Bozeman to Send Over 1,000 For Annual Game Saturday

By KEITH ROBINSON

More than 1,000 Bozeman students are expected to descend on the MSU campus Saturday for the annual Grizzly-Bobcat game on Dornblaser field.

Seven hundred student tickets plus 200 reserved tickets have been sold for the event. One hundred more Bozeman tickets are expected to be sold before the game, according to Bob Dundas, ticket manager. Dundas said the south east section of the bleachers has been reserved for the Bozeman fans.

A special Northern Pacific train is scheduled to run from Bozeman carrying MSC rooters. The train will go through Helena where 60 to 100 more fans will board for the journey to Missoula. Northern Pacific offices are not sure when the train would arrive.

Weekend pre-game activities begin with a convocation in the University Theater today at 4 p.m. Kams and Dregs, the M Club, and cheerleaders are expected to participate in the program. The Activities Board Convocations Committee is in charge of the program.

Tonight a street parade, similar to that of Homecoming, has been planned by the M Club, according to Ray Howard, president. A pep rally on the oval will follow the parade. Details of the parade will be explained at the convocation.

Dances will also be a highlight of weekend festivities. "The Room" will also be open.

The "Victory Ball" will be held in the Yellowstone Room of the Lodge from 9 to 12 Saturday night. "The Combo" will furnish music and admission is 50 cents a person.

After the game, Central Board will have an informal coffee hour in the Turner Hall lounge with the Student Senate from MSC, counterpart of our Central Board. Campus church organizations are also planning get-togethers with church groups from the Bozeman campus.

A coffee-hour party is planned at the Lodge for MSC alumni and friends, according to H. Eugene Miles, president of the Missoula County chapter of the MSC Alumni Association.

He said the party was arranged to provide MSC alumni an opportunity to renew old friendships. Alumni staff members and others from the college at Bozeman are expected to attend.

The game this Saturday marks the 56th meeting of the two teams. They began playing in 1897; the grizzlies won that game 18-6. Since then, Montana has won 39 times, MSC 10 times and five games ended in ties. The most lopsided game was the 1904 encounter, which the Silvertips won 79-0.

Girls Challenged

What's the matter with sorority women on this campus? Where are they when football games are being played and vocal support is called for? Is it that they never go to the games or is it simply that, at crucial moments they all fall victim to acute psychosomatic laryngitis? We admit that, in most circumstances, women should be seen and not heard, but does this apply to football games?

We of the IFC will be represented en masse at tomorrow's game with the goal of expressing, in as loud and inspiring a manner as possible, our heartfelt support for the Grizzlies and equally heartfelt disdain for the Bobcats. Some of our less disillusioned members have been foolish enough to suggest that Pan-Hellenic may even condescend to give us some meager vocal competition. Most of us doubt it.

The IFC

Montana's (Police) on the Go With Hugo

Everybody welcomed Gov. J. Hugo Aronson and his party to the campus yesterday, even the Missoula Police.

The police went a step further than the usual welcome though, when they gave the governor and his party parking tickets outside the Lodge.

The Missoula Police have been warning students not to park in the entry ways or red striped zones, but pickings had been pretty thin until the governor and his party arrived yesterday.

Foreign Policy Attacked By Stevenson

BUFFALO (U)—Adlai Stevenson charged that the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy has handed the Soviet Union two great victories in the Middle East in a speech last night.

Stevenson had asked for and received, free time from three of the major broadcasting networks for his speech. It was the Democratic presidential candidate's answer to President Eisenhower's speech last night.

The situation in the Middle East is "threatening to peace and to our interests in this strategic area," the Democratic candidate warned.

ADLAI STEVENSON

He gave a big share of the blame for the fighting to what he called the "bankruptcy" of American foreign policy under President Eisenhower.

"The condition which confronts us is stark and simple, our Middle Eastern policy is at absolute dead end," Stevenson said. The fighting now going on "reflects the bankruptcy of our policy" and has given Russia "two great victories."

Stevenson said these two victories are Russia's establishment of its influence in the Middle East, and the "breakdown" of the Western Alliance, which he termed a Communist aim since World War II.

J-Council May Investigate Wednesday Affair

Judicial Council may take under advisement the happenings of Wednesday evening.

The Council, who was offered the job of investigating the incident last night, will meet at 3 this afternoon to decide whether or not it will look into the matter.

The offer to investigate was given the Council at a dinner meeting last night of all living group presidents, freshmen wing presidents, Central Board members and members of the Council.

Andrew Cogswell, dean of students, and Maurine Clow, associate dean of students, called the meeting to seek the viewpoints of student leaders on the incident.

Most houses lost something Wednesday evening, but damage estimates are not high.

The Tri Deltis were the hardest hit, losing all their silverware, three chairs and having a Volkswagen placed on their porch. The chairs and silverware were returned later in the evening.

British, French Task Forces Cut Off Both Ends of Canal

By UNITED PRESS

There was heavy air and land fighting in the Middle East last night. The Israelis said they are occupying all of the Sinai Peninsula except for scattered pockets and they have sealed off the Gaza Strip between Israel and Egypt, according to a joint communique from allied headquarters on Cyprus.

Meanwhile, British and French task forces have cut off both the northern and southern approaches to the Suez Canal. Strict military censorship surrounds the movement of the task forces, but it is believed the troop ships needed to land the invasion forces are now in position, and are waiting for the word to strike. So far there has been no report of an actual landing in the canal area.

Anglo-French planes bombed the outskirts of Cairo for the ninth raid of the day on the city—Alexandria three times, and the canal zone towns were subjected to repeated attacks. Israel and Egypt reported their heaviest action since the Israeli offensive began Monday night.

TROUBLE SPOT BRIEFS

From the Wires of United Press

LONDON—Prime Minister Anthony Eden's government has won a vote of confidence on his military campaign against Egypt. The vote was 324 to 255. Earlier, Laborite opposition to Prime Minister Eden's Middle Eastern policy was so fierce yesterday that debate in the House of Commons had to be recessed.

WASHINGTON—The White House said President Eisenhower's address from Philadelphia last night probably will end his major campaign speech-making. It said the Middle East crisis and developments in Central Europe probably would keep him from making other big political speeches.

MANAMA, Bahrain—Arab Nationalists have called a general strike on the island of Bahrain in the Persian Gulf. The strike is expected to close down the Bahrain Petroleum Company, owned by the United States and run by the British.

VIENNA—The Budapest radio said Soviet armed forces have surrounded all Hungarian airfields. The Hungarian radio said the Hungarian Air Force was ready to resist the move, but the government ordered it not to open fire.

UNITED NATIONS—The United Nations General Assembly opened an emergency session late yesterday and promptly handed Britain and France a defeat. The Assembly overwhelmingly voted down the two powers in deciding on a full debate of Israeli-Egyptian fighting and Anglo-French intervention.

VIENNA—A defiant Hungary quit the Warsaw Pact yesterday and proclaimed her neutrality while anti-Red students reportedly clashed with Communist police in Romania.

Hungary—in the face of new military pressure from Russia—turned to the U.N. General Assembly. Premier Imre Nagy, in a message to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, asked the Assembly to assure Hungary's neutrality under a Four Power guarantee. He also disclosed in the message that Hungary has left the Warsaw Pact, the Communist NATO.

While these steps were being taken, Moscow rushed Red army reinforcements into Hungary.

A Bad Example

Persons in authority are always open to criticism and under public fire. It is easy to criticize but it isn't so easy to administer.

Montana State University students entered the lime light as a result of their Halloween antics. The pranks, especially the effigy hanging of President Carl McFarland, were given generous Associated Press and United Press coverage. Many will laugh off the hanging, cross burning, and panty raids as merely outbursts of youth. Others will shake their heads and wonder what events led to an effigy hanging of the top University official.

Let's go back a few years in University history. There was no Liberal Arts building, Music building, Craig Hall, Field House, Health Center, Library addition, or Law House. There was no enrollment pressure because hundreds of out-of-state students were not literally begging for admittance.

Under the administration of one man, all of the above buildings came into being. The University assumed a new physical beauty. Many called it "creeping grassism" but no one can deny the dignity the improvements lent the campus.

But growth was more than physical expansion. Each school and department has prospered with an aggregation of not a few, but scores of brilliant instructors—some of them tops in their fields. Students can hold their heads high, knowing MSU can be favorably compared to any other institution in the nation. It is easy to criticize tactics, but hard to deny obvious accomplishments.

We believe the majority of the students recognize these facts. We also believe the effigy hanging was the action of a very small minority, an unthinking minority.

There is nothing wrong with a little "hell raising" on Halloween. But there is such a thing as taste. We meet our oldest and most bitter rivals this weekend. Wouldn't it have been much more appropriate and spirit building to hang and burn a Bobcat?

Home Ec Offers Several Positions To Male Majors

There are two freshmen and two sophomore boys in the University Home Economics department this year.

Bob Matheson, Carson Vehrs, both Missoula boys, and Harold Schweiger, Stanton Island, N.Y., are studying food service management. Lowell Halverson, Kalispell, wants to become a dietitian, but with a little extra preparation, he could major in food service management also.

Food service management is a new major in the Home Economics department this year. It prepares students to enter hotels, restaurants, cafeterias, or any business offering mass feeding.

The boys' curriculum is a combination of food management, business administration, and science. They are expected to take the same courses as the girls, except sewing, but include time in home and family life, and child development.

There is a standing offer from an industrial feeding firm in Chicago to employ any recommended graduate of MSU. Schweiger was recommended by Dr. Leland H. Kotschevar, director of food services, to this company. The firm will pay the graduates $400 a month with an extra $50 for car expenses.

The Knott's Berry Farm near Los Angeles has also offered employment to MSU graduates in dietetics and food service management. They pay from $120 to $125 a week. Dr. Kotschevar said there is always room for the graduates to work on his own staff at MSU.

Ike's Message Warns Russia; Soothes U. S.

By GEORGE J. MARDER
UP Political Analyst

President Eisenhower's words Wednesday night were aimed as much at Moscow as they were at the American people.

For the President was assuring both that the United States is determined to stay out of the fighting in the Middle East in the present circumstances.

This government, the President said, would do all in its power to localize the fighting and end the conflict.

But if the Soviets get into the act on the side of Egypt, either through so-called "volunteers" or otherwise, the Middle East fighting is no longer "localized" and the circumstances could be vastly changed.

Thus, the President's pledge against involvement of the United States in the hostilities might be affected more by decisions in Moscow than anywhere else in the world.

The danger of the two military giants of current history becoming involved in some local dispute was recognized at the Geneva conferences of the Big Four.

Out of those conferences came a sort of gentleman's understanding that world stalemate in this era of A-Bombs and H-Bombs was better than world conflict—that if problems couldn't be solved now, they must be left to simmer. The two great powers must resist being drawn into localized conflicts where force would be used.

The dangers of any local conflict exploding into World War III are great as they are. If one or the other of the two great powers gets involved, the dangers are increased immeasurably.

And so the President is telling the world that "there will be no United States involvement" in the present hostilities in the Middle East.

Will Russia echo his words? Only the Kremlin can tell.

But the President also had some other re-assuring words for Moscow—this country will not take advantage of the turmoil in Eastern Europe to make military capital. It doesn't seek Poland or Hungary or any of the other East European nations as military allies. It merely wants them to be free—friendly and free.

As for Israel's invasion of Egypt and the subsequent British and French moves to regain Suez, the President was strongly critical of the actions. He understood them because of the great provocations and fears involved but he could not excuse them.

He thought they were wrong on two accounts: 1. In that force was used to try to settle an inter-

Former Residents Evacuate Jordan

A Missoula woman received a cablegram Tuesday afternoon from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Patten of the American Technical Aid staff in Jordan, informing her of their safe evacuation from that trouble spot to Bierut, Lebanon.

Patten is a former Montana State University Forestry School employee and farmer. He cabled that Mrs. Patten, their son, C. R., and himself had been removed from Amman, Jordan, near the Israel border.

The cablegram was addressed to Mrs. David J. Clowes, Rattlesnake, and her brother, David Patten.

Story From 1898 Kaimin Recalls
Memorable Conquest of Bobcats

By DON OLIVER

This is a return to the good old days, when men were men, and women liked them that way.

Turn back the calendar of time some 58 years ago to Nov. 12, 1898. The Bobcat-Grizzly game. Here in the words of the November, 1898 Kaimin is a stirring account of this memorable conquest of the Aggies.

The Varsity team left Missoula Friday evening at 5:40 plentifully supplied with rabbits feet, mascots of every kind and the good wishes of numerous friends. According to the statements of the porter, no time was spent in sleep, either by the team or any of the occupants of the sleeper, from the time they left here till Bozeman was reached at 1:00 a.m.

MSC to Provide
Band Competition

Competition between MSU's Treasure State Band and the 75-piece MSC Bobcat Band, which will arrive in Missoula Saturday morning, will be at high pitch Saturday afternoon, James Eversole, band director, said yesterday.

The musical cats will be greeted by MSU bandmen. They have scheduled a parade through downtown Missoula prior to the game.

The Treasure State Band left confetti in the form of a giant M-S-U at last year's football classic in Bozeman. The MSU imprint remained visible throughout the game. The Bobcats are expected to retaliate this year.

The Treasure State Band will present the "Concert on the Grid-iron" with precision marching for this Saturday's halftime. The Twirling Treasures are also scheduled to perform.

The boys were escorted to the Bozeman hotel where they slept until 8:30; after breakfast, under the protecting wing of their hosts, they were taken through the college . . . The main building was much admired, also the arrangement and general convenience of the machine shops.

Coaches Officiate

The team returned to the hotel for dinner and at 2:30 started for the field. Mr. McCormick, coach of the Bozeman eleven, acted as referee; Mr. Searight, the Varsity coach, as umpire and Lee Rice, manager of the Butte Business College, as time keeper. Twenty-five and twenty-minute halves were decided upon.

Ward, captain of the Varsity boys . . . caught the ball after Bozeman kicked off, and carried it to center of the field, but there, by hard playing, the college team gained it on downs and carried it to Varsity's 25-yard line when it was lost on downs.

Varsity then took the ball and carried it to Bozeman's 4-yard line where, by more hard playing, the Bozeman boys gained it on downs. First half closed with ball on State College 25-yard line in possession of College team. Score 0-0.

Varsity Wins

In the second half . . . Missoula kicked off to Bozeman. Bozeman forced the ball up to about the center of the field. Bozeman's fullback took the ball and went through the line, gaining about eight yards. Heyfron, the Varsity halfback, then got possession of the ball and made a touchdown. Kennett kicked goal. The game closes with the score 6 to 0 in favor of the Varsity.

Some good gains were made by the Varsity team in their formation plays; still their team work was hardly that which might have been expected.

In the evening the boys were given a reception by the young ladies of the college, from there they went to a small dance and finally started for home fully convinced that life in Bozeman was well worth living.

Sunday Recital Features
MSU Music Instructor

Mezzo-soprano Patricia Barendsen, instruction of music, will present the third Fall Faculty Recital, Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital hall.

Miss Barendsen will be assisted by Susan Gisvold, piano; Florence Reynolds, cello; Eugene Andre, violin; and Gordon Childs, violin.

Her program includes music by Buxtehude, Purcell, Honegger, and Mahler.

Frats to Elect 'Miss Bozeman'

Eight lovely, dainty young beauties have been selected by the members of the eight fraternity living groups to represent their houses for the title of "Miss Bozeman" of 1956.

These girls were chosen after competitive examinations on the basis of:

1. Horsemanship.
2. Smell (Most desirous was the odor of stockyards on market day.)
3. Cow-milking ability (range and accuracy plus the proper jerk and squirt techniques.)
4. Cattle calling and yodeling ability.

The winner will be chosen by the applause of the MSU student section during half-time of the Grizzly-Bobcat game.

Middle East Problems Not To Affect Olympics

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia's Olympic organizers have a quick answer for any who think that the Middle East situation might force cancellation of the games in Melbourne this month.

Such talk, said Edgar Tanner of the organizing committee, is "just war mongering." He said people who "even think things like that are alarmists."

Tanner's assurance that the Olympics will go on as scheduled is seconded by Lt. Gen. Sir William Bridgeford, chief executive officer for the games.

Bridgeford said, "We've had no protests against the British, French or Israeli teams competing."

He said, "We're going ahead with final preparations irrespective of what's happening in the Middle East."

Seventeen of the record 74 nations entered for the Olympics already have athletes living and training at the Olympic Village in Melbourne.

Foresters Report Steady Progress On Annual Event

Although the Forester's Ball is still four months away, plans are being formulated, according to Dick Venable, publicity chairman of the ball.

The correct date of the dance is March 9. The University calendar indicates the dance will be held on two nights. This is an error, as the ball will be held only on March 9.

This year there will be two entirely different divisions for the beard growing contest. One will be for those who wish to grow long beards and the other for men growing short beards.

Rules for entering the beard growing contest are:

1. The contestant must be registered to win a prize.
2. The contestant must be clean shaven at the time of registration.

Registration for the long beard contest will start Tuesday, November 6 and continue through the following Thursday.

The short beard contest registration will begin sometime after the start of winter quarter. More prizes will be awarded than in any previous year.

The tree cutting goal for the ball this year is 3500 trees, according to Don Eberle and Bob Wambach, members of the tree cutting committee. One thousand trees had been cut by Sunday and about a third that number piled behind the field house. These trees are cut by the Forestry Club voluntarily on land donated by the Anaconda Company.

Forestry School Dean Back After Memphis Meeting

Ross Williams, dean of the forestry school, returned recently from Memphis, Tenn., where he attended a joint meeting of deans of accredited forestry schools, and the Society of American Foresters.

The Society meeting, held in the center of the southern hardwood forest industry, covered many subjects, including that of education, common to that part of the United States, Daen Williams said. As in other parts of the United States, there is a distinct shortage of well trained foresters in the South, he said.

Representatives of all accredited forestry schools met prior to the annual forestry meeting to discuss common topics, he said. This year's meeting studied trends in college enrollment, increased employment opportunities for forestry graduates, and problems in attracting superior students to the field of forestry in greater numbers.

Dean Williams was chairman of a panel which discussed "Teacher Shortage and Means of Overcoming This Deficiency."

Twenty-two alumni of MSU's School of Forestry attending the meeting were addressed by Dean Williams at a reunion breakfast.

'Tips-'Cats Renew Rivalry; Aggies to Arrive Undefeated

By RON MUNGER

The Montana Grizzlies and the Montana State Bobcats renew their bitter rivalry tomorrow afternoon in the traditional championship game.

The Grizzlies are expected to be at top physical shape for the "cow college" invasion. Coach Jerry Williams has been running the boys through offensive drills with the freshmen supplying the Bobcat defense.

Undefeated 'Cats

The Bobcats come here undefeated, and searching for their eighth victory of the season. Eight Bobcat seniors have never played on a State team that defeated the Grizzlies.

The 'Cats have defeated South Dakota State 33-14; North Dakota University 33-13; Colorado College 30-14; Colorado Mines 62-0; Colorado State 13-0; Idaho 26-6; and last week they won the conference title by downing Western State 28-13.

Last State Victory

The last time Montana State whipped the Grizzlies was in 1947 when the Aggies squeezed through 13-12, at Butte.

In past competition the Grizzlies have won 39 games, lost nine and five games ended in ties. For a quarter of a century the traditional "Copper Bowl" contest was played in Butte. During the period 1926 through 1950 the Grizzlies picked up 17 wins in the Mining City and the Bobcats won three times. One of the games ended in a tie.

Since 1950 the Silvertips have won every ball game played at both the schools. In 1951 Bob

1952-'53

Murdo Campbell and Dean Brott led the 'Tips to a 35-12 victory over the Bobcats in 1952. The following season Montana defeated a weak State team at Bozeman 32-13.

1954

Coach Tony Storti brought an unbeaten team to Missoula in 1954 only to have their perfect record blemished when the underrated Grizzlies clawed their way to a thrilling 25-21 victory.

Last Year

Last year the Grizzlies journeyed to Bozeman and soundly trounced the Aggies 19-0 as Norm Kampschror hit his receivers whenever yardage was needed.

This year's game looks to be another real tossup between the two bitter rivals. The Bobcats want nothing more than to whip the University boys and keep their unbeaten record intact. The Grizzlies, on the other hand, want to keep the mythical "state crown" in Missoula. An added incentive is the spoiling of the 'Cats' record.

Band

Another halftime show will be provided by the "Treasure State Band" along with the twirlers and under the direction of James Eversole.

Olympic Day will be observed and donations are asked for to help send the United States Olympic team to Melbourne, Australia. Ex-Grizzly swimming captain, 2nd Lt. Jack Daniels is an alternate on the Penthalon team.

Grizzlies Optimistic Concerning 'Cats As Williams Puts Team Through Paces

By JIM BERRY

Spirits are high in the Montana camp for a victory over Montana State this week end, Coach Jerry Williams said Thursday.

The team is nearly at full strength with only two Silvertips on the injured list. Tackle Gary Kennedy has a hip injury and co-captain Bill Kaiserman is in bed with a high fever. Williams said he doubted that either player would see action against the 'Cats.

Passes Expected

Drills this week were slanted toward preparation for the Bozeman type offense and defense, but Williams also planned pass defense workouts for last night. Although Bozeman is not a passing team, Williams said, "I expect them to try to spring some on us this weekend."

"I don't think the Bobcats are as good as the statistics indicate, because of the league they are in," said Williams, "but they are a good, well-drilled team."

Lineup

For a tentative starting lineup the 'Tip coach picked Pete Rhinehart and Terry Hurlley at ends; Karl Benjamin and either co-captain Bob McGihon or Bill Hand at tackles; Bob Small and Stan Renning at guards; Mike O'Brien, Chuck Moore, or Dick Dzivi at center; Severn "Iron Man" Hayes or Bob Everson at fullback; Jerry Connors or Pat Monno at right halfback; Matt Gorsich or Don Williamson at left halfback; and Roy Bray at quarterback.

in the race for governor. Aronson, 559; Olsen 416. George M. Gosman, incumbent, beat Paul Cannon for lieutenant governor. Gosman, 529; Cannon, 397.

For secretary of state Edna J. Hinman defeated Frank Murray, 471 to 463. Michael J. O'Connell beat Forrest H. Anderson for attorney general 482 to 462. For state treasurer: George A. Davis 523;

Horace F. Casey 391. For state auditor: Alex Cunningham 495; John J. Holmes 423.

Leonard C. Young won handily over Lou Boedecker, 502 to 422, for railroad and public service commissioner. Harriet Miller had a wide margin over Mary M. Condon, 648 to 339, for superintendent of public instruction.

Results in the voting for associate justice of the Supreme Court: Hugh R. Adair, 551; James D. Freebourn, 466; Albert H. Angstman, 338; and E. K. Cheadle, 152. Candidates for associate justice of the Supreme Court are nominated without party designation. The two with the highest number of votes are elected.

Tickets for Play on Sale At Simpkins Box Office

Tickets are being sold for the MSU Masquers' production of "The Skin of Our Teeth" at the Simpkins Little Theater box office, Firman H. Brown, director, announced.

The famous Thornton Wilder comedy is scheduled for presentation in the University Theater Nov. 15, 16 and 17.

Season ticket holders were urged by Brown to send in their coupon reservations immediately to secure seats. Season and individual tickets will remain on sale during the production.

Reservations can be made by calling the Simpkins Theater box office.

Aronson Outlines Office Duties At Lodge Rally

J. Hugo Aronson, incumbent Republican candidate for governor of Montana, briefly outlined duties of the state's major office holders and some of the major campaign issues at the Lodge Thursday afternoon.

Aronson, George Davis, candidate for state treasurer; Alex Cunningham, candidate for state auditor; Edna Hinman, candidate for Secretary of State; George Gosman, candidate for lieutenant governor and Leonard C. Young, candidate for Railroad and Public Service commissioner, were guests of the Missoula and MSU Young Republicans at two rallies held here.

"Arnold Olsen and Mary Condon were responsible for millions of dollars lost to Montana education," Aronson said in reference to the oil issue. He pointed out that only 4 million dollars had been collected from oil royalties from 1922 to 1956. In that same period, over 14 million dollars had been made from bonuses.

"All the oil in the world does no good when it is thousands of feet underground," Aronson further stated.

Condon Sees Possible Oil Activities Increase Soon

BILLINGS (AP)—Public Instruction Superintendent Mary M. Condon says she anticipates "greatly increased oil activity in Montana" because of the Middle East fighting.

In a news release prepared, Miss Condon said she believes the independent oil companies, especially, will step up activity in the Treasure State. She added that the five per cent of the land the school of Montana own should also profit.

Miss Condon said that in July, 1955, she obtained support of 37 senators of both parties in urging the President to take action to curtail foreign oil imports. She said she was convinced the slow down in the oil industry in Montana was due to the fact that independents had no incentive to produce oil because they could not get it processed.

Miss Condon said, "Of course, we would prefer to have peace in the Middle East, even if it means less income for Montana."

ALD'S TO SELL POM-POMS AT GRIZZLY-BOBCAT GAME

Pom-poms will be on sale before and during the Bobcat-Grizzly game tomorrow afternoon by Alpha Lambda Delta.

The women plan to sell the pom-poms in both University and MSC colors for 15 or 20 cents. They will be stationed at the field entrances and in the stands.

ALD, sophomore women's scholastic honorary, is doing this to raise money for a scholastic tea and Sentinel picture. There are 10 members, chosen last spring for maintaining a 3.5 average fall and winter quarters while freshmen.

Proposed Student Bulletin Discussed by C-B Thursday

Central Board meeting yesterday was quiet, in contrast to some of the previous meetings. The most important business taken up was in regard to a proposed student government bulletin.

Cole McPherson, chairman of the committee reported that a bulletin concerning the activities of C-B is needed if it would help to bring the student government closer to the students. He pointed out that it would not be as dry as the minutes, and would contain only interesting items. Joan Hoff interceded saying that a bulletin of this type would only serve to re-hash the Kaimin coverage of the story. McPherson replied that he did not think that the Kaimin coverage was "always adequate." It was finally decided that the committee should look further into the problem, and contact other schools and see what they are doing in this line.

Bruce Cook reported that Budget and Finance committee voted to make D. C. Hodges a member of the committee. His name was brought up before C-B and also approved.

Dee Scriven, Pub. Travel committee head, reported that Pat Harstad, Delores Hubel and Ray Eckstrom have been made members of that committee. Jim Smith, vice-president of Bear Paw, has also been made an ex-officio member due to his office.

John Fowler said that he had been approached by Jiggs Dahlberg on the possibility of having the Grizzly - Bobcat traveling trophy presented to the winning team captain after the game or during the dance Saturday. The idea was given to Dick Barney, Traditions Board chairman, for advisement.

Bill Steinbrenner, head of elections committee, reported that freshmen elections for C-B will be held today.

Fowler reported that a woman representing the College Crusade for Freedom will be here on Nov. 7. Members decided that the officers of various campus organizations should be invited to hear her speak.

A committee of two members from C-B and two from Judicial Council was set up to look into possibilities of incorporating J-C in the ASMSU constitution. As it stands right now, there is no official hook-up of Central board and Judicial Council.
