32 register for School for Administrative Leadership classes at University of Montana

University of Montana--Missoula. Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases

Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases/3180

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Relations at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Montana News Releases, 1928, 1956-present by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.
Thirty-two state and federal employees from throughout the nation—including nine from Montana and two from Alaska—have registered for the first session of the 23rd annual School for Administrative Leadership which gets underway Tuesday, Jan. 2, at the University of Montana, Missoula.

The first session ends Jan. 26. The second S.A.L. session begins Jan. 29 and ends Feb. 23. Students participating in the first session include employees of the U.S. Forest Service, the Bureau of Land Management, National Park Service and the State Fish and Game Department.

Seven UM faculty members will teach the courses offered during the school sessions. Areas covered during the leadership school include public and human relations, national economic policy and public administration, effective writing and community relations.

Classes during the two sessions run from 9-11 a.m. and 1-5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Classes will be in room 206 of the Forestry Building.

Men from Missoula attending the first session include Fred W. Honing, USFS; Joseph C. Zacek, Soil Conservation Service; and Willis J. Heron, State forester.

Other Montanans taking the first session will include John Peters, State Fish & Game, Helena, and USFS employees Edgar V. Brown, Darby; Robert R. Lichlyter, Troy; John S. Uivary, Ashland; and Leonard Hendzel, Sheridan. Arthur D. Sonnenburg, a BLM employee from Billings, also is scheduled to attend the first S.A.L. session.
Alaska representatives will include John Galea, a USFS employee from Seward, and Ernest D. Black, who is with the BLM in Fairbanks.

Other government employees attending the first S.A.L. session which starts Tuesday include several from Idaho—Donald E. Ziwisky, Orofino; Richard A. Ellison, Kooskia; Maynard T. Rost, Elk City; Rollo Brunson and David Lodzinski, both of Idaho Falls; David Rittersbacher, Riggins; Dallard V. Johnson, Sandpoint.

Clarence E. Almen, Colville, Wash., also is slated to attend, as is Donald Pendleton, Portland, Ore.

Maine, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Utah also will be represented during the first administrative leadership session at the University in Missoula.