseball club split a double-header Friday with the powerful Brigham Young Cougars, edging them, 7-5, in the opener and dropping a night-cap, 9-2.

Gene Carlson was the whole show in the afternoon game. In addition to his stint on the mound, where he scattered seven hits in nine innings and struck out seven, he had a field day at the plate, getting three hits in four trips, including a double and a bases-empty homerun. To further insure his victory, Carlson made a sensational theft of home in the fifth inning.

In the night game, it was an even battle until the sixth inning, when the Cougars bunched five hits and two walks to produce five runs, and that essentially, was the old ball game. The Cougars went on to score two more tallies in the seventh inning, while starting pitcher Ray Lish held the Grizzlies at bay, limiting them to seven hits and two runs.

The Grizzly defense has improved considerably in the last four games, having committed only five errors compared to 30 in the six road games. The hitting has, however, fallen off to some extent, with only Anderson and Carlson meeting the ball consistently. By the same token, the team batting average has slipped somewhat. It is now .260 for all conference games.

The leading hitters and pitchers and their averages are:

	Hitters				RBI	Av.
Anderson	43	5	18	11	.419
Carlson	34	9	14	7	.411
Murray	41	3	12	5	.300

	Pitchers				BB	R

Carlson	3	1	34	25	15	21
Hansen	2	1	29	32	26	4

Softball Schedule-

Sigma Alpha Epsilon meets Theta Chi on field No. 1 at 4:15. Eliason and Stong will officiate. Jumbolaya and Phi Sigma Kappa will play on field No. 2 at 4:15. Bissell and Coleman are officials.

Phi Delta Theta and Theta Chi are matched on field No. 1 at 6 o'clock. Colvert and Bergquist are officials. The Foresters meet Sigma Nu on field No. 2 at 6 o'clock. Officials are Thompson and Howe.
