The five gifted members of the Eitel family of Missoula will present a free concert Tuesday (May 21) at 8:15 p.m. in the University of Montana Recital Hall.

The recitalists and their instruments are Butler R. Eitel, euphonium; his wife Priscilla, harp; their daughters Syllda, oboe, and Elizabeth, bassoon, and their son David, trumpet. They will be assisted by UM faculty members Laurence Perry, organist, and Rudolph Wendt, pianist.

Prof. Eitel, who is director of UM bands, will open the program with Allegro Spiritoso by Senaille, Duite No. 3 for Cello by J. S. Bach, and Concerto in F minor by G. F. Handel. He will close the concert with Piece en Forme de Habanera by M. Ravel and Concert Piece, Opus 88, by A. Guilmant.

Mrs. Eitel will perform Aria in Classic Style for Harp and Organ by Grandjany and Variations Pastorales sur un Vieux Noel by Rousseau.

Elizabeth will play Fantaisie by Bozza and Scherzo by Miroshnikov. David's trumpet solo is Danza Alegre by Burke, and Syllda's oboe solo is Polonnaise and Danse by Robieur.

Prof. Eitel, who came to the University last fall from the faculty of Macalester College, produced the outstanding Edina, Minn., High School Band. He was assistant conductor of the U S. Air Force Band and an instructor at the USAF School of Music. Since 1960 he has served on the conducting staff of the National Music Camp, Interlochen, Mich.

He earned a bachelor of music degree from the University of Michigan, where he was euphonium soloist with the band, and a master's degree from MacPhail College of Music. He is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda and other professional societies and the composer of published works for euphonium, baritone and tuba.

Mrs. Eitel was graduated from Eastman School of Music with majors in theory and harp. She has performed with the Eastman Rochester Symphony, has been soloist with other orchestras in the East and Midwest, and has been harp instructor at the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

The three younger Eitels have all held first chair in their respective bands and orchestras at the National Music Camp. Sylva, 19, is a sophomore at the University. Elizabeth, 17, is a student at Sentinel High School. David, 14, attends Lewis and Clark School.
