F Completes Financial Plans; o Give Budget to CB Today

The proposed ASMSU budget for 1955-56 was presented to Budget and Finance committee Tuesday evening by ASMSU Business Manager Joan Bachman, Missoula, chairman. The committee, meeting twice a week in the last two weeks in order to have the budget ready for its final submission to

University Players Return Sunday from State Tour

The University Theater travel-company, now in the fourth of its seven day tour of Montana, plays this afternoon and evening in Billings before working way home.

The players will return to Missoula Sunday after performing tomorrow and Saturday in Livingston and Bozeman, respectively, ending the week's number of performances to 10.

Marjorie Lovberg, Missoula and Ron DeJarnett, Billings, star in special adaptation of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew," a popular comedy in itself, but enlivened by special effects and music to make the play very interesting to modern audiences.

May 6 and 7 the play will be presented at the University theater with tickets available at the office on April 28-30 from 10 to 12 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m., May 1 from 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m., and May 6-7 from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.

The final showing May 12 will be a kickoff to Interscholastic week end.

Deferment Test Set for May 19

The Selective Service System college Qualification test will be given May 19, according to the University Counseling Center. The test, if passed with a score of 70 per cent, will qualify a student for draft deferment until graduation. The local draft board will be a 2S classification number to students successfully passing this examination.

Freshman and sophomore students who are required to take ROTC are not exempt from draft on this basis alone, says Emma Lommasson, assistant registrar. The university sends a letter at the end of every academic year, a form requesting that the student be exempted from the ROTC if he meets certain requirements. Men who are enrolled in advanced ROTC courses are automatically deferred from the ROTC. Requirements for student deferment are based on standings in class percentages. Freshman and sophomore men in the upper half, juniors in the upper two-thirds, and seniors in the upper one-fourth are exempt.

The Selective Service test, if successfully passed with a score of 70 per cent, will exempt the student for the remainder of his college education providing he maintains at least a C average. This is not unacceptable for re-examination each quarter by the university.

Applications for taking the test should be turned into the Counseling Center no later than May 9.

Central board today, has heard the proposed budgets for all campus activities using the ASMSU General fund. The last two representatives of these organizations were interviewed Tuesday evening.

In attendance at the meeting were Georgia George, Missoula, and Bruce Crippen, Billings, both candidates for business manager in the coming elections.

Final action on the budget must await the decision of Central board at their last meeting of the year this afternoon. Two or three days may be necessary before the approval will be made public.

The budget contains estimates of the amount of next year's ASMSU General fund, based on present enrollment figures; the allotment of the fund by percentages to various campus organizations and activities, and recommendations for new funds and projects.

Previously, the committee had discussed a new loan fund for students and a new type of activity card.

Discussion of next year's Sentinel revealed that its staff hopes to include more color.

Polio Serum From Cal Lab Jerked; Eight Get Disease

By the United Press

The public health service has ordered the withdrawal of all polio serum made by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. This step was ordered after at least eight children inoculated with the Salk solution got polio. They are all believed to have been injected with vaccine from the Cutter firm.

One of the children, a seven-year-old girl, died today in Pocatello, Idaho of bulbar polio nine days after being inoculated. A six-year-old boy in Pocatello also was stricken. The other six children are from California.

President Eisenhower ...

Senate Republican leader, William Knowland, promptly came out against President Eisenhower's willingness to talk with Red China. Such talks, he said, would be disastrous to Formosa and the Chinese Nationalists.

75 Grants-in-Aid Worth $60 Apiece Offered Students

Applications are now available in the office of Dean of Students for grants-in-aid scholarships for the 1955-56 school year, according to Dean Herbert J. Wunderlich.

The cash value of these awards is $60. They are given on the basis of character, leadership, and need. A minimum scholastic average of 2.5 is required. All applications must be filed by the end of spring quarter and returned to the Dean of Students' office. The awards will be made during the summer and become effective fall quarter.

Montana State University's first annual All-University day will swing into action at 3 p.m. this afternoon when the freshmen climb the slope up Mt. Sentinel to give the M its spring whitewashing. Traditions board, programming committee for the day, has scheduled a barbecue on the oval at 6:15 p.m. and a free dance in the Yellowstone room of the Lodge at 7:30 p.m. to roundout the day's activities.

Bob Gilluly, Glasgow, Traditions board chairman, says "the day has been planned by ASMSU primarily as a day when all students and faculty can get together on campus."

"However," he added, "all scheduled classes will be held as usual."

Gilluly said that informal attire for the whitewashing, barbecue, and dance will be stressed. "Jeans, levis, or peddle-pushers, we don't care what you wear as long as you feel comfortable," he said.

Ten Foresters Attend Meet

Ten members of the MSU Forestry club arrived in Fort Collins, Colo., yesterday to attend the annual conclave of the Association of Western Forestry clubs.

At meetings, April 27-30, the men will discuss the activities of the club during the past year, and hold competitions among the branches of the club.

Tom Patterson, Manacqua, Wis., is the chief MSU delegate. Others official delegates are Jack Phelps, Winnetka, Ill.; Tom Kovalicky, Clifton, N. J.; and Dan Daniels, Helmville.

Other club members on the trip are Al Crozer, Trenton, N. J.; Ralph Rundle, Chicago, Ill.; Bob Gallop, Fayette, Ohio; Dick Behan, Indianapolis, Ind.; and Art Hollowell, Drummond.

Kelsey Smith, Helena, Forestry club president, reported Edward Barrows, of the Missoula Forest Service regional office went with the group as a guest speaker.

The MSU club will compete with delegates from Idaho, Colorado, California, and Washington for the "Golden Ax" award. The loser will be given the "Rusty Pulaski" award.

Gosh-awful Plague Threatens If Weather Continues Warm

A fever starts in the pit of your stomach, swishes round and round with your spine, zips up to strike you between the eyes, and ends with the strange sensation that your kneecaps have just fallen off.

It is the most hideous disease known to collegians—and the most fatal. It's called Loco Foco, cabin fever, or stir craze. It's kinda the opposite of shell shock.

Warm weather, growing things, and the loss of Aber day aggravate the delirium. Like the crime rate against persons, it rises with the mercury.

Today a drive is being conducted on campus to stamp out, if possible, this year's epidemic. Physical exercise is the only known remedy. The drive has been designated All-University day and the label gives these medicinal directions:

For freshmen and children—paint the M with all vigor possible. Run up and down Mt. Sentinel with buckets of water and lime.

For average adult: gorge yourself at the barbecue on the oval at 6:15 p.m. and cheer like crazy at the baseball games.

For all campus cooks: take the afternoon off—go home and stand over your own hot stove.

For University grounds keepers: pick up the mess the rest of the population will deposit on the oval.

For women: dance your fool legs off in the Yellowstone room until 11:30 p.m.

These dosages are recommended by Dr. Bob Gilluly, Ph.D., PDQ, DDT, and Traditions board. Who knows: Maybe the cure will someday be known as Salk Gilluly vaccine.

Steam Valve . . .

Dear Sir:

Wouldn't it be better to abolish Central board and its inoperative committees, and retain the class officers? A dictatorship is much more "efficient" than a democracy. But who wants to be that efficient?

After all, class officers are only as effective as the individuals elected. If nothing else, electing class officers gives the students some smattering of the workings of a democracy. If one student graduates from here imbued with the obligation that he has the duty to vote in all elections for which qualified, and in particular an election where he will choose his leaders—mayor, county commissioners, governor—then I believe the whole idea of merely going through the mechanics of an election has been more than worthwhile.

Let's don't get carried away with this efficiency idea. The solution is obviously to elect class officers that will lead the class that will plan class bulletins for the future years; that will sponsor worthwhile activities (the clock in the library was donated by the Class of 1926, and 500 more students a day use the clock); that will sponsor dances, picnics, and dinners to raise necessary funds and to get better acquainted.

The senior class may have a meeting sometime before graduation and decide to have a class reunion at Home-Coming in 1965. They could direct the class officers to carry it out.

A reunion is not the only purpose in life but 10 years from now it will mean more than whether student government was 99 per cent efficient or 49 per cent. Abolition is not the solution, it is merely acknowledgement of defeat. But if the arguments over this issue do nothing more than build a fire under some of the class officers, it will have been worthwhile.

BYU Thinclads May Shatter Cinder Records

By BOB GILLULY

Brigham Young University will be "loaded for bear" when the Cougars meet Montana in a dual track meet at Dornblaser field this Saturday.

"It doesn't look like we've got a chance," said track coach Harry Adams yesterday.

"BYU has the strongest track team we've faced since entering Skyline competition, and possibly has one of the best teams in Skyline history," said Adams.

"If Don Brant can run this weekend, we have a good chance to take the sprints. We also may take firsts in the 440 and half mile, but the rest of the events look like a BYU runaway," Adams stated.

Brant hasn't worked out, except for jogging, with the team this weekend. Despite his fast 9.7 century against Idaho State last Saturday, Brant has come up with two sore legs. "He didn't get much practice before the meet, and possibly he ran too fast for so early in the season," Adams said. After an early season loss to powerful Arizona, BYU staged an invitation meet at Provo last weekend and came up with some phenomenal times.

Adams said if nothing else he was anticipating a good crowd for the meet Saturday because several Dornblaser, BYU-MSU dual meet, and western division records are threatened by the 31-man Cougar squad.

"If Brant and Harry Anderson of BYU push each other in the sprints, we may see the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash records broken," said Adams.

He also listed Charles Higgins, javelin; Lee Nichols, 440; Sherald James and Bok Suk Shim, mile and two-mile; Doug Spainhower, high jump; and Louis Chatterly, pole vault, as Cougars capable of cracking records Saturday.

Bok Suk Shim is the Korean exchange student who entered the Boston Marathon two weeks ago. He had to drop out of the race after running 16 miles.

Comparative records indicate the following records might be broken:

These Records May Fall Saturday

Name and Event	BP	DFR	BYU-MSU	WDR
ANDERSON, 100-yard dash	9.8	9.6	9.6	9.6
Brant, 100-yard dash	9.7	9.6	9.6	9.6
Nichols, 440-yard dash	50.0	48.0	50.3	48.8
S. James, mile run	4:27.7	4:17.0	4:17.0	4:17.0
S. James, two-mile run	9:32.8	9:28.2	9:44.8	9:28.2
Spainhower, high jump	6'8"	6'6"	6'5"	6'9 1/8"
Chatterly, pole vault	13'6"	14'2 1/2"	13'6"	14' 1/16"
Higgins, javelin	225'7"	209'0"	181'6"	219'7"
Wilkes, broad jump	22'11"	24'2"	22'6"	24'10"

(BP—best personal record this year. DFR—Dornblaser field record. BYU-MSU—record for dual meet between MSU and BYU. WDR—Western division record.)

The Dilemma of Deno Damaskos—A Lifetime of Missed Opportunities

In sports competition the hot-stove league often speculates about the duels and matches that could be, or might have been. Landy-Bannister duels do not materialize every year, but it is sporting to discuss the pitting of one athlete against another—whether they are national figures, or just a couple of good country high school performers.

In Deno Damaskos, Montana figured to have a surprise package for the Toveys of Utah, the Browns of Utah State, and the Andersons of Brigham Young, and Grizzly track fans began to speculate about the duel which might develop in the Skyline quarter-mile run. But now there is a possibility that Damaskos will not develop in time this year.

Tale of Tough Breaks

The dilemma of Deno Damaskos has been a tale of tough breaks, right to the present time which finds the cinder hopeful recovering from a torn tendon Achilles.

Deno had terrific potential as a freshman at Missoula County high school in 1949. In his sophomore year he literally burned the cinders. He was a member of the Spartan squad which scored 80 points, the highest on record, to win the annual Interscholastic.

As a junior he began to develop in the 440-yard run. Early in May, he ran a 50.4 second quarter-mile. Then tragedy struck, just before the Interscholastic meet, and a torn hamstring muscle kept him from trying for an official state record. Sympathetic sports fans anxiously awaited the next spring when Damaskos would make his final bid for state laurels.

The honors never came. In football he wrenched his knee, then in the spring tore a hamstring muscle in the other leg. However, he came back with an explosive ray of hope. He was twice clocked in 49.8 seconds and then, in a practice competition with the University, finished a shade behind Leon Conner, Grizzly captain and quarter-miler.

Another Missed Opportunity

Veteran Silvertip mentor Harry Adams described him as the "greatest quarter-mile prospect Montana has ever produced," and fans waited for the high school finale and Deno's chance to prove it. Again opportunity eluded him—he had passed the age limit for high school competition.

Well, freshmen were eligible at the University and surely Damaskos would "go" the next spring. But again came delays—he had a two-year date with Uncle Sam. In the service he sustained badly bruised back muscles, but returned to the campus last fall, a big strong lad who was determined to resume his running career and capitalize on his tremendous abilities.

Deno re-tore a hamstring muscle in action with the 1954 frosh football squad.

Tendon Snapped

All spring trainer Naseby Rhinehart has been bringing him along slowly and working his legs with the care of a groom with a thoroughbred race-horse. He was just beginning to shake all signs of previous injuries when the tendon snapped.

"We cannot say definitely at this time whether Deno will be ready by the time of the conference meet or not," Rhinehart said. "We will just have to keep working with his leg and wait and see."

To coach Harry Adams Damaskos is a conscientious hard-worker who is determined to be an outstanding college runner. To the rest of the Skyline conference—"Deno Damaskos is a freshman with four years of eligibility. Don't drop him from the form chart... he may be back."

Representatives of four Pacific Northwest Sigma Phi Epsilon chapters will convent on campus at the Sig Ep chapter house Saturday for the annual District 17 conclave, according to Scott Leedham, Glasgow, local president.

Each of the four visiting delegations, Washington Alpha from Washington State college at Pullman; Washington Beta from the University of Washington at Seattle; Oregon Alpha from Oregon State college at Corvallis; and Oregon Beta from the University of Oregon at Eugene; and the local chapter, will give a discussion on some phase of fraternity life during the sessions.

Main speaker will be Dr. U. G. Dubach from Lewis and Clark college in Portland, Ore.

The purpose of the conclave is the exchange of ideas which aid the individual and chapters, a fraternity spokesman said.

Herbert J. Wunderlich, dean of men at Montana State University, will speak on "The Fraternity's Place in Campus Life," at 11 a.m. Saturday. At 6:30 p.m. Saturday, the local chapter will be host at a banquet. A dance at the Missoula hotel following the banquet will conclude the event.

EDDY'S BAKERY*Sweeping Improvements Will Make Library Extension Veritable Haven

Overcrowded conditions in the present library prompted remodeling and an addition to the building. Since the completion of the library 30 years ago, the book and document collection has grown too crowded for the available space.

Stacks are overcrowded. Areas of the building never intended for stack space have been pressed into use. Thousands of items have been placed in storage in almost inaccessible places. The east and west basement, originally provided for storage space, is now being used for the active collection of books.

The original library has one large reading room for reference, periodicals and reserve books. The reading room on the main floor accommodates 66 persons while the reading room on the second floor has space for 240 students. There are no provisions for study alcoves for graduate students. No study space is available in stack areas. No space is allocated for faculty use. There are no typing rooms nor any seminar or group meeting rooms.

Drawbacks Remedied

These conditions will be remedied in the new extension. A smoking room for relaxation will be provided, as well as two seminar rooms and working areas for students in the stacks. Ventilation, lighting, and acoustics will be improved.

Modern library planning calls for the division of the books into area groupings, such as the social sciences, humanities, and natural sciences. The structure of the present building makes this impossible. At present, categories are divided in such a way that the most-used books are available at the circulation desk. If a student wants a book not in this category, he has to wait while the librarian finds it.

The library staff of 11, plus 2 clerical assistants and 35 part-time student assistants serves the student body, faculty, town of Missoula, and the entire state. Anyone in Montana may seek information and help on any subject covered by the 348,419 volumes and documents, 671 maps and 576 reels of microfilm, which make up the library collection. It is increasing every year.

Books Imported

A system of "inter-library loans" aids faculty members and graduate students in getting information not available in the library. Last year 325 volumes were borrowed for this purpose, at a cost of approximately $300. This was paid for entirely by the library.

During the 1953-54 school year, the library issued a total of 66,547 books and documents to borrowers for home use. This total does not include the use of bound periodicals and reference books.

Students will be able to go into the stacks and get their own books.

A regular documents reference division will be available to students. Working space will be provided in the stacks. Students may stay there until their have the desired information.

How the new extension will affect the librarian and her staff is something that will be determined as soon as the new extension is finished, present building remodeled, and the library system is able to function.
