Pub-Travel Airls Money, Housing During Meeting

Publicity-Travel Board decided Wednesday to give the Royaleers $50 of the $150 they had requested. The money will help pay the square dance group's expenses to Billings and Polson.

Housing for 200 expected students for the High School Leadership Camp was discussed. Pub-Travel members decided to ask the sororities for assistance.

Dean Luther Richman of the College of Fine Arts, approved holding the Camp during the Music Meet May 10 and 11, chairman Dee Scriven reported. The Board has yet to receive the Montana High School Association's approval for holding the Camp.

The Board has started work on the College and Career Day Program started last year. Between March 11 and April 10 University students will visit Montana high schools informing them about the University and answering questions. The students chosen are trained under a Pub-Travel program.

The group is sending letters to Butte, Deer Lodge, Anaconda, Kalispell and Helena to see if they are sponsoring basketball Booster Nights again this year. Additional letters also are being sent to Billings, the Bitterroot area, and Great Falls.

The members hope to have the copy for the self-guided tour booklet on the University completed by Nov. 27.

Oxford Debaters Meet MSU Team Next Sunday

Debaters from Oxford University, England, will meet the MSU debate team Sunday, Nov. 18 at 8 p.m. in the Music School Auditorium, Dr. Ralph Y. McGinnis, chairman of the Speech Department, said yesterday.

"Resolved: That NATO has outlived its usefulness" is the proposition to be debated.

Bruce Cook, history major from Butte, and Don Mosher, psychology major from Butte, will take the negative for MSU. Roy Dickson, from Jamaica, B.W.I., and Alec Grant, a native of London, will argue the affirmative for Oxford.

Since World War II, MSU debaters have met debate teams from Oxford University, Cambridge University, London University, the University of Edinburgh, the University of Glasgow, the University of Stockholm, and the University of Copenhagen, Dr. McGinnis said.

"Public support of our annual international debate is the best assurance for continuing this feature," he said.

Tickets can be obtained by writing to Dr. McGinnis or at the box office.

Band to Play in Billings During Halftime of Game

MSU's 75-piece Treasure State Band is scheduled to perform Saturday afternoon during halftime of the MSU-Wyoming game at Billings.

The band will leave for Billings today, according to James Eversole, band director. The band will perform en route in Helena at 11 a.m. at the high school football stadium, assisted by 13 twirling Treasuresettes, Eversole said.

At Billings, band members will be housed by the Montana State Alumni Assn. Marcus J. Bourke, secretary-treasurer of the MSU Alumni Assn., and George Fox, president of the Billings chapter of the association, cooperated to arrange the housing accommodations.

The MSU band will share the halftime in Billings with the high school band from Greybull, Wyo.

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

From the Wires of United Press

WASHINGTON—Russia has told the United States it's nobody's business what goes on in Hungary.

Soviet Premier Bulganin has replied to the United States demand for withdrawal of Russian troops from Hungary. And, according to Radio Moscow, Bulganin told the President the troop withdrawal is a matter strictly between Russia and Hungary.

In Washington, the State Department said Bulganin's letter has been received but it refused further comment.

Hungarian freedom fighters are still keeping those Russian troops busy.

NEW YORK—A survey of negro votes in four big cities shows the northern negroes gave a substantially larger vote to President Eisenhower than they did four years ago. The negro districts of New York, Philadelphia, Detroit and Chicago all went definitely for Adlai Stevenson, but Mr. Eisenhower's share of the total was larger.

PENTAGON—The Russians are reported on the move in the Middle East and in eastern Europe.

American military officials say Russian "advisers" and MIG jet fighters have moved into Syria, Israel's northern Arab neighbor.

They also report Russian units concentrating along the Polish border.

WHITE HOUSE—President Eisenhower has ordered the admission of some five-thousand additional Hungarian refugees as soon as possible. The President said the United States can't help the rebels still trapped behind the Iron Curtain but he said the free world can aid thousands of the freedom fighters who have escaped. Mr. Eisenhower appealed to all Americans to give assurance of "housing, employment and financial assistance" for the Hungarian refugees.

LAKE SUCCESS—Israel has notified the UN that it will withdraw its forces from Egypt "immediately" after completion of arrangements to send in the UN police force. Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir also repeated the Israeli call for direct negotiations between Egypt and Israel on a permanent peace, but she did not make the negotiation issue a condition of the troop withdrawal.

Great Falls Meet To Hear Carleton

Dr. Linus J. Carleton, dean of the School of Education, will speak at Great Falls March 8 and 9 at the Northwest Regional Conference of the Department of Classroom Teachers.

Dr. Carleton said he would represent higher education in a symposium rounded out by law and business representatives. The topic will be "What Is an Educated Person?"

The theme of the conference will be "The Classroom Teacher—Key to an Educated People."

The regional group represents teachers from five Northwestern states. The department of classroom teachers is a division of the National Education Assn.

Women Petition to Keep Elvis Presley from TV

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (U)—A group of women circulated petitions yesterday demanding that rock 'n' roller Elvis Presley be barred from television.

The women intend to send the petitions, which describe Presley as "vulgar and disgusting," to CBS and TV star Steve Allen who said he may have Presley on his show.

The petitions have been signed by the Syracuse Police Chief, a Police Judge and an Assistant District Attorney.

The women, who remained anonymous, said they started the petition after reading an editorial in a Catholic newspaper which called the "Presley influence" a "plague, a threat to tomorrow's youths." The editorial protested the appearance of Presley on Ed Sullivan's television program.

C-B Votes Unanimously To Join National Group

MSU's governing body, Central board, voted unanimously yesterday to join NSA, National Student Association. Larry Pettit and Stan Nicholson, who were sent by Central Board to the last regional meeting of NSA in Moscow, Idaho, gave a report on the convention. They both stated that their first impressions were slightly unfavorable, because the convention was not well organized and the region had no constitution or by-laws. After urging the convention to adopt a constitution and some by-laws, and after they had seen some progress made, their reactions became more favorable.

Pettit stated that the regional association as it now stands consists of a regional director and four committee heads, one in each of the four districts in the region. There is one other committee, but the head does not have to be from any special district.

Nicholson then read a commentary on the constitution of NSA, prepared by Larry Gaughan. Gaughan stated that he believes there is nothing in the constitution that would prevent Central Board from joining the organization.

Nicholson also pointed out that joining NSA would entitle the governing body here access to NSA's information service, to attend regional seminars, to attend conventions, and to go to a foreign relations seminar at Harvard.

To gain admittance into NSA, Nicholson said that C-B would have to pay local and national dues, accept the principles of the organization, constitution and pre-amble, by-laws, and regional constitution.

Dee Scriven then made a motion to accept these items, and in effect join NSA. The motion was carried by a unanimous vote.

A question then arose as to whether or not MSU should remain a member of PSPA, Pacific Student President's Association. Due to the fact that we pay no dues and that the next convention is quite a ways off, the discussion was tabled.

In other business, C-B voted to allow the Sentinel to purchase another camera, costing $100, from money that is already in the Sentinel's fund.

Publicity-Travel committee reported that the Royaleers have requested the student government to give them $150 for expenses for their spring tour. Miss Scriven said that she told them they could have $50 and another $100 if they showed initiative in getting up their own money making projects. This was approved by the board.

Marilyn Shope reported on the ACU convention held in Eugene, Ore. last week. The cost of the trip was $340, which was all absorbed by the student union fund. She reported that three of the group received offices in the organization, this was more than from any other school.

John Fowler reported that the tea held with the officers from MSC's student government was very informative and did much to further relations between the two schools, although it was not well attended on either side.

The last bit of business dealt with the formation of a committee on foreign travel, the details of which are to be worked out later. A motion was made and passed for such a committee.

Editorially . . .

In recent years the term "professionalism" has been attached to intercollegiate athletics, especially football. This term has been given more importance of late because of the scandals in the Pacific Coast Conference among others.

Many sports writers, columnists and critics tagged the name on intercollegiate sports following the start of so-called booster clubs. The famous "slush fund" that was operated by a University of Washington booster club brought national prominence to clubs of this type.

However, all booster clubs are not bad. In fact, MSU has for its booster club one of the best west of the Mississippi River. Although the club is less than two years old it has grown to 281 members.

Dues derived from the Century Club can only be spent on athletic scholarships and essential clerical service. There are, however, certain Skyline Conference standards which the University must follow when issuing scholarships.

These rules include: (1) grant-in-aid fees and tuition; (2) scholarship for $60 a month (no work required); (3) loan of books (approximately $50 per year per student); and (4) a job for $15 a month at $1 an hour.

The University has 70 scholarships, 44 of which go to football, 18 to basketball and 5 to track. The others are divided between baseball, tennis, golf and swimming.

MSU "compares favorably" in basketball and track scholarships, but trails in football scholarships, according to Athletic Director George Dahlberg. Other Skyline schools have 20 to 40 more football grants than Montana.

The athletic department operates on a budget of approximately $160,000 a year. From student fees the department acquires $41,000. The rest must come from the Century Club, guarantees and gate receipts.

Without the Century Club's help, the scholarship situation would be less adequate than it is today. Montana has been able to obtain some stellar athletes through the help of the Club. This Club has not been as successful as some, but over a period of years this organization will prove itself and give Montana a better athletic program.

FACULTY IS HOST AT LODGE TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

About 420 persons were present Wednesday night at a party given at the Lodge by the University faculty and staff members and their wives for the Missoula Chamber of Commerce and their wives.

The party was in return for a smoker given for the MSU faculty on May 24. Purpose of both get-togethers was to give the University faculty and Missoula businessmen an opportunity to become better acquainted.

Two social programs were conducted and a 45-minute program was presented by the University School of Music. Both faculty and students participated in the musical program.

French Baritone
To Open Concert
Series Tonight

The community concert tonight will feature the French baritone, Gerard Souzay.

Souzay made his American debut in 1950. He returned to the U. S. and Canada in 1952, '53 and '55 and is touring for the '55-'56 season for the first time under Columbia Artists Management.

Souzay is one of the most popular radio artists in Europe; in 1949 he was awarded the International Grand Prix du Disque for his recordings. Most of his summer schedules are devoted to singing in the international music festivals in Strasbourg, Aix-en-Provence, Edinburgh, Berlin, Besancon, Engadine, and Menton.

After his Town Hall recital in early 1955, the New York Times called him "one of the most gifted and expressive young interpreters now before the public."

Steam Valve—

Dear Editor:

The editorial in Wednesday's Kaimin not only evidenced poor taste in the choice of subject, but assumed a "holier than thou" attitude which reduced it to the emotion type.

The emphasis on the disorderliness of the Bozemanites was a clever device in rationalizing our own lack of spirit shown not only here on the MSU campus, but last year when we played Bozeman. Let us look at the facts once more and re-evaluate them:

1. Last year it was assuredly a dry run trip to Bozeman mainly because fear was greater than temptation. It must be admitted, however, that parched throats were quickly moistened, due we're sure, to the evil influence of our rowdy country cousins.

2. We had fun in Bozeman, yes, but our victory was sadly supported by enthusiastic fans. It was accepted with the typical MSU complacency and apathy.

3. Obviously the writer of the editorial has never been to Mid-Western and Ivy League games where students act "in a manner disgraceful to any school." Their schools being, of course, superior to MSU.

4. The condemnation of guests seems a rather childish attitude to be taken by a University publication.

So let's not assume the role of punishing judges who rap naughty children on the backs of their hands and say, "bad, bad."

Perhaps we might do well to look in our own back yard before knocking the behavior of students from other educational institutions.

33 Silvertips Fly to Billings For Wyoming U Encounter

Thirty-three Grizzlies left this morning by plane for Billings and their encounter with the undefeated Wyoming Cowboys. A capacity crowd of 8,000 is expected.

This will be the fifth meeting of the two Skyline clubs, and Montana is still shooting for its first victory over the Cowpokes. Coach Jerry Williams said, "We are definite underdogs, but I think the boys will make a smooth showing, anyway."

Big Problem

The Grizzlies' big problem will be Jim Crawford, the Pokes' versatile tailback. The 'Tips' big line, however, should give the Wyoming star a lot of trouble. In past performances this season the Grizzlies completely stopped Arizona's Art Luppino and bottled up Utah State's threat, Jack Hill.

Wyoming coach Phil Dickens says his boys are not taking this game lightly. Proof of this is the number of Wyoming fans that will pour into Billings Saturday. Some 500 fans from Greybull alone will roar into town to see the Pokes play and in particular to watch their own Crawford.

"Too Much at Stake"

Coach Dickens says his Pokes are out to win this one. "There's

Ties Are Bountiful As I-M Football Draws to Close

A three-way tie in C league for second place has forced a playoff which will begin next Tuesday. Craig 1st West drew a bye. The Butte Rats and Craig 2nd North play Tuesday with the winner playing Carig 1st West.

A possible two-way tie for first place in the B league looms. The Galloping Geese and Elrod Hall, tied for first place with Jumbo with a 4-1 record, meet head-on tonight at 4 p.m. on Field 2. Jumbo Hall plays Sigma Alpha Epsilon who is tied for last place. They play on Field 3. Alpha Tau Omega plays Theta Chi on Field 1. All games are scheduled for 4 p.m.

Trio of Faculty Teams Get 3-0 Wins; PE, Military Remain at Top of Ladder

Three teams blanked their opponents in faculty bowling Tuesday night.

Physical Education, Administration, and Military won 3-0 over Business Administration, Journalism, and Chemistry-Pharmacy. Natural Science beat Education 2-1.

The wins by the PE and Military squads kept them close in their race for the first place position. Physical Education, however, continued to lead over Military by one point, 19-18. Last week they were ahead 15-14. Journalism's loss dropped them from third to sixth.

Military had the high series with 2574 pins and PE was second with 2274. Seven keglers had series of more than 500. M. Sgt. Charles May rolled a 601 for series, and M. Sgt. Milt Hansen, of the same squad, rolled a 562 for second place.

Spotlight Swings to Field House As Grizzly Hoopsters Practice

As football season begins to draw to a close, MSU's Field House will soon be the center of attention.

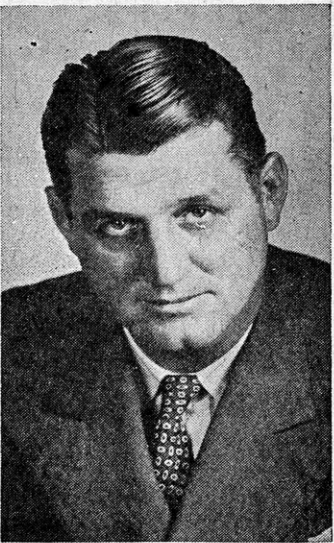

Basketball Coach Forrest B. (Frosty) Cox has fifteen charges working out as the squad prepares for a 22 game series this year. The hoopsters have been working out since Oct. 15; on Nov. 1 they moved from the men's gym into the Field House for practice.

"The progress... has been fine," Cox said. "The boys are coming along fine but our big job is to bring along the boys that are new to us this season."

Six lettermen have returned to the squad and seven of the remaining nine men are sophomores. The returning lettermen are Ray Howard, senior; Rudy (Zip) Rhoades, senior; Al Dunham, senior; Russ Sheriff, junior; Dick Trinastich, junior; and Hal Erickson, junior. Trinastich lettered in 1951 and 1952 before entering the service.

The seven sophomores working out are Jim Powell, Duane Divich, Gordon Hunt, Darrol Dunham, Jack Dunlap, an ex-service man; Mike Granbois, an ex-service man; and Tom McEacheron. Two transfers, Frosty Cox Jr. and

FROSTY COX

Clancy Waters complete the squad.

Only one man on the squad is under the six foot mark. Hunt measures 5-11. Tallest Grizzly is Sheriff at 6-7. Trinastich and Howard both measure in at 6-6.

Inter-squad scrimmages have been planned for Nov. 16-17 and Nov. 23-24. Cox said these scrimmages will be open to the public.

Play opens for the Silvertips on Dec. 1 when they meet Idaho University. Skyline play for the squad opens Jan. 4 against Brigham Young at Provo, Utah.

France Prompted Israel To Invade Egypt—Burgess

By RICHARD CHAMPOUX

France prompted Israel into invading Egypt, Dr. Robert M. Burgess, chairman of the Foreign Languages Department, said in an interview concerning the Middle East crisis.

"Africa and the Suez are vital to the economic existence of France, more so even than to England, insofar as oil and trade are concerned," Dr. Burgess said. The situation in Egypt, as far as France is concerned, has been building up over a long period of time, starting with the loss of France's colonies in the Orient, according to Dr. Burgess.

"Viet Nam, Morocco and Tunisia have been lost as colonies, but France still maintains trade with these colonies and has a strong foothold there," he said.

"It's another situation with Algeria, since much of France's food comes from there. There is a great threat to the French element of the population if France moves out," he added.

France doesn't see the loss of the other territories as such a blow to her economic life, as would be the loss of Algeria, Dr. Burgess said.

"She sees this as the final blow to her national pride and not since the end of World War II have the French united so solidly behind a premier as they have behind Mollet in this crisis," Dr. Burgess said.

'Four American Painters' Exhibit to Open Sunday

The MSU Art Department will open an exhibition entitled "Four American Painters" Sunday in the gallery of the Arts and Crafts Building.

The paintings are from the Duveen-Graham Gallery in New York. Keith Martin, Attilio Salemme, Irving Kreisberg and Karl Holtz are the four artists. The work of these men is representative of some of the major trends of painting in America today, according to Aden F. Arnold, department chairman.

The exhibition will be open Sundays from 2 to 5 p.m.; weekdays (except Thursdays and Saturdays and Wednesday and Friday of the Thanksgiving weekend) from 1:30 to 4 p.m.; and Wednesday evenings, Nov. 14 and 28, from 7 to 9 p.m.

"France blames Nasser and the Egyptians for a number of things that have brought about the Algerian revolt, among which are the supplying of arms to the rebels and giving asylum to their leaders," he continued.

"They look at Nasser as another Hitler who has been appeased but still wants more," he added.

The French figured the United States would have blocked them from attacking Egypt if the U.S. had known before hand, as it did when the French wanted to bomb Manchuria during the Korean War.

Dr. Burgess also drew an analogy between France's activities in Algeria and Russia's activities in Hungary, which he said were similar, to a point.

Russians Use Propaganda

"For propaganda purposes the Russians might say that they are attempting to restore order and responsible government in Hungary as the French wish to do in Algeria and the French and English wish to do in Egypt," he said.

"The French are in Egypt because they are sick of talking and conferences, and saw this as a time for action," he continued.

"They felt that if a country tears up a treaty so vital to the economic existence of another country the country offended is justified in trying to enforce the treaty," he added.

"I don't think it was a justified move," he concluded, "and the only thing we can do is denounce it."

HOME EC REPRESENTATIVES ATTENDING SPOKANE MEET

Anne C. Platt, professor of home economics, and Mrs. Naomi Lory, instructor of Home Economics, are attending the Conference of College Teachers of Foods and Nutrition in Spokane this week.

They also will visit the home economics departments at Washington State College and the University of Idaho.
