Miller Blasts Olson, Condon On Oil; Criticizes Federal Aid

By GENELL JACKSON

Policies of two state officials, including federal aid to education, misuse of oil money, and educational standards in Montana, were just a few of the issues Harriet Miller, associate dean of students and Republican candidate for state superintendent of schools, commented on Thursday. The two officials whose policies were under fire were Arnold Olson, attorney general, and Mary Condon, present superintendent of public instruction.

"Principle should be put above politics in a job such as superintendent of schools," Miss Miller said. "This is sadly lacking now."

Oil Funds Issue

Commenting on the oil funds issue, Miss Miller said, "There is no oil issue. It is more a matter of public officials carrying out the responsibility placed upon them."

"Arnold Olson and Mary Condon, like any citizen, may make a constructive effort to see that the law is changed, but they, as public officials, have an obligation to obey the law."

"You see, therefore, that the real issue lies in political ambition, and through political ambition, millions of dollars have been lost. There is no use arguing about the money already lost, but Montana schools need all the money they are legitimately entitled to."

Along this same line, Miss Miller felt that Montanans, other than a few rabid Democrats, do not want any more Federal aid to education.

"We must not make the mistake of assuming that we can have Federal aid without Federal control," Miss Miller explained. "I believe that Montanans, with a heritage of rugged individualism, want to solve the present education problems without outside interference."

"And Federal aid is not a free handout. The money has to come from somewhere, and certainly no one wants higher Federal taxes."

Miss Miller, during her campaign travels in Montana, found that the people so opposed to Federal aid, however, favored making the maximum use of the oil money.

"This has been made a political issue by the present attorney general and state superintendent," Miss Miller commented, and in an area where politics should have no role.

"All parents—be they Republicans, Democrats, or independents—send their children to school. One of the main reasons I am running for this office is that I don't feel anyone has the right to play politics with the future of Montana children."

"Personal political ambitions can ruin a state school system... we can't afford to have out schools damaged needlessly."

Miss Miller felt that Montana should start making extensive studies into plans utilized by other states.

High Standards

"I believe in high educational standards, but Montana should be more positive in its approach. We haven't been forward enough in our views on education."

"For example, why not study the visiting lecturer type of teaching for our high schools. It has been effective on the college level, and I think it should be investigated as a solution for some of our high school problems."

Consolidation of Schools

In regard to consolidation of schools, Miss Miller also felt this is something that deserves careful analysis.

"The biggest school is not always the best school," she said. "Adequate buildings are important, but the quality of instruction is more important."

"If the people are willing to pay for their school, that's their business, I firmly believe in local control."

The bulk of Miss Miller's campaigning will come this summer, although she has made several trips around the state since her announcement of intention to run earlier this year.

She has been a member of the Montana State University staff since 1950, and her educational background includes a bachelors degree from Whitman college, Walla Walla, Wash.; a master of arts degree from the University of Pennsylvania, and further work at Montana State University.

Navy Material Stolen Here From Lodge

The $40 Navy crash helmet and a test for color blindness, which were stolen from the recruiting desk in the Lodge Wednesday, were returned last night, according to Andrew C. Cogswell, dean of students.

It had been announced Thursday that if the articles were returned to the Lodge or the Navy recruiting office immediately, the issue would be remanded as a 'prank. If the material hadn't been returned when it was, the theft may have been looked at in the light of what it really was—theft of federal government property, said Cogswell.

Dean Cogswell said it is bad enough to have to explain to visitors why $500 worth of windows are broken in a student facility such as the Lodge, "without having to submit them to petty larceny as well."

"Incidentally," said Dean Cogswell, "it probably will be six months before we can get the glass to replace those windows. Maybe the Publicity-Travel committee, which did such a wonderful job on the Career day program, can dream up an explanation of this vandalism for track-meet visitors next week. I'm sure I can't."

The Lodge budget for next year could surely use the "wasted $500." It might have even helped get that name band "we've been talking about."

Wilson Named SCA Head

Charles Wilson, Helena, was named president of SCA at the recent elections of officers for the coming year. JoAnn Jacobson, Butte, was named vice-president; Dale Johnson, Billings, secretary; and Ron Peterson, Butte, treasurer.

Wilson and Jacobson were named after resignations of Sue Beckwith, Great Falls, who had been chosen president in earlier balloting, and of Carol Howard, Shelby, who had been named vice-president.

Chairmen for the several SCA commissions were chosen. They are: Christian Faith, Jim Beadle, Red Lodge; campus affairs, Audra Browman, Missoula; retreat center project, Harold Poppe, Butte; effective citizenship, Jim Walker, Butte; world affairs, Roger Baty, Bozeman.

Chairmen for the committees are: freshman committee, Les Parker, San Diego, Calif.; publicity committee, John Gesell, Chinook; membership committee, Sheila McDorney, Missoula, and Jaquelyn Greenough, Butte.

The Rev. George Bevers, Christian church, and Dean Castle, dean of the Graduate school, form the new advisory board.

Council Talks to Lawyers; Plans Bartender Complaint

By GENELL JACKSON

Judicial council is experiencing its first legal battle today. Dave Burton, chairman of the newly formed Council, will sign a complaint against a bartender at the Blackfoot Tavern charging that minors were served liquor at that establishment April 28.

Decision for such action came following a two-hour meeting with Missoula County Attorney Jay Kurtz and an attorney from the State Liquor Control board Tuesday. The complaint in all probability will be filed with the county attorney some time this morning, Burton said.

Handled By State

Action for closing the Blackfoot will not be handled by local authorities, but will have to come from the state liquor board, Burton said.

Evidence has been collected by the Council and the dean of students office following a serious auto accident in which one University student was killed and three others injured. Several students have consented to testify that they were served liquor at the Blackfoot Tavern the night of April 28. None of the students that will testify were in the accident, Burton added.

The Council chairman emphasized sized that the charges are being levied against the bartender for his neglect by serving the students.

Burton Offers Praise

"This entire action has shown a terrific amount of co-operation among the administration, Judicial council, the students, county officials, and the state liquor board," Burton said.

"It is gratifying to note the students willingness to act on their own to prevent further tragedy," he said. "But it is also a good opportunity for the city of Missoula to co-operate by enforcing the liquor laws."

"The city will also be benefited in other areas as this action will help curb all teen age drinking, be it University students, high school students, or any other minor living here."

McEvoy Accepts Minneapolis Bank Job for Summer

Assistant Prof. Raymond H. McEvoy of the economics department has accepted a summer appointment with the research department of the Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis. While with the Federal Reserve bank, Dr. McEvoy will study commercial and industrial loans of banks in the Minneapolis district, of which Montana is a part. He will prepare a research report on his study.

Money and banking is Dr. McEvoy's field of special interest. Before coming to MSU at the beginning of this school year he was head of the Current Developments unit of the Research division of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation in Washington, D.C.

The Federal Deposit Insurance corporation is a government agency which protects bank depositors against losses due to bank failures. While employed there, Dr. McEvoy was responsible for preparation of annual reports of the corporation to Congress, and also conducted a number of banking studies similar to that which he will do for the Federal Reserve bank.

Don Vollstedt Gets Fulbright

Don A. Vollstedt, instructor in music, has received a Fulbright scholarship to study at the Music academy in Frankfurt, Germany. Vollstedt came to MSU in January to teach organ.

He received his BA at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., where he studied with LaVahn Maesch, director of the conservatory, who designed the organ in the MSU Recital hall.

Vollstedt received his Master of Sacred Music degree at Union Theological seminary, New York City, where he studied with the concert organist, Dr. Robert Baker, who is organist and choir-master of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church and organist at Temple Emanu-El.

Vollstedt won fourth place in the 1954 national contest of the American Guild of Organists. He has been organist at Zion Lutheran church, Appleton, Wis., and organist and choir-master at the North Baptist church, Port Chester, N.Y.

852 Non-Track Entrants to Attend 50th Annual Interscholastic Meet

Non-track events for the 50th annual Interscholastic, May 18-19, have attracted 852 contestants from 61 Montana high schools, according to Charles F. Hertler, Interscholastic committee chairman.

The contestants are entered in speech, little theater, golf, and tennis competition. Monday was the deadline for entering these events. All contestants in track and field events will not be determined until this week end.

Divisional Meets

To enter track and field competition this year, an athlete must first qualify at one of 14 divisional meets. Six divisional meets were held last week end, and the rest are this week end.

The top five men in each of the 13 track and field events and the three winning relay teams at each divisional meet qualify for the Interscholastic. Separate divisionals are held for class AA, A, B, and C high schools.

Speech attracted 259 entrants in three classes of competition. Interscholastic declamation entries total 161 persons from 37 schools. In extemporaneous speaking, 37 contestants from 18 schools are entered. Debate attracted 61 entries from 20 schools.

The Montana Interscholastic Editorial association's annual journalism meeting will include 142 students from 23 high schools.

Tennis entries include 94 persons entered in the boy's and girl's divisions from 15 schools. Eighty-three boys and girls from 17 schools have entered golf. A new addition to this year's meet, Interscholastic team golf, attracted nine four-man squads.

Lodge Is Headquarters

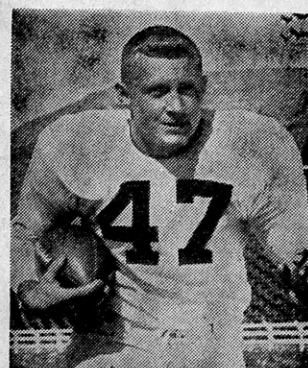

Contestants will register at Interscholastic headquarters in the Lodge. They will be assigned housing at that time. Dormitories and sororities will house the majority of the contestants. Reservations have been made at motels for the rest.

Ticket sales under the sponsorship of the Knights of the Sports Roundtable are under way, Hertler said. Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, is covering the business district.

Ticket Prices

All tickets to the track meet will be general admission. The admission Friday will be 50 cents for students and $1 for adults. Saturday, tickets are 75 cents for University and high school students, 50 cents for grade school students, and $1.25 for adults.

Gridiron Gladiators . . .

Doug Dasinger (left), along with Murdo Campbell will be co-coaches of the alumni when they meet the Grizzlies Monday night on the football field. Bill Kaiserman (right) co-captains the varsity along with Bob McGihon.

"We hope to provide the Grizzlies with an interesting evening," Campbell and Dasinger said. "With Imer, Hickey, and Brant in our backfield we will have plenty of spirit and football know-how to counteract the fine conditioned Grizzly squad."

Game time is 8 p.m., and students will not be admitted on their activity card. Students tickets are 50 cents. (See story on page 5.)

A Light in the Dark

Judicial council is meeting its first big test. How it will stand up to the situation only time will tell. The question is, have they bitten off more than they can chew?

The Council is attempting to close the Blackfoot Tavern, accusing them of serving minors. Several times in the past taverns in Missoula county have been closed for a period of time because of selling liquor to minors. But, this is the first time a complaint has been initiated by a University organization.

Setting an Example

According to Judicial council they are striving to set an example in this case. If they can close the Blackfoot for any length of time the Council feels it will make students who are under age think a little more before going into a bar.

Certain students have said they will sign affidavits saying in effect they were served at the Blackfoot. This is what the Council is using in presenting its case.

Law Enforcement Needed

It has been said that University drinking problems would be solved if they could get proper law enforcement out of Missoula county officials for two years. During this time students would become exposed to the recreational facilities on campus and would eventually turn to them for week-end entertainment.

Whether or not you agree with what Judicial council is doing it must be commended for its actions. During the past weeks cries of apathy in student government have been heard. Now an organization is doing something to curb that apathy.

Judicial council is sincere in its actions. They are not doing this for glory, but for the betterment of the University. Their example should be a guiding light for other student government groups.—J.G.B.

Girls Walked A Mile From J. Paul Sheedy* Till
Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"Done anything tonight honey?" Sheedy asked his little desert flower. "Get lost!" she sneaked, "Your hair's too shaggy, Sheedy. Confidentially it's sphinx!" Well, this was really insultant. So J. Paul got some Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he's the picture of confidence because he knows his hair looks handsome and healthy the way Nature intended... neat but not greasy. Take Sheedy's advice. If you want to be popular, get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Nomad-der if your hair is straight or curly, thick or thin, a few drops of Wildroot Cream-Oil every morning will keep you looking your best. Sig-Alph Olympics Set for Tomorrow At Clover Bowl

Teams from all women's living groups will meet on the Clover Bowl tomorrow morning at 9:30 for the Sig Alph Olympics, sponsored by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

John Powell, Calgary, Alta., Olympic chairman, said last year was the first time the event was held, and it was so successful that the fraternity decided to make it an annual affair.

The girl's teams will compete in a potato sack race, egg throw, football punt, chariot race, tug-of-war, three-legged race, and a pie-eating contest. A traveling trophy will be given to the living group whose team scores the most points. If the same team wins the trophy three years, it is awarded permanent possession. The Delta Gamma sorority won the trophy last year.

Powell said that if the Olympics go off as they did last year, they should prove very interesting, if not hilarious. "The men, especially, get a bang out of watching the girls in action," he said.

Female Intruder At Law House Frets Authorities

University authorities found out about Sheba who sleeps at the Law House—and ordered her Tuesday to clear out.

"We'll get up a petition to keep her with us," vowed a lawyer after the eviction notice was served on his female friend. "This place needs a woman's touch," protested another.

A committee was promptly organized to handle the defense and the lawyers pondered their law books far into the night to find a legal remedy for the young lady.

"We like to have her sleeping here," explained one of the Law house residents. "She's really friendly and she's all in favor of petting."

While the controversy raged about her, the young lady remained calm and composed upon an oriental rug in the library.

Named Sheba, she is a tan-and-white cocker spaniel with a button nose and a worldly expression.

"I've been thrown out of much better joints than this," she commented, with a disdainful toss of her floppy ears. "And besides, the table scraps are lousy."

"These poor guys around here have to study so much they've hardly got time to scratch my ear. They really lead a dog's life in this place. Look at all these books around here. I feel more like a library lion than a cocker spaniel."

Sheba, however, was indignant about being ordered out of the Law House. "You'd think I wasn't even housebroken."

It was not clear just what University rule has been violated. Dave Burton, chairman of Judicial council, declared, "The new drinking regulations don't seem to cover this case."

Barbara Knight Is Independent Chief

Barbara Knight, Billings, is 1956-57 president of the Independent Students' organization. Other officers are: vice president and social chairman, Donna Davis, Missoula; business manager, Dale Johnson, Billings; and secretary, Donna Johnston, Missoula.

At regular meetings, Independents have been conducting evaluations in conjunction with their effort to define the needs and achievements of the non-affiliated students at MSU.

A committee to prepare a statement of purposes for the organization was named by Miss Knight. The group also plans to participate in Interscholastic activities, and is making Orientation week plans for next fall.

MSU Foresters Take Top Spot In AWFC Meet

An MSU victory in the woods-manship contest, a topping exhibition, and the addition of a new member school highlighted this year's Association of Western Forestry clubs conclave.

About 100 spectators braved a gloomy Saturday morning to watch MSU foresters sweep most of the contests, scoring about twice as many points as their nearest competitor.

The team from Washington State college dominated the birling events with some of the finest birlers ever to compete at an AWFC conclave. About 50 students from nine colleges entered the competition.

Foresters were disappointed in not seeing the demonstration smoke jump, scheduled to take place during their tour of the fire depot, but it was canceled because of unfavorable weather. The foresters were treated to a topping exhibition by Ray Scheniek of Oregon university.

A new member of AWFC is Boise Junior college.

Saturday's contests, held at the Lubrecht experimental forest, gave MSU a chance to regain the traveling trophy which it lost to Colorado university last year.

The traditional signing of the apron halted activities until next year's conclave at the University of Washington.

Sophomore Grant Applications Due

AWS Cheadle - McKinley Memorial scholarship applications are due May 21.

This scholarship is granted to a woman who now is a sophomore, on basis of scholarship, need, and her activities on campus. It is worth $50, and the applicant should have a 2.5 average. Girls make out their own applications with lists of their activities, grade averages, and why they believe they should be awarded such a scholarship.

This award was established in 1955 in memory of Jane Cheadle and Marlene McKinley, outstanding MSU students, each of whom died in the last five years. The winner is chosen by a committee which includes associate dean of women, a faculty member, president of AWS, and a delegate of the AWS executive board.

AF Recruiter To Visit May 14

Men and women who will be finishing school this spring or who may be unable to return next fall should consider the opportunities offered by the Air Force in its aviation cadet and WAF officer candidate programs, says Staff Sergeant Marcus A. Burget of the Air Force recruiting service. Sgt. Burget will be in the university lounge May 14 and 15 to interview anyone interested in the program.

Sergeant Burget says an urgent need still exists for both pilots and observers, and for qualified women in Air Force OCS.

A high school graduate is eligible to apply for aviation cadets, but two years of college are required of women applying for the WAF OCS program.

Men applying for aviation cadets will take preliminary mental and physical examinations at the armed forces examining station in Butte and Malmstrom Air Force base in Great Falls. Women applying for WAF OCS will take examinations at the armed forces examining station in Spokane.

Diettert, Four Students Attend Science Meet

Dr. R. A. Diettert, botany professor and director of the Montana science fair held here during spring vacation, and four young Montana scientists are attending National Science fair in Oklahoma City, May 10-12.

Dr. Diettert and a former student of his, William Barry, director of the Butte regional fair and biology teacher at Butte Public high school, left earlier this week. Students are Gail Lee Owen, Missoula County high school, and Sandra Lee Orr, Park County high school, winners of the state contest, and James A. Rowe, Butte Public high school, and Catherine Connell, Butte Girls' Central high school, winners of the regional fair at Butte.

This is the first time that Montana has sent winners directly to the national fair, Dr. Diettert explained. Formerly, Montana students had to enter their exhibits in the Inland Empire Science fair in Spokane to compete for national recognition. Last year, Everett O'Hare, Kalispell, won first place at the Spokane tourney and took his exhibit to the National fair in Cleveland, Ohio.

THREE-SPORT CIRCUS SCHEDULED

Adams' Men Face Utah Tomorrow

Coach Harry Adams' tracksters go after their third dual meet win of the season when they meet the Utah Redskins tomorrow on Dornblaser Field.

The meet is being held concurrently with the high school western division elimination meet to determine qualifiers for the Interscholastic, May 18-19. Missoula, which Wednesday dominated the Helena Relays with 10 firsts, Great Falls, Flathead, Butte Central, and Anaconda tangle in the high school meet starting at 12:30. The college meet gets underway at 1:30 with four field events.

By comparative scores, the Utah-Montana meet looks fairly close, but Adams charges have been hampered by inclement weather and injuries during the past week.

"If we get lucky, the meet could be fairly close. On the other hand, it could go badly against us," Adams said of Silvertip chances to break the five-year jinx the Utes have held over the Grizzlies on the cinders.

Four of the five Redskin wins have been by an average of only five points. Last year, the 'Skins took Montana into camp, 71-60, at Salt Lake City.

BYU Tops

Both Montana and Utah have lost dual meets to defending Skyline champion Brigham Young earlier this season, the Utes losing 97-34, while the Silvertip squad was humiliated 92-39 by the Cougars.

Top Utah cindermen include Cal Clark, who is the second best high jumper in the nation this spring, having twice cleared six feet, eight inches; Neil Schmitt, freshman pole valuter, who has gone 13 feet, six inches; hurdler Mike Moore, who has posted a 14.9 high hurdles mark; Bruce Johnson, miler; and Jack Carmen, weightman.

Coach Adams said he expects the Dornblaser Field high jump mark to fall with Clark's first jump, and if Grizzly Ron Lundquist is in form, he could conceivably break his own University record set in the Bobcat meet earlier this spring.

Second Place

The outcome of the meet, which will decide second place in the western division cinder standings and is the last meet before the

Today . . . Grizzlies Will Attempt to Untie Second Place Knot With BYU

With second place in the Skyline western division at stake, the Grizzly baseball nine takes the field against the Brigham Young Cougars, for the third time, today at 1:30 in the first game of a day-night double-header.

The second game is slated to start at 7:15 at Campbell park.

Earlier this season, the Grizzlies split a twinbill at Provo with the Cougars, Montana winning the opener, 6-5, behind the seven-hit pitching of Glenn Biehl, and dropping the nightcap, 5-3, in a pitcher's duel in which Cougar Skousen hurled a nifty two-hitter.

Tie

The Silvertips and BYU are knotted in a second-place tie at three wins and five losses each behind the high-riding Utah Redskins, who have virtually cinched the division crown with eight wins and two defeats, both at the hands of the Grizzlies. The Redskins swept two games from Brigham Young at Provo the past week, 9-5 and 6-2. The Cougar series winds up conference play for Montana, which has six non-conference contests left, two with Gonzaga and four with Montana State.

BYU mentor Wayne Tucker, in his first year as head Cougar baseball coach, invades the Grizzly lair with eight returning lettermen from last year's squad, which compiled an over-all team batting average of .307. Returning lettermen who helped beat the Silvertips three out of four in 1955 are Phil Oyler, left field; Gary LaComb, third base; Dave Lewis, right field; and Tom Stienke, shortstop. LaComb and Lewis wielded the big bats in the Cougar victory at Provo.

Poor hitting and fielding are the biggest problems facing this year's Cougar squad. A potentially strong club at the plate, the team division met in Salt Lake next week, will likely hinge on how well Montana hurdlers and broad jumpers perform. Hank Mohland, Grizzly hope in the high hurdles, has a back injury and is still a question mark. Adams said it is highly improbable that Mohland will be able to compete in the discus throw Saturday.

In the distance runs, it appears to be all Utah, with little chance for a Silvertip first in any event over the 440, where Montana is strong with Dale Shupe, Jim Rowland, Paul Sullivan, and Bill Williamson.

batting average has dipped to .228 paced by LaComb, .346 and Lewis, .321. Lynn Jones, a pitcher, who has appeared in only four of the Cat's ten games, is hitting a fat .429.

In eight conference games the Cougars have committed 26 errors in compiling a mediocre .914 fielding average.

The Silvertips lead the western division in both the hitting and fielding departments, with very respectable averages of .299 and .960, respectively.

Pitchers Blen Biehl (2-1) and Paul Caine (1-2) are Coach Hal Sherbeck's choices as starting pitchers with Biehl taking the mound in the opener and Caine getting the nod in the nightcap.

The remainder of the starting line-up will include: Bobby Hendricks, 3b; Lynn Colvert, 2b; Jerry Daley, ss; Capt. Sam Pottenger, 1b; Reed Smith, cf; Keith Peterson, lf; Frank Koesis, rf; and either Jerry Walker or Lee Boffo handling the catching chores.

Sherbeck said the squad has worked out every day this week despite poor weather conditions, but expressed concern over the two-week Grizzly lay-off from competition due to cancellation of the Utah State games last week.

'Tip-Alumni Fray Set for Monday

Although the 1956 football season won't get underway for another four or five months, grid-iron fans are assured of one of the most sparkling football clashes of the year Monday night at 8 p.m. when the Grizzlies play the Alumni.

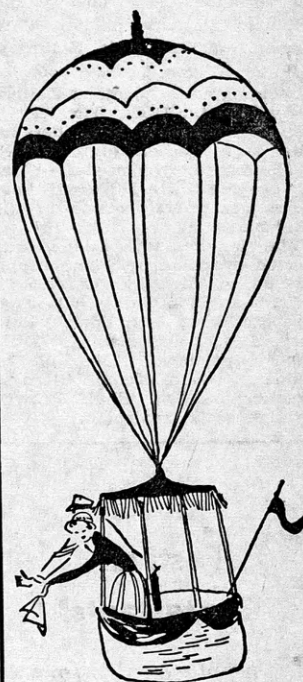

The Grizzlie, who will be trying to avenge the 25-0 defeat handed them last year by the Alumni, will be underdogs, says Coach Jerry Williams. Williams said yesterday that he has eleven boys who are on the injury list. Then Grizzly head coach said he will not name his starting lineup until Saturday or Sunday.

On the other side of the fence, the Alumni will be loaded for bear—grizzly bear, this is. The All-Stars have such past stars as the "Little Penguin," Dick Imer, who in 1954 set a Skyline rushing record. They also have such speedsters as Ed Hickey, former speedy and shifty halfback for the University of Michigan. Don Brant, who has run the 100 in 9.5 and was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles this year, will add more speed to the Alumni backfield.

Doug Dasinger and Murdo Campbell will captain the Alumni, and Bill Kaiserman and Bob McGihon will be co-captains for the Grizzlies.

Greeks to Dance and Swim Saturday

By JAYNE WALSH

Three sororities, Delta Gamma's, Kappa Alpha Theta's, and Alpha Phi's, are holding their spring functions this Saturday. Taking off for an afternoon of swimming and a picnic at Gallogley will be the DG's. The Theta's will dance to the Serenaders at their spring formal dinner dance in the Bitterroot room of the Florence, while the A Phi's will hold theirs at the Montmartre in the Missoula hotel.

Jim Beadle, Red Lodge, was elected president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon last Monday. Other SAE officers are Bob Gilluly, Glasgow, vice president; John Powell, Calgary, Alta., house manager; Dick Barney, Geneva, Ill., pledge trainer; Gerald Kemp, Billings, recorder; and Ron "Chub" Brown, Billings, social chairman.

New Sigma Chi actives are Ken Leuthold, Molt; Jerry Johnson, Lewistown; Byron Schatz, Newton Simmons, and Ron Garton, Billings; Edward Gron, Chicago; Bill Stinchfield, Dutton; Carl Yeckel, Ennis; and Monte Duncan, Dillon. New Synadelphic member is Doris Wonder Fitz-Henry, Jeffers.

Houses Honor Mothers

Most of the houses are having teas or open houses for mothers Sunday. The Turner hall housemothers, Mrs. H. E. Rimel and Miss Winnie Dinn, entertained their girls at a tea yesterday to honor new and old officers.

Other recent Turner hall functions are the spring dinner dance at the Florence and the spring birthday dinner last Wednesday. The Theta Chi's had an exchange dinner with the Kappa's this same Wednesday.

Marjorie Laidlaw, ex-'57, Cardston, Alta., is planning to be married next Tuesday to Dexter Delaney, graduate, Missoula. Janet Tierney '56, a DG from Butte, received a diamond from Jess Daniels '57, Houston, Texas. Paul Snyder '57, Malta, gave his Sigma Nu pin to Shirley Richmond '58, Ekalaka.

Phi Delt's Break Tradition

The Phi Delta Theta's are going to break their tradition this year at the "I-Ball" by crowning a queen. The candidates do not know who they are, but will be invited to attend as dates.

Since Spokane and Helena canceled their engagements with Freddie Martin, the band leader canceled his booking for the Phi Delt's dance. Instead, Charlie Barnett and his orchestra will fly up from California for the ball. Seven girls were serenaded last Monday night by three fraternities. Cherie Fey '58, Theta, who is pinned to Jim Koke '59, also of Shelby, was given a SX serenade. An Alpha Phi, Carol Ott-house '59, Valier, heard the Sigma Chi's. She is pinned to Bob Palin '58, from her hometown.

SAE serenade at Corbin was for Blanche Peterson '59, of Columbus, who is pinned to Robert Colness '59, Red Lodge. Tri-Delt Shirlee Moran '56, Philipsburg, also received an SAE serenade. She is pinned to Dick Barney '57, Geneva, Ill.

Sigma Nu's Serenade

The Sigma Nu's sang to Nancy Shelton '57, Whitefish at the DG house. She is pinned to Jim Abbenhaus '56, Rapid City, S.D. Another girl hearing the SN's was Kappa Barbara Eastlick '58, of Molt, who is pinned to Don Swerdfeger '56, Ft. Benton.

The last Sigma Nu serenade that night was at Turner hall for Mary Fay Wickersham '56, Miles City. She is wearing the pin of Jim Black '57, Ravalli.

Recently held Sigma Chi functions include a picnic with the Alpha Phi's last week, and one last night with the Theta's, and a fireside held jointly with the SAE's last Saturday. The Theta Chi's will hold their fireside tonight.

SAE roses were presented Monday night to new sorority initiates, as well as housemothers, presidents, and girls pinned to SAE's. Last weekend found 11 Sigma Chi members at the state convention in Butte.

Newman Songfest To Be May 17

The annual Song festival for Interscholastic week will begin at 7 p.m. May 18 on the oval, following a barbecue given for high school visitors.

All living groups are invited to take part in the yearly MSU song competition sponsored by Newman club. Songs of the school and of fraternal organizations are barred. Each group competing must be represented by more than one voice.

House Decoration Judging Is May 18

Traditions board announced Wednesday that Motor board and Silent sentinel will be tapped at an SOS on Main hall steps, 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Interscholastic house decorations will be judged May 18 from 5 p.m. to 5 o'clock and 7 p.m. to 8 o'clock. Judges have been picked from Missoula business people.

Decorations are to have the theme of "Promote the University" and will be judged on originality, construction, use of music and lighting.

A cup will go to each of the best men's and women's house decoration at 1 o'clock Saturday at the Interscholastic trackmeet.

Omega Epsilon asked for Traditions board cooperation on promoting school spirit for the Monday night alumni-sponsored football game. Traditions board said they would give any help they could.

HS Students Hear 'Carousel' Tonight

Participants of the State Music festival are to see the first dress rehearsal of the all-school production of "Carousel" tonight at 7:15 in the University theater.

"Carousel" is being produced under the united direction of six faculty members: Marjorie Cooper, instructor of the MSU Ballet theater, is director of ballet; John Lester, professor of music, director of voices; Lloyd Oakland, professor of music, choral director; Eugene Andrie, associate professor of music, director of the orchestra; Clemen Peck, assistant professor of drama, technical director; Carroll O'Connor, graduate assistant in the English department, production director.

Tickets for MSU students and the public are now on sale at the Lodge for May 16, 17, 20, 21. All seats are reserved and priced at 75 cents, $1, and $1.50.
