FOWLER, SHOPE, PERRIOR, COOK VICTORIOUS IN ASMSU ELECTIONS

John Fowler, Missoula, won the ASMSU presidency in a landslide last night, defeating Ron Lundquist, Billings, 807 to 218.

The constitutional amendments narrowly passed with a margin of 22 votes to meet the 40 per cent requirement of 1,061 students voting.

Students named Marilyn Shope, Missoula, vice-president. She defeated Shirley Thomas, Missoula, 571 to 466. Roxie Perrior polled more votes in the general election than she did in the primaries to defeat Norma Beatty, Helena, in the secretarial race. Miss Perrior received 592 votes, while Miss Beatty tallied 423. Bruce Cook, Butte, was named business manager with 417 votes. Kay Blaszek, Missoula, got 297 votes in the business manager contest. The only two candidates to receive write-in votes were in the business manager race. Dick Hosking, Butte, received 148 votes, and George Lambros, Missoula, polled 74.

Store board candidates were not included on either the primary or general election ballot. Seven representatives are chosen and only two turned in petitions.

The general elections brought a close race between the candidates for Central board. Only four votes separated the top three candidates for the sophomore seats on the board. Larry Pettit, Lewistown, received 178 votes; Bill Steinbrenner, Missoula, 175; Audrey Wacker, Billings, 174. Following the winners were Heather McLeod, Helena, 133; Byron Christian, Kalispell, 111; and Rick Benson, Glasgow, 102.

Junior delegates to Central board are Bill Williamson, Box Elder, who tallied 172 votes, and Marcia Brown, Butte, who got 137. Tom Haney, Butte, had 108 votes, and Bill Adams, Park City, 105, in the junior race.

Pat Fox, Hardin, with 128 votes, Dee Scriven, Los Angeles, 120, and Cole McPherson, Missoula, 112, were named senior delegates to CB. Sheila McDorney, Missoula, 103; Walt Gerson, Big Sandy, 101; and Barbara Tascher, Missoula, 98; were also entered in the senior race.

A breakdown of the voting showed a slight improvement over the primary election. A total of 1,025 students cast their vote for the presidential position compared with 788 votes in the primary.

Barely making the requirement of 1,061 votes to be judged, the amendments were passed with 1,083 votes.

MSU Actors In Community Show

George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," now being presented by the Missoula Community theater, is full of MSU talent.

Guy Antti, physical education major, portrays a Russian officer. His wife Gail, who has danced professionally at Chicago's Edgewater Beach hotel, and in New York and Miami, portrays Raina.

Evelyn Seedorf, assistant professor of speech, portrays Catherine Petkoff. Her stage husband, Donald M. Hetler, professor of bacteriology and hygiene, portrays a major in the Bulgarian army.

Bill Nye, who was seen in the MSU Masquers production of "Othello" last autumn, is the chocolate cream soldier. Helen Rocheleau, a former MSU student, portrays Louka.

Nancy Fields O'Connor, wife of Carroll O'Connor, graduate assistant in the speech department and author of the mid-April production "A Seraph Intercedes," is director of the community theater's production.

Oscar Strauss, a German composer of light opera, adapted "Arms and the Man" as a musical comedy called "The Chocolate Soldier" in 1909.

"Arms and the Man" begins at 8:15 nightly through Saturday at Simpkins Little theater. Reservations are being taken daily at the box office and may be taken by telephone.

MSU Choir Gives Concert May 6, 7

Montana State University choir and choral ensembles, directed by Lloyd Oakland, professor of music, will give their annual spring concert Sunday, May 6, and Monday, May 7, at 8:15 p.m. in the Music School auditorium.

The program will be the first appearance of MSU choir members in their new robes, which are brilliant blue with reversible stoles in white and gold.

"To purchase the 80 robes, choir members borrowed funds and are paying for them by rental fees and receipts from concerts," Oakland said.

The concert will feature a performance of Horchel Ciele la Terra, a rarely heard early 18th century work by the Italian composer, Monteverdi. It tells the story of a young soldier on guard duty at night; while filled with fear and rebellion, only the thoughts of his true love give him peace. Mr. and Mrs. Alfredo Cipilato, Missoula, translated the text for Oakland.

C-B Debates Budget Changes, Boycotting Blackfoot Tavern

Central board again temporarily approved the ASMSU budget for the coming year at its regular meeting Wednesday. Final approval will be given this afternoon when old Central board members meet with the incoming officers.

After much lively discussion, the rifle team fund was cut from 1.3 per cent to .9 per cent, while the Activities board budget was increased from .8 per cent to 1.2 per cent. The controversial debate-oratory fund was left at 3.2.

Dr. Ralph McGinnis of the speech department came before the board to plead the debate-oratory cause. The fund had been referred back to Budget-finance last week, with Central board's recommendation to make a cut. McGinnis pointed out that this group competes intellectually with the best colleges in the nation, and even in the world. The growth of the Interscholastic debate program in recent years and the number of trips which students help pay for themselves were also submitted as grounds for more money.

Activities Board Explanation

Activities board reported that they were planning to hold 30 free dances in the new activities room of the Lodge next year. Each dance would cost about $50, and a re-budgeting of funds would be necessary to carry out this program.

It was the general consensus of opinion that the rifle team could best absorb the cut because they could draw extra money from other areas.

In other business, President Gary Jystad asked for opinion on what the student action should be in the recent auto death of Terry Matteucci, especially in regard to the Blackfoot tavern.

Boycott the Blackfoot?

"Should we ask the student body to boycott the Blackfoot, leave the matter to Judicial council, or let the matter slide completely," Jystad asked.

One board member said he would be willing to sign papers that could lead to the closing of the Blackfoot, and others felt that the establishment should be put off-limits to all students. By the same token, any bar outside of the city limits could be off-limits to students, and members felt this would hardly be a solution.

They felt, however, that some sort of action should be taken. "Few students realize just how serious this thing is. We don't want any more recurrences of Saturday night," Jystad said.

Crippen Says 'No Debt' In Athletics

"There is not a debt in the Athletic department. Athletic department had no intention of raising student fees. I, myself, started the idea because the department is expanding and if we students want a winning team, we have to put out more money for it."

This statement by Bruce Crippen, ASMSU business manager, was part of Budget-finance committee's discussion on University athletic fees at the committee's meeting Tuesday.

"The Athletic department will operate over its budget next year, but it won't be a debt," Crippen said. "The budget just isn't balanced."

Crippen said that he, Athletic Director George Dahlberg, and University controller Kirk Badgley had "talked over a plan" for putting athletic allocations on a separate basis from the regular ASMSU budget.

"It stems from the fact," he said, "that we can either go amateur in sports or else realize we are big time and pay that way for our participation in the Skyline conference."

"We were not proposing that students pay all the increase—other groups could help pay the increased expenses, too. The main brunt of the increased expense should be carried by the students though."

"It isn't true that students would be paying off the debt because there isn't any debt. Payment would be for increase in scholarships for players, and also would go into other sports." Skiing, tennis, golf, and swimming teams would benefit from the increase.

Adverse Opinion

Crippen said the plan hasn't been passed because "adverse opinion was falsely started." The plan would have to go to Central board, be put to a student vote, and then approved by the state board of education.

"Some Central board members still feel this isn't a good idea," said Crippen. The plan won't come up this year because it probably would be defeated.

"Surplus from the student store," he said, "does not go to (Continued on page four)"

Camp Opens Tomorrow For Leaders

Campus leaders and faculty advisers leave tomorrow morning for the third annual Leadership camp which lasts until Sunday at the Flathead Lake lodge.

Eleven faculty members and 100 students, including old and new ASMSU officers, newly elected Central board delegates, leaders of living groups, and heads of campus organizations will attend the camp, announced Pris Herget, Peoria, Ill., co-chairman for the camp.

Delegates and faculty advisers meet at the Lodge for breakfast tomorrow morning at 7. They will go through the regular food service line, and eat together in the Yellowstone room.

Delegates will leave at 8:15 in private cars. The Flathead Lake lodge is about 100 miles from Missoula on the east shore of Flathead lake near Bigfork.

The camp's first general meeting will be 11 a.m., lead by the camp's co-chairmen, Bob Gilluly, Glasgow, Kim Forman, Miles City, and Miss Herget.

After lunch another general meeting at 1 p.m. will feature five speeches on "The University in General." After the talks delegates will divide into 11 groups numbering from seven to twelve persons to discuss the points mentioned by the speakers.

At 4 p.m. group discussions will be held on "The Role of the Student." Two questions will be talked over by the groups, "What Am I Doing at the University?" and, "What Should I Be Getting From the University?"

Accident Victims Condition Good

Fred Tilton, Billings, and Joan Waite, also of Billings, remain in good condition following the two-car accident east of Missoula early Sunday morning which took one life.

Tilton still has bi-lateral pneumonia, but he is in "no danger." He is resting "very nicely" and his brain concussion has cleared. Tilton's leg has not been set due to the lung condition.

Miss Waite is doing "very well" and her thigh fracture will be fixed the latter part of next week. It has not been set due to the fact that her spleen was removed earlier this week.

No report was available at press time on the third MSU student injured in the accident, Betty Akerson, Bonner.

Congratulations, But . . .

Congratulations are in order for the new members of student government. But they must now settle down and get to work, forgetting the folderol of the campaign.

Something is wrong with our government or the students wouldn't have the attitude they do toward it. These faults must be corrected immediately, and who is better qualified to do it than the students themselves.

We have an unlimited number of students on campus that are interested in student government but aren't holding down elective offices. This great reservoir can be tapped by setting up a committee to study student government.

This committee can work like a "Little Hoover Commission," looking into our government, then after a specified time prepare a report on it. Making constructive criticism instead of attempting to scandalize student government, this committee would be well worth its while.

Conducting their investigation this group should look into the workings of Central board, Budget-finance, activities board, and the other major committees that have been organized to help our government function properly.

Besides studying the major committees, this body of investigators could and should delve into the smaller committees and see if they are worth having. No doubt there are certain committees we can get along without.

With a new government coming into power there is no better time to take an inventory to see what is missing. It is time for that yearly check-up, and if our government doesn't have it something may die in the near future. There is always room for improvement, and we have plenty of room on this campus. J.G.B.

Camp Opens . . .

sor of sociology, and Dr. Robert T. Turner, dean of the college of arts and sciences, will explain the roles of the faculty and the administration.

The two talks will be followed by buzz sessions in which the delegates will discuss and evaluate the attitude of the student toward the University administration and faculty.

Saturday morning at 9, groups will consider "The Role of the Organization." The groups will discuss jobs and activities of campus organizations and evaluate the merits of organizations.

At 3 p.m. a general meeting on "The Immediate Future of the University" is planned. Dean of Students Andrew C. Cogswell will give a short talk on University policies. He will answer questions asked by delegates on the policies and problems of the University.

Sunday morning at 9:15 Norma Beatty, Helena, Inter-Church council delegate, will conduct interdenominational services. Dr. Frederick T. C. Yu, associate professor of journalism, will summarize the camp's accomplishments in a talk beginning at 10:15 a.m. The camp ends at 11:30 a.m.

Miss Herget announced delegates do not need to bring any dress clothes to the camp. All sessions are strictly informal, she said.

Relay Race Saves Grizzly Cindermen As Aggies Are Tripped 69-62 In Logan

The mile relay proved to be the margin of victory as the MSU tracksters ran to a close 69-62 victory over the Aggies of Utah State in Logan Tuesday.

Although the Aggies won nine of 15 first places, the Grizzlies had too much depth in winning their second dual meet of the season. Montana swept three events, the 440, and the high and low hurdles.

Winning marks hung up by Silvertip cindermen in the meet which was run on a soggy track were: Dale Shupe, 440 in 49.7 seconds; Dick Lindsay, high hurdles in 15.1 and lows in 24.9; Ron Lundquist, javelin throw with a home of 207 feet 11 inches; and Tom Roe, six feet one inch in the high jump.

The relay team, composed of Don Williamson, Shupe, Jim Rowland, and Paul Sullivan, sped to victory in the mile in 3:23.3, the fastest recorded by them this season.

Other Montana point winners were: Capt. Walt Lonner, second in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and second in the broad jump; Rowland and Williamson, second and third respectively in the 440; Mayo Ashley, third in the half mile; Hank Mohland, second in the high hurdles and third in the discus; Roger Wolter, third in the high and low hurdles; Dan Magstadt, third in the mile; Al Bradshaw, second in the two mile; Jim Black, second, and George Knee, third in the shotput; Ed Sheperd, tied for third in the high jump; Lloyd Boozer, tie for second in the pole vault; and Bill Beaulieu, third in the broad jump.

Dukes, Cosairs Lead B League; Tennis, Horseshoe Matches Continue

The Dukes knocked the Robots out of a first place tie in the B league, 6-3, in the highlight of Tuesday's intramural softball competition. The victory enabled the Dukes to move into a first-place tie with the Corsairs, each with a 4-0 record.

Highlander moved into fourth place alone after they squeaked by Sigma Phi Epsilon. Highlander had only eight players. In other action Tuesday, Law and Jumbolaya remained unbeaten in the A league as Law edged Sigma Nu, 8-6, and Jumbolaya trounced Jumbo Hall, 16-5.

Today's Slate

In games today, Fort Falcons meet Highlander at 4 p.m. on field one. Also at the same time on field two, Theta Chi will try to break into the win column against Sigma Phi Epsilon. At 5:30 on field one, Sigma Alpha Epsilon will also be out for its first win against fourth-place Sigma Nu. On field two, Law will attempt to keep its record unblemished when it meets Phi Sigma Kappa. The Phi Sigs have a 2-2 record.

Tennis

In other intramural activity Tuesday, Sigma Nu took Sigma Chi in straight tennis sets, 6-1, 6-1. The only other singles match played Tuesday saw Phi Delta Theta defeat Forestry.

Only one double's match was played. In that match, Elrod hall knocked over Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 6-1, 10-8. The tournament is a single elimination event and should end later this week, weather permitting.

Horseshoes

Intramural director Ed Chinske yesterday urged participants in the intramural horseshoe tournament to play their matches on scheduled dates. Several matches have not been played according to the schedule and the tournament is being delayed because of the unplayed matches.

Grizzly Line-up Takes Shape For Alumni Game

With one-half of the 20 drills allowed under Skyline conference rules already history, the Grizzly line-up for the May 14 alumni game is beginning to take shape.

Saturday's scrimmage saw hard hitting and aggressiveness, but Coach Jerry Williams admitted the Silvertips need a lot of work on play execution.

Injuries have plagued the grid-ders this spring, sidelining three men for the remainder of the sessions. Halfback Ron Rivera, Jerry Johnson, end, and Sam Jankovich, guard, are definitely out for last half of the training sessions. Temporarily sidelined and doubtful starters in the spring game are Co-capt. Bill Kaiserman, halfback; Bob Butorovich, tackle; John Dixon, tackle; Gary Kennedy, tackle; and Will Hochhalter, halfback.

Maxwell, Soprano To Sing Tuesday

Muriel Maxwell, mezzo-soprano who received her M.A. at Montana State University a year ago, will give a recital in the recital and chamber music series at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the recital hall.

Ruth Rotondi will accompany her at the piano, assisted by Florence Reynolds, assistant professor of music, cello, and Rudolph Wendt, professor of music, piano.

The program will consist of songs by Donaudy, Donizetti, Chanler, Ives, Faure, Boccherini and songs of the Auvergne arranged by Cantaloube.

Mrs. Maxwell, winner of the Hollywood bowl radio audition in 1949, has been engaged for four seasons as one of the principals for the Rodgers-Hammerstein night at Hollywood bowl.

She has been soloist with the Los Angeles philharmonic orchestra, the Portland symphony, the California women's symphony and for three seasons soloist at the Carmel Bach festival.

Utahan to Speak At Bus-Ad Dinner

The annual business administration banquet, May 17, will feature George M. Gadsby, chairman of the board of Utah Power and Light company, as guest speaker.

Mr. Gadsby has been associated with the public utility industry for more than 45 years, and has been termed an "ardent champion of the free enterprise system."

Theodore H. Smith, dean of the business administration school, said the purpose of the banquet is to meet old friends and encourage youth. The banquet will be in the Lodge at 7 p.m. and reservations are needed from those who will attend.

Mrs. Gadsby is an active participant in national utility groups studying the application of nuclear power for industrial purposes. He served as president of Edison Electric, the industry's largest and oldest trade association, and presently serves on its advisory committee.

Mr. Gadsby is a past director of the National Association of Manufacturers, a trustee for the Committee on Economic Development, and a member of the national Industrial Conference board.

the athletic department. During the last three or four years, Athletic department has not received anything from the student store."

Activities Need More

The committee also discussed an appeal from Activities board for 1.2 per cent of the student budget instead of the temporarily approved .8 per cent that B-F members allotted.

Budget-Finance members proposed that Activities board readjust its budget so that Dance committee expense will total $2,000, decreasing the surplus of Activities board by $400. If any excess is needed, Activities board would get it from the general fund.

Mary Ellen Erickson, ASMSU vice president and chairman of Activities board, said the reason the committee asked for the increase is because Dance committee would like to present free dances with "live music" in coordination with the new room in the basement of the Grill.

Activities board would also like to publish a booklet that will explain the Lodge program for the coming year.
