One in Seven Students at U Receiving Scholarship Aid

About one-seventh of the students attending Montana State University are on scholarships, according to statistics in the office of E. Kirk Badgley, controller. The total fall quarter exemptions were $37,418, he said.

University scholarships are automatically awarded at the end of the year according to the grade point index over a period of three quarters. The recipients are notified the summer preceding the school year for which the scholarship will be in effect.

This year, the recipients, totaling 129, are those with a three-quarter grade point index of 3.5 or above.

Freshman scholarship winners are chosen in the spring. The scholarships, which provide $40 a quarter, number 43 this year.

12 of 14
Worthy Scholarships are awarded to outstanding freshmen and pay full fees and tuition for one year. Out of 14 presented last spring at the Interscholastic competition, 12 are now attending the University.

Fall quarter, 75 students held grants-in-aid, and this quarter 84 students have them. Any upper-classman with a 2.5 grade point index for three quarters is eligible to apply and must show need. The grant covers $40 a quarter.

Names Make News

Third Officer This Year Flees From Castro's Regime

Compiled From UPI Wires

High-ranking Cuban Army officer, Paratroop Commander Capt. Manuel Rojo Del Rio, has arrived in New York. He is the third officer to defect from Premier Fidel Castro's Cuban Regime in a year.

It is presumed that Capt. Del Rio will seek asylum in the United States.

He left San Jose, Costa Rica, by plane after blasting Fidel Castro whom he called a would-be superman. He also called the Premier's brother, Defense Minister Raul Castro, a "vindictive jellybean."

Capt. Del Rio sent a written resignation to Castro from San Jose where he was recuperating from a broken leg suffered in a practice parachute jump in Cuba some months ago. The resignation letter was made public by the San Jose newspaper "La Nacion."

Cuban newspaper editor Jorge Zayas fled to the United States from Havana yesterday. He was the first newspaper personage to go into exile in a year of the Castro government.

Zayas was taken to the Federal Building at Miami, Fla., when he landed there. Here U.S. Government officials began questioning him about his flight from Cuba.

Kliment Voroshilov, president of the Soviet Union arrived in India yesterday for an 18-day goodwill visit.

He received a subdued welcome from a crowd of three-thousand, who were gathered at the airport in New Delhi. However, Indian President Prasad and Prime Minister Nehru gave the Official warm greetings.

An estimated one-million Indians turned out to greet President Eisenhower on his recent goodwill visit.

One government official said: "Voroshilov is not Eisenhower." Aneurin Bevan, ailing deputy leader of the British Labor Party, has taken a turn for the worse. The 52-year-old Welshman underwent a major abdominal operation Dec. 29. The exact nature of his illness had not been revealed.

Montana Coldest In North America

Western Montana temperatures were the coldest on the North American continent Wednesday, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau. Missoula registered -21°, West Yellowstone -40°, Drummond -20°, Bozeman -28° and Butte -27°.

Fort Dawson, Alaska, which has the lowest temperature on record for this continent, registered -15° yesterday and Point Barrow, Alaska, reported -26°. It was -10° at 80° north latitude, which is north of the Arctic Circle.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts slightly warmer temperatures up to the weekend. Temperatures of 10 to 15 degrees and light snow flurries are expected.

Frequent snow flurries are predicted for the next five days and weekend temperatures will average 4° to 10° below seasonal normals.

Mrs. Lommasson To Advise Angels

Mrs. Emma Lommasson, assistant registrar, has been selected as advisor to the Angel Flight, according to Col. Charles L. Musgrave, Prof. of Air Science. Mrs. Lommasson will hold the office for one year. She will have the responsibility of selecting girls for Angel Flight, promotion, planning trips and supervising the conduct of the Angels. Capt. Donald M. Hagood, the Air Science staff advisor to the flight, is also responsible.

Commenting on the appointment, Mrs. Lommasson said, "I have not been associated with a military unit since the air cadets were here during World War II. I am thrilled with the prospect of working with such a group again. I realize the Angel Flight is not a truly military unit. However, like the air cadets, the Angels are a very trim, high spirited, select group."

Col. Musgrave also announced that the Angels will give a precision drill demonstration at the half-time of the Bobcat-Grizzly basketball game Feb. 1. He said the drill will last seven minutes and will be the first showing of the unit this academic year. Coed Col. Sharol Greenup will be in command during the half-time performance.

ONE MORE CHANCE!

Catlin Studios will take pictures of those who have not had their Sentinel pictures taken on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Donna Arnst, business manager said. The price is $1.50.

Hockey Team Asks for Funds To Cover Traveling Expenses

The University hockey team Tuesday night asked ASMSU Budget and Finance committee for $516 to cover three out-of-town games they have scheduled.

The games are with Montana State College, the University of British Columbia at Vancouver, and a tournament with the School of Mines, the State College and a Butte city team.

The request will be reviewed again next week by Budget and Finance in accordance with the committee's new policy. Howard Hansen, Budget and Finance chairman, said that all requests are voted on by the committee the week following their presentation to the committee. This gives the Kaimin a chance to release all requests a week before any ap-

Loy Says J Council to Act As Deans' Advisory Group

Helen Loy, acting chairman of Judicial Council, told Central Board last night that the Council will act primarily in an advisory capacity to the office of the dean of students.

She said this policy will be carried out for the remainder of the members' terms of office. Judicial Council members are appointed each spring, following the general ASMSU elections.

Cases will be handled by a subcommittee of Judicial Council, Miss Loy said, but the accused student has the right to appeal for a hearing before the entire Judicial Council.

Judicial Council will meet once a week, as before, Miss Loy said, and the subcommittee, which will probably be composed of three members, will report at that time.

SOPHOMORES WILL VOTE FOR CB DELEGATES TODAY

Sophomores will vote in the primary election today for a sophomore delegate to Central Board. The winning candidate in the general election next week will take over the vacated position of Kathy Joseph, who transferred this quarter, for the remainder of her term of office.

Polls will be open in the Lodge from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Lodge will be the only voting place.

Candidates for the post are Jennine Funk, John Ulvila, Ron Slovak, Ernie Ratzburg, Marilyn Nelson, and Gayle Hageman.

KIRBY HEAD CHEERLEADER

Central Board last night approved a recommendation by Traditions Board that Marva Kirby replace Carol Chakos as head cheerleader.

Miss Chakos is leaving school it was reported.

New Distribution Points Announced

Distribution points for the Montana Kaimin will be consolidated beginning with Friday's paper, Judith Blakely, Business Manager, announced yesterday.

Students will pick up the Kaimin at Liberal Arts, the Library, Lodge, J School, Music, Business Administration or Main Hall.

Many larger schools have fewer distribution points than we do, said Miss Blakely. Kaimins will continue to be out before noon.

LACK OF EFFICIENCY

Lack of efficiency and organization may mean a breakdown in Activities Committee to subcommittees to co-ordinate activities on campus, John Keefe, committee, told Central Board last night.

Proposed subcommittees were listed in the categories of Dance, Arts and Crafts, Games, Movies, and Special Events.

Keefe said more subcommittees may be added to the proposed list in the future.

The breakdown would be "more convenient and effective," he said.

U Band Will Play Anthem at Games

Traditions Board decided last night that the band will play "The Star-Spangled Banner" preceding basketball games, instead of John L. Lester, music professor, singing it. The spotlight will be focused on the flag at the end of the Field House.

The board discussed the addition of another fight song, "The Warrior," to those Montana already has: "Hail Copper, Silver, Gold," and "Up With Montana."

The cheerleaders will have "flash cards" to inform the crowd what the next cheer will be. The board thought more spirit will be shown, since probably more of the people in the stands will see the cards than usually hear the cheerleaders announce the yells.

Traditions Board meets at 7 p.m. Wednesdays. Ron Simon is chairman.

MSC Instructor To Lead Writers' Conference Here

Jack Barsness, a Montana State College faculty member, has been appointed director of the Montana State University 1960 Writers' Conference and visiting member of the MSU English faculty for spring quarter, Dr. Vedder M. Gilbert, chairman of the MSU English Department, said yesterday.

Montana State College has granted Barsness a leave of absence to carry out his dual assignment at the University.

The conference, which was traditionally held during the summer, has been scheduled for May 25-28 on the University campus. The dates were changed to make it easier for more persons, especially students at MSU and other schools in the region, whose vacation employment plans might conflict with a summer conference, to be able to attend, Dr. Gilbert said.

Henry Larom, who directed the conference from 1952 until 1959, recommended Barsness as interim director of the conference until the University can obtain a permanent director, Dr. Gilbert said. Larom resigned from the position in 1959 to accept the deanship of Rockland Community College, Rockland County, N.Y.

Barsness received an M.A. degree in English from MSU in 1951. He served on the staff of the MSU Writers' Conference in 1958. Currently he is assistant professor of English at MSC.

NAKAMURA WILL SPEAK AT SIGMA XI LUNCHEON TODAY

Sigma Xi will have a luncheon meeting today at 12 noon in CP 202. Dr. Mitsuru Nakamura, Assoc. Prof. of microbiology and public health, will give an illustrated talk on "Health Programs in Central America."

Members and their guests are invited to attend.

ROTC Loses Ground

The American Association of University Professors at Idaho State College recently took a positive step toward the solution of the compulsory Reserve Officers Training Corps issue. The Idaho State College chapter of the AAUP voted unanimously to present a resolution to College officials calling on the President of the State College, or his representative, to enter into negotiations with the United States Government for the purpose of eliminating the compulsory clause in the government's ROTC contract with Idaho State College. They will also present the resolution to the faculty of the College for a vote.

One of the parties directly involved in the controversy, the United States Air Force, has gone on record as being in favor of a one-year compulsory program as opposed to the existing two-year program. The Air Force's statement affirms a suspicion that a favorite argument of those supporting the compulsory two-year program is invalid—the argument being that two years is necessary to properly acquaint (here many would consider using the term "brainwash") freshmen and sophomore students with the ROTC program.

The issue at Idaho State College is not yet decided, nor is every university in the country with an AFROTC detachment changing its program from two years to one. But it does appear that members of other University communities are entertaining serious doubts as to the actual worth of compulsory ROTC.

The compulsory vs. elective ROTC controversy is not new to the University. Student and faculty groups have discussed it for some time. Last spring quarter male students indicated their feelings on the issue by voting for an alteration in the present ROTC program. Central Board has discussed the issue; it has been discussed in the press. Obviously there are strong feelings on the part of students and faculty alike as to whether or not compulsory ROTC is justified.

There are sound reasons for eliminating the present system of compulsory ROTC. There is no doubt that it interferes with time students would ordinarily devote to study of subjects more closely related to their major. It has been pointed out that participation in the ROTC program does not amount to a draft deferment. There are sound reasons for introducing a student to the program, but it can be accomplished in a year. It is not necessary to force two years of artificial military training on students merely to provide bodies so that upper classmen may practice their training in discipline.

This issue has been batted back and forth at the University for a long time. Other institutions have already taken a stand to keep a compulsory program or to eliminate it. If a final decision on the issue requires further investigation, then such investigation should begin immediately.

University men have indicated their feelings on the issue, and it has been widely discussed at the University and at the national level, including an article in the AAUP publication. It remains for the University's curriculum committee to take a long, objective look at compulsory ROTC and then make a final decision.

Ah, Education...

Yesterday the Kaimin printed a prepared statement from the school of Education "clarifying" their regulations on standard secondary certification of teachers in Montana. Quite frankly, the School of Education's use of the English language "snowed" us and we offer a prize of two "S & H Green Stamps" to the first person bringing a translation of the statement to the Kaimin by 5 p.m. Friday.

The statement is far from being a solitary example of the new "Educational English." Recently we heard of a school for exceptional students being labeled by educators as "a school for the academically able."

Religious Emphasis Here and There

At Colorado State University, "Diary of a Country Priest," a French film made in 1951, was presented as a part of the Great Film Classics series in co-operation with Religion in Life Week.

At San Jose State College, Prof. Carl Duncan said birth control was necessary at the rate the population has been increasing. He said, "I am sure the Catholic Church will change its views on birth control. Even now, opposition from the Pope is not hard and fast." Dr. Duncan feels that every education and device should be used to let the public know about the situation.

The Motive, a monthly magazine for Methodist students, sponsored an American contemporary religious on the Colorado State University campus.

The students of Colorado State University were asked to think about the swastikas which continue to appear in that area. This was brought up in connection with their religious emphasis week.

South Dakota State College has scheduled a convocation, seminars, a discussion, a radio broadcast and a luncheon for Religious Emphasis Week.

Mr. Gerhart H. Seger, author, correspondent and lecturer appeared on the BYU campus and

Law Test Will Be Given Here Says Sullivan

The Law School Admission Test, required of applicants for admission to the University Law School, will be given on campus Feb. 20, Dean Robert E. Sullivan announced.

Most U.S. law schools require applicants to take the test, which is prepared and administered by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J., the dean said. The test will be given at more than 100 testing centers on Feb. 20, and again in April and August.

A candidate must make separate application for admission to the law school of his choice and should inquire whether the school requires him to take the Law School Admission Test, Dean Sullivan said.

The test is made up of objective questions that measure verbal aptitudes and reasoning ability rather than acquired information, according to the dean. Test results give a student an indication of his law aptitude.

Sample questions and information about registration for the tests are contained in a bulletin that can be obtained from the University Law School or from Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau St., Princeton, N.J.

Dean Sullivan said the bulletin, which includes an application form, should be obtained at least a month in advance of the test date. Completed applications must be received by the Educational Testing Service at Princeton at least two weeks before the time of the test.

AFROTC Cadets Organize Chorus

An Air Force chorus is being organized on campus, according to Capt. Jack Fletcher, AFROTC instructor.

Members of the 30-man chorus are volunteers from the freshman and sophomore AFROTC. Cadet 2nd Lt. John Selleck, will direct the chorus.

Captain Fletcher began organization of the chorus at the beginning of winter quarter. Programs will be presented to civic organizations in and around Missoula. A public recital is planned for spring quarter.

Selleck said the chorus is working on American folk songs, popular songs, war tunes, songs from Broadway musicals and minstrel shows. The chorus plans to schedule tours later.

gave his opinions on the anti-Jewish demonstrations. He said that he did not believe that they were all caused by juvenile delinquency. He said that a part of the feelings originated with a "sub-pro-Nazi" organization called the Reich party.

Dr. Louis C. Zucker, a professor of English at BYU, lectured on "Mormon and Jew: A Meeting on the American Frontier" in connection with Religious Emphasis Week.

Gilbert Says 'No Injustice' In Gelfan's Assignments

David Gelfan, instructor of English, recently registered complaints concerning his assignments in the University English department and sent copies of the complaints to press and radio.

The chairman of the English Dept., Dr. Vedder Gilbert, said in a prepared statement that no injustice was involved in Mr. Gelfan's treatment.

Bork to Appear For Dance Nite

"Broadway Beat" is the theme for the 1960 Nite Club Dance scheduled for Feb. 5 and 6.

Gerald H. Doty, associate professor of music said the first evening is students' night at the Lodge and the second evening is for townspeople and faculty at the Florence Hotel.

Selections from Broadway musical shows will be presented by the Jubileers, the SAE Quartet and the Freshman Quartet, Mr. Doty said. Bob Bork's Big Band will provide dance music.

The ballet department will not participate in this year's program because special construction would be required, he said.

The proceeds from this show will go to the Music School Foundation, and will be used for music scholarships.

More Shoulders Can Bear Blame

To the Kaimin:

Somewhere between last year's football victories, professional athletics ascendancy, and sundry other activities, the MSU Sentinel got lost. The 1958-59 Sentinel is now out, and as President Risse has loudly pronounced, the book has errors. Having just read the minutes of the January 6 Central Board meeting, I now know what errors are—typographical and otherwise. It is evident that the book has good as well as bad points. The worst features are the inexpensive covers and pages—necessitated by a quite inadequate budget. The book's copy is good, and is not, as President Risse whines, uncomplimentary to the University. A pleasant surprise is the organization of the book, and there are many more pictures than in previous years.

Editor Upshaw experienced many problems in bringing out "his" yearbook—some of which he brought on and others over which he had no control. The full story is not a pleasant one for there were those who constantly let him down.

Far be it from me to absolve Jack from the responsibility of finishing the book, but all the blame has been placed on one person when it is evident that several others should shoulder this blame.

President Risse firmly announces that the 1958-59 Sentinel will stand as a monument to its editor. In this I concur for it is a rather good monument at that!

'Tip Tankmen to Begin Season With British Columbia Match

The University swimming team will start their season this week and next by meeting five opponents on the road. The tankmen will open Saturday against the University of British Columbia at Vancouver.

The following Monday they will meet College of Puget Sound at Tacoma, Wash., and the University of Washington at Seattle.

Coach Bud Wallace's splashers also have engagements with Washington State University at Pullman Jan. 29 and the University of Idaho Jan. 30.

The team has been cut to 10 members because of two ineligibility losses. Transfer students Gerald Tisue and Scott Stewart failed to make their fall quarter grades. Wallace is left with five lettermen and five sophomores. "We still have good strength for our dual meets this season, but the loss of two men may hurt our chances in the Skyline championship meet," the mentor said.

Tankmen on the road tour are freestylers Bob McKinnon, Gary Homme, John Vaught, Hibbie Junginger, Gary Groshelle and Bob Schuette; butterfly Ivan Jacobson; breast stroke Wayne Veeneman; back stroke Doug James and diver Bill Brubaker. McKinnon, Jacobsen, Veeneman and James are considered the core of the team. Homme has unofficially broken the Skyline 50-yard freestyle record and is the most promising sophomore.

The first home meet is Feb. 10 with Washington State University. The Skyline championships will be March 3-5 at the University of New Mexico.

Manz Takes Third Place At Squilchuck Jump Meet

Ski jumper John Manz finished third in class B competition at the Squilchuck Jump Meet in Wenatchee, Wash. last weekend. The meet was sponsored by the Wenatchee-Ski Club.

His teammates, Will Buckley and Rudy Ruana finished eighth and 28th respectively in the downhill racing at the Sun Valley Open meet. Around 90 racers competed in this event. Results of the slalom event were not available. This meet was sponsored by the Sun Valley Ski Club.

U Rodeo Division Leaves National For New Group

The Rocky Mountain division of Intercollegiate Rodeo Clubs, of which Montana is a member, has dropped out of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, Mrs. Lewis Cloninger, Bit 'n' Spur club adviser, said yesterday.

She said the reason the intercollegiate clubs left the association was because it is beginning to be commercialized. This decision was made by club advisers at Casper, Wyo. Dec. 18.

The Rocky Mountain clubs will be called the American Collegiate Rodeo Association, directed by Dr. Charles Bowman of Montana State College.

The first of a series of eight rodeos will be held in April at the University field house.

Superwoman, Super-stubborn Or Super-bunions?

LOCHEARNHEAD, Scotland (UPI)—Scots and Britons alike wondered today whether Dr. Barbara Moore is a superwoman or merely super stubborn.

Mention her name and you're likely to get a laugh, a ho-hum or an argument in any public.

The 56-year-old woman, instead of sitting home knitting, has decided to try to prove that men are really the weaker sex and that by living on nothing but fruit and vegetables she is the world's healthiest person.

Last week, she began a walking trek to the southern tip of England from the northernmost part of Scotland, a distance of about 1,000 miles—roughly the equivalent of a trip from St. Louis to New York City.

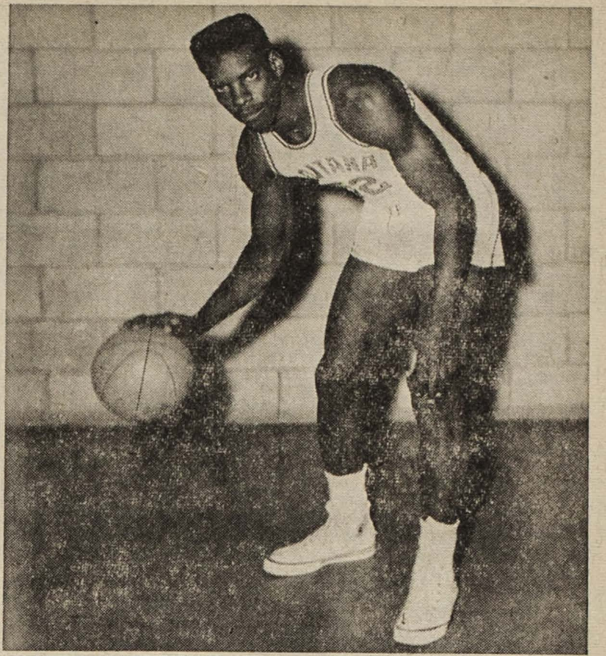

Today, having braved blizzards and other weather hazards, she started out again from this small town about 30 miles north of Glasgow.

Her face was raw from biting winds, her hands and feet numb and swollen from tramping through 18 inches of snow.

"Please quit," people along her route have begged.

"I must go on," the stalwart doctor replied.

Before retiring last night, she sat down to "a succulent, mouth-filling" repast: Lettuce, grated carrots, a tomato and a banana.

Artillery at '60 Olympics Site Controlling Avalanche Threat

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—Athletes and spectators need fear neither avalanches nor hunger at this 1960 Winter Olympic Games site which is being transformed into the world's most civilized wilderness.

Monte Atwater and his ranger crew are controlling the threat of avalanches with a battery of French 75 and 105mm guns.

And Atwater and his ranger Chef Peter Rasmussen have come out of retirement to head a kitchen corps of cooks, bakers, butchers and salad makers which will be feeding some 2,000 athletes, trainers and visitors at every mealtime.

Atwater and Dick Stillman, snow safety director for the games to be held Feb. 18-28, have been perfecting their avalanche control techniques for two years.

Peaks in this winter sports paradise rise above 8,500 feet. Periodic storms dump tons of snow into the crevasses and valleys, providing the snow for the sports competition but also creating a hazard to skiers and spectators.

"We watch closely for any buildup of snow that might endanger the skiers or games visitors," said Atwater. "When big slides appear to be forming, we go to another peak and start firing at it. This gets the avalanche under way before it gets too big and dangerous."

Ike Claims He'll Be Active In Forthcoming Campaign

WASHINGTON, (UPI)—President Eisenhower started his last year in the White House today by indicating he plans to play an important role in the forthcoming presidential election campaign.

He told a group of young Republicans he would see a lot of them "here and there" in the months to come. He urged all members of his party, from the presidential nominee to precinct workers, to work hard "so we can have another victory celebration" in November.

The President will leave the White House Jan. 20, 1961, when his successor takes over. He will bow out as the oldest man ever to have served in the presidency—but only after spending the most active year of his political career.

Eisenhower, who will be 70 next Oct. 14, will have traveled in South America, Russia, Japan, and possibly the Philippines; attended at least one and possibly two summit meetings, probably visited the new states of Alaska and Hawaii, and done considerable political campaigning.

All indications are that the President is in the best health of many years. He golfs, hunts, paints and plays bridge as often as he can—all despite the fact he suffered three serious illnesses between 1955 and 1957. Polls indicate he is at the height of his popularity.

The president capped his seventh anniversary in the White House by sending to congress his annual economic report, the last of three big messages he submits to the lawmakers each year.

The report called for a new war on inflation. It urged some industries to cut prices and called on organized labor to hold the wage line. A White House source said the appeal was aimed chiefly at steel and auto makers.

Brownlee Orders Two Films Banned

MISSOULA, (UPI)—Two commercial movie films, "The Lonely Sex" and "Girls Incorporated" were banned here today by order of District Judge E. Gardner Brownlee.

The order was part of a permanent injunction sought by Missoula County Attorney Anthony Keast. Keast described the films as "Lewd and obscene."

Following the films banishment, "teasers" which had advertised the movies as coming attractions at the Wilma Theatre went up in smoke.

Brownlee, in his court order, told the Sheriff's office to throw the film into a lumberyard incinerator.

Edward Sharpe, manager-owner of the Wilma, did not appear in court to contest either decision.

Tensions Mounting in France, De Gaulle's Power in Danger

PARIS, (UPI)—Paratroop Gen. Jacques Massu yesterday pledged personal loyalty to the French Military Command in Algeria. But he pointedly omitted direct assurance that the Army and the French settlers there would not take the law into their own hands.

Massu, abruptly summoned to Paris because of his alleged criticism of De Gaulle, in a communique issued here also omitted any direct pledge of loyalty to the French president.

The communique was issued by the Defense Ministry after a conference between armed forces Minister Pierre Guillaumat and the hard-bitten Massu, who provided the military muscle for the May, 1958, Algiers revolt that brought De Gaulle to power.

It came as De Gaulle maneuvered swiftly to take the steam out of a build-up of political unrest in Algiers, where tensions were mounting to their highest point since the uprising that toppled the French Fourth Republic.

De Gaulle let the word out that he was not planning a big new peace offer to the Algerian rebels that would eventually make Algeria an independent Moslem State.

It was such a report, combined with a renewal of rebel bomb and gunfire attacks on European civilians in Algeria, that had brought affairs to a crisis point.

Jubileers Will Entertain Montana, Idaho Groups

The University Jubileers will leave Saturday on a tour of Montana and Idaho.

The choral group will perform at Kalispell, Big Mountain Chalet near Whitefish, Libby, and Sandpoint, Idaho. The singers will entertain high school students, professional organizations, and civic groups.

Ron Botcher, winner of the Metropolitan Opera Regional auditions, and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon quartet, Jerry Colman, Charles Hood, Ken Maki, and Jerry Nordstrom, will be featured.

The Jubileers will go to Livingston and Helena Feb. 8 and 9. They plan another concert in May.
