State Board, Administration To Enforce Parking Measure

Responsibility for the enforcement of University Parking regulations lies with the University administration and the State Board of Education, Tom Monahan, Assistant to the Dean of Students, said yesterday.

In the interview Monahan answered some questions raised by a student letter printed in the Steam Valve section of last Tuesday's Kaimin.

"As far back as 1949 a traffic committee, made up of students and faculty members, began to study the parking problem and came to the realization that the horse and buggy days at MSU were over and the automobile was here to stay," he said.

"Recommendations that came out of that committee were accepted by Central Board and the State Board of Education in May of 1950 and some of them have been incorporated in the present parking regulations," he continued.

The 1950 traffic committee studied such problems as designation of parking areas, enforcement of regulations, fines, registration of vehicles, control of moving traffic and expansion of the program.

Starts Next Quarter

"Regulations for parking and enforcement will be published next week and will go into operation on Jan. 7," Monahan said.

The Kaimin will print the parking regulations and a map of the different parking areas in next Wednesday's issue.

The present plans call for two campus patrolmen who will give out the tickets and protect the students' property around the living quarters day and night, according to Monahan.

"We have fines for late registration and for late return of books to the library and the fines to be levied for illegal parking will be laid down in the same light,"

Monahan said.

Fines to Pay Expenses

"The money from the fines will help to pay the patrolmen's salaries and if a student neglects to pay these fines his privilege of operating a car on University property will be suspended.

"If a car is seen in the lots without a decal for two or three days in a row, local police will be asked to find out who the owner is and if he is a student the Dean will take care of the case," he continued.

Monahan said there were 1,625 cars registered at his office by faculty, staff and students as of yesterday afternoon.

"With this number of cars around you can see the problem we face and we are trying our best to solve it and we would appreciate everybody's cooperation in this program," he said.

LL.W.U. Strike May Spread

NEW YORK (P)—The full force of the eastern dock strike may spread to the West Coast today.

The International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union ordered a strike vote during their 24-hour sympathy walkout Monday. But the result of the vote won't be known until today.

Representatives of the ILA and the New York Shipping Association met again this afternoon in New York. But there was little indication of progress. Both sides are under mounting pressure to end the strike. Informed sources in Washington say the government may step in with an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction, if the strike isn't settled by the end of this week.

Refugees Being Flown To United States Today

VIENNA (P)—Hungarian refugees being flown to the United States have received "good security risk" labels from a man who should know.

Rep. Francis Walter of Pennsylvania, who co-authored the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, answered his own question in Vienna today when asked about the possibility that an undesirable might get into the country.

"What better evidence of anti-communism can you have than bullet holes in a man's body?" Walters said.

The first plane-load of Hungarian refugees arrived at Gander, Newfoundland late Tuesday for an over-night stay before entering the United States today.

Heavy Snowfall Blankets Great Plains States

CHICAGO (P)—It will be a white Thanksgiving for the drought-stricken Great Plains states.

Heavy snow swept out of the Rockies yesterday and turned the area into a great white way. The National Safety Council hopes the bad weather will keep motorists at home and cut down on the highway death toll.

The storm left up to 18 inches of snow in the Colorado mountains and then moved into the Great Plains. Nebraska was hit full blast. Eight inches of snow fell at Imperial, Sydney and Kimball.

Students to Sell B.G. Ducats During Holiday; 1,221 Bought

An appeal is being made to students who will be in Missoula for the holidays to help canvass the downtown district to sell tickets to the Benny Goodman performance, according to Tommie Lu Middleton, assistant director of student activities. Arrangements are also being made to send students to Kalispell and Hamilton for sales. Anyone interested in selling tickets should meet in the activities room of the Lodge.

Sales to students are coming along very well, Miss Middleton reported. As of 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, 1,221 tickets had been sold, 630 of these were for the concert and 592 for the dance.

Residents of communities surrounding Missoula have been notified of the performance by radio and newspaper, and have been urged to write the Lodge for tickets. Tickets have been sent to Helena, Kalispell and Butte.

"Because the tickets are selling so well," Miss Middleton said, "there will probably be an advance ticket sell out. If that is the case, there will be no tickets sold at the door."

Dick Josephson, chairman of Hospitality committee, has written a letter to Goodman, extending a welcome to Missoula, and inviting him to tour the campus. The committee has also offered to fly him around the surrounding country or take him hunting.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has invited Goodman and his band for Monday dinner at their house.

The concert will be from 8-9:30 in the University theater and the dance from 10-12:30 in the Cascade room of the Lodge.

Gas Rationing Hits Europe

By UNITED PRESS

The Suez crisis finally has put Britain on wartime gasoline rationing. And the pinch is being felt in Europe.

France has ordered fuel oil quotas. And Italy has asked the United States for oil.

Britain announced that rationing will begin Dec. 17. Post offices will start issuing ration books Thursday. Average motorists will be allowed a basic ration good for 200 miles driving a month.

London experts said rationing probably will continue through most of next year while the Suez canal is being cleared of sunken ships and oil stocks are built back to normal.

Three-fourth's of Europe's normal oil supply has been cut off by the blocking of the canal.

With Britain back on an austerity basis, France also announced today that quotas will be imposed tomorrow on bulk users of fuel oil in the shipping and transportation industries.

The Italian ambassador in Washington asked the United States yesterday to help in meeting that country's oil crisis. He said Italy is "running very short" of oil. After the meeting with Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr., the ambassador declined to say whether he got any promise of quick oil shipments.

Most service stations ran out of gasoline in Madrid, Spain, yesterday.

Custom of Thanksgiving Oldest American Holiday

By GALE BRAMMER

Tomorrow Montana State University students, some with family, some with friends and some alone, sit down to the feast of Thanksgiving, one of the few holidays that has retained to any great extent its original meaning.

In 1621 the Pilgrims gathered to feast and give thanks for Divine Providence through the previous year. Tomorrow, more than three centuries later, Americans again will gather at the feasting table to review their blessings and give thanks to the Divine.

America's first Thanksgiving was in 1621, when the Pilgrims, joined by Chief Massasoit and his 90 Indian followers, feasted for three days, "so we might, after a special manner, rejoice together" and give thanks that the Pilgrims had survived that first harsh winter in a new land.

Feast Days Not New

Days of thanksgiving were not a new thing in the world. During the days of the Holy Roman Empire, an emperor, upon his return to Rome after a disastrous battle, declared a day of feasting and thanksgiving for victory.

Later, when the emperor admitted the "victory" was in fact a slaughter of his own army, he justified the celebration as "needed in order for the people to have a day of merriment" before the truth was known.

Thanksgiving days for special occasions were common in England prior to the pilgrimage to America, but it was in that first Pilgrim Thanksgiving that the blessings for the previous year were reviewed and thanks given to Providence.

The Pilgrims again celebrated Thanksgiving in 1623. Then the idea was abandoned in the Colonies for some 50 years.

Colonial officials at various times ordered days of thanksgiving in the English tradition, for such events as visiting royalty or the birth of an heir to the throne. But the Pilgrims' idea of Thanksgiving was lost until after the Revolution.

Count Your Blessings

With United Nations police forces moving into the Middle East, gasoline rationing in Britain and the blood letting in Hungary, all Americans should take a moment to count their blessings.

When prayers are offered at Thanksgiving dinner think of the thousands of Hungarians who have been herded like cattle into cold, sealed box cars and are on their way to slave labor camps in Siberia.

Think of those Hungarians who were maimed in the rebellion against the Communistic rule in their homeland. A rebellion that was the only form of free expression the enslaved have.

Think of the battle-scarred homes in Cairo and throughout the Middle East that have been torn apart by British bombs.

Think of the men imprisoned in concentration camps throughout Red China. Some of them will have only a scrap of food to eat while we are stuffing ourselves with the traditional Thanksgiving feast.

Think of the people in impoverished countries throughout the world. The people who have never had a Thanksgiving.

Think of the people behind the Iron Curtain. The people who at one time knew what freedom was, and now may never know again.

Stop and think. Then count your blessings. The blessings that only the United States has to offer.

The right we have to speak out against our government when we disagree with it, knowing that we won't be shipped off in a box car. The freedom to worship as we please, when we please. And the fact that we have churches to attend. Churches that haven't been destroyed by war and a government that allows and encourages freedom of religion.

Be thankful for the two-party system. The privilege of voting for the candidates whom we believe will best run our government, and that we are not faced with just one slate of candidates on the ballot.

Think of our standard of living, the highest in the world. A standard of living that offers nearly every person capable of work an opportunity to work at the vocation of their choice.

Think of our school system. A system designed to educate all who are desirous of an education. An education where students have academic freedom and can form their own opinions of what is taught.

Count your blessings when you sit down to dinner tomorrow. And say a prayer for those people in the world who are not as fortunate as you.

She sat next to me on the train that day
And a wave of perfume wafted my way

I did the very best that I could!
But alas, that perfume was stronger than I
I gave her a kiss . . . and got a black eye!

'Little Brown Stein' Prize In Pigskin Finale Tomorrow

By RON MUNGER
The Montana Grizzlies and Idaho Vandals renew their rivalry for the "Little Brown Stein," when they meet on Dornblaser Field at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Idaho has won 27 games and the Silvertips 11 since 1903 when the series began. The only tie occurred in 1914 when the two clubs battled to an 0-0 deadlock.

The Grizzlies last tasted victory against the Vandals in 1950 when they squeezed out a 28-27 victory. Since then, Idaho won 12-9 in 1951; 27-0 in 1952; 20-12 in 1953; and 31-0 last year.

The Grizzlies, victorious in only one game this year, are heavy underdogs tomorrow. However, when these two clubs meet anything can happen, and usually does.

Vandals Improve
Idaho has been improving with every game this season, and has defeated some of the top ball clubs in the Skyline Conference. The Vandals hold victories over the University of Utah and Utah State.

In other games this season the Vandals fell to Washington 53-21; Oregon, 21-14; Washington State, 33-19; and Arizona State, 41-0.

Rose Bowl bound Oregon State had to score in the last two minutes of last Saturday's game to squeak by the Vandals 14-10.

The score in itself indicates the strength and improvement of the Vandals since they dropped their season opener to the University of Washington.

The Silvertips will be facing a very fast Vandal backfield, led by Larry Nordby, a 190 pound halfback. Don Braden holds down the other halfback position and is very fast.

Idaho Injuries
Idaho lost the services to their leading ground gainer and hard running fullback Mel Schmidt in the Oregon State game. Schmidt received a dislocated left knee in the first quarter of play.

Left end Larry Aldrich, who was the third leading pass receiver in the nation before the OSC game, may see limited action against the Grizzlies.

The Vandal line is bolstered by veteran tackles Dick Foster and Tony Anderson and guard Jerry Kramer. Center Wawne Walker is a reputed good linebacker and offensive center.

Montana Injuries
Coach Jerry Williams sophomore studded Grizzly team will be weak in the backfield.

Fullback Severn Hayes will not see action. He received a fractured leg in the New Mexico game.

Hard running sophomore halfback Matt Gorsich was also hurt in the Lobo game. It is doubtful whether he will see action.

Tomorrow will be the last chance for Montana fans to witness seniors Paul Enochson, a quarterback; Will Hart, an end; Ivory Jones and Co-captain Bob McGihon, tackles; and guard Bob Small in action.

Co-captain Bill Kaiserman, another senior, had to drop out of football two weeks ago because of doctors orders.

Fi Alpha Falfa Squad Overpowers Elrod Hall 13-0 To Win Intramural Title; Record Unblemished

Fi Alpha Falfa overpowered Elrod Hall 13-0 last night to win the intramural football championship.

As a result of last night's victory Fi Alpha remains the only unbeaten team in a field of 21 intramural teams.

FAF had too much power, speed and finesse against an outclassed but determined Elrod team. The outcome of the game was never in doubt.

An inkling of the result was foretold when Fi Alpha scored* the first time they got the ball.

Bob Bystrickey hit end Tom Rich in the end zone for the first touchdown. FAF went 40 yards in four plays for the score. Bystrickey's conversion attempt was blocked.

FAF scored again in the second period on a 25 yard pass from Bystrickey to Grenz, who was standing on the goal line. Bystrickey's conversion was good for a 13-0 lead.

The pass protection Bystrickey received, and his ability to dodge onrushing linemen along with his passing accuracy was the difference in the ball game.

Many times FAF's quarterback appeared to be trapped only to outrace his pursuers and pass or run for sizeable gains.

FAF's line also deserves praise as they gave their passer plenty of protection and crashed through a lighter Elrod line to down the passer several times. The line play of Rowe, Simon and McDonald was very effective.

The statistics tell the story of the game. FAF passed 29 times, completing 13 for a total passing yardage of 105. Elrod passed 20 times, completed eight for a total passing yardage of 55.

Elrod's quarterback, Tom Lawin, played his usual good game, but had to hurry many of his passes. Speedy Dick Bork broke up several Fi Alpha passes.

Tempers flared momentarily in the last quarter and FAF's Simon was ejected from the game for slugging.

Elrod made the only field goal attempt of the game. Capri's kick from the 35 yard line was blocked.

Special Seasons Set for Hunting

HELENA (U) — There will be special seasons for hunting deer without antlers in parts of Central and Eastern Montana from Nov. 22 to Dec. 2.

The Fish and Game Commission said the areas include all of Powder River County, Custer County west of the Powder River, but excluding Fort Keogh Reservation, and Garfield County north of Highway 18, excluding the Fort Peck game range.

Areas 12 and 12A in Fergus and Petroleum counties will be open until Dec. 25. Any two deer may be taken in area 12 and only two whitetail deer in area 12A.

Thanksgiving . . .

In 1789, President Washington proposed to Congress that Nov. 26 be declared a national day of thanksgiving. Two Southern gentlemen, in the spirit of individuality that has characterized Americans, objected, saying, "The people have little to be thankful for, and even if they did, the President and Congress had no right to tell them how and when to express their thankfulness." Washington waited six years before proclaiming another Thanksgiving.

John Adams declared a national day of Thanksgiving twice during his term as President, but from then until 1863 Thanksgiving was celebrated by individual states or not at all.

President Lincoln, upon suggestion of Mrs. Sarah Joseph Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, set the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving. From 1864 to 1939, Thanksgiving was celebrated the fourth Thursday in November.

In 1939, President Franklin D. Roosevelt moved Thanksgiving to the third Thursday in November

NO BOWLING WEDNESDAY

Intramural bowling officials announced last night that Wednesday's bowling games have been cancelled and will be rescheduled later.

to provide a longer Christmas shopping season.

Many states refused to observe the President's wish and continued to celebrate Thanksgiving on the fourth Thursday. In 1942 Congress, at the request of the President, passed a joint resolution officially setting the fourth Thursday of November as a legal holiday, a day of Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving, as with many of the other good things we enjoy, has grown through the years to its present national recognition. But we have clung with few variations to the Pilgrims' concept of review and thanks to the Divine for His blessings.
