David S. Wilson, Helena, was awarded the Phi Kappa Phi $100 scholarship given to the outstanding sophomore. Kathryn H. Thomas, Cody, Wyo., received the Mortar board, senior women's honorary cup for the highest grade index earned by a freshman woman.

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholarship society, presented certificates to three of its graduating members with a grade index of 3.2 or higher throughout college. The certificates went to Donna J. Goodmanson, Great Falls, Miss Kopitzke, and Miss Atkinson.

Two Law Appointments Announced

William D. Kilbourn Jr. and Edward L. Kimball have been announced as new appointments to the law faculty by the President's office.

Mr. Kilbourn has accepted an assistant professorship vacated by the resignation of Thomas L. Waterbury. Mr. Kimball has also accepted an appointment as assistant professor. He will teach the courses formerly taught by Prof. J. Howard Toelle, whose retirement will be effective July 1. The appointees will assume their duties at MSU in September.

Kilbourn will teach courses in taxation and related matters.

ORGANIZATION PIX READY

Students who ordered Sentinel organization pictures can pick them up in the Sentinel office today, announced Kay Blaszek, Missoula, business manager. She asked that students pay for the pictures at the time they get them.

Senior Events Start Today With Dinner

Commencement events start today for graduating seniors with the dinner sponsored by Phi Kappa Phi, senior honorary, in the Yellowstone room of the Lodge.

Dean Harold Chatland will open Saturday's events with a lecture in the Scheuch planetarium. The Commencement dinner in the Yellowstone room is slated for 6:30 p.m. Tickets for seniors, graduate students who will receive degrees next December, parents, alumni, and friends will be $2.25.

Later that evening, there will be an S.O.S. Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, are invited to attend as well as seniors. The Lantern parade will follow the S.O.S.

The program for the Lantern parade will consist of a historical explanation of the parade, installation of AWS officers, singing of "Montana, My Montana" by Betty Rucker, Plentywood, a tribute to seniors, and a finale in which everyone joins in singing "College Chums."

For the first time in Commencement history a mace will be carried by the chief marshal. The mace is a long silver staff usually carried in scholarly events and will be held by A. S. Merrill during the exercises Monday.

Order for procession is Marshals, A. W. Merrill, Joseph W. Howard and Charles W. Waters, the colors, candidates for commissions, candidates for degrees, the faculty, pastors, members of the governing boards, guests of honor, the president.

Reverend Father Ernest F. Burns will give the invocation and Reverend Deane W. Ferme will give the benediction.

The deans of the schools will present the candidates for degrees and President Carl McFarland will confer degrees to the graduates.

Guests of honor for the Commencement exercises will be Senator Michael Mansfield and Dr. Philip R. White, who will receive honorary degrees; Mrs. F. H. Petro, Miles City, member of the State Board of Education; Theodore Jacobs, Mrs. T. E. Mulrowney, Alex Stepancoff, local executive board of MSU.

After the 59th annual Commencement, there will be a reception by the University for the graduating class and their relatives, alumni, and friends at the Field House.

All resident students who are receiving degrees at the end of spring quarter are required to be present at the Commencement exercises, unless formally excused by getting a petition signed by their department chairman and Registrar Leo Smith.

Calling U

Young Democrats meet tomorrow in Lodge at 4 p.m. in order to elect officers for next school year.

International Discussion Group meets at 8 p.m. tonight in LA 307.

Henry V., starring Laurence Olivier, is playing at the University theatre tonight. Shows are 7:30 and 9 p.m., with admission 40 cents or four for $1.

New Recreational Area May Be Ready Next Year

Central board in its final meeting of the year passed a motion loaning up to $40,000 to the University to help finance a new golf course. After considerable discussion, the motion was passed with only one member abstaining and the rest voting in favor of the loan. Work can now proceed on the course, which is to be located beyond the strip houses and bounded by the Pattee canyon road. It is estimated the nine-hole grass course, which is now partially landscaped, will cost $50,000. The additional amount will be raised by a special bond issue. ASMSU will eventually be repaid the $40,000 used for the initial financing.

Several advantages for beginning work on the golf course this spring were brought out by President John Fowler and other officers and board members.

First, the $43,000 in the ASMSU reserve fund can be used only for recreational facilities or other student funds. This money cannot be used for University building, paying faculty members, and the like. Since it will be repaid, it can be invested again at a later date to start some other project.

Fowler pointed out that part of this money had been previously used to finance the Glacier rink.

Fear that the course may become a "second ice skating rink" was also discussed, and Fowler pointed out that the students had lost no money on the rink.

"All the money the students loaned the University for the rink has been paid back," Fowler emphasized. "If money has been lost, it has not been from the student funds."

Now is an opportune time to begin work on the course, several of the members pointed out. Plans for additional tennis courts and a swimming pool are also going ahead, but the golf course seems the logical first choice.

"There are some tennis courts and a swimming pool here now for student use," one said, "but golfers have to either drive to Polson or foot the country club fees. We have a location and the money — now is the time to act."

According to a letter from President Carl McFarland, this reserve fund was originally set aside for a golf course by past ASMSU officers. Funds for tennis courts and a swimming pool may be obtained elsewhere, Fowler reported, after a talk with Earl Martell, director of student facilities.

Completion Next Year

Tentative plans call for completion of the course in time for use next year. Nominal student fees will be charged, and Fowler said there was "little doubt that the course will be used by a proportionate representation of the students."

In other business, the members set elections for the homecoming queen for October 11 and 12. Fowler reported on the Vancouver student leaders' convention he attended recently.

The group allocated $250 to a delegate for the National Student Association convention in Chicago Aug. 21-31. Fowler said a delegate should be sent to observe the organization, with possibilities of Montana's affiliating in mind.

Addition space for ASMSU offices was discussed, and Fowler said he would work on obtaining more space for the officers during the summer.

Dick Riddle submitted the official ASMSU election report. Dee Scriven reported that lights in the library would be ready for use during the early part of summer session.

Beatty Chosen To Head Forum

Norma Beatty, Helena, was elected president of Montana Forum and 20 new members were selected at the campus group's final meeting of the school year.

New members are: faculty—Edmund Freeman, Dr. Thais Lindstrom, Dr. Frederick T. C. Yu, Dr. Seymour Betsky, and John Smurr.

Seniors—Dorothy Roberts, Great Falls; Pris Herget, Peoria, Ill., Don Mosher, Butte; and Charles Wilson, Helena.

Honorary seniors: Marilyn Shope and Roxie Perrior, Missoula; Bruce Cook, Butte; and John Bansch, Helena.

Juniors—JoAnne Jacobson, Butte; Dick Riddle, Libby; Bill Williamson, Box Elder; and Ellen Strommen, Anaconda.

Commencement Concert Slated for Sunday

The commencement concert by the MSU Choir and Symphonette, conducted by Lloyd Oakland, professor of music, and Eugene Andrie, associate professor of music, will be on Sunday, 3:30 p.m. in the Recital hall.

The string quartet will assist the choir in an Elegy for mixed voices and string quartet by Beethoven. The quartet consists of Pamela Brechbill, Missoula, first violin; Gary Arledge, Richland, Wash., second violin; James O'Brien, Butte, viola; and Alice-jane Carkeek, Butte, cello.

The MSU Symphonette strings with Donna Terpening, Midwest, Wyo., piano, will assist the choir in Bloch's Concerto Grosso.

The choir will also sing pieces by Monteverdi, Bach, and the contemporary English composer, Butt.

Summer Students To Live In Halls

Five residences will be open for the lodging of students during the two summer sessions.

Elrod hall will be open for men; Mrs. W. H. Thompson will be resident housemother. Corbin hall will be open only to women over 21 years of age, and Mrs. T. C. Spaulding will be part time housemother for them. Turner hall will be the dormitory open to women students during the five and ten week summer sessions, and Mrs. H. E. Rimel will be the housemother. Craig hall will be supervised by Carl Westby, for Music camp students, and members of all other large groups taking short courses. The Law house will be open for its first summer session. It will be only for married couples. Brantly will not be opened this year because of reconstruction work in progress.

The Lodge will be open for all meals. Students may either pay by the meal, or by the session.

Lodging for the first five weeks for a double room will cost $30; for the full ten weeks, $60.

Mansfield to Talk At Baccalaureate

Senator Michael J. Mansfield will give the address at Baccalaureate services Sunday evening in the University theater.

Mrs. DeLoss Smith will begin the organ prelude at 7:45 p.m. The Rev. Richard A. Jones will give the invocation and the Rev. George V. Bever will give the scripture reading. The MSU double choir, under the direction of Lloyd Oakland, will sing "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," "Te Deum" and "Sing We Merrily Unto God Our Strength."

Preceding the evening services, the campus buildings will be open for inspection by visitors of graduating seniors, said Mrs. Lucille Armsby, secretary to the president. Dean Harold Chatland will give a repeat lecture at the Scheuch planetarium that afternoon at 2 p.m.

EDITORIALLY . . .

Amid the sweltering heat and furious turmoil that is upon us as we enter the final week of the school year the Kaimin staff extends its best to the student body.

Since we took over the reigns of the Kaimin this quarter it has been an eventful one. We have not pleased everyone, but no newspaper does that. Situations arise daily where someone is not pleased with what we do, yet we feel that it must be done.

During the next two quarters of Kaimin operation we will strive to give you the best paper we can. Our readers deserve to have a good press, and it is our obligation to do that.

To the graduating seniors go our sincerest hope for a prosperous future. But, when that future becomes bright and shining think back upon your undergraduate days at MSU and see how beneficial they were.

And to the rest of the students, we expect to see you back next year as you further your attempt to fulfill the dream of becoming a college graduate.

MSU to Offer Dramatics Course At Great Falls

Juniors with the consent of their instructor will be able to take a summer extension course in creative dramatics at Great Falls this summer. It is a course which will show the enrolled students how to guide young children in group activity.

Ross Miller, acting director of the public service division, said the course is a challenging new idea for teachers, youth leaders and parents. It is presented by MSU in cooperation with the Great Falls Junior league. The course will start June 11 and last until July 6 at the Demolay Memorial.

Creative dramatics is playmaking. It is a group activity in which children act as well as create their own dialogue.

Chinese Student Gets Exchange Scholarship

Chang Yao, foreign exchange student from Taiching, Taiwan, China, has been awarded the first International Exchange scholarship to be presented by Omega Epsilon fraternity's Beta chapter. The scholarship, which will be granted each year to a foreign exchange student wishing to study at MSU, consists of the payment of the living expenses of the student, while on campus.

Chang's older brother, Joe, is doing graduate work here in the forestry school.

Fiedler Will Take Part In Writers' Conference

Dr. Leslie Fiedler, professor of English, will take part in a writers' conference at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, June 11-17.

Dr. Fiedler took part in the annual conference four years ago. He will be in charge of the poetry section of this year's sessions.

The conference is for the purpose of helping beginning writers, Dr. Fiedler said. Inexperienced writers bring manuscripts to be read by the conference staff.

The conference staff includes veteran writers and instructors from a number of colleges and universities.

Faculty Members Plan Research, Travel, Loafing for Summer

Faculty members, this summer, are planning activities which range from traveling, doing research, attending conferences, studying, to just plain loafing.

Dr. Frederick T. C. Yu, associate professor of journalism, will spend the summer on the Springfield, Ohio, Sun. During successive months he will work as reporter, copyreader, and editorial writer under terms of a "refresher program" arranged by the American Council on Education for Journalism.

Dr. Yu and his family will leave immediately after spring quarter ends.

Florence Reynolds, assistant professor of music, will play with a string trio at Lake Placid, New York.

Robert S. Hoffman, instructor of zoology, will survey the population of small mammals and grouse in the Little Belt mountains for the State Fish and Game department. His work will seek to determine what effect the DDT spraying for spruce budworm by the US Forest service has on the small wildlife survival. Such spraying might be causing a food shortage or poisoning, he said. He will study particularly the survival of young grouse broods.

Research on Virus

Meyer Chessin, assistant professor of Botany, said he will continue his research on plant viruses at MSU. The experiments are supported by the Public Health service. There seems to be a close relationship between plants and humans, he said, in the mechanics of their susceptibility to virus. By eliminating certain minerals from the plants' diets and then infecting them with a virus, he will try to get basic scientific information, he said.

Dr. Donald G. Higman, associate professor of mathematics, will attend the Summer Research Institute of the Canadian Mathematical congress at Kingston, Ontario. He will leave June 8 and will stay several weeks, he said.

Helen Gleason, professor of home economics, is retiring. "I'm just going to loaf," she said, "and enjoy myself." She plans to spend a part of the summer at her Holland lake cabin.

Andrew W. Halpin, professor of education, will present a paper on "The Measurement of Leadership Behavior and Leadership Ideology" before delegates to the annual meeting of the Rocky Mountain American Psychological association at Jackson lodge, Jackson Hole, Wyo., on June 13. He will also teach here at MSU this summer.

Virginia City Players

Clemen Peck, assistant professor of drama, will work for the Virginia City players at Virginia as designer and technical director. This will be the seventh summer he has been with them.

Margaret A. Walsh, voice instructor, said she has tentative plans for a two-month tour of Europe, with visits to friends in both Paris and Germany. Her trip, she said, depends on her ability to get ship reservations.

Most of the military instructors are going to summer camps. Capt. Donald G. Matthews, assistant professor of military science and tactics, Lt. Jack Demmons, instructor, Master Sgt. Milton C. Hansen, assistant, and Master Sgt. Leon B. Pace, assistant, will be instructing at Ft. Lewis, Wash., for the ROTC summer camp.

Major Emmrich D. Lamb, associate professor of military science and tactics, will inspect National Others expecting permanent changes of station are Major George Koehler, and Major Edwin C. Frost, associate professors of air science and tactics.

Sgt. Frank S. Miller, assistant in air science and tactics, will go to Ethan Allen Air Force base in Vermont to work all summer.

Master Sgt. Charles May will go to the George Wright Air Force base at Spokane, Wash., to be a tactical officer in July. Capt. Dwight W. Peterson, assistant professor in air science and tactics, will be there in June.

Causes of Fires Being Analyzed By Forestry Duo

Robert Steele, associate professor of forestry, and Kenneth Eggerman, Colville, Wash., have been gathering data on the location and frequency of different types of man-caused forest fires in Montana.

The types of fires being studied are divided into railroad, logging, campers, smokers, debris, incendiaries, and miscellaneous. Of these, smokers caused 767 fires, the largest single cause.

Campers caused 515 and railroads 355. Debris caused 263 fires with 264 from miscellaneous cause. Logging operations and incendiaries caused 118 and 30, respectively.

The figures, taken over the last decade, show a total of 93 fires for every million acres of protected forest land.

Fishermen and tourists are the worst offenders in fires made by stray cigarettes. During the early part of the decade railroad fires were numerous, but the change to diesel engines has resulted in a sharp decrease.

Steele and Eggerman obtained their data from records of the U.S. Forest service, National Park service, State Forestry department, Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Indian service, Blackfoot Forestry agency, Northern Montana Forest Protective agency, Rural Fire fighters service, and the Anaconda Fire Protection service.

MONTANA AAU MEET TOMORROW

BYU Withdraws from AAU Meet; Champs Will Go To National

By DICK WARDEN

Wednesday's last-minute withdrawal of Brigham Young's entries in tomorrow's Montana Amateur Athletic Union meet should serve to make the competition that much keener. The cougars withdrew after qualifying many of their athletes in the Utah AAU meet for the national meet to be held in Bakersfield, Calif., June 22-23.

With the strong Skyline champions out, the chance of qualifying more Montana athletes for the national meet and subsequent Olympic trials is enhanced.

Entries

Entries in the big meet, proclaimed by Montana District AAU Commissioner Lou Rocheleau as the "finest in the state's history" include the second and third place teams from the Skyline Conference meet held last week-end in Denver. Both Montana and the Wyoming Cowboys are entered practically intact as well as a team composed of Washington and Idaho thinclads sponsored by the Lewiston, Idaho, JC's. Other college entries have been received from the University of Colorado and Utah. In addition to the college trackmen entered, many high school athletes who recorded impressive marks in the Interscholastic and a number of unattached entries have been received. The total number of contestants is expected to approach the hundred mark with some of the best cindermen in the west competing. The meet gets underway at 1:30 with the hammer throw. The first race is set to begin at 2:00.

Besides the hammer throw, track fans will be treated to two other events not familiar to the collegiate track fan. The hop, step, and jump and the three-mile run are two events sanctioned by the AAU and not held in college meets.

Among the top entries in the extravaganza which is under the co-directorship of MSU track coach Harry Adams and Rocheleau, are

Mythical State Championship Will Be Goal of Grizzlies As They Entertain MSC Bobcats In Day-Night Pair

Montana's Grizzly baseball nine seeks the mythical state championship on the Campbell Park diamond today when it takes the field against the MSC Bobcats in the first game of a double-header at 1:30. The second game starts at 7:15.

Last week, the Silvertips tripped their country cousins twice, 6-0 and 9-4, in Bozeman.

Today's games will be the last appearance for nine Grizzly seniors and two Montana graduates get the nod as starting pitchers. Glenn Biehl, who was named last week to the Skyline western division all-star second team is starting the opener while Paul Caine will start in the nightcap.

Sam Pottenger, first base; Bobby Hendricks, third base; Jerry Walker and Lee Bofto, catchers; and Red Smith, Keith Peterson, and Dick Bork, outfielders, are all making their last appearance in a Montana uniform. Both Pottenger and Smith won all-division recognition last week while Hendricks was named to a berth on the second team.

Better Than Expected

Commenting on the season, Coach Hal Sherbeck, who is completing his first season as diamond mentor, said, "The season has been more successful than first expected. With a little more luck could have made the conference play-offs."

Emphasizing the team's hustle, the coach attributed the Grizzlies showing this year to a "team effort."

The 'Tips wound up the conference season in second place behind the Utah Redskins, having the honor of handing the champs their only two conference losses.

Record

Montana carries an overall season record of eight victories and six losses into today's games with the Bobcat. One win would give the Grizzlies the mythical title. This would complete the sweep as Montana has defeated the 'Cats on the gridiron, track and field, and three of four on the basketball court, tennis and golf.

Sherbeck will start his usual line-up against the Bobcats with Pottenger, Lynn Colvert, Jerry Daley, and Hendricks making up the infield. Smith, Frank Kocsis, and Peterson are the outfielders with Walker and Bofto doing the catching chores.

HAL SHERBECK'S boys will be out to sink the MSC Bobcats today in a day-night twin bill. The games will decide the mythical state championship.

HARRY ADAMS boys will be shooting for trips to the National AAU meet in Los Angeles this month. Top men at the California event will try out for the Olympic squad. Most of the regular Montana thinclads will participate in tomorrow's meet.

several who have recorded some of the best marks in the nation this spring.

In the pole vault, Kenaston, Washington State, and Duffy, Idaho, have both cleared the bar at better than 14 feet.

Clark of Utah and Gary of Idaho are among the best high jumpers, both having jumped over six feet, six inches. Beerline, University of Colorado, is the top entry in the hop, step, and jump having won both the Kansas and Penn relays this spring with efforts of 49 feet.

In the 100-yard dash all of the entries have run better than ten seconds flat. Don Brant, Grizzly Skyline sprint champion in 1955, has the best time with a 9.5 hundred recorded last spring.

The quarter mile promises to be one of the better races of the meet with Shell, University of Colorado, having the best time at 48 seconds.

L. Tappan, a Navy recruiter from Butte, has the best half mile time, having run the 880 in 1:51. In the mile, the top entry appears to be Miltbo, Washington State, who has hung up a 4:11 time behind Oregon State's Bailey, who last month beat world record holder John Landy.

Doyle

Track fans again have the opportunity to see "Discus Dick" Doyle in action. Doyle was NCAA and AAU champion in his senior year at MSU. He was kept from making the 1952 Olympic squad when a neck injury forced him to the sidelines while he was training for the summer games in California.

The meet is being held under the auspices of the Missoula Junior Chamber of Commerce and proceeds will be used to finance trip to Bakersfield for those athletes hanging up the most impressive marks Saturday. In the national meet, the top six men in each event are selected to compete in the Olympic Trials in Los Angeles June 29-30.

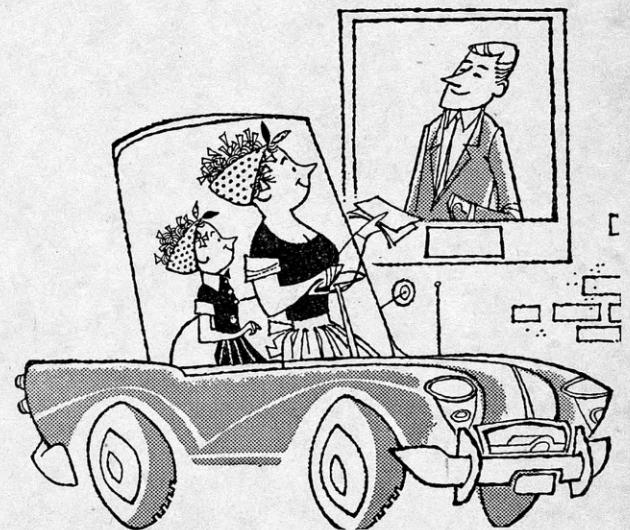

CO-CAPTAINS ARE ELECTED

Lynn Colvert and Frank Kocsis, both juniors, have been elected co-captain of the 1957 Grizzly baseball team.

Jim Black and Jim Rowland will be next year's Grizzly track co-captains.

Spring Quarter Passes in Review

As spring quarter draws to a close the Kaimin attempts to capture some of the high spots of this quarter via pictures. Spring sports again featured baseball and track as Montana did well in both sports. The Grizzly track team finished third in the Skyline, and the baseball team second in the Western division. Jim Black (upper left) was named co-captain of the 1957 track team along with Jim Rowland (upper right). Sam Pottenger and Reed Smith (upper middle) were named to the all-star Western division team. Pottenger, captaining the team, has made the Western division dream team for the last three consecutive years. Leadership camp was held at Flathead lake as usual, and all who went agreed "much was learned." A typical discussion group (middle left) is shown here as campus leaders talk over current problems.

The annual WUS drive was conducted this spring and the goal of $1,000 was passed on the last day. Bill Todd, Billings, (middle right) was instrumental in the drive, perching upon the health center until the goal was reached. Through his antics Todd gained nation-wide fame.

Fun must be had by all, and the Sig Alpha Olympics added to the spring quarter festivities. The Thetas won the team championship, but the Sigma Kappas seem to be doing well (lower left) in the tug-of-war.

Interscholastic, "the climax of the high school year," is a time for all living groups to display their talents and see who can design the best decorations. The Phi Deltas and the DG's came through this year. The DG's winning decoration (lower right), typifies the outstanding decorations on campus that as the University began to slow down for final week.
