Board OK's Budget For 'Double Opera'

BY ED STENSON

Thought for Today

Although criticism, even self-criticism, isn't the pleasantest sound to our ears, it is the means by which thinking man finds his way to finer accomplishment.—Dr. Otto Bessey, MSU's 61st Charter Day Speaker.

Darnell, Southern, Douglas Featured In Movie Tonight

The movie, "A Letter to Three Wives," starring Jeanne Crain, Linda Darnell, Ann Southern, Paul Douglas, Kirk Douglas, Thelma Ritter, and Jeffrey Lynn will be shown tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Union auditorium.

The picture was produced by 20th Century Fox and written and directed by Joseph L. Mankiewicz. It won the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences' "Oscar" in 1949.

The story is a New York suburban comedy revolving around the insecurity of three wives who receive a note from a friend informing them that she has run off with one of their husbands without specifying which one.

Central board joined forces with the College of Fine Arts yesterday with unanimous approval of the "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci" budget agreement. Then the board sought to define the ASMSU constitution term, "closed session," in reference to Kaimin coverage.

Peder Hoiness, Billings, business manager, presented the budget agreement for the All-School show, stating that it was a mutual agreement between Budget and Finance and the directors of the production.

The board, in approving the agreement, guaranteed $1,950 for the production or total expenses, if the $1,950 figure is not reached.

Don Chaney, Livingston, was appointed business manager for the show. Dean Luther Richman and Edwin W. Briggs were named faculty advisers.

Larry Gaughan, Missoula, Constitution Revision committee chairman, proposed that the two amendments, which concern covering Central board meetings, be combined. These amendments refer to attending meetings now open to the general student body and the "star chamber sessions" which are open to board officials.

The board preferred the term, "closed sessions" to "star chamber." They then attempted to define the term, closed session, as it applies to Kaimin coverage of the meetings. Since the Kaimin editor is an ex-officio member of the board, the group agreed that publicity would be at the board's discretion. The merger of the two amendments passed with a 5-4 vote.

The board also favored introduction of the right of a student initiative to be written into the revision. This initiative would permit groups to submit proposals for student vote without Central board approval at Aber day elections. The constitution now requires all issues to have the board's approval before appearing on the ballot. Fifteen per cent of the student body was suggested as the required number of signatures.

Central board rejected a proposed amendment that would make academic requirements a prerequisite for a candidate seeking government office.

"Grades are no qualification," said Pres. Norm Anderson, Chinook, in opposing that academic restrictions be included.

Since the meetings are open to the general public, the board opposed including the senior class president as ex-officio member to the sessions.

Gaughan reported that the new By-Laws committee has been formed and includes Bill Cogswell, Missoula; George Phelps, Missoula; Bruce Lloyd, Dillon; and Dick Woods, Saco.

Masquer Tryouts Begin Next Week

Tryouts for "Amphitryon 38," the Masquers spring quarter production, will be at Simpkins hall Feb. 24 and 25, according to Abe Wollock, English instructor.

Mr. Wollock said there are many varied and rich roles to be filled and all students are welcome to try out. To acquaint students with the play, copies of it have been placed on one-day reserve at the main library.

Production manager for the play is Robert D. Haight, Bozeman. Haight, Wollock, and Wallace Norley, Conrad, are working on the prop designs for the unusual production. All costumes for the show will be constructed by the costume department. Jeanene Schilling, Missoula, will design the costumes.

Bear Paws Offer Fish Bowl Friday

The Bear Paw Fish Bowl will be held Friday from 9 p.m. to midnight with the usual menu of shrimp, hamburgers, soft drinks, and coffee. It is being held in conjunction with the Newman club Mardi Gras.

Lee Bayley, Kalispell, Chief Grizzly, has asked fraternities to urge their freshman pledges and actives to turn out for Bear Paw work. Next year's Bear Paws will be chosen on the basis of the work they do.

Aquamaid Pageant Enters Final Preparatory Stages

The Aquamaids are beginning the final weeks of rehearsal for the annual water pageant to be presented the first week of the spring quarter.

The first dress rehearsal of the pageant will be Tuesday before a board of reviewers who will make criticisms and suggest changes in routines and costumes.

Mrs. Jane Dew, assistant professor of health and physical education, and Mrs. William Pritchard, Missoula, both former Aquamaid advisers, Miss Agnes Stoodley, professor of health and physical education, and Mrs. Betty Mazula, assistant professor in the same department will be the reviewers. Gerene Wilson, Kellogg, Idaho, and Mrs. Gwen Tustison, Missoula, will also be reviewing the routines that night. These two girls swam in the duet "La Cum-parsita" in the 1953 pageant.

There will be 40 girls swimming and dancing in the 14 routines of the show. The dance numbers on the side of the pool are being arranged by Tina Stohr, Missoula.

VETERAN SPORTS WRITER TO SPEAK TO REPORTERS

Ray Rocene, sports editor of the Missoulian, will speak to a reporting class in the Journalism school tomorrow at 8:10 a.m. His subject will be sports writing and vocational opportunities.

"Show me a billiard shot I can't make" is the slogan of Charles Peterson, cue expert, who is visiting the campus today. Peterson, who has held the World's Fancy Shot Billiard Title since 1910, will be in the Student Union Gold room between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. giving demonstrations and instructions to both men and women. He will give a second exhibition of his fancy shots tonight at 8 p.m.

More Atomic Information for the Free World . . .

. . . is President Eisenhower's request to Congress. The chief executive outlined his program for sharing atomic military information with our allies, encouraging American private firms to develop peacetime atomic power. Giving friendly nations peaceful atomic information would bring a "new era of progress and peace," he said.

Coffee, Sky High and Still Going Up . . .

A Hair-Line Victory for the Bricker Amendment . . .

Big Four Foreign Ministers Will Call It Quits . . .

Wanted for a Better Life . . . End Of Automatons

If the philosophy of education expounded by Dr. Otto Bessey at yesterday's convo was the type adhered to and propagated by 90 per cent or more of the nation's professors, there wouldn't be the contemporary charges that colleges are but factories where expendable parts for the nation's economical machine are mass-produced.

We were indeed pleasantly surprised by the essence of Dr. Bessey's remarks. To find a bio-chemist intensely interested in liberal arts is somewhat of a rarity. To find such a supposed-specialist lecturing on the advisability of a man becoming more than a "technological automaton" is likewise surprising, yet reassuring.

More Members on the Bandwagon . . .

Dr. Bessey has not been the first scientist to greet convo-goers with a plea for more liberalized education. Dr. R. H. Jesse and Dr. Harold Urey have both advocated better philosophical back-grounds for the collegians who ultimately become the nation's technicians.

Following a half century of the most fantastic technological progress imaginable, there has been a resurgence of philosophical thought by the men responsible for the Atomic age. As epitomized by Dr. Bessey these men have become aware that the American system of "specialization" is not conducive to an intelligent adult life.

And as each scientist adds his academic weight and prestige to the cause of liberal arts, it become increasingly evident that the type of education espoused by Robert Hutchins of University of Chicago fame and by the great European universities is influencing men of import.

When MSC Students Can Stay Home . . .

When that "influencing" process reaches a point whereby presidents and deans of technological schools and departments will revise their curriculums in order that students may graduate with a sense of preparedness for "life" as well as a sense of preparedness for "vocations" then American educators will again have reason to be proud of the students they graduate. At that time MSC engineering students won't find it necessary to come to MSU in order to have their educations "completed." That exact procedure is now being enacted on this campus.—BJ

Strips Are Home, Sweet Home For Married Students' Families

Home, sweet home for many of the married students on the MSU campus is in the strip houses, as the family housing units on South avenue are called.

Dogs, cats, and children greet one, as he approaches this settlement composed of 79 long, narrow buildings. It is quiet in the morning with children and their fathers or mothers off to school. It becomes more lively in the afternoon, as the members of the families return from their work or studies.

The strips are divided into two sections. To the east are tan buildings; to the west are brown. Each of the 31 tan buildings contain from four to eight apartments. The brown buildings are divided into four units.

How did these apartments come to be? The tan ones were first built in Spokane. The government dismantled them, and they were rebuilt in Missoula in 1946. The brown section was brought from Portland, and was open for occupancy in early 1948.

Originally the strips were intended for veteran students, though the Missoula Chamber of Commerce rented 50 units to veterans who worked in town. Now they are for veteran or non-veteran, married students, faculty and University staff members.

Life in the strip houses is not exactly easy. Originally they were all equipped with wood stoves and heaters. Some of the tenants have replaced them with oil heaters, and some are now wired for electric stoves.

The apartments are not as crowded as they were. Until 1951 there were long waiting lists, but now of the 364 unit apartments, 270 are rented, and 41 are used for storage space. It will be hard to rent one in the summer, though, for there are already around 60 applications.

The apartments have a kitchen-living room combination and range

Knapp Visits Aviation Conference; Air Workshop Planned for Summer

Henry Knapp, assistant professor of education, returned last week from a plane trip to Washington, D. C., where he attended a national convention on flying.

Knapp, who made the flight with Miss Genevieve Squires, state department of education deputy, was escorted by the Air Force Civil patrol. The flight route included stops at Cheyenne, Omaha, Champaign Field, Ill.; and Washington, D.C.

The Aviation Education workshop, which was held at Bolling Field, was a planning conference for the incorporation of air science into classroom work.

"The idea of the workshop," Knapp said, "is to orient teachers on aviation so that they will be able to answer students' questions."

Cards Are Ready For Week-end Tilt

New cards and tricks will be used at the game this Saturday night in the card section, Jim Ryan, Traditions board chairman has announced.

The section will have new masonite red and white cards.

Ryan hopes that the card section will be filled for the game this week end so they can practice and get accustomed to the new cards and be ready to do a god job at the Bobcat-Grizzly games Feb. 27 and 28.

As a former tenant said when asked her impressions of living in the strips:

"You wouldn't want to live there forever, but I don't know what many students would have done without them."

Double Opera Bill Famous In Italian Operatic History

BY FRANK MILBURN

"Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci," the operas to be presented for the All-School show, are two of the most popular operas in operatic history. Since it is traditional to present the two short operas together, they have been nicknamed by some critics as the "ham and eggs" of opera.

"Cavalleria Rusticana" or "Rustic Chivalry" is two years younger than its spiritual twin, "I Pagliacci" or "The Clowns." The first was presented with sensational success in Rome in 1890, while the latter was performed in Milan in 1892.

Pietro Mascagni composed "Cavalleria Rusticana" at the age of 27. It is with this work that his fame rests, for in spite of the numerous operas he composed after this famous work, they have all been forgotten.

Ruggiero Leoncavallo, the composer of "I Pagliacci" can also be termed a one-opera composer. His fame was assured with this opera, but he never wrote another work which received more than passing popularity or critical acclaim. Both men were destined to know success early in life, then to realize the bitterness that comes from repeated failures.

The operas are dramas of passion, betrayal, and retribution. Both belong to the verismo period of Italian opera which tried to make opera more truthful to life and emphasized violence. The stories of both operas are considered among the better of opera librettos.

Many famous melodies are contained in the operas. The "Intermezzo" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" can be heard almost every day on the radio. "Laugh Thou, Pagliac-cio" is one of the most famous tenor arias in all opera.

The story of "Cavalleria Rusticana" takes place in a Sicilian village at Easter. Santuzza, a village girl, is in love with Turiddu, a young soldier. The latter, however, is in love with the wife of a village teamster. The opera ends with the death of the soldier who has been betrayed by Santuzza.

Betrayal is also the theme of "I Pagliacci." Canio, the head of a troupe of strolling players, discovers that his wife, Nedda, is in love with a young man. While the troupe is presenting a play for some villagers, Canio murders his wife and also the young man who has revealed himself. His final words, "The comedy has ended," were supposedly the last words of the dying Beethoven.

Ed Anderson Takes Grizzly Scoring Lead

Ed Anderson, senior forward, leads Grizzly basketball scorers with 270 points in 21 games for a 12.9 average. Anderson took over the individual scoring lead from Ed Argenbright last week end when he hooped 56 points in three games.

Argenbright has dropped 265 points in 22 games for a 12.0 average. The sharp-shooting guard hit 41 points in the last three tilts. Ritch Johnson is third in scoring with 210 points in the 22 games. Johnson and Argenbright are the only players to appear in all 22 tilts.

Following Johnson are Ed Fine with 123 points; George Samuelson, 103; Dave Adams, 76; Ed Berquist, 59; Hal Winterholler, 40; Gary Jystad, 12; and Ken Byerly, 2.

In conference scoring the two leaders are separated by two points. Anderson has tallied 148 points to Argenbright's 146 in the 11 Skyline Conference tilts the Grizzlies have played.

Johnson is next with 91 points. Fine has 89, Adams 40, Samuelson 37, Berquist 34, Jystad 4 and Byerly 2.

The Grizzlies have won one of 11 conference tilts and have a won-lost record of 5-17 for the season with five games remaining.

Women Schedule Bowling Tourney

WRA bowling chairman, Bev York, Missoula, has announced that the bowling tournament will be Saturday at the Liberty Bowling center. The tournament will start at 9 a.m.

Girls wishing to bowl in the tournament must have a health excuse then sign up on a team. Each team will consist of five bowlers and one score-keeper.

Miss York said that for girls interested in earning participation-credits the lines bowled in tournament play count double toward earning the 10 lines required to gain a p.c. in bowling.

PDTs Hand SNs First Hoop Loss

Wednesday night's League A Intramural basketball brought a change from the high-scoring games played lately. Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Phi Delta Theta gained victories in action which saw previously undefeated Sigma Nu take its first loss.

SAE outclassed Alpha Tau Omega 48-34 in the first game. Dick Harger, SAE, scored 24 points to lead the victors. Norman Hermes topped ATO with 14.

PSK dumped Sigma Phi Epsilon 41-25 in the second game. LeRoy Dahl made 11 points for PSK while

Lawyers Surpass Theta Chi Keglers In Intramurals

The Lawyers jumped out in front of Theta Chi in Intramural bowling with a three-game win over Sigma Phi Epsilon Saturday. This gives the Lawyers a one-game lead over TX who dropped one of its three games to Phi Delta Theta.

Sigma Nu won all three of its games with Alpha Tau Omega, by forfeit, while Phi Sigma Kappa outmatched Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 3-0.

Sigma Chi won two games out of three from the Foresters. Jerry Smith's high individual series of 583 paced Sigma Chi to a 2524 high team series.

Ron Rundle, Theta Chi, rolled the high individual game.

'Fabulous Frosh' Play Mines; Howard Averages 18.1 Points

MSU's "Fabulous Frosh" seek their 11th victory in 12 starts against college competition when they battle Montana School of Mines tonight at Butte. The Cubs suffered their only loss when Carroll college, Helena, upset them 90-83 in Anaconda Friday night.

Mines has won only one game in the Montana small college circuit. Monday night they scored a 68-63 overtime victory over Northern Montana of Havre, whom the Cubs have beaten four times. Mines has lost eight. Doing most of the scoring for the Mines this season have been Jim Kerr and Dick Johnson.

For the "Fabulous Frosh," Ray Howard, Helena, paces the scorers with 199 points in 11 games for an 18.1 average. The lanky pivot-man has dropped in 76 field goals in 149 tries for a .508 average, and has hit on 47 of 89 free throws for .528.

Rudolph "Zip" Rhoades is second in scoring with 153 points for a 13.9 point average. The Kalispell flash has hit 65 field goals in 208 attempts for an average of .321 and has canned 23 of 43 free throws for .535.

Al Dunham, Shelby, ranks third with 43 field goals out of 133 attempts for an average of .320, and 37 of 58 free tosses, a .638 average. That gives the big forward a total of 123 points and an average of 11.2 per game.

Jim Peterson, Billings, has hit 116 points on 48 field goals in 106 tries for a .453 average, and 20 of 28 free throws for .714. His average is 10.5 for fourth spot.

Bob Powell, Missoula, rounds out the top five with 95 points.

MSC Hires Crazy Troupe; Kenton, Gillespie on Tap

—BY NORMA BEATTY—

Montana State College has really hit the music jackpot with the completion of arrangements for a concert program entitled "The Festival of Modern American Jazz," featuring a whole host of musical stars. Included in the troupe are Stan Kenton and his orchestra, Erroll Garner Trio, Charlie Parker, June Christy, Dizzy Gillespie, Lee Konitz and Candido. The group will appear in Bozeman Feb. 21 with seats selling for less than $2 apiece.

Tau Beta Phi, an honorary at Stevens Institute of Technology in New Jersey has again prepared exam problems from previous years to help the student body get ready for the term's shakers. An important new addition will be the insertion of answers—a feature which will make the old exam copies even more popular. Only 10 cents per copy too . . .

Some people have trouble studying with the radio turned on, but won't be hindered by this medium. Senior class president and disk jockey Sam Albert recently began a radio program featuring professors of undergraduate courses reviewing their respective subjects. Although not officially approved, "Cram with Sam's" broadcast time is now listed along with the final exam schedule.

A new society has been formed at Cambridge University—dedicated to the advancement and promotion of knife throwing at the institution. Undergraduate members of the Cambridge Knife Throwing Club are now in the process of hunting up targets.

A decorative water fountain at Southern Methodist University has been causing trouble for quite some time now. Seems it isn't run in the winter because it might freeze. And it isn't run in the summer because there is a water shortage in town that time of year. Recently the SMU student council voted unanimously to try to get the fountain flowing. How are they going to do it? Easy. Use anti-freeze, and let it bubble all winter.

A sociology student at San Jose State college had difficulty deciphering the marginal note on his test paper and rushed to query his professor. The teacher took the

Spring Registering Set for March 2-9

Advanced registration for spring quarter will be from March 2 to 9, according to Mrs. Emma Lommasson, assistant registrar. Students should pick up their registration materials on the afternoon of March 1.

"Checking will begin the afternoon of March 2, and registration must be completed by 4:30 p.m. on March 9," Mrs. Lommasson said.

Anyone in residence who plans to return and does not complete his registration will be required to pay a fine of $2 when he registers in the spring.

After picking up their registration materials, students should see their advisers to be sectionized, then return their cards to the registrar's office for final checking.

New Camera Club Elects Officers, Develops In SU

Marshall Sullivan, Broadus, was elected president of the newly organized Camera club at their organization meeting last Friday. Tuesday the group held their first regular meeting in the Make-up room of the Student Union.

Other officers elected were Margery Foot, Kalispell, secretary and treasurer; Tom Armstrong, Big Timber, vice president and dark room manager; and Cyrile Van Duser, advisor.

The group will hold regular meetings every Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the Make-up room. Only members of the club may use the Student Union dark room facilities. A small fee will be charged so that any damaged equipment may be replaced.

Members will be given exclusive use of the dark room on Monday and Tuesday afternoons and Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Scheduling for the dark room will be handled through Miss Van Duser's office.

Two weeks ago the Student Union executive committee gave their approval to the use of the equipment. The Sentinel has the use of the dark room facilities at all times except hours set aside for the Camera club.

Three Journalists Will Be Featured At TSP Meeting

A former magazine editor, a TV script writer and a free-lancer will speak at the Theta Sigma Phi professional meeting, which is open to all interested students Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Journalism auditorium.

Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalism honorary for women, will sponsor the meeting and will feature Miss Dorothy Johnson, E. D. Christopher, and Barbara Corcoran as speakers.

Miss Johnson, the present secretary-manager of the Montana State Press association, before coming to Montana was executive editor of the magazine The Woman. Before holding this position she was on the editorial staff of a magazine for business teachers published by Gregg Publishing Co.

Barbara Corcoran, who free-lanced for TV, radio and magazine in Hollywood before coming to Missoula in September, has written several "Dr. Christian" scripts and two series that will soon be shown on TV—the "Medal of Honor" series and "Career Club" series. She is now head of continuity at KGVO which handles all scripts and copy.

E. D. Christopherson free-lances and publishes regularly in the Saturday Evening Post, Colliers and This Week magazines. He free-lanced in New York before coming to Montana three years ago. After coming here he represented Time and Life magazines for a year.

SAE Again Leads Men's Grade List

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, holding a 2.513 grade index scholastic record for fall quarter, led all other men's living groups for the sixth consecutive quarter, according to Mrs. Emma Lommasson, assistant registrar.

The SAE group took the lead in the winter quarter, 1952, topping the Sigma Nu fraternity. They have paced all men's groups since that quarter.

During three of the six quarters, the SAE's have been above the all-university average.
