Aber Day Replacement Ideas Discussed by Montana Forum

A week of activities, containing any spring quarter events to take the place of the present Aber day, was one of the ideas put forward at Friday's meeting of the Montana Forum in the Eloise Knowles room of the Student Union.

The week of activities, suggested by Don Chaney, Livingston, SMSU president, would include any spring quarter activities now scheduled at inconvenient times because of the large amount of spring quarter social activity. The week would also include events specially prepared for that time. Possibilities of holding the annual Song Fest, intramural events, a play, and elections, were presented by Chaney.

A new type of Aber day, a day of community service, was proposed by Prof. Robert T. Turner.

One of the criticisms of previous Aber days has been shortage of work projects to keep the students busy. A survey of possible work projects for an Aber day along the old lines was made by a committee headed by Pat Eyer, Billings. There are many worthwhile projects for an old type Aber day according to Eyer.

Students have suggested the building of a concrete "M" and starting work on a chapel as two ideas that could form the basis for Aber day. Eyer said many more ideas came out during recent Aber day inquiries.

Many members of the forum thought that planning, coordination, and supervision would have to be worked out very carefully to insure against an Aber day such as last year's.

The group was approximately equally divided on the question of the worth of retaining Aber day. However, a majority felt that if Aber day was continued it must remain principally a day of service by the students for the campus.

About the Size of It

A movie, "You and NSA," National Student association, will be shown to the Student Christian association in LA 104 tonight following the Sentinel picture appointment.

Paul Keyser, secretary of the MCA in this area, is planning to attend the program. He is at present visiting northern colleges on behalf of the YMCA, according to Gilbert Bremicker, SCA president.

Aber Grove, Near Union, Honors Founder of Spring 'Clean-Up' Day

Aber day—what is it, who started it, and for what purpose? These questions can be answered by the story of "Daddy" Aber.

Prof. William M. "Daddy" Aber came to Montana State University when it first opened, in September, 1895, as a professor of Latin and Greek.

Aber was born in 1849 and graduated from Yale in 1878. It was there he received his nickname "Father" Aber. He was the oldest man in his graduating class—29 years old. The reason for this was that he first graduated from Oswego normal school in 1872. While at Yale, he was a classmate of William Howard Taft, later President of the United States. Aber also attended Johns Hopkins, Cornell, and the University of Chicago.

In 1890 he went to the University of Utah to teach Latin and Greek. He taught here from 1895 until he retired on Aug. 31, 1919. He died three days later, Sept. 3, 1919, in Waterbury, Conn.

In October, 1919, a memorial service was held and a stone placed in his memory in Aber corner, 75 feet south of the Student Union. The trees in this grove were planted as shelter for students waiting for the street cars which ran on Maurice Avenue. In 1927 this stone was removed and another one with a bronze plate was put there. The grove still stands adjacent to the diagonal walk from Maurice Avenue to Liberal Arts.

The first Aber day was held in 1915. C. W. Leapheart, Dean of the Law School until last year, presided at the meeting which officially established Aber day. On that first Aber day, three tennis courts were built, a board walk was laid to Van Buren street bridge and the baseball diamond was cleaned up. Aber day was useful in the early days because of the limited campus help.

Aber suggested this day be held every year because he wanted to beautify the campus and at this time many of the trees on the campus were planted. Many of these trees were carried by Aber himself and planted by the students.

Before he died, Aber turned $1,000 over to university officials, to be used for the Aber Day oratorical contest. These awards were kept secret until after his death.

When the library was built, his name was inscribed over the west entrance.

The story written in the Kaimin after his death had this to say in part:

"A memorial was started during his lifetime and will be continued as long as there is a University of Montana, the tradition of Aber day. On this day, the faculty and students unite in cleaning and improving the campus. No more fitting honor could be paid to Prof. Aber who always took pride in the appearance of the campus and buildings." From The Kaimin, Sept. 30, 1919.

Snow to Aid Dimes Drive

A snowman will greet Bobcat-Grizzly fans Saturday night at the Field House doors if snow permits.

This will be one of the features of the March of Dimes campaign on the MSU campus sponsored by the Spurs and Bear Paws. The money stuck into the snowmen by contributors will go for the campaign.

Other tentative plans for the campaign are having collection boxes in the Lodge, and waitresses and waiters serving dessert in fraternity and sorority houses Thursday night.

Plans are being formulated for the Bear Paw band to go through the Lodge, leaving collection boxes during the Wednesday night dinner hour. Thursday night the Spurs will serve dessert in the fraternity houses and faculty men will serve in the sorority houses. Tips left for this service will go to the campaign.

Proceeds from the March of Dimes movie last Friday night and donations to the two student-talent radio shows Saturday and Monday went to the drive.

Pep-Rousing Rally Will Start Drive To 'Beat Bobcats'

Stirring band music, spirited yells and a catchy skit in Friday morning's pep convocation are calculated to put the MSU Grizzlies in top spirit to beat the Bobcats Friday and Saturday nights.

Coach Jiggs Dahlberg will speak at the convo. and the cheerleaders will follow up by introducing each player individually in the new welcome planned by traditions board. It goes like this:

Each player will be introduced. As he comes out of the wings the audience and cheerleaders greet him with: "Hi, _____" (first name).

A musical number and skit follow with Dick Riddle and Cara Lou Boggess, both of Libby, doing a song and dance routine, and Rick Lee, Butte; Larry Nipgen, Livingston; John Bansch, Helena; Tom Fleming, Bonner; Ed Palmer, Billings; Jack Howell, Bozeman; Dick Woods, Saco; and Jill Hageman, Billings, acting in the skit. Darlene Forzley, Seattle, is head of the Arrangement committee.

The Friday night game has been set as farmer night when fans are to wear country clothes and straw hats. Four or five cheerleaders, fresh from the country, will give the regulars a hand.

Saturday night is dress night—tie, slacks, and coat, according to Bob Gilluly, Glasgow, Traditions board head. A charter bus load of Kalispell fans are expected, said Jim Abbott, Kalispell, chairman of the Publicity-Travel board.

Audra Browman Wins $25 Prize For Being Top in Freshman Test

Audra Browman, Missoula, was awarded first prize for top standing in the freshman placement examinations given annually to Montana State University freshmen. The $25 first prize was awarded by Phi Mu Epsilon, national mathematics honorary fraternity.

Ted Molthen, Butte, placed second, and Wallace Donaldson, Columbia Falls, and Stuart Nicholson, Missoula, tied for third.

Molthen was awarded $15 for second place, and Donaldson and Nicholson were each awarded $5 for the third place tie.

The awards are made each year by Phi Mu Epsilon on the basis of regular placement tests taken

IFC Discusses Greek Week And Function for Spring

Plans for an interfraternity function in connection with a Greek week were discussed at the bi-monthly meeting of Interfraternity council Thursday night at the Montmartre cafe. President Bob Isner, Wallace, Idaho, presided.

Delegates to the meeting were Sigma Chi: Dan Zenk, Tappico, and George Bovingdon, Seattle, Wash.; Sigma Alpha Epsilon: Bill Hammer, Stanford, and Gary Cowan, Livingston; Alpha Tau Omega: Jim Mirehouse, Augusta, and Irving Hildebrandt, Plains; Sigma Phi Epsilon: Scott Leedham, Glasgow, and Jim Farrell, Oak Park, Ill.

Phi Delta Theta: George Boiffellet, Missoula, and Bill Smith, Helena; Sigma Nu: Ken Duffy, Butte, and Joe Roemer, Missoula; Theta Chi: Raynor Dickey, Harlowton, and Jim Roberts, Dillon; Phi Sigma Kappa: Bob Toft, Williston, N. D. and Wayne Linnell, Sunburst.

An interfraternity function was discussed by the council. It was decided that too many social functions are held during winter quarter and it was postponed until spring quarter.

Isner brought up the point about a Greek week in which national officials of the fraternities and sororities would come to Missoula for a two-day workshop. It was suggested that the function could be held in connection with this Greek week.

A possibility of the fraternities and sororities getting together to buy their food from one central place was brought up. It was agreed that there would be savings with this plan but it was tabled until next spring.

Dan Zenk reported on the missing IFC trophies and said nothing has come up concerning their disappearance. He added that it is in the hands of an insurance company which is making an investigation. The problem of trophy insurance for the houses was brought up but no decision was made until more details are received at the next meeting.

Dean Herbert Wunderlich was a guest of the council. After the business meeting a round-table discussion was opened. Some of the problems discussed were university housing conditions, rushing problems, the new MSU Lodge, honor system, loan fund and Aber day.

Students Get Lower Wages Than Regular Help on Campus

Inequality of pay scales between regular and student employees of Montana State University, and the general low rate of pay which students employees receive is the significant difference between Schedule B and the student employees' plan.

Schedule B is the employment plan under which the university hires full and part time, non-student workers.

The student employment plan is the guide for hiring MSU students for such jobs as janitors, typists, busboys, and the like. E. Kirk Badgley is the administrator of both plans.

Schedule B pays its employees according to ten graduated pay scales. Pay scale number one pays from $160 to $180, according to worker's longevity. Pay scale number ten pays from $280 to "unlimited" for the work month.

Student jobs are under three general classifications: student assistantships, clerks, and laborers. These general classifications do not set the pay rates of the various student jobs. The rate of pay is controlled within each general classification by a complicated sub-classification system.

However, student jobs pay less than non-student jobs, even when the duties of the positions can be compared. Regulation C-3 under section one of a schedule B bulletin issued in 1952 prohibits "full pay to a person carrying more than five credit hours of university work."

Stenographers who are employed by the university under Schedule B may be given a pay rating of from one to five, which would mean a basic pay of from $170 a month to a possible high of $235 a month. Under the student employees plan, which pays by the hour, a stenographer can earn per hour $.90 at the most. This would mean that at the university work week, which is 41 hours, the student stenographer would earn $147.60 for a four week month, if she worked steadily.

The lowest possible hourly pay provided by the student employees plan is $.60. The highest possible pay under this plan is $1.05 per hour for clerks in a supervisory capacity with special skills. According to Badgley, the various departments of the school which hire students have a rather limited operating budget, which is probably one of the causes of the low pay scale. Badgley also said that he understood that most all universities hired students on the same principle as employed at MSU.

by incoming Montana high school students.

Topology, described by Jim Ford, Missoula, president of the honorary, as "rubber sheet" geometry, was the subject of a talk by Prof. Joseph Hashisaki.

Topology deals with the relations of figures to each other. Ford described the process in this way. If you take a rubber cube and force it into the shape of a sphere what properties of the cube remain the same in the sphere.

This can be applied to various geometric shapes. A pliable cylinder could be twisted into a pretzel shape and the geometric properties that remain the same would be investigated.

Help A Fellow Student

What is this thing called polio? To most people who have not encountered it in any form, it's just another disease. To Phi Delta Theta fraternity, it has a more significant meaning. Warren Hodous, one of PDT's members contracted the disease last year. He came back to school this fall, but was confined to a wheel chair. Because of the difficulty in getting to classes, he was forced to quit school.

Could Happen to You

This same thing could easily happen to you or the person right next to you. The possibility of college-age students contracting polio is greater now than ever before. Over the past 10 years the "infantile" part of infantile paralysis has become a misnomer, according to Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation. This increase is even more meaningful because adults, when stricken, are more likely to have more serious and incapacitating forms of polio, he said.

Local Chapter Aids PDT

When Warren Hodous came down with polio, the local March of Dimes chapter sponsored the gamma globulin shots that were given to members of PDT. Gamma globulin does not prevent polio but is believed to mitigate the effects of it according to Mary E. Soules, Missoula County health officer.

Now the National March of Dimes is spending large sums of money to experiment with a new vaccine that they hope will prevent polio. Last summer the new vaccine was put to an exhaustive test in a scientific study involving 1,830,000 children. Results of this trial will be known next spring.

Cost is Great

If this vaccine is effective in preventing polio it will cost millions of dollars to put it to immediate use. If not, it will cost millions to do more research. Students at MSU can help fellow students like Warren Hodous by contributing to the March of Dimes drive which started this week on campus and will continue until the end of January.—B.N.

Utags Hand Grizzlies Loss Tips Would Like to Forget

By HOOVER OGATA

"We'll forget about that one and start thinking about next week," said Coach Jiggs Dahlberg Friday night as the Montana Grizzlies left the Utah State field house.

He was talking about the 86 to 61 beating Utah State handed the Grizzlies, a beating administered in the first half of the Skyline tilt. The Grizzlies matched the Farmers point-for-point in the second half only to prove the platonic sentiment that the beginning of the book is the most important part.

Utah used a full court press the entire first half to steal the ball and befuddle the Grizzly offense. Farmer forwards waited for the Grizzlies to take just one shot before they streaked for their basket on a fast, flip-passing offense.

"They out-hustled us, there's no getting around it," said Dahlberg as the team headed back to the hotel.

Montana hit 25 per cent of its shots while Utah State hit 43 per cent. It was logical. Utah State had too many lay-ins. Montana's defense just wasn't there that first half.

"That's the headaches of a coach," said Dahlberg. "You never know how they're going to play."

Eddie Argenbright and Ray

Howard were bemoaning the loss a little later.

"We can do better than that," said Howard.

"It's getting so we never start thinking about a game until it's started," said Argenbright.

Montana pitted five players against a Utah State team that stretched from the floor to the bench, to the cheer leaders, and to 3,000 fans assembled under the rafters. Montana had good players, but didn't click as a team, and Jiggs Dahlberg probably hit the nail on the head when he said, "...you never know how they're going to play."

Howard took scoring honors for the night with 21 points. Argenbright hit 15, and Zip Rhoades got 10. Center Bart Johnson scored 20 and guard Dave Anderson flipped 18 for the Utags.

Jumbolaya, Rats, SN Get IM Wins

Last Thursday's intramural results saw the A division in action once more as Jumbolaya swamped Sigma Chi, 44-26; Sigma Nu beat Epsilon Kappa, 34-25; and Butte Rats downed Forestry, 48-41. On Friday, two close contests resulted in the C division as the Marvels squeezed out a one-point, 37-36 victory over South hall and Western came back in the second half to beat the Outlaws, 35-32. In the other Friday C game, the Marvels tromped Blue Wares, 44-26.

High point men for the two nights were: Tom Campbell, Jumbolaya, and Jim Lee, Butte Rats, 15, and Ralph Rundle, Forestry, 13, in the A division. In the C division it was Fred James, South Hall, with 14 and Walt Stewart, DOA, 13.
