Color Okayed For Sentinel

Budget and Finance committee last night approved a total of $3,160 for all engravings in the 1956 Sentinel. Editor Dick Hosking, Butte, had asked that an additional $160 be added to last year's figure of $3,000 to provide extra color engravings in the front section.

Hosking said that the main reason for use of additional colors to the front section was that eventually pamphlets using these Sentinel engravings might be printed for circulation to prospective students.

He also said that the number of copies printed next year will rise to 2,000 from this year's 1,800, but added that printing costs probably won't rise noticeably. The present appropriation for printing is $7,500, this sum will not be increased.

Snow Stops Dozer Going to Rescue Stranded Hunters

By UNITED PRESS

A bulldozer was turned back by high drifts yesterday when it tried to cut through tons of snow to rescue scores of hunters marooned in the Rocky Mountains south of Virginia City. Hundreds of hunters went into the area Friday and Saturday for a nine-day special elk season before the snowstorm hit. Many have sent word out by other hunters for help in getting their vehicles out of the snow-drifts.

Last Football Appearance ...

to right are: Cara Boggess, Libby; Ardice Sayre, Great Falls; Bev Phillips, Kalispell; Dick Riddle, Libby; Lynn McCaffery, Butte; Jeri Miller, Cut Bank; Susie and Polly Hodges, Great Falls.

Lodge Ledger

A trip to the planets, a concert guitarist and of course, the big Grizzly-Bobcat game are scheduled within the next week's activities, and that's just a beginner.

Wednesday begins the week with social dancing from 7-9 p.m. in the Yellowstone room and ping pong matches between Theta Chi and Alpha Tau Omega. The Forestry will play Phi Sigma Kappa. Another free movie will be offered this week from 6:30-8 p.m. This movie covers sections of Montana and is produced by the state highway department. Who knows, you may be in it.

Bridge Lessons

Then comes Thursday with enough to make a person wish there were two or three of him. Bridge lessons will be given in the Yellowstone room beginning at 7 o'clock for the beginners and 8 o'clock for the advanced players. There will be a dance in the Grill room with a combo playing from 9-12. Another movie on Montana will be shown from 7-9 p.m. (you may be in this one, too.) and at the University theater starting at 7:30 "Nicholas Nickleby" will be presented. Those ping pong addicts are still at it with South hall vs. Sigma Chi and the Spastics taking on Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Tickets On Sale

The Big Day will be Saturday. The train will leave at 6 a.m. for Bozeman. Tickets are still on sale in the Grill room for $5.94 and $1 for the game. For stay-at-homes there will be a dance in the Grill room.

Women's Night

Monday night will be Women's night from 4-6 p.m., the ladies given free use of game room facilities. Tuesday the Little Concert series presents Rey de la Torre, one of the world's great concert guitarists at 8:15 p.m. in the music auditorium. Dr. Chatland will continue his lectures on the universe with a space trip through the planets at 7:30 in the Planetarium.

Ping Pong Matches

Royaleers will meet from 7-9 and Phi Delta Theta will play Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Nu the Phi Sigma Kappa's in ping pong. And don't forget that Tuesday is the opening night for the Masquers production of "Othello."

ACU Panels Talk Unions

More than 70 students and 25 faculty members from 19 colleges and universities in the Northwest tried to trouble shoot some of the common problems of college unions during last week's Association of College Unions convention at the Lodge.

Panel study groups Friday and Saturday made several suggestions including a general feeling that too many unions are attempting to keep all of the students participating in union programs. They called for a program that would be best-for-the-most.

Panels felt that good facilities in unions and student realization that the union is their responsibility is the solution to minimizing poor conduct in the union.

The problem of students dropping out of committee work was discussed and delegates decided that the planning and enthusiasm of committee chairmen should be as to keep the committee members interested.

The worth of union projects is not wholly measured by the end result, but is also measured by the value of experience the workers gained from the project, delegates said. They added, solutions of problems in student-faculty relations can easily be taken care of by having representatives of these two groups in the governing body of the union.

The relation of the union to other groups, the conference decided, was service in the promotion of general student life activities, rather than a competitor with the various groups.

Traditions Board Chooses Gerson, Gamas, Galvin, Wacker

Traditions board picked three new members at a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Lodge, discussed the presentation of the Grizzly-Bobcat trophy this weekend and made plans for sponsoring a student welcome for the Grizzlies Nov. 13.

According to Bob Gilluly, Traditions board chairman, new members are Walter Gerson, junior Arrangements have been made to make the presentation of the trophy at the dance, Saturday night. Don Lashway, ASMSC president, and Gilluly are in charge of the presentation.

Board members also made tentative plans for sponsoring a big student welcome for the Grizzlies when they return from their game with the University of Arizona Nov. 13.

SPECIAL TRAIN GOES!

The special train is going to Bozeman this Saturday, according to word received at the Kaimin office last night. Over 220 tickets have been sold. The $1 game tickets will be sold to students only.

The special train will be decorated Friday night at the NP depot.

from Big Sandy; Kay Calvin, junior from Miles City; and Warren Gamas, sophomore from Glasgow. Audrey Wacker, freshman from Billings, was appointed a special member to represent the Grizzly Growlers.

Gilluly announced that the Grizzly-Bobcat traveling trophy, purchased by the Student Senate at MSC and last year's Traditions board, will be taken to Bozeman this weekend. Gilluly explained that the team that wins the trophy for three years in the five year span will get to keep it. The Grizzlies were the winners last year.

AWS Outlines Rules for Bozeman Trip

Women planning on going to Bozeman Saturday morning on the train, need not sign out in the Dean's office. However they must sign out in their own living group and if they go by train they must come back by train.

AWS wishes to emphasize the fact that any girls missing the train will be considered late from 1 a.m. on and this time will count toward a campus.

Women traveling to the game by car must have a written invitation from the house mother where they are planning to stay or from a private home. AWS will provide chaperons for the trip.

It was also reported at the AWS meeting that blanks had been distributed to girls wishing to be on AWS committees.

Cheerleaders Will Be Sent To Bozeman

Traditions board will pay part of the expense of cheerleaders attending the Bobcat-Grizzly game, Bob Gilluly, Glasgow, Traditions board chairman, announced Sunday at a banquet for this year's and last year's cheerleaders in the Lodge.

The board voted to help defray the cheerleaders' expenses so that MSU will have a well-led cheering section at the game, Gilluly said.

At the banquet cheerleaders were led in several cheers by members of Traditions board dressed in cheerleaders' uniforms.

Marilyn Shope, Missoula, a cheerleader last year, attended the banquet. This year's cheerleaders attending the banquet are Cara Boggess, Dick Riddle, Libby; Lynn McCaffery, Butte; Bev Phillips, Kalispell; Jeri Miller, Cut Bank; Patti Forzley, Seattle, Wash.; Ardice Sayre, Polly, and Sue Hodges, Great Falls.

Foster Brings MSU Honor Standing

John Foster, Springfield, Ohio, firing the highest individual score, has boosted the MSU chapter team to second in the national Pershing Rifles postal rifle match.

The match was held last spring among teams of PR chapters at 107 universities.

Foster was awarded a medal and the team was presented a certificate of marksmanship at the organization's Wednesday night meeting.

Team members are: Foster; Riley Hutton, Miles City; Harry Hoffman, Ft. Atkinson, Wis.; Ed Foote, Middlebury, Vt.; and Terry Daniels, Palmerton, Pa.

Foster fired his winning score with a .22 caliber rifle at 50 feet.

At the National Rifle association district match in Laurel last March he became national champion for 1954-55 in the sharp-shooter division.

Regulated Enrollment Coming

No student or his family ever pays the full cost of his college education. If he attends a state university the taxpayers of the state foot a good part of the bill.

This fact, long known to presidents and trustees, is underscored by the results of a survey conducted during 1954 by the Council for Financial Aid to Education. The council sorted 753 responding schools into nine categories.

During the five-year period 1948-49 to 1953-54, all nine groups witnessed growing costs of operation.

Montana No Exception . . .

Montana schools fit into this national picture. Northern Montana college is building a new men's dorm with a $460,000 loan from the Home Finance agency. Eastern only last week received the okay for a dorm loan of $290,000 from the government.

Before the end of the quarter MSU will release details of more dormitory construction here. And MSU needs it badly. As this column pointed out last week, recent construction has kept only slightly above the flooding enrollment increases of 10 to 20 per cent a year.

Can MSU continue to put up new buildings? The president says no . . . "We would not have money to operate them, to hire teachers, and purchase supplies and equipment."

If new buildings can't be constructed will the University continue to receive letters like this one dated Sept. 19, 1955?

"As you know I am an alumnus of Montana State University, and I certainly do not appreciate seeing my daughter delegated to a gloomy basement room upon entering the University. It is difficult enough for a young girl, upon leaving home for the first time, to adjust herself to an entirely new way of living without experiencing a psychological reversal at the hands of the authorities. First, we will withdraw her from the University unless an immediate adjustment is made."

No doubt MSU will receive such letters, and lose vital alumni support, unless it squarely faces the expansion alternative — controlled enrollment.

President McFarland last spring said, "Controlled enrollment is coming soon whether we like it or not, and whether we want to think about it or not."

. . . Getting Tougher and Tougher

The Bibler to the right points out one aspect of the problem. Universities everywhere are forced to handle chores that should be the job of high schools. High schools, in turn, can pass some of the responsibility back to grades and kindergartens. The University is going to demand more from entering students. That's what the president means by "tougher, and tougher, and tougher."

Yet it seems to us that the first fences should go up against out-of-state students. Montana taxpayers are the first to pick up the check. Their children should have first consideration.

However it is worked out, the University and the state will have to face the problem soon. Controlled enrollment is on the way.

Dean Castle Has Four Fellowships

MSU graduates may apply for fellowships to four colleges, Dean Gordon B. Castle of the Graduate school announced this week.

Fellowship applications which have been received by the Graduate school are from Harvard university, the University of Denver, Wellesley college, and Mount Holyoke college.

More applications will probably be received later in the year, Dean Castle said.

Students interested in applying for these fellowships may see Dean Castle at the Graduate office for further information.

Religious Week Begins Nov. 17

Religious Emphasis week is scheduled for Nov. 13-17 and will feature ten guest speakers representing nine churches, Janet Fowler, Lewistown, chairman, says. Dr. Deane Ferm, director of the Affiliated School of Religion, is adviser.

Faculty members have returned requests to Miss Fowler for speakers in their classes. Living groups have invited speakers for after-dinner discussions.

Nine seminars are scheduled for all interested students to attend. Problems of a general nature will be discussed.

INVITATIONS GO OUT

Invitations will be sent out this week for the ROTC Sponsor Corps dance, which will be Nov. 9 from 7:30-9:30 in the Lodge. Escorts will be assigned.

Officials To Visit, Interview Seniors

Representatives from Burroughs corporation in Billings, Boeing Airplane company in Seattle, and a federal agency will interview graduating seniors within the next two weeks.

Tomorrow Phil A. Reilly and John O'Shea from Billings will interview students from the business administration school who are interested in a sales career. Technically trained students who want to specialize in cost estimation and analysis will be interviewed next Wednesday by the Seattle representatives.

Representatives from the federal agency will be on campus Nov. 10 and 11 to talk with seniors in secretarial science, journalism, history, modern languages, business administration with accounting, and persons with the master's degree in economics.

Appointments for interviews should be made with Mrs. Leona Peterson in the Placement bureau, Room 208, Main hall.

Steam Valve . . .

November 1, 1955

To Miss Hoff and Mr. Pottle:

Hurrah for the students. For the first time in the three years that I have been here, the students of this school have shown a little consideration for their own and their fellow student's health by staying in out of the rain. We as students are supporting (subsidizing) the team with an exorbitant amount of our hard-earned-by-dollars. Must we also support them with cough-racked, phlegm-choked bodies also?

The students have also shown discriminating taste in their choice of entertainment by staying away from the Gene Autry show in great numbers, and giving their support to the more worthy of the week-end's entertainment offerings, namely the three Shakespearean productions at the local movie houses.

I am sorry Mr. Pottle that you were disappointed. For my part I am elated that the student body has shown so overwhelmingly that it's taste is on a plane higher than many had previously supposed. I trust your successor Mr. Martell will remember this example in planning on student support for future Field House events.

Sincerely,
Richard Fretheim

Daily Northwestern Urges NU to Drop From Big Ten

By UNITED PRESS

The student newspaper at Northwestern university says the school should pull out of Big 10 football. But a university spokesman says the college doesn't have any ideas along that line.

Northwestern has lost six straight this year... the last four to Big 10 teams. The student newspaper says in an editorial that Northwestern is "outclassed athletic-wise by nine state-controlled universities" in the Big 10. But a university spokesman says Northwestern "has given no consideration to withdrawing from the Big 10 and doesn't contemplate doing so."

The United Press has voted Ohio State guard Jim Parker as Midwest lineman of the week for his performance in last Saturday's game against Northwestern. It's the second time Parker has received the honor this season.

Latest figures from the NCAA show Oklahoma leads all major colleges in rushing, but West Virginia grabs off most other honors. The unbeaten and untied Mountaineers lead in scoring, total offense and passing.

The adopted son of the late Clark Griffith has been named to carry on in his step-father's footsteps.

The Washington Nationals' board of directors met yesterday and elected Calvin Griffith president. He had been executive vice-president of the club until his step-father died at the age of 85 last week. Other officers of the club remain unchanged.

In announcing the election of Griffith the directors said they are determined to do everything possible to bring an American League pennant winner at Washington.

The mayor of Charleston, W. Va., says an agreement has been reached with the Detroit Tigers to keep its new farm club in Charleston. The Tigers recently purchased the franchise from owner

Danny Menendez, but a disagreement arose over who would pay to have the playing field put in condition next season. The Tigers wanted the city of Charleston to pay. Now Mayor John Copenhaver says an agreement has been reached whereby the city and the Tigers will share the cost.

The National League's executive council met in Chicago to discuss renewing the contract for manufacturing the loop's official baseball. Pres. Warren Giles says he does not expect any changes in the ball for next season.

Board Changes I-M Point System

The intramural point system has been changed by Intramural Sports board.

"There was not enough spread between the winners and the other teams," said Edward Chinske, director. Only 20 points had separated first place from second in major sports competition.

Under the regulations of the intramural program, the activities are divided into three classifications. They are 1) touch football, basketball, and softball; 2) bowling, swimming, volleyball, track, golf, and tennis; 3) horseshoes, skiing, ping pong, and pool.

The Sports board decided to make the spread 50 points in the first four places for the first group of activities, 35 points for the first four places in the second, and 25 for the first four in the third. Before the revision, the spread was 20 in the first, 10 in the second, and 5 in the third.

A larger penalty was placed on the managers not attending the intramural manager meetings. Chinske felt that to make the program operate smoothly the team managers would have to cooperate better. Under the old system the penalty for missing these meetings was five points subtracted from the team's total. Now 25 points is the penalty.

These changes will go into effect immediately, Chinske said.

Shupe, Hurley Among Leaders In Grizzly Offensive

After seven games this season, Dale Shupe, Norm Kampschror, Terry Hurley, and Don Williamson are leading the Grizzlies in the major offensive departments.

Shupe leads the squad in total yards rushing, kickoff returns, and punt returns. In rushing, Shupe has picked up 265 yards in 53 attempts, for an average of five yards a try. He has returned 10 kickoffs for 240 yards, and eight punts for 122 yards.

With 39 completions in 101 passes attempted, Kampschror remains high in the Skyline in passing offense. His 39 completions have been good for 504 yards and two touchdowns. Kampschror has had six passes intercepted this year, and has completed 38.6 per cent of his passes.

Sophomore end Terry Hurley has caught 20 passes for 295 yards and one touchdown. Pete Rhinehart, who was voted the outstanding lineman in last Saturday's game, is second in the receiving department, with 10 catches good for 159 yards.

Williamson is leading the Silvertips in scoring with five touchdowns and 30 points. He ranks third in two other offensive departments; running nine kickoffs back for 149 yards, and gaining 217 yards rushing.

Basketball Begins; First Game Dec. 3

Varsity basketball practice started yesterday afternoon in the Men's gym, with 11 men turning out for practice. Practice sessions will be held in the old gym until the Field House is ready.

The Grizzlies will practice every afternoon from 4 to 6, and fundamentals will be stressed during the early practices. Coach Forrest Cox said that the Grizzlies plan to move into the Field House some time next week, after the floor is laid and painted.

Players reporting for practice are lettermen Ed Argenbright, Ed Bergquist, Ray Howard, Zip Rhoades, Al Dunham, and Maury Colberg; Bobby Powell, Russ Sheriff, Paul Sullivan, John Peklewsky, and Tom Jensen, a transfer from the University of Indiana.

Montana will open the 1955-56 basketball season against the University of Idaho Dec. 3 in the Field House.

INTRAMURAL RESULTS

Phi Delta Theta defeated Jumbo 21 to 7 in Tuesday's intramural football competition. In other games, Sigma Nu crushed Alpha Tau Omega 19 to 0 and the Foresters won over Sigma Phi Epsilon 20 to 6.

Nursery's No-Cost Tree Program Supplies Half Million Annually

Filling orders for nearly one-half million trees annually is no small task, but it is all part of the job of the forestry school nursery.

Operated as a part of the Montana forest and conservation station under the supervision of Ross Williams, dean of the MSU forestry school, the nursery raises and sells trees to farmers at cost. Not for ornamental plantings, the trees help prevent soil erosion and provide wind breaks to protect farm buildings and livestock.

Donald D. Baldwin, nursery superintendent and supervisor of the school forest at Greenough, said the nursery has 1,216 orders from nearly every county in the state to fill next spring. The orders include 15 species of trees and shrubs and four species of evergreens.

Baldwin said he expects an increase in the one-half million harvest this year and has set a goal of one million trees annually for 1957.

Before they can be shipped to the various county seats, from which they are distributed to individual farmers, the trees have to be pampered and nursed through varying periods of time.

Careful Cultivation

The evergreens, for example, are planted in seed beds, where they remain for two years. Then they are transplanted in row areas where their growth is more rapid. During their early growing period, the young evergreens are irrigated from a system consisting of two wells from which water is pumped at a rate of 900 gallons a minute.

Besides evergreens, the spruce, Douglas fir, pine, and juniper, the nursery also raises and delivers broadleaf trees and shrubs.

Since 1930, when the first records were kept, the forestry nursery has harvested an average of about 350,000 trees a year, making a total of nearly eight million trees delivered to Montana farmers.

Recently the nursery was moved from its old location north of the Field House to a new one to allow for campus expansion. The 200-acre nursery is now situated on Sturgen road about three miles southwest of Missoula.

FTA TO MEET TONIGHT

Students interested in the teaching profession are invited to a meeting of Future Teachers of America tonight at 7:30 in BE210, Secretary Jean Hollingsworth, Hamilton, announced Monday.

A coffee hour honoring the new members will be held after a short business meeting. Students are asked to pay their dues at the meeting.

Foresters Work Toward Collection Of 5,000 Trees

Tree cutting for the annual Foresters' ball continues this weekend in the school forest, according to Dan Daniels, Helmville, chief push of the 1956 ball.

Because of the uncertainty of the weather, Daniels hopes to complete cutting within three weeks. With about 600 man hours required to complete the cutting, Daniels urges all foresters to report with their favorite ax to the forestry school at 8 a.m. Saturday. Transportation to and from the school forest and food will be furnished.

Although they have worked two weekends, most of the nearly 5000 trees needed are still to be cut. Cutting is restricted to the school forest while the foresters await the go-ahead from the Anaconda company and the state before cutting in the Deer creek area.

Besides supplying the trees for decoration of the ball, the cutting is also serving the purpose of thinning down overly dense stands of timber. This year the foresters plan to furnish all campus living groups with Christmas trees.

Jubileers Select Eight Members

Jubileers have chosen eight new members for their specialized musical entertainment group.

They are: sopranos, Patricia Shaffer, Billings; June Patton, Missoula; Helen Raymond, Miles City; alto, Jo Ann Jacobsen, Butte; tenors, Gerald Barker, Helena; Dave Norton, Anaconda; and bass, Byron Christian, Kalispell.

The new singers auditioned and were picked by decisions of Prof. Lloyd Oakland and the Jubileers of last year. In the past the new members have been chosen only by Professor Oakland.

SMOKE CAUSES ALARM

Black smoke billowing up just beyond the Lodge caused some alarm yesterday afternoon. Investigation revealed that workmen were heating a boulder preliminary to removing it from the Lodge parking lot.

School Boards To Meet Here

Members of school boards of Western Montana will meet for their second time this year on campus Saturday. Delegates from 50 schools in seven counties are expected, says Dr. John F. Staehle, associate professor of education.

Consultants for the discussion include J. F. Reid, Glendive, chairman of the State Board of Equalization; Miss Mary M. Condon, state superintendent of public instruction; D. D. Cooper, Helena, executive secretary of MEA; and A. L. Cooper, superintendent of Hamilton schools.

This second conference is being held at the request of the delegates who attended the spring meeting at MSU, Dr. Staehle said.

COMMUNITY CONCERT

RESCHEDULED FOR NOV. 17

Leonard Rose, who was originally scheduled for a Community Concert last night, will appear Nov. 17 at the University theater.

The change in schedule was requested by Community Concerts in order to make it convenient for Rose to appear in Missoula, Prof. John Lester, president of the Missoula Community Concert announced yesterday.

Jan Holling Serves Lutheran Students

A counselor to Lutheran students has been added to the Affiliated School of Religion this quarter. She is Miss Jan Holling, formerly of Richmond, Calif., who will be working with Director D. W. Fern.

Miss Holling received her BA in mathematics, with a minor in psychology, from the University of California at Berkeley in 1948. In 1953 she received an MA in counseling and personnel from the same school.

She participated in the Lutheran Student association of America in 1950 at the European Work Study camp in Salzburg, Austria. In 1950-51, Miss Holling worked for the Lutheran World Federation service to refugees office in Salzburg.

As a parish worker in 1951-52, she lived in Oakland, Calif. Prior to her MSU appointment, she served as counselor for the student service division of the national Lutheran council at Berkeley.

TIME OUT FOR LUCKY DROODLES!

WHAT'S THIS?

For solution, see paragraph below.

EVERY ONE OF THE PEOPLE in the Droodle above (titled: Lucky smokers playing poker) has a good deal. Because they all smoke Luckies, they all enjoy better taste. Luckies taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then that tobacco is toasted to taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. So light up a Lucky yourself. You'll rate it aces high for smoking enjoyment.

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!

COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER LUCKIES!

Luckies lead all other brands, regular or king size, among 36,075 college students questioned coast to coast. The number-one reason: Luckies taste better.
