Colonel Hays Indicates Reds Could Invade East Germany in 30 Minutes

BY BILL HEINTZ

"It would take the Russian army in East Germany only 30 minutes to move by truck into the western sector of Germany," and begin a third world war, he said. They would take only two hours to reach the very center of West Germany and prevent that center from being our first bulwark in the event of war.

These facts, which might stir many an American out of a false feeling of security, were presented last night by Lt. Col. S. H. Hays, professor of military science and tactics at MSU. He spoke before an open meeting of the International Relations club in the Liberal Arts building, on the subject of surveying West Germany.

From the political point of view, the battle line should be on the Elbe river, "but we can't do it with the strength we have now," Colonel Hays said. The U.S. has only two divisions in Germany, with a few more being made up from countries such as England and France, but these new divisions are being compared to the 18 divisions that are available in East Germany.

Hays, who has spent more than six years in Germany during two previous assignments, and who left there in the spring of 1953, said that the U.S. has three major policies in Europe: One, to prevent the USSR from making a bid for Western Europe; two, to prevent repetition and spread of communism such as occurred in some of the eastern European countries; and three, to win the cold war. German rearmament will be part of the answer in helping carry out these objectives.

"G'b's" Cafe Parisian Show

Best Yet, Says Lester

BY FRANK MILBURN

"It's the best yet!" John Lester, professor of music, said yesterday of G'b's Leibinger's "Cafe Parisian," this year's annual Nite Club dance show sponsored by the School of Music.

Leibinger, Miles City, graduate student in music, is co-producing the show with Lester, who has directed 13 past Nite Club dance shows. "Cafe Parisian" is the only one, he has composed songs and choreographed the dance numbers. The comedy plot concerns the experiences of a Texas oilman and his cousin on a Paris vacation. The show is set in Parisian where the French become more Texan and the oilman becomes more Parisian.

Jim Cole, former graduate student in English, is in charge of lighting and sound, and Marchand, proprietor of the cafe. Beverly Herman, Sidney, will play the part of Pierre Colette. Jim Howe, the wealthy oilman, will take the role of his daughter, Alice.

Steve Morad, Miles City, and co-sponsor of the show, said the group has composed songs and choreographed the dance numbers. The comedy plot concerns the experiences of a Texas oilman and his cousin on a Paris vacation. The show is set in Parisian where the French become more Texan and the oilman becomes more Parisian. The group has composed songs and choreographed the dance numbers.

The 50-minute comedy is to be presented twice on Jan. 30, in the English and French rooms of the Florence hotel at 8:15 p.m. and in the Bitter Root room at 3:30 p.m., following the show with Lester, who has directed 13 past Nite Club dance shows. Baroque Duo Plays Sunday

The Baroque Duo—Otto Hutenbach, viola da gamba, and John Hamilton, harpsichord—will present a lecture-recital Sunday at 4 p.m. in the recital hall of the School of Music.

Playing on the typical instruments of the 17th and 18th centuries, Hutenbach and Hamilton will demonstrate their performances entirely to music of the Baroque period. Hutenbach plays the tenor viol as well as the viola da gamba. Hamilton performs on one of the largest harpsichords in the country.

The concert is the second of the recital and chamber music series sponsored by the Music School Foundation.

The Hungarian String Quartet, the MSU Trio, George Latham Scott, organist, and a sonata recital by Harry Adsikin and Frances Marr are still to be presented.

Season tickets are available at the office of the music school for $5. Single tickets for this performance may be obtained at the box office Sunday at 3:30 p.m. for $1.50.

Play Continues in WRA Round Robin

Kay Calvin, Miles City, is high scorer in the women's basketball round-robin, having made 34 points for North hall in three games. Sue Blake, Missoula, is second and has made 32 points for the Independents.

The Independents, North hall, and the Tri Delta are the three leading teams, each winning two games.

The Tri Delta's best alpha Phi, 16 to 15, and Kappa Kappa Gamma forfeited to Ophi in hall in the games Tuesday afternoon.

North hall won over the Independents, 25 to 15, Wednesday afternoon.

Monday, the Independents will play the Kappas at 4:15 p.m. and North hall will play Kappa Alpha Theta at 5 p.m.

Johnson Still Up In Skyline Race

Montana's Grizzly basketball team will play against the Skyline conference leading scorer, Dean Larsen, Friday night when they square with the BYU Cougars at Provo, Utah. Saturday the local cagers seek victory over the Utah Rebels at Salt Lake City and Monday night they play a non-conference game with Idaho State Bengals at Pocatello.

Ritch Johnson, MSU basketball co-captain, retained his lead in field goal percentage in Skyline play, hitting on 10 of 17 shots in four games for a .588 percentage. Co-captain Ed Anderson, Grizzly forward, is 12th in conference scoring with 23 field goals in 52 attempts for a percentage of .442. Five best in the Skyline, Ed has also connected on six of seven free throws for a total of 33 points and per game average of 13.5.

Two Close Games

Mark I-M Action

Intramural basketball fans got a taste of close games and runaways Wednesday night's play. Schooners and Pinetoppers fought to a 36-36 finish, with the Pinetoppers' scoring fast. Marvin Nelson led the Pinetoppers with 12 points while Jim Sinclair scored 13 for the Schooners.

Seagram "7" jumped into a 20-7 lead and then added 28 more in the last half to win over the Schooners 48-34. High scorers were Richard Spalding with 10 for the Schooners and Seagram's Danny Rieder with 22 points—high for the night.

Sodbusters took the Simonizers in a close 38-33 game. Roger Rose made 13 for the Simonizers; Sodbusters' Welsh had 16.

The Kubabes, paced by Ed Stiles' 18 points and by Dan Pelletier's 14, overran the Tommy Hawks to ththest 83-32. Kubabes scored 36 points in the first half and poured through another 47 in the second half. Gary Besenewen and Luis Musale each made 9 to lead the Tommy Hawks.
