ARCHITECT'S DRAWING—Final approval was granted by the Board of Regents yesterday for the proposed law building, estimated to cost $435,000. Construction is planned to begin this spring and the building should be completed by the fall of 1961. It will be located across the street from the Health Center.

Commits Student Fees Until 1996

Board of Regents, Examiners Approve $2.5 Million Bond Sale

HELENA (UPI) — The State Board of Education, sitting as a Board of Regents, and the State Board of Examiners, appended necessary signatures to clear the final paper for committing Montana State University to a $2.5 million bond sale yesterday.

The issue will provide for a Health-Sciences Building, a proposed Law School Center, and an addition to the Liberal Arts Building.

The Board of Examiners was called into session after George Lund, education board member from Reserve, said the Board of Examiners' approval was needed to expedite the bond sale to Bottcher and Company of Denver and other firms.

The action commits student building fees to retire final bonds in 1996.

No additional increase in student fees is expected to result from this month's board meeting, Dorothy Green, of the Regents, said.

Miss Green explained that money to cover the $2.5 million bond sale will come from the $2 building fee.

Presidents of the University units met in the morning to discuss salary schedules at the six units of the University system which are expected to come before the Board for approval Tuesday.

MSU's President H. K. Newburn said he also expects to present to the Regents a plan for proposed reorganization of the MSU organization.

He did not elaborate on this however.

Matrix Table Will Honor Top Women

Eighty outstanding campus women will be honored at the 29th annual Matrix Table Sunday. The banquet and program will be held in the Bitterroot Room of the Florsheim Hotel at 5:30 p.m.

Replies to invitations must be made by today and should be made to the Kaimin business office, according to Vera Swanson, president of Theta Sigma Phi. Matrix Table is sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary.

Dorothy Rochon Powers, Spokane newspaperwoman, will speak to the group about her experiences in covering stories. The title of her speech will be, "We Never Regret It."

Mrs. Powers has won first place for outstanding feature story writing in the Inland Empire Press-Radio-TV awards contest for the past seven successive years. This year she won 10 of these awards for stories, among them a series on the visit of Queen Elizabeth to Canada.

The first local Matrix Table was held in 1931. The University chapter of Theta Sigma Phi invited chapter alumnae, faculty members and their guests to a dinner. The next year the chapter invited women on campus and in the community who had given outstanding service. In 1941, the 10th anniversary of the event, the alumna chapter joined the active chapter in a joint project and began giving recognition to outstanding women.

The 80 campus women who will be honored have been selected on a basis of scholarship and participation in campus activities.

Four Finalists Announced in Play Contest

Finalists in the Montana Masquers one-act play contest were announced today by Firman H. Brown, Jr., chairman of the drama department.

The four plays and their authors are as follows: "The Practical Joke" by Roy Miller, "The Spring Meadows" by Marta Cramer and Bonnie Stauffer, "Days Like Smoke" and "Exchange" both by Alan Goddard.

Four drama students have been selected to direct the plays. They are Dick Willis, "The Practical Joke"; Bob McKinnon, "The Spring meadows"; Sue Howard, "Days Like Smoke"; Eileen Gallagher, "Exchange."

Tryouts for the four plays will be held today and tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. in the Masquer Theater.

Store Board to Seek Okay On Articles of Incorporation

Store Board will seek Central Board's approval of the proposed articles of incorporation and bylaws for the Associated Students' Store Wednesday night.

Virginia Ragland, chairman of Store Board, said that if Central Board approves the articles of incorporation and the bylaws, they will appear on the ballot of May's general election.

Prior to 1957 the student store was an incorporated body. At that time an administrative action discontinued the store.

According to the proposed articles of incorporation and bylaws the board of directors for the store would include five students and five faculty members. Student directors would be required to have reached their legal majority (21 years of age) and have maintained an over-all 2.5 grade point average while attending the University.

Student directors shall not be employees of the store at the time of their election nor during the period they campaigned, according to the articles.

Miss Ragland said that if Central Board approves the move, five directors will be elected this spring. They will include two juniors, who will serve for one year and three sophomores or freshmen. She said that the three undergraduates would draw lots to determine the length of their terms. One of the terms shall expire in the spring of 1961, the remaining two the spring of 1962.

Miss Ragland said that the proposed articles call for the establishment of a special reserve fund. This fund, she said, shall consist of all corporate funds over and above the needs of the store as determined by the directors. She said it would be used for capital improvements as declared necessary by the directors.

Miss Ragland stated that the proposed articles assure the equality of power between faculty directors and student directors. She said that the directors shall elect a president from their membership.

Some difficulty had risen, Miss Ragland said, in determining the number of student directors. She said that some members of the committee believed that the student directors should possess more authority than the faculty directors. She added that a balance of power arrangement was agreed upon to insure continuity in the administration of the store. She added that she and the committee believed the faculty had a major interest in the operation of the store.

Miss Ragland said that there had been some disagreement on whether the special reserve fund should be controlled by a special committee or by the board of directors. The fund will be administered by a special committee.

Miss Ragland said the current policies of the student store are similar to those the proposed incorporated store would employ. She added that the articles she and her committee had prepared would "insure better continuity of control by the students."

The committee preparing the articles included Miss Ragland, chairman, Dianne Mossey, John Carlson, Bob Arnot, Ray Jacobs and professors Seymour Betsky, Edwin Briggs, Forrest Brissey, Robert Weidman and E. K. Badgley, University controller.

Modern Moon Hoax?

In 1835 a reporter on the New York Sun claimed a British scientist observed people on the moon with a telescope. A telescope was a new-fangled notion then.

On October 27, 1959 the Soviet government released a photograph of the backside of the moon, showing clearly what man had never seen before.

In an article, "Did the Russians Fake the Moon Photos?" (this month's Popular Photography) Lloyd Mallan claims the Russians are pulling as big a hoax in 1959 as the Sun pulled in 1835. Taking pictures of the moon's backside is a new fangled notion now, as the telescope was then.

The Russians reported the moon shot was taken with a television camera and then relayed back by wire-service methods familiar to newsmen.

But there were no scanning lines present. The photo, which Mallan ordered directly from Sovfoto, was "unmarred by scanning lines necessary to international wire-service transmission or by the poor-quality engraving techniques usually employed by newspapers."

Mallan said the photo showed crude brush strokes, which immediately led him to believe the picture was originally painted, not photographed. Leading museums agreed with Mallan. Experts said that the original was definitely not a photograph, but a charcoal drawing on a rough-textured paper, with other retouching.

Mallan said there are six distinct mistakes in the Soviet photograph which verifies his belief. One error, which can not be attributed to poor transmission, is the "valleys" are so deep that they would cause the moon to change shape. "Its weight distribution would shift under such fissures."

Regardless of Mallan's finding, the majority of scientists could not agree that the Russians were pulling a hoax. But in today's propaganda wars anything is possible.

America's proof may come when another camera-bearing Tiros goes aloft.

Woodsmen Beware

If you are a forester with a long beard, beware.

If you are a Missoula male growing a beard for the Centennial, be careful.

This is tick season (Rocky Mountain spotted type) and they love to crawl around in beards. Especially bushy ones.

A series of three shots, 50 cents a whack, can be taken at the Health Center over consecutive, three-week intervals.

If you have had the series, then try a booster shot. It might even do something for the beard.

Hunter's Body Still Not Found

MISSOULA (UPI) — A search party of 17 men returned here after another fruitless weekend hunt for a Kalispell hunter missing since last November.

The party of 17 men scoured the Swamp Creek drainage northeast of Seeley Lake for Arthur Jordan, 62, without success.

Undersheriff Bill Desarmo, who led the party, said another search would be undertaken in two weeks.

Jordan disappeared while on a hunting trip after the early November blizzards struck. The heavy snow hampered searchers at that time.

Burgess Attends Language Meet

Robert M. Burgess, chairman of the Department of Foreign Languages, returned to Missoula last week from Boulder, Colo., where he attended a meeting of the directors of the National Defense Education Act Foreign Language Institutes.

The meeting was called to coordinate the work of the 36 summer institutes and plans for four institutes to be held during the 1960-61 academic year.

An institute will be held in French and Spanish at MSU June 20 to August 12.

No Business, No College Inn

The College Inn will not be open during spring quarter, Barbara Wheeler, activities director, said yesterday. Miss Wheeler said that lack of business at the Inn is the cause of the closure.

The proposal to hire a full-time program director for the Student Union was discussed at the last Student Union Committee meeting, Miss Wheeler said. Applications have been received from a woman at Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash., and a man in New York, she said.

The Popcorn Dance held registration night, March 28, was termed a success by Miss Wheeler. About 300 students attended the dance, she said.

Sororities Pledge 12 in Spring Rush

Spring rush is officially closed, and 12 women have pledged, Konnie Feig, assistant to the associate dean of students, announced.

Those who pledged are Joni Carpenter, Kappa Alpha Theta; Marie Cooley, Delta Gamma; Karen Whitman, Betty Leuthold, Sherry McLaughlin, Emmy Mahar, Linda Fritsch, and Sharon Coon, Alpha Phi; Val Smith, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Dawn Drummond, Cecilia Laqua and Deanne Atchison, Sigma Kappa.

Short Stories For Contest Due April 29

Students who wish to compete for the William DeSmet Stearns Memorial Short Story Award must submit their entries by April 29, according to Vedder M. Gilbert, chairman of the English department.

The $50 award is presented annually by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stearns, publishers of the Harlowtown Times. The award is in memory of their son who was killed several years ago in a bicycle accident. Graduate or undergraduate students enrolled during the three quarters of the 1959-60 school year are eligible to compete for the prize.

Applicants must comply with the following regulations to be eligible for the competition:

- Three double-spaced, clean typewritten copies of each story must be submitted. Poorly-typed manuscripts with the striking over of letters, smudged erasures, and faint carbon copies will not be considered.

- Any student may enter two stories. The three copies and an envelope should bear an assumed name, with the writer's real name in the sealed envelope.

- Stories must be 3,500 words or longer, but not longer than 10,000 words. However, a group of two or three stories shorter than 3,500 words may be submitted as one story provided that the total is not more than 10,000 words and the stories all use the same locale and persons.

The latest date for entering stories will be April 29. Copies should be left with the English department secretary in LA 115.

U Track Team Continues To Show Improvement

Montana's cindermen continued to show improvement Saturday turning in several fast times in trials held on chilly Dornblaser Field.

Freshman Glenn De Vries took four turns around the track and clocked a fast 4:26.1 in the mile, nine seconds less than the University record held by all-time great Bill Rife.

Close on De Vrie's heels were Bill Dwight with 4:28 and Gary Wojtowick with 4:29.8. Wojtowick clocked a time of 4:23.7 last spring.

Tom Simpson led the thinclads in the 440-yard dash with a time of 50.7. Sterling Wetzstein, 51.7, Ken Nelson and John Datsopoulos, 52.3, and Bill Walker, 53.4 followed.

Freshman Larry Lewis ran the 100-yard dash in 10.1, Pat Dodson was second with 10.15.

Veteran half-miler Bill Anderson ran his specialty in 1:57.8, three seconds off his all-time record. Marve Miller was second with a time of 2:00.8.

Montana's lone low hurdler, Gordon Pagenkopf, turned in a time of 25.5 for his 220-yard run.

The high jumpers were led by Chuck Miller who leaped 6 feet, 2 inches. Mike Baker and Gary Carlson both jumped 5 foot 10 inches.

Bill Glasier, Jerry Bjork and Bill Mathews stayed within an inch of each other in the broad-jump with Glasier's 20 feet, 7 1/4 inches being tops.

Pole vaulter Chuck Nelson was alone in his event. He topped the 11 foot mark by 9 1/2 inches.

Montana's weight-men kept on reaching for the 50 foot mark Saturday. Letterman Ken Wersland pushed the 16 pound steel ball 49 feet, 3/4 inches to lead the event. Harley Lewis missed Wersland's mark by an inch and Chuck Larson hit 39 feet, 3 inches.

Wersland led the Grizzly hopefuls in the discus with a toss of 143 feet, 3 1/2 inches. Lewis was second with a throw of 126 feet. Hans Gudogast was third with 112 feet.

Wayne Finney paced the Montana javelin tossers with a mark of 168 feet, 9 inches. He was followed by Mark Steward, 154 feet, 9 1/2 inches and Gudogast with 153 feet, 3 inches.

The Grizzlies open their 1960 track season against Western Montana College of Education April 23 in Dornblaser Stadium.

Bobcats Beat MSU Twice 8 to 3, 2 to 1

Coach Hal Sherbeck's predictions that poor pitching and weak hitting would hurt his diamond crew proved well founded Saturday at Campbell Park. Montana State College took both ends of a doubleheader, 8 to 3, and 2 to 1.

The visitors took the first game in a walk as Montana's infield had lots of holes, allowing the Bobcats to pick up three runs in the third inning. In the next frame pitcher Conrad Stelzelzyk smacked a double to bring in two more runs. He repeated the performance in the sixth for two more, and the Bobcats picked up their final run in the last inning of the seven inning game.

The only excitement from the Grizzly bench came when Sherbeck objected, in no uncertain terms, to an umpire's called strike.

The second game was tight all the way. Neither pitcher was willing to give up hits and some fine defensive play stopped early scoring threats by both teams. Grizzly hurler Butch Hendricks hand-cuffed the Bozeman batters with a working curve ball, but the Grizzly batters were unable to support his pitching performance.

The lone score for Sherbeck's nine came in the eighth when Terry Screnar singled and then took second on a wild throw. Chuck Miltenberger singled and Screnar raced home under the throw.

Right Fielder Jim McLeod opened the Bobcat half of the ninth inning with a walk. Shortstop Slayton Linebarger laid down a grounder and Screnar threw wild to second, trying to force McLeod.

With two men on pitcher Strandberg drove a long double off the center field fence and brought in both runners.

The Grizzlies could do no better than walk pinch-hitter Jim Johnson in their half of the ninth.

MSC Lassoes Rodeo Honors Last Weekend

Montana State College rode away with the top honors in the annual Intercollegiate Rodeo which was held in the Field House this weekend.

Montana State College finished the two-day event with 654 points. Idaho State followed with 201, Utah State University 139, Northern Montana College 132, Montana State University 59, Western Montana 57 and Brigham Young 40.

The only MSU rider to place in the top three in any event was Bob Wiseman. Wiseman took third place in bull riding.

Registration for Seminar To Continue This Week

Registration is being continued through the second week in April for a non-credit "Preparation for Marriage" seminar which will be offered April 26 through May 24, Robert Dwyer, assistant professor of sociology, announced.

Couples or individuals may register at the main desk in the Lodge. A fee of five dollars per couple is required to cover the cost of texts.

Specialists who will present lectures and discussions are Frank Roberts, psychologist; Mrs. Earl Lory, home economist; Lawrence Gruman, minister; Dr. Stephen Preston, gynecologist and obstetrician; and Mr. Dwyer, sociologist.

GRADUATE TO SUPERVISE LEWIS AND CLARK FOREST

George F. Roskie has been named supervisor of the Lewis and Clark National Forest at Great Falls. He will take over the position about May 15.

Mr. Roskie, a 1936 University graduate, has been stationed in the Range and Wildlife Division of Region 6 office at Portland, Ore., since 1957.

University Delegation Takes Active Role in Mock U.N.

By JUDY KING

The University delegation to the 10th Commemorative session of the Model United Nations, which opened Wednesday on the campus of the University of California, Berkeley, took an active part in the Soviet Bloc caucus, representing the Republic of Ukraine.

Finland, represented by Whitworth College in Spokane, not a member of the Soviet Bloc, asked to be present at the Soviet caucuses. Ukrainian delegate Gary Morrow said that Finland should be allowed to attend the caucus without a vote. A motion to this effect, made by the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, represented by Washington State College at Pullman, was passed 7-4.

Bob Burdick, USSR, was elected permanent chairman of the Bloc. Plans were made whereby the Bloc might be able to obtain more votes to back its resolutions in committee meetings. The University wrote seven resolutions and four of these were accepted and placed on the agenda.

The agenda topics fall to certain committees: Security Council; Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC); First Committee—political and security, with Tony Buzzetti and Morrow as delegate and alternate; Second Committee—economic and financial, Judith Blakely and Mohammed Al-Saadi; Third Committee—social, humanitarian and cultural, Paul Miller and Judy King; Fourth Committee—Trusteeship, Rosalie Morgenweck and Gary Fish; Sixth Committee—legal, Dave Voight; Special Political Committee, to work in conjunction with the First Committee, Gloria Eudaily and Ed Risse; and the International Court of Justice.

Buzzetti, Morrow and Al-Saadi all spoke at the caucus, making the University's debut in the Model UN what may be termed successful.

In the Soviet Bloc are Albania, represented by Mt. Saint Mary's College in Los Angeles; Bulgaria, University of Idaho in Moscow; Byelorussia, Pacific University, Forest Grove, Ore., Czechoslovakia, Central Washington College of Education, Ellensburg, Wash.; Hungary, St. Mary's College, St. Mary's, Calif., Poland, Mills College, Oakland, Calif.; Romania, Marymount College, Los Angeles; Ukraine; USSR; and Yugoslavia, University of California at Los Angeles.

General and interim committee meetings were attended Wednesday by the University delegation chairman Ed Risse. At the Claremont Hotel there was an afternoon reception for all delegates.

The first plenary session convened at 9 p.m. Wednesday to open the Model UN session. The secretary-general, Allan Solomonow, received a standing ovation following his report on the work of the organization. The permanent members of the Security Council made talks in their native tongues. A brief commemorative program and general announcements followed the speeches.

Thursday there were more committee sessions, caucuses and interim committee meetings.

GAIL WARD

STUDENT PARTY ORGANIZES

The United Student Party was formally organized at the Lodge last night. The party proposes to improve student government, according to Tom Farrington.

Gail Ward Accepts Fulbright For One-Year Study in London

Gail Ward, a senior from Great Falls, has accepted a Fulbright Scholarship for one year of study at the University College in London, according to Ellis L. Waldron, dean of the graduate school.

She plans to study history. As one of the requirements for application, Miss Ward outlined a research project she intended to do. The project would be a study of the attitude of the city of London toward Oliver Cromwell's foreign policy.

She will sail to Europe on Sept. 7, and will be there for the entire academic year, she said.

Miss Ward was also offered a National Defense Scholarship valued at $6,600, for three years of graduate study, Dr. Waldron said. She was accepted at six graduate schools in this country under this scholarship, which is a surprisingly high rate of acceptance, Dr. Waldron explained. Miss Ward turned down the National Defense Scholarship when she accepted the Fulbright. The choice was a difficult one, he noted, as she had to choose between one year or three years of study.

HISTORY COMPREHENSIVES TO BE GIVEN APRIL 28-29

The date for the history comprehensive examinations have been changed to April 28-29, Melvin C. Wren, chairman of the history department, said yesterday.

The date for the history oral examinations for honors has been set for May 2, Mr. Wren said.

String Quartet Plays Tonight At Recital Hall

The Montana String Quartet will make its last formal concert appearance on campus for this season tonight at 8:15 in the Music Recital Hall. William Manning, clarinetist, will be guest artist.

Members of the quartet are Eugene Andri and Gordon Childs, violinists; Eugene Weigel, violist, and Florence Reynolds, cellist. Manning will be heard with the quartet when they play Brahms' "Quintet for Clarinet and Strings."

Manning, a staff member of the School of Fine Arts, is also first clarinetist of the Missoula Civic Symphony.

The quartet will also play Beethoven's "Quintet in B-flat Major," opus 130, which contains two of the most famous of all quartet movements, the "danza tedesca" and the "Cavatina."

Admission will be by season ticket or individual admission sold at the door. Cost of the individual admission will be: adults, $1.50 and students $.75.
